REAL ESTATE MARKET.

THE following are the principal events of the week having a bearing on the prices, value, or improvement of real estate:

In the Board of Aldermen a resolution directing the Street Commissioner to compel the removal of the obstructions placed by the Elevated Railway Company on Cortlandt and Greenwich streets, was adopted.

In the Board of Councilmen ordinances were adopted for the paving of several streets with Belgian pavement. A resolution increasing the salaries of the clerks and officers of the two Boards—the chief clerk's to $7,000, and others in proportion—was adopted unanimously without debate.

THE immigration of foreigners into this country, while not decreasing in volume, has assumed some new features during the past year. Foremost is the fact that the Irish no longer bear the same overwhelming proportion to all other emigrants arriving on our shores that they did in former years. The Irish emigrants in 1867 were 65,134, Germans 117,591, English 33,712, and of other nations 26,294, making 242,731 in all. But a small proportion return, and of those the majority no doubt have earned a little competence during several years of work in America.

THE Mechanics' and Tradesmen's Permanent Benefit Building Association held their first meeting at their offices, No. 39 Nassau street, New York City, on the 17th inst., and elected the following officers as a Board of Management: JOHN T. FISHER, President; NELSON I. GATES, Vice-President; WILLIAM MILES, Treasurer; HENRY P. COOPER (President Sixpenny Savings Bank), Secretary; WILLIAM H. DURYEA, Attorney, and six trustees. The object of the Association is to make tenants their own landlords by co-operation, to give permanent employment to its own member mechanics, and embraces the principles of a savings bank and life insurance.

THE Jews are said to be the chief patrons of musical enterprises in this city. Pike, the proprietor of the opera house, is an Israelite. They are growing to be of wonderful importance in this city. The congregation of the new Fifth Avenue Synagogue bought seats in that temple to the amount of $50,000 (this beats Plymouth Church), and it is said has property which will be eventually worth more than that held by Trinity.

THE notable event of the coming winter season will be the opening of the New Empire Skating Rink, which is now being rapidly completed. It has been erected on a vacant lot (which its projectors have leased for a term of years), fronting on Third avenue, and lying between Sixty-third and Sixty-fourth streets. The building, when finished, will be of enormous dimensions, affording nearly 60,000 square feet of skating surface. The roof being in the form of a huge arch, 50 feet high, and having a clear span of 170 feet, permits the absence of pillars and other supports, which otherwise would obstruct the area for skating. The exterior measurements of the building are as follows: 350 feet in length, 170 feet in width, and 70 feet in height. The interior of the rink (proper) will be handsomely decorated, and will be lighted at night by over seven hundred gas jets pendent from the roof alone. The novel feature of the Empire rink will consist in the use of ground glass in the windows, which it is supposed will delay the melting of the ice by obstructing the passage of the rays of sunlight. In the front of the building ample provision will be made for such promoters of comfort as dressing, reception, and waiting rooms, with a restaurant, cigar stand, bar, &c., attached—all heated by steam. The building has been erected by a Joint Stock Company, having $75,000 cash capital, and the management of the rink for the approaching season has been wisely committed to the well known skaters, Messrs. McMillan and Post.

THE Park National Bank, on Broadway, near Fulton street, is rapidly approaching completion. The main office of the Bank is now being fitted up, and bids fair to be the most beautiful room devoted to that business in the city. The counter whereon the merchant princes of New York are expected to place their deposits, or from which they will receive the munitions for mercantile war in the shape of greenbacks, is composed of three kinds of marble. On the top is a highly polished black marble, the quarries of Vermont furnish the side pieces, while as an ornament the mottled, brown marble of Tennessee is liberally used. The sides of the room are also ornamented in the same manner, while the cornices and ceilings are elaborately gilded, the latter being adorned at each corner by medallion likenesses of historical characters. This room, together with some others in the building, will be ready for occupancy on the 1st of November, on which date the Bank will be moved from its present location in Beekman street. The first office on the left has already been rented to the National Life Insurance Company, of which Messrs. Jay Cooke & Co. are the general agents, and the whole of the second story front, comprising several large rooms, has been engaged by the Craftmen's Life Assurance Company. The Messrs. Greenbaum, Chicago bankers, have also engaged an office. These offices are to be ready, we are assured by Messrs. Thomas & Sons, architects of the building, on the 1st of November, and the balance of the building on or before the 1st of December.

THE Roselle Land Improvement Co. are developing this beautiful region, by throwing a quantity of eligible building sites on the market. Roselle is only 40 minutes distant from New York, on the Central Railroad of New Jersey, which is one of the best managed roads in the country, and has frequent communication with the city. It is 75 feet higher than Elizabeth, from which it is only two miles distant, and is one of the most thriving and rapidly increasing suburban towns. There are two churches, Episcopal and Presbyterian, and a large hotel or suburban resort, with fine stores on the first story, now in course of construction, and to be finished this fall.

GROWTH OF CHICAGO.

Building still goes on wonderfully in Chicago, though it is not so much for speculative purposes as in the spring. There are many houses of the more costly kind to rent, while men of moderate means are more generally erecting homes for themselves. The highest rent paid for a residence here, I think, is ten thousand dollars—the amount which one of our insurance men feels able to afford for a splendid brick mansion on Wabash avenue near the heart of the city, with spacious grounds and the luxuries of a conservatory, fountains, &c. Three thousand dollars is considered a high rent, however, and very few persons pay more. The great demand is for dwellings that are worth from six to ten hundred dollars a year—the figures which are supposed to indicate “decent circumstances.” First class business houses readily bring large prices. The tendency of this city to extend southward is astonishing. Ninety-second street, some six miles south of the limits, has been duly christened, and speculators are planning suburbs, to which all desirable adjectives are to apply, even farther beyond. It is said that a company of New York capitalists have purchased very large tracts in the region known as Calumet, still below (though I think not beyond the Illinois State line), with an eye to a magnificent future.

GOSSIP.—CITY.

A very peculiar city feature is the nest of shanties perched upon some high, smooth boulders in Forty-third street, close by Third avenue. A raid upon those dwellings would be a service of much difficulty were the inhabitants to pull up the ladder or step by which access is had to the place. A very serious obstruction to the sidewalks in Mercer and some other streets is that caused by the delivery of planks at the piano factories. Surely some regulation might be made for having such work done during the least crowded hours of the day. The exterior of the College of New York, late the Free Academy, sadly needs repairs. The walls are patchy and mildewed, and would be all the better for an application of plaster and paint. Comptroller Connelly has been directed to issue “market stock” to the amount of $49,000; the amount when raised to be applied to the completion of the Eighteenth Ward Market. Workmen are now engaged in putting the roof on Booth's new theatre, in Sixth avenue. The Prospect Park Commissioners announce that the extension of the east drive of the Park and the new roadway along the line of Franklin avenue, between the Park and the Parade Ground, connecting with the Coney Island road, are now opened to the public. Some of the fine old button-wood trees in Fourth street, near Van Nest place, are falling to the axe of the destroyer. Subscriptions have been opened in Brooklyn, by residents on the “Hill,” for the purchase of a plat of ground corner of Cumberland street and Greene avenue, where they propose to erect a large building for public purposes, to be known as Music Hall. Subscriptions amounting to $20,000 have thus far been raised. An ingenious engineer has published a plan for an elevated Broadway railroad, which has novelty, at least, for one of its merits. He proposes to suspend the trackway by means of suspension chains, depending from towers placed at proper intervals, on the same principle as that used in the construction of suspension bridges. He claims that this road can be built cheaper than any other. The pitch composition roadway has been much extended in Central Park. It is laid down chiefly upon slopes, where ordinary road material is always liable to be washed away by heavy rains, a contingency to which the composition referred to is not subject. The people down town, and especially below John street, complain bitterly of the meagre supply of gas they receive between the hours of four and seven p.m. Since the gasometer on New street, between Exchange place and Beaver street, has been abandoned by the company, there is not gas enough in hardly any office or establishment. Particularly in Maiden Lane, where the jewellers use gas for fuel, the complaints are severe, for at four p.m. they have to stop work. Judge Gilbert, of the Supreme Court, rendered a decision in the case of the people of Gravesend against the Quarantine Commissioners, denying the motion to continue the injunction restraining the Commissioners from occupying the west end of Coney Island for Quarantine purposes. A large and valuable tract of property, over twenty acres in extent, called the Quarantine Grounds, given by a church in Richmond, Staten Island, some years ago to the State government on condition of its being returned when its use was no longer required, is one of the leading topics of private and public conversation in the society of Staten Island. It is asked everywhere on that insular continent, “Who has bought that property worth one million dollars?” Some answer, “A circle of Quarantine officials whose earnings are ample enough to embrace so vast a purchase.” The interest of the late Commodore Stevens in the Sea Shore Railroad, has been purchased by the Hon. Nehemiah Perry and two other gentlemen, giving Mr. Perry a controlling interest. Arrangements have been made to extend the Sandy Hook terminus to the Horseshoe, and the Long Branch end to the Stetson House, materially reducing the time to the Branch. The new German Hospital building, situated in Seventy-seventh street at Fourth avenue, has just been completed and will pass into the hands of the Board of Direction to-day, when a formal inspection of the building will take place. Thus far $160,000 has been spent, and $80,000 more is needed to fit the building for use. The structure is very ornamental. The Northeast Sangerbund will soon give a grand concert in aid of the building fund. Much fuel is furnished to poor people by the debris of the numerous old houses that are continually being pulled down in many quarters of the city. From the ruins of these a large amount of dry wood is collected by small children. Business does not appear to be very lively at the sale stables in Twenty-fourth street. The portion of that street devoted to the horse business, by the by, is very filthy and badly kept, and might as well be a cul de sac for any chance of vehicles getting through it, so obstructed is it by wagons and buggies lying around loose.

DOMESTIC.

A Boston architect has just completed a set of drawings for a new hotel at Jacksonville, Fla. It is to be built by northern capitalists, and a number of Boston mechanics have recently gone there to superintend the work. There is a scarcity of houses in Troy, N. Y. The demand far exceeds the supply, and prices are enormous. The land damages already awarded on account of the new Capitol building at Albany, amounts to $428,000! There is a very large financial elephant in that new Capitol. A tunnel on the Marietta and Cincinnati Railroad, which has been on fire for several days, caved in on Sunday, burying two men. John B. Gough offers to sell out his worldly goods for $75,000. His farm is worth $52,000, and his library $12,000....One hundred new boarding-houses are to be built before next season at Swampscott.... The Central Railroad Company at Syracuse expect to finish the new depot building in about three months.... The streets of Hudson City are a disgrace to any civilized community. There is not a decent highway in the place, and even the flagways are in a most filthy and mutilated state. If, as somebody has said, the condition of the streets and churches of a locality can be taken as an idea of the civilization of the people resident therein, then we can only say that our neighbors on Bergen Hill are a most unchristian clan, and not far removed from savagery.... San Francisco is to have a new $300,000 theatre, to be inaugurated with the Pacific Railroad ball on Christmas eve.... More than 500 buildings are now being erected in New Haven. New houses are going up in every part of the city, and especially in the southern and western sections.... The total valuation of real and personal property in the city of Fond du Lac is $3,973,377.... Syracuse has built a skating rink, seating 5,000, at a cost of $35,000.... Twenty-two miles of fence enclose a farm of 13,000 acres in Illinois, which is subdivided by 70 miles of hedge.... Baltimore is building seven thousand five hundred new houses.... Eight thousand buildings, to cost $12,000,000, are in course of erection at Chicago.... A. T. Stewart has bought a $200,000 "cottage" at Newport.... In San Francisco there are six horse railroads, and their receipts from January to May were $373,000.... Last week one hundred and sixty-two transfers of real estate took place in Chicago. The amount of sales was $473,000.... Senator Abbott, of North Carolina, says that $10,000,000 of Northern capital has been invested in that State since the war.... One of the leading real estate agents of Richmond has sold within the last twenty days property in Virginia worth $120,000, principally to Northern men.... We learn from the Saratogian that the United States Hotel at Saratoga Springs, destroyed by fire in 1865, is to be rebuilt immediately by a stock company at an expense of from $800,000 to $1,000,000. It will of course be erected on the old grounds, and will cover the four sides of the square extending from Broadway to the railroad. It will be of brick and stone, and the extreme length of the interior grand piazza will be fourteen hundred feet. There will also be a piazza on Broadway of 200 feet, and the building will be five stories in height.... A piece of property in Pittsfield was recently sold for $8,000 that twelve years ago could have been bought for $1,200, and 569 per cent. is pretty good interest.... A large number of buildings are in the process of erection at Mankato. The assessed value of real estate in Mankato for 1868 is $568,507; of personal property, $49,079. Total assessment in city and township, $1,017,731—an increase of $86,879 over last year.

FOREIGN.

The inhabitants of Tuyahualco, District of Chalco, in Mexico, while quarrying recently came suddenly upon a mysterious town, sepulchred amid volcanic lava, within which were found the houses and corpses of its former denizens, perfectly mummified. The volcano that produced this disaster must have completely disappeared at the time, burying beneath its ashes and lava all the ancient towns and occupants of its environs, whose existence is not mentioned in history.... The French Government has decreed $400,000 for improvements in the harbor of Cette, calculating on the increase of traffic that the opening of the Suez canal will cause to pass through that channel.... In Swedish Lapland some of the parishes are very large; that of Gallivare, for instance, contains 352 square miles, and many of the inhabitants live at such a distance from their church that they are obliged to start on the Thursday to attend Divine service on the Sunday. Thus the complete Liturgy is only celebrated once a month. The congregation is then always most numerous. On these occasions the affairs of the world are also brought under consideration, arrangements are made, purchases concluded, and in fact a species of fair is held.... Baron Haussmann's project of making a new cemetery at Méry-sur-Oise will, it is said, soon be realized, although violently opposed in many quarters.... In spite of the protest of the French, the Congress has pronounced in the most decided manner against small farming and against small proprietorships. A remarkable paper was read by a Brussels working man, which went to show that the small farmer's position "in modern society was as incompatible with the progress of production in agriculture as that of the little handicraft producer in industry." Machinery was declared to be as necessary in agriculture as in manufactures, and it could not be properly applied on a small scale.... For a single house in the Rue de Richelieu, Paris, about to be demolished for one of the new streets leading from the Grand Opera, the jury has awarded the large sum of 2,600,000 francs, or £104,000. In 1816 the same house was sold for 20,000 francs. Among the indemnities accorded to tenants of this and adjacent houses a money-changer receives £1,400; a jeweller, £2,400; a milliner, £2,600; a dentist, £3,200; an hotel-keeper, £18,000.

FIRE-ESCAPES.

The owners and agents of the following tenement houses have been ordered to put up fire-escapes, bulkheads, &c.: 140, 142, 146, 150 (front and rear), 152 (front and rear), 154 (front and rear), and 156 Sullivan st.; 85 McDougal st., rear; 191, 199, and 201 Prince st.; 411, 413, 415, 417, 419, 421, 423, 425, 433, and 503 East 18th st.; 418, 420, and 422 East 19th st.; 263 and 265 William st.; 35 and 37 Frankfort st., front and rear; 90 Ann st.; 114 Fulton st.; 30 Beekman st.; 212, 214, 216, 218, 237, 239, 241, 243, 245, 247, and 249 West 27th st.; 139 and 143 Orchard st.; 83 Rivington st.; 106, 108, 122, and 127 Ludlow st.; 102, 104, 106, 108, and 112 Delancey st.; 151, 167 (front and rear), 169 (front and rear), and 171 (rear) Second st.; 234 and 236 East 41st st.; 33 Downing st.; 26 Bedford st.; 13 York st.

SALES.

The attendance at the Exchange Sale Rooms for the past week has been unprecedentedly large for the season, and quite a number of our Hebrew and German citizens are desirous of possessing land. The following are the principal sales since our last publication:

Friday, Sept. 25th. By A. J. BLEEKER, SON & Co.—Ten lots on the northeast corner of Seventh avenue and Forty-fifth street, each 20x100 feet, were purchased by George Emple for $120 each. One two-story basement and sub-cellar frame house and lot on the west side of Tompkins av., 75 ft. north of Park av., house 18.9x34 ft., lot 18.9x100 ft., were bought by John Westfall for $4,200. One two-story frame house and lot adjoining the above, same size, were sold to John Gereken for $4,000. One two-story frame house adjoining, same size, was purchased by John Gereken for $4,000.

Tuesday, Sept. 29th. By Messrs. MULLER, WILKINS & Co.—Undivided fifth part of premises on the west side of the Bowery, known as No. 344, was purchased by Charles Goodwin for $1,800. Undivided one-tenth part of the premises on the southeast side of Pearl st., and known as No. 210, was sold to D. Anderson for $490. Undivided one-tenth part of the premises on Pearl st., and adjoining the above, was bought by M. A. Post for $450. House and lot No. 303 Avenue A, 20.6x70, was sold for $9,525. House and lot No. 321 First av., 23x80, was bought for $16,000. Four-story brick store and dwelling and lot, situated on the northwest corner of Avenue A and Twentieth st., and known as No. 303 Avenue A, house 20.6x48.6 feet, lot 20.6 feet, was purchased by Peter Gillespie for $9,525. Four-story and basement Philadelphia brick front store and dwelling, and lot, on the west side of First av., 69 feet southerly from Nineteenth st., and known as No. 321, house 23x40, lot 23x80, was sold to B. Steans for $16,000.

By Messrs. A. J. BLEEKER, SON & Co.—Two-story attic and basement frame house, and one acre and a half of land in the town of Eastchester, Westchester Co., on the old post road, and bounded by the White Plains road, and by a small road connecting the two roads, was purchased for $5,000.

By Messrs. A. H. LUDLOW & Co.—Lot situated on the north-easterly side of Kingsbridge road, 87x160 ft., through to Adams av., was sold for $510. Plot of ground on the east side of Main st., opposite Prospect av., with feed store and coal office, lot 60x180 ft., was purchased for $6,000. Plot of ground on the west side of Main st., near Prospect av., 115x215 ft., with two dwellings, was bought for $4,100. Plot of ground on Main st., opposite the above, 20x24 feet, with one and a half story house, sold for $3,200.

By Mr. ROBERT SOMERVILLE.—Two-story cottage-house and lot on Union Hill, northwest of Hoboken, N. J., on the Hackensack road, between Durham and Pennsylvania avs., house 15x30 feet, lot 25x100 feet, were purchased by Mr. Perkins for $1,850.

By A. D. MELLICK, JR., & Bro.—Some 200 lots were disposed of by this firm at auction on Thursday, October 1, at Perth Amboy, New Jersey. The bidding was not very spirited, and the property went off very cheap. The land offered for sale lies near the centre of the city corporation, on the Raritan River, commanding a fine view of the New Jersey Highlands, South Amboy, and Staten Island. The land has been laid out in streets, blocks, and avenues, and was really of greater value than it brought. It was sold for the Middlesex Land Company. The terms of the sale were, ten per cent. payable on the day of sale, one-third of remainder on October 22, the rest to remain on bond and mortgage for three or five years. The prices brought averaged about $115 per lot.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—This market remains in pretty much the same condition noted by us during the past two or three weeks, though, if anything, the advantage is a trifle more in buyer's favor. About previous prices are asked, to be sure, and the general quotations cannot be changed, but parties willing to purchase, and bidding within 25@50c. per M. of the figures named by sellers, are in most cases accommodated, particularly if large parcels are wanted. For very choice parcels of North River hard, $11.00 per M. is still occasionally obtained, but this is now an extreme value, most of the good merchantable cargoes ranging at $10.00@ $11.00, while a great many inferior, and badly rain-washed bricks are sold out freely at $9.00@ $9.50 per M. Pale bricks are quoted at $7.00@ $8.00 per M, with a demand about in proportion to other descriptions. The manufacturing yards are still working along steadily, but all being full to overflowing with stock, their proprietors find it necessary to ship the production as rapidly as it becomes fit for market. The receipts, therefore, at this point continue without abatement, at times reaching nearly 5,000,000 in twenty-four hours, and all our wholesale depots are liberally supplied, which, with a continued light demand from all quarters, looks favorably for the interests of consumers. The recent rains, however, have given some receivers more confidence; and it is thought that the stock in course of manufacture has been so much injured, good to prime qualities will be temporarily scarce, and proportionately firmer. Front brick is in good steady demand, and with a supply fully equal to all wants; prices remain without important variation. The exports for the week are, 8,000 to Cuba, and 5,000 to New Granada.

CEMENT.—The demand for Rosendale is fully as good, if not better than last week, and in some cases agents refuse to accept further orders for the present. The sales are still largely to coastwise shippers, with an occasional lot taken for export, and our city jobbers have drawn rather more heavily within a few days. The majority of companies are very uniform at $1.75 per bbl. by the cargo, but small lots they are unwilling to handle except at rather better terms. The production is unabated, and the supply will be ample for all calls. We notice exports of 200 bbls. to British North American Colonies, 25 bbls. to British West Indies, 50 bbls. to Cuba, and 100 bbls. to New Granada.

DOORS, SASH, AND BLINDS.—There is no very positive change to note in the general position of affairs in this market. A good local trade is doing and rather increases, while orders continue to come in from the South, mostly of a character to warrant acceptance, and our manufacturers all appear to be doing a fair amount of business. Prices remain much the same as quoted in our table, though occasionally such deviations are made as the circumstances under which sales are made will warrant.

DRAIN AND SEWER PIPE.—The market has been fairly active, though scarcely so much was taken by local dealers as during the early portion of the month. For all the best manufactures of vitrified, prices remain firm, and our table of quotations is unchanged. The general supply is fair, though some of the smaller sizes are becoming scarce.

FIRE BRICK.—Dealers appear to be turning out a fair amount of stock; in fact, in some quarters, trade is very active, and the market presents a firm uniform tone at $55@ $60 per M. for arch, wedge, key, &c., and $45@ $50 do. for No. 2 split and soap. The supply is good. To New Granada 47 boxes were exported, valued at $277.

FOREIGN WOODS.—This market is very dull, and entirely devoid of interest, prices remaining nominally as before. Jobbers appear to have entirely withdrawn, while shippers are unable to operate in view of the scarcity and high rates of freight. No receipts are reported. The only exports include 259 pieces Satinwood to Liverpool.

GLASS.—The sizes of foreign window glass heretofore referred to, 14c. and 16c. an inch, &c., are still remarkably scarce and as a matter of course very firm, the small stocks being so well under control, that sellers are enabled to deal them out in just such quantities as they see fit, and at the highest possible market rate. Care is taken, however, not to run the rate too high, as tendency would be to induce buyers to adopt the domestic manufacture whenever the nature of the work would admit. The imports both present and prospective are small, even of undesirable styles, and stocks are not likely to be excessive. Western orders have fallen off a trifle, but are still very fair; the sales for southern shipment are liberal, and an active local trade continues. We still quote at 40@45½ per cent. discount on French, 50 per cent. on very large, and 35@40 per cent. discount on English. Plate glass steady at 5 per cent. discount.

HARDWARE.—There is in some quarters a pretty good business doing, but the demand is not so general as last week, and the volume of trade is somewhat reduced, particularly on out of town orders. The sales on local account continue fair at full prices. Plain, locks with knobs, and door knobs of all kinds locks, continue in demand and very firm.

LABOR.—There is no news of importance this week, the supply of mechanics of all kinds being fair, and work enough for them all. The master masons continue to hold meetings for consultation and exchange of views, but none of the members report any difficulty in obtaining workmen upon reasonable terms, and the strike may be considered at an end. The journeyman bricklayers appear to be devoting all their energies to defend the pending suits against them, for as the President of the National Bricklayers' Union remarked, "if the bricklayers are defeated in this contest, the result will be disastrous to Trades Unions throughout the country." One of the men appointed to collect funds for the above purpose has taken French leave with about $200. His name is John Kettleman, of Union No. 2. At the recent Labor Congress, after considerable discussion upon the subject of strikes, the following clause, embodied in the platform, was ordered stricken out:

Resolved, That this Congress deprecates what is familiarly known as strikes among workmen, and recommends that every other honorable means be exhausted before any such course is resorted to.

At a later session, however, it was remarked by a delegate that the platform contained no reference to strikes, and that the bricklayers were left without support. He therefore offered the following, which was adopted and added to the platform:

Resolved, That this Congress recognizes in its platform the right of the workmen and workingwomen of this nation to strike, when all other just and equitable concessions are refused.

Recently three members of the Society of Operative Stone Masons of Brooklyn, with either more brains, or more good luck than their fellow-workmen, contrary to society rules, contracted to build a church in this city, and chose to employ non-society men. A special meeting of the above society was called, and the offending members cited to appear for trial, but failing to do so the following preamble and resolution were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, James Gleason, Michael Gleason, and Thomas O'Connor, having taken a job by sub-contract in the city of New York, which is contrary to the rules and regulations of the New York Society; and having been personally notified to appear before the Society, and defend the charge preferred against them, and failing to do so,

Resolved, That they be dealt with according to the rules, in whatever penalty the New York Society inflicts for such offences, and in non-compliance with such fine or penalty before 7 a.m. of to-day, they be expelled from the Society.

This is a fair sample of the protection afforded by Trades Unions to their members. No matter how great the opportunity may be for a workman to advance himself in the world, he must conform in every respect to society rules, or be treated in the manner set forth above.

LATH.—The weakness to which we referred in our last report has been noticeable to a greater or less extent up to present writing, and the general tone of the market quite depressed. Some holders have insisted upon $3.00 throughout, and in a few instances this figure was paid, but a large proportion of the sales were made at $2.95, $2.90, and $2.57½, with a few even as low as $2.55. An improved demand from city jobbers has been anticipated for some time, but they failed to come forward with any freedom. Supplies came in thick and fast, and with a sudden and unexpected accumulation of stock, receivers either had to pile out or make a deduction sufficient to draw out buyers. They chose the latter course, and by this means many cargoes were worked off, but at the close of this report buyers again seem inclined to withdraw, and the bids are all at inside figures. We quote nominally at $2.55@

$2.90 per M, and note sales of about 2,000,000, all within the range.

LIME.—The demand for Rockland lime continues quite active and though receipts have been a little larger, no stock accumulates in first hands, all the cargoes being taken up by jobbers immediately upon arrival. The supply in the various yards is fair, and consumers generally are enabled to obtain about all required. Prices remain as before, but close, very firmly at $1.50 per bbl. for common, and $2.00 for lump. The kilns are still running to their full capacity and disposing of the production as fast as it becomes merchantable, the inquiry from the South having again revived, and calling for large quantities, which manufacturers are forwarding. New York, however, has the preference, and when the state of affairs prevailing here will warrant it the shipments in this direction will increase. At Houston (Texas), lime is selling at $4.00@4.25 per bbl., and at Savannah, Geo., $1.75@1.90 do. Northern lime continues in small supply, in active demand from regular buyers, and very firm at rates in proportion to Rockland. The stock detained on the canal has not come through, up to the close of this report, much to the inconvenience of both buyers and sellers.

LUMBER.—In some sections of the city we find the trade at the yards quite dull, but in other directions a good steady demand prevails, and occasionally reports speak of considerable activity. Taken as a whole, therefore the tone of the market is quite healthy, and dealers generally appear confident, particularly as they have not thus far been compelled to accept of any concession for the purpose of realizing all our figures remaining at the same full range as heretofore. Southern buyers are still pretty well represented, and nearly all manage to secure a very fair amount of stock, though the great bulk of the trade is on home account. The receipts via the Hudson River are fair, some of the cargoes coming direct through from the West, where dealers have found the stock in many instances better in quality and easier in price than anything offering in the Albany market. Still there is not enough arriving, as yet to cause any heavy accumulation of supplies, the sales making acting as a partial offset to the arrivals. On hard woods of all kinds there appears to be a very strong feeling, but more particularly on good to choice black walnut, which is still very scarce, and likely to continue so for all dealers who have not already secured their supply, or are unwilling to pay the extreme figures at which the stock at Albany is very sparingly offered. Export orders for black walnut logs are quite plenty, and a few lots continue to go forward; but freight room is still too scarce and too high to admit of liberal shipments. In the wholesale market we note a fair amount of activity, but buyers do not operate with freedom either on local account or for export, and on most styles the tendency has been rather towards a lower range of values. Eastern spruce has been in free receipt, the stock at times accumulating pretty heavily, and receivers throughout the week were anxious sellers, frequently forcing the market, in order to work off unexpected arrivals. This has naturally given buyers a very great advantage, and prices are lower, closing somewhat weak and unsettled. A great many of the schedules offered appear to be made up of odds and ends of short, undesirable stuff, and such as these have sold at $15.00@15.50, one very inferior lot as low as $17.00; but good average cargoes will command $19.00@20.00, and within the latter range most of the business of the week has been consummated. Very choice selections would command $21.00, but such are not to be found at the moment. Canadian spruce remains steady, and is selling to a fair extent, but outside figures can only be obtained on the very best lots, of which there are but few offering. White pine continues to meet with some export demand, both for the West Indies and South America, though this trade is not by any means as active as usual at this season in former years, while for local use, the inquiry is fair. The general aggregate of business, however, looks up small; stocks are pretty large and the market rather unsettled. On all fine and choice shipping goods there is a firmer tone, and few if any concessions can be obtained; but the common sorts are easier, and offered with considerable freedom, owners preferring to accept lower rates, instead of piling out undesirable stock. We quote at $22.00@28.00, for inferior to good box boards; and $29.00@32.00, for prime to choice grades. Piling is dull and in large supply, with the tendency of prices, on all except extra sizes, rather downward. The great bulk of the sales are made at 6½¢@7½¢, with a few up to 8¢, but the latter now appears to be about an outside figure. Pickets continue to sell slowly, and are to a great extent nominal at about $9.00@10.00 per M, for the average run ¾ in. &c. Southern pine is still quite active and prices very strong, everything offered finding a quick market, at the late improvement. The amount on sale does not materially increase, though recent advices from the South report a larger number of vessels loading, with enough stock at the mills to supply a much more liberal amount of freight-room. The general average of prices is about $34.00 @ $35.00, and some of the best $36.00 per M. White oak is in fair receipt, but appears to meet with no demand whatever, and everything coming forward is, from necessity, rafted out. Holders ask 42@44¢ per foot, but this is far above the figures at which sales could be made. Eastern pine and shingles are quiet and would scarcely command above $4.50 @ $4.75 for No. 1, at the present time. Cypress shingles are in heavy supply, and though offered at lower rates, it is found to be impossible to induce buyers to operate with sufficient freedom to reduce the stock. The nominal rates are $16.00 @ $18.00 per M. We note sales during the week of 2,980,000 feet Eastern spruce at $18.00 @ $20.00; 300,000 feet white pine at $22.00 @ $28.00; 200,000 feet do. for export to South America, at $32.00; 105,000 feet Southern pine flooring at $35.00; 400,000 feet of do. timber at $35.00; 200,000 feet Southern pine to arrive—Florida and Georgia—at $35.00; a cargo do., to arrive from North Carolina, at $33.00 per M.; 450 pieces piling at 6½ @ 7½¢ per foot; and 125,000 cypress shingles, part at $17.00 per M., for 2 feet, and $10.00 for common 20 inch. By auction, 6 logs Indiana black walnut at 7¢ per foot; 6 do. do. at 7½¢; 66 do. do. at 7½¢; 22 do. at 7½¢; 2 do. at 8½¢; and 3 do. at 8½¢.

From Philadelphia to Montevideo 319,000 feet boards.

CHICAGO LUMBER MARKET.

(Special Correspondent of REAL ESTATE RECORD.)

CHICAGO, September 28, 1868.

Since last advices the lumber market has been rather dull, the supplies large, and prices heavy, with quite a number of cargoes going over unsold nearly every night. There is no very great pressure to realize, but at the same time, sellers seem inclined to operate with freedom, and do not refuse a slight concession in order to close with buyers. The market for the past month has not realized the expectations of manufacturers, prices ruling weak, and hardly keeping up with the advance in freights. The price of to-day was readily obtained four weeks since. The best grades, largely strips, bring about $16.50@17.50; medium, $14.50@16.00; ordinary mixed, $12.00@14.00, joist, scantling and timber $11.50@12.00. Lath steady and in fair demand at $2.00@2.12½ adloat. Shingles per car load $4.00@4.12½ for A sawed.

A recent report of the Troy market says: "Sales for the last week have been fair. Not many buyers in market, but those here purchased large bills. Coarse lumber, owing to large break in the Northern Canal, is scarce and high, and will undoubtedly sell as fast as received. The stock of sawed pine shingles, both in this and the Albany markets, is large, while sales in same are dull, owing to manufacturers shipping direct to consumers. Pine market is well stocked and prices firm, clear pine selling mostly at $58. Receipts for last week via Western Canal are light, while those via Northern Canal are entirely shut off. Freights dull and boats plenty. No change in freights."

At the Eastward business has been very good, and the general tone of the markets at latest accounts was strong, manufacturers refusing to make any concessions, and rather intimating that if changes were made, an advance instead of a reduction might be looked for. The sales for shipment in this direction were pretty liberal, though somewhat below the amount of the preceding week. Vessels were daily becoming less plenty, and freights had a hardening tone, though as yet without any material improvement. Canadian advices indicate a very stiff market throughout the balance of the season.

The Southern markets generally remain quite firm and trade is improving, owing in a great measure to the increasing shipping facilities. The supply of logs holds out well, and the mills will have enough stock to keep them running. A recent report from Savannah says:

Most of the country and two city mills are at work, the balance will start in a few days; orders are offering freely at good prices. Vessels are getting more plenty; six are now loading with lumber and timber.

Quotations as follows:

Timber $8@12 per M. feet for mill timber, $10@15 for small shipping do., and $14@20 for large do. Lumber $20@22 for ordinary sizes; $25@30 for difficult sizes, and $22@23 for flooring.

From Baltimore we have the following:

The lumber trade has shown some signs of activity the past week. The receipts have been comparatively light, and, with the regular trade, the demand has been such as to leave but little first-class stock on the wharf. The receipts of shingles have been light, owing to the low prices.

The stock at present is generally of a second-class article. We note several sales of yellow pine: 110,000 at $27, and 121,000 at $30; also some inferior lots at from $22 to $25 per M. The quotations are as follows:

METALS.—Copper sheathing continues in very fair demand for small parcels, and new remains steady at 33c. Old, however, has become rather scarce, and few if any dealers are now willing to sell below 20@21c. per lb. Scotch pig iron still further improved immediately following the writing of our last report, but latterly the demand has materially fallen off, and the tendency of price is now downward. The supply on hand is still very small, but with several lots known to be en route, dealers are rather more anxious to operate. We quote at about $43@45 per ton for the average run of stock, with small lots very choice, at $45.50@46. American iron is in moderate supply, but the inquiry is reduced to a very small compass, and the tendency of prices rather downward. We quote somewhat nominally at about $41@42.50 per ton for No. 1; $36@38 for No. 2; and $32@34 for forge. Bar iron from store is selling slowly, but dealers generally remain steady at about previous figures. We quote at $90 per ton for common American and English bar; $100 do. for refined do.; $155 do. for Swedes, ordinary sizes; scroll $130@175 per ton; oval and half round $125@155 do.; and rods ¾@3-16 inch, $105@165 do. Sheet iron has continued in good steady demand, and the market, for common, has not only recovered from the depression noticed in our last, but shows an advance on most grades, closing firmly. We quote at 5¼@6¼c. for singles, 5¼@6c. for doubles, and 6¼@7 for trebles, all from store. Russia sheet is firmly held at 13@14c. gold. assorted numbers, and meets with an average inquiry. About 2,000 packs, mostly light numbers Russia sheet, intended for this market, were recently lost by shipwreck in the Baltic. Pig lead was quiet early in the week, and latterly the demand has improved, and on some grades prices are higher, though on the general range the figures still stand at 6¼@6½c. gold. The stock and receipts continue small, and dealers generally appear very confident. Bar, sheet, and pipe continue in good demand at the recent improvement. Tin, in pigs, is only moderately active, and on most grades remains steady, and we still quote at 24@27c. gold. Tin plates have met with a fair jobbing demand at about previous coin values, and at rather easier rates in currency. Zinc is in small supply, but the demand is much restricted, and prices in most cases will not exceed 12½@12¾c. from store, though very choice grades occasionally reach 13c.

AILS.—Early in the week the market for cut nails was rather dull, and large parcels could have been bought at 5c.; but the feeling latterly has improved, and manufacturers are now pretty firm at 5½@5¼c. The demand is mainly for home use, though a few lots are taken for shipment. Clinch moderately active and steady at 6¼@6½c. Finishing nails rather dull and a little weak, at about 5½@5¼c. for 6d., 8d., 10d., and 12d.; 5¼@5½c. for 5d.; and 6¼@6½c. for 4d. Other styles are in fair demand, and steady at 18c. for zinc, 26c. for yellow metal, and 40c. for copper. The exports are 315 packages, valued at $1,320, against 1,559 packages, valued at $2,571, last week. Shipments to San Francisco of 1,074 packages.

PAINTS AND OILS.—The demand for paints of all kinds, in a jobbing way, has been good at uniform and steady rates, but the wholesale market is extremely dull and a trifle irregular, though not enough so to warrant any change in quotations. Stocks, without being excessive, continue ample for all calls, and fair supplies are expected, both foreign and domestic. Glue is in very good demand, and sells readily up to list prices. Linseed oil has met with only a moderate demand, and the weakness noticed at the close of our last report has further increased, prices showing a falling off of 2@3c. per gallon, with the tendency still rather downward. Seed is very plenty, the manufactured stock liberal, and, with outside lots offering, low crushers have no chance of selling except at low figures. The closing rates are $1.02@1.03 in casks, and $1.04@1.05 in bbls. from crushers' hands, and $1@1.03 from outside parties. Store rates are reduced in proportion. The exports reported for the week are 163 packages paint, valued at $1,770, and 500 gallons linseed oil, valued at $665.

PITCH.—Continued free receipts and some falling off in the already moderate demand have had a depressing influence, and the market is lower on all grades. At the decline holders pretend to much steadiness, but in most cases appear anxious to sell, and stock is easily found by buyers disposed to operate. We quote at $3@3.12½ per bbl. for prime city brands in yard. Wilmington is held at

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SUPREME COURT — IN THE MATTER OF the application of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Commonalty of the City of New York, relative to opening One Hundred and Fourteenth street from Eighth avenue to the Hudson River, in the City of New York. — We, the undersigned Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment in the above-entitled matter, hereby give notice to the owner or owners, occupant or occupants, of all houses and lots and improved or unimproved lands affected thereby, and to all others whom it may concern, to wit: First. That we have completed our estimate and assessment, and that all persons interested in these proceedings, or in any of the lands affected thereby, and who may be opposed to the same, do present their objections in writing, duly verified, to John Nesbit, Esq., our Chairman, at the office of the Commissioners, No. 82 Nassau street (Room No. 42), in this city, on or before the seventeenth day of October, 1868, and that we, the said Commissioners, will hear parties so objecting within the ten week days next after the said seventeenth day of October, 1868, and for that purpose will be in attendance at our said office on each of said ten days, at 12 o'clock M.

SECOND. That the abstract of the said estimate and assessment, together with our maps, and also the affidavits, estimates and other documents, which were used by us in making our report, have been deposited in the Street Commissioner's office, in the City of New York, there to remain until the twenty-ninth day of October, 1868.

THIRD. That the limits embraced by the assessment aforesaid are as follows, to wit: All those lots, pieces or parcels of land, bounded on the north by the centre line of the block between One Hundred and Fourteenth street and One Hundred and Fifteenth street; on the south by the centre line of the block between One Hundred and Fourteenth street and One Hundred and Thirteenth street; on the east by the centre line of the Eighth avenue, and on the west by the Hudson River.

FOURTH. That our report herein will be presented to the Supreme Court of the State of New York, at a special term thereof, to be held at the City Hall, in the City of New York on the second day of November, 1868, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that then and there, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard thereon, a motion will be made, that the said report be confirmed.

Dated New York, September 14, 1868.

JOHN NESBIT,
ANDREW BLEAKLEY, } Commissioners.
MATTHEW TULLY,

SUPREME COURT. — OPENING OF Eighty-second street, from the Second avenue to the Fifth avenue (where not already opened), in the City of New York. — We, the undersigned Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment, in the above-entitled matter, hereby give notice to the owner or owners, occupant or occupants, of all houses and lots and improved or unimproved lands affected thereby, and to all others whom it may concern, to wit:

FIRST. That we have completed our estimate and assessment, and that all persons interested in these proceedings, or in any of the lands affected thereby, and who may be opposed to the same, do present their objections in writing, duly verified, to James M. Sweeney, Esq., our Chairman, at the office of the Commissioners, No. 82 Nassau street (Room No. 42), in this city, on or before the seventeenth day of October, 1868, and that we, the said Commissioners, will hear parties so objecting within the ten week days next after the said seventeenth day of October, 1868, and for that purpose will be in attendance at our said office on each of said ten days, at 11 o'clock A.M.

SECOND. That the abstract of the said estimate and assessment, together with our maps, and also the affidavits, estimates, and other documents, which were used by us in making our report, have been deposited in the Street Commissioner's office, in the City of New York, there to remain until the twenty-ninth day of October, 1868.

THIRD. That the limits embraced by the assessment aforesaid are as follows, to wit: All those pieces or parcels of land lying and being on Eighty-second street, between the Fifth avenue and Avenue A, and extending on either side of said Eighty-second street, half the distance to the next street thereto.

FOURTH. That our report herein will be presented to the Supreme Court of the State of New York, at a special term thereof, to be held at the City Hall, in the City of New York, on the second day of November, 1868, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that then and there, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard thereon, a motion will be made that the said report be confirmed.

Dated New York, September 14, 1868.

ADVERTISING.

SAID an advertiser in the REAL ESTATE RECORD recently: "It is the best medium to the public I ever tried. I never got so large a return for my money in my life." We are not given to boasting, as our readers well know, but we claim to-day to have the best class of subscribers of any paper in New York. It is probable that the patrons of the Financial Chronicle would represent more money, but scores of them are mere speculators and capitalists. We have, however, a far larger constituency of practical business men—all our subscribers are actual dealers in or owners of real estate, builders or dealers in building material, or else heavy capitalists.

Our Judgment reports are already a necessity in banks, insurance companies, and to all who give credit. We have pushed and are still pushing our canvassers in every direction, and, as those who subscribe invariably renew, our subscription list is really very large. Then the RECORD is not like a mere newspaper which is thrown aside when read: each copy must average fifty readers, as it is being constantly referred to and perused. We judge by the great number of files we have sold that over half our weekly edition is carefully preserved for frequent reference.

Of course the RECORD is not a good medium for getting a servant-girl, or finding a lost dog, but for real-estate purposes, or disposing of building material of any kind, this hebdomadal is worth all the other papers in New York put together.

REHABILITATION.

ONE of the curious features about New York is the constant changes which are going on in different parts of the city. At one time a location is pleasant and even fashionable, and in a few years, presto! change—it has become degraded and almost unusable by decent people. Twenty-five years ago, the élite of New York lived in the lower end of Greenwich street and near the Battery; now that locality has been given over to lager-beer saloons and sailors' boarding-houses. Less than twenty years since, the neighborhood of St. John's Park was full of charming residences, but look at it now,—the noble Park itself is a huge freight-house, and the surroundings tenement houses and rum shops! Washington's Parade Ground seems destined to undergo the same process of degradation, and it has commenced in the Second Avenue, which at one time promised to be the great fashionable avenue in the city.

Nor is this all. When once steam roads are built up to Westchester County, we may expect a marked change in Fifth Avenue and Murray Hill. The crème de la crème of our fashionables who now live there will find new homes on the upper end of this island, especially on the north-west side, while the lower end of Westchester County will be given over to charming residences for our wealthier citizens. We confidently predict that in fifteen years Murray Hill will be mainly devoted to the keeping of boarding-houses.

But while this process of degradation is going on, there is also a change for the better in other localities. Look at the Fifth Ward, and especially Church street. In this last locality noble stores have taken the place of the vilest haunts of the metropolis. The Fourth Ward, especially that portion opened up by the New Bowery, is rapidly improving; the Sixth Ward, with its Five Points, is destined to be given over in time to wholesale commerce, and we see portions of the Ninth Ward have recently been utilized by the erection of first-class houses in place of the old tumble-down rookeries which have defaced and kept back this really valuable part of the city.

But why should not this rehabilitation of the waste places of the metropolis go on scientifically and according to rule, rather than fitfully and accidentally, as now? We threw out the suggestion last week, that large companies should be organized, which would buy intrinsically valuable but now neglected parts of the city, and make these localities what they should be. See what enormous dividends could be made by a company that could buy all the streets between Broadway and Varick, and replace the most of the present houses by stores and residences worthy of the city! We have no Emperor here to rebuild New York as Paris was rebuilt and beautified, and this work must be done, if done at all, by a series of great corporations. Which of our capitalists will take the lead in this really public-spirited and philanthropic as well as lucrative enterprise?

OUR underground railroad to Harlem on the east side of the city is to be built by English capitalists; the same who constructed the London underground road. This is a little mortifying to our national pride, for our greatness as a nation has heretofore been in our capacity for overcoming engineering difficulties. However, this English company will have a hard road to travel. The London tunnel runs through loose sand; the New York tunnel above Fourteenth street will go through a solid rock. They will literally have a hard road to travel. We hope they will hurry up. We want at least three underground railroads in this city. So we go.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

THE following are the principal events of the week, having a bearing on prices, value, or improvement of real estate:

SEALED proposals will be received at the Comptroller's office until Tuesday, October 20, 1868, at 2 o'clock P. M., when the same will be publicly opened, for the whole or any part of the sum of forty thousand dollars of market stock authorized by chapter 203 Laws of 1868, and by an ordinance of the Common Council, approved by the Mayor September 25, 1868. Said stock is to be issued for the purpose of providing means for the completion of the market upon the land lying between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets and Avenue C and East River, and will bear interest at the rate of seven per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, on the 1st day of May and November in each year, and the principal will be redeemed on the 1st day of May, 1897. The proposals will state the amount of stock desired and the price per one hundred dollars thereof, and the persons whose proposals are accepted will thereupon be required to deposit with the Chamberlain the sums awarded to them respectively, together with any premium thereon. On presenting to the Comptroller the receipts of the Chamberlain for such deposits, the parties will be entitled to receive certificates for equal amounts of the par value of the sums awarded to them, bearing interest from the dates of payments.

AN Art Gallery to cost one million and a half of dollars, is to be erected on Fifth avenue, New York. Mr. Henry Keep, a wealthy railroad man, has bought a lot two hundred feet square on Fifth avenue, between West Fifty-first and Fifty-second streets, where the building is to be constructed. After founding and endowing the Art Gallery, Mr. Keep proposes to place it in charge of a committee of ladies of a fixed number, with provision to fill the vacancies as they occur from death or otherwise. A small admission fee is to be charged to each visitor, the revenue coming from which is to form a fund for two purposes: First, the care and repair of the building and its contents; and second, the surplus for the relief of the poor of all nations needing succor in the city of New York.

THE Board of Commissioners of the Elevated Railway held a meeting, and agreed unanimously to approve the works now in progress in Greenwich street. This gives the constructing company full rights in the premises without reference to the Common Council, the Legislature having interdicted them from interfering with its construction or operation after the works had been approved by the Commissioners.

THE London method of lighting the public lamps of this city, recently introduced by the Manhattan Gas-Light Company, is about to be generally introduced in this city. For several weeks past Madison avenue has been lit by the new process. The simplicity and ease with which the lighting is effected are its great recommendations. The lamplighter does not have to ascend the lamp-post, and the ladder is entirely dispensed with. He simply carries in his hand an improved torch, which consists of a peculiar kind of lamp fastened to a pole. This is thrust up into the lamp, the gas is turned on, when the flame immediately springs up. The turning on of the gas is effected by attaching a brass arm to the gas tube, which is turned by the end of the torch as it is put into the lamp. This allows the gas to escape when it comes in contact with the flame inside of the torch tube, and ignition takes place. With this simple contrivance one man can do the work of five as under the old plan.

A CABLE despatch states that a contract has been concluded with the English engineers who built the London Underground Railway for the construction of the road from Chambers street in this city to Westchester, authorized by our last State Legislature. The contractors are of course practical men, with experience in the building of underground roads, and so we may reasonably expect that the work will be entered upon without delay and pushed vigorously forward. The sooner we have this important question of the best mode of locomotion for New York definitely settled the better.

THE Park Commissioners should cause to be constructed an immense hall in the lower Park, as large (but in style more ornamental) as the skating rink now in course of erection on Third avenue, where during the winter season thousands could assemble and listen to classical and popular music on one or two afternoons in each week, and at other times enjoy the dance under proper regulations. Why not?

ECONOMY IN BUILDING.—In these days of inflated prices, when shelter for a family is the chief item in the expense of living, economy in the construction of dwellings is a matter of the first importance. In materials and methods of construction the limit of economy has been pretty nearly reached, and houses can hardly be made with less lumber than is now used in cheap structures, with safety to the occupants. But in the matter of form there is still opportunity for improvement. The fact that the square incloses the largest area with the least circumference of any rectangular form, is well enough known, but not always considered in the erection of cheap dwellings. The area of a square increases in double ratio to the increase of the circumference. A house twenty feet by twenty is four times as large as one ten by ten, but requires only twice the amount of external wall. A house forty by forty incloses twice the space of one twenty by forty, but requires only one third more wall. It is obvious that a square house is much more economical than one that gives the same amount of room in an irregular form. The latter may be more elegant; it certainly gives opportunity for greater variety; but where the object is to obtain the largest amount of room at the least expense, the nearer we get to a square the better. The square is also susceptible of a better arrangement and connection of rooms. And by a variety of windows and good taste in the external ornaments, a square house may be made quite attractive in appearance. One cannot examine the dwellings in a city like this without perceiving that many, or the cheapest houses are built in entire disregard of economy in shape, and many of them contain enough lumber to inclose nearly twice the space they actually contain. The subject is one deserving more attention than it receives from architects and builders. There are few things more to be desired in this world than a spacious, convenient and pleasant house. Only in such a dwelling-place can the true idea of home be realized.

Gossip.—CITY.

A vast quantity of eligible property is in the market, and probably the month of October will witness the sale of over 7,000 lots in the country contiguous to New York.... A very gloomy and cheerless edifice is the Theological Seminary in Chelsea Park, but the park itself is well-shaded with foliage, and would be a blessing to the quarter in which it stands were it open to the public.... At the corner of Ninth avenue and Fifth street, there is yet to be seen a little old burial ground that, not so many years ago, was considered to be a great way out into the country. Excavation for the streets has elevated it, and the tombstones now stand far above the sidewalks.... West Broadway, in the vicinity of Worth street, is rendered dangerous by numerous obstructions. What between piles of packing-cases and mountains of brick and sand, the sidewalks there are all but impassable.... Newark is to have a skating rink. A number of prominent citizens have, after examination, come to the conclusion that the erection of a rink was a very feasible project in Newark.... The ground on West Broadway occupied for so many years by Riley's Fifth Ward Hotel is now nearly built over with large stores.... Large iron and marble stores are in course of erection on Broadway, corner of Thirty-first and Nineteenth streets.... The Episcopal Church of the Holy Sepulchre, Seventy-fourth street and Fourth avenue, is to be built of blue stone, 44x102 feet, with tower and steeple 160 feet high; it will cost from $75,000 to $100,000 and will accommodate about one thousand persons.... The elegant stone mansion and pleasure grounds of Philip Dater, Esq., at East Morrisania, comprising twenty-six and a half acres of land, beautified with majestic shade trees, planted thirty years ago, shrubbery and choice flowers, has been sold to Edward Willis, Esq., for $130,000.... Hamilton Park—or what used to be so called—is now a desolate and depressing waste, a disgrace to Third avenue, to New York generally, and to everybody who has had a hand in the job of "discomposing" it.... Numerous stocks of handsome dwelling-houses are now being built in Harlem.... Large blocks of brick buildings, run up in the flimsiest kind of architecture imaginable, are beginning to crop out everywhere in Yorkville.... A monument of Scotch granite is to be placed over the grave of Abbott, in Greenwood, in the spring.... The Moravian church at New-Dorp has been enriched by a gift of forty-six acres of land adjoining the Moravian Cemetery. The present was made by Commodore Vanderbilt.... People have been assessed to the tune of a thousand and even fifteen hundred dollars for the opening of Church street and not a shovelful of earth has been turned up there yet as a preliminary to the opening, and perhaps never will be.... The premises No 316 Water street, north of the notorious Allen's dance-house, have been purchased by the Rev. Dr. Ward, on behalf of a number of religious people who desire to see Water street reformed, for general mission purposes, and will be opened this day with appropriate services by several clergymen. Daily prayer meetings will be held in this place, and a suitable person will be placed in charge of the Mission permanently. The "Mission" will also be open every evening, and prayers will be put up for the benefit of those who are still in the way of sin and destruction.... The sheriff's office has been removed to the new Court-house.... The thorough drainage of Staten Island, an improvement greatly needed, it is estimated, will cost $5,000,000.... From the semi-monthly report of the Castle Garden Emigrant Labor Exchange there were 1,636 applicants for employment; 1,829 orders of employers for laborers; 1,596 persons furnished with employment. The average rate of monthly wages paid to males was $14; females, $10. Of the persons employed 296 were mechanics, 721 farmers, 4 competent female servants, and 635 females unskilled in any business. Alfred Erbe has resigned the superintendency of the Exchange.

DOMESTIC.

The assessors of Worcester, Mass., have completed their valuation of the city for the present year. The total valuation of taxable property is $26,089,300, an increase of $2,152,400 over the previous year. This is divided as follows: Real estate, $17,311,200; personal, $8,778,100. Number of voters, 9,126, an increase of 585; number of houses, 3,844—an increase of 302.... Hundreds of families who would rent and become citizens of Toledo, are prevented from doing so because houses cannot be obtained.... A brick building, three stories high, and about 100 feet long and forty feet wide, is to be erected immediately on Rider avenue, east side of the canal, at Mott Haven, to be occupied as a manufactory for gas fixtures, faucets, etc., by Carr & Co., of New York.... The extensive manufacturing property at South Coventry, Conn., formerly belonging to Nelson Kingsbury & Co., has been purchased by Messrs. W. W. Huntington & Co. of New York, A. W. Jilison of Hartford, G. W. Capron and D. F. Lathrop of South Coventry, who have named the premises the "Mill Brook Woolen Co.".... There has never been a time in the history of Hammoncton, N. J., when there were more decided improvements going on than there are now. Fine buildings have been recently erected, and others have been remodelled and enlarged.... A local paper says that farms in Arkansas sell at from three to five cents, an acre, and adds that dirt is so cheap that you have to look sharp or an extra 40 acres or so is smuggled on you in making out the deed.... A number of new buildings are going up in Syracuse.... Chicago has forty public school buildings, valued at $1,528,284, and accommodating 401 teachers and 29,464 pupils.... The improvements in Philadelphia, during the present year, are likely to exceed greatly those of any former year. The whole number of new buildings for which permits were granted, between January 1st and Sept. 1st, was 3,634; the whole number of alterations was 1,004; total, 4,638. Estimating the average value of the new buildings at only $6,000, the whole cost of them will be $31,804,000. Estimating the alterations at $800 apiece, they would amount to $804,200. So that the whole amount expended in building improvements, thus far, is not less than $22,607,200. As many of the new buildings are costly churches, factories, stores, public halls, &c., the average value we have given must be below rather than above the actual cost.... The assessment roll for the city of Milwaukee, Mich., including real estate and personal property, was concluded last week. The total amount is $40,013,548. Last year the total was $15,716,071.... The total valuation this year in Troy, is higher by $578,220.14 than last year—an increase of nearly $600,000. The increase on Real is $68,273; and on Personal the increase is $419,947.14.... At South Boston, Mr. Hatsall, for $6,000, has bought of the Benjamin Adams estate, some land bounding easterly on 2d street 125 feet, and southerly on 4th street 175 feet.... Fifty acres of land, unincumbered by any condition, has been given to the Moravian church at New-Dorp, Staten Island, by Commodore Vanderbilt.

FOREIGN.

The recent report of Baron Haussman, the Prefect of the Department of the Seine, gives important statistics in reference to the French capital. Paris covers a superficial surface of 19,315 acres, of which Paris proper contains 8,447 acres, and the suburbs 10,868 acres. The network of public streets measures linearly 528 miles, spreading over a surface of 3,038 acres. The thoroughfares opened within the last fifteen years extend to a length of 84 miles. A great number of streets are still without foot-paths, because the total length of the side-walks in Paris is only 676 miles. If all were provided with them, there would be an extent of 1,056 miles of walking paths, taking in both sides of the street. A length of 81 miles is planted and shaded by 95,577 trees, forming what is termed the alignment. The public promenades and squares of Paris occupy a total space of 4,404 acres, of which the Bois de Boulogne covers 2,092 acres, that of Vincennes 1,976 acres, the Park of the Buttes-Chaumont, 62 acres, the contemplated grounds of Mont-Souris, 44½ acres, and the Park de Monceau, 21 acres. The lighting of the public streets is effected by 33,559 lamps, of which 32,320 are gas and 1,239 oil. Of coal, 400,000 tons are consumed annually in the gas works of Paris. The capital consumes at present 92,442,000 gallons of water every twenty-four hours, and it will receive 26,412,000 gallons additional when the waters of the Vanne shall have been brought in, and the two artesian wells at the Buttes-aux-Cailles and the Place Herbert are at work yielding a supply. The number of reservoirs is seventeen, capable of containing in the aggregate 64,445,280 gallons, but for a city like Paris that reserve is insignificant, since it does not represent a single day's consumption. There are in Paris 557 miles of water pipes and conduits of various dimensions. The sewerage extends to 322 miles, of which distance 109 miles are lofty and broad, provided with rails and suitable boats. There are 1,642 educational establishments, comprising 174,620 pupils; the charitable houses have 11,260 beds, and the Bureau of Benevolence distributed aid in 1867 to 105,119 indigent persons.

The government of India has recently taken measures to preserve the numerous architectural remains which show the history of various peoples which have inhabited India for two thousand years. One of the early fruits of this organization has been the preservation of the Sanchi Tope in Central India. This Tope is one of the most ancient and remarkable Buddhist architectural remains in India, dating 250 B. C.; and recently an application was made to the Begum of Bhopal, in whose territories it is, by the French Consul-General, M. Place, to allow the principal gateway of the Tope to be carried off and set up in Paris.

But the Begum—who, being a Mohammedan, is indifferent to Buddhist buildings—before consenting to M. Place's proposal, offered the gateway to the Indian government to be sent to England. The Indian government declined the gift, and recommended that the Tope should be properly conserved, and suggested that it would be quite sufficient for France and England to have casts of the gateway, which is of a highly decorative character.

SALES.

The fall market has had a good opening, and the spirit of speculation is rife among the people and the masses. The following are the particulars of sales since our last issue:

THURSDAY, OCT. 1ST. By A. J. BLEEKER, SON & Co.—Estate of Judge John Garrison, deceased, at Garrison's, opposite West Point:—

Plot 1, 9.15 acres.....	$1,800	Plot 8, 1.28 acres.....	$1,450
Plot 2, 19 acres.....	3,800	Plot 9, 1.22 acres.....	1,600
Plot 3, 25.72 acres.....	4,000	Plot 10, 2.01 acres.....	800
Plot 4, 5.09 acres.....	2,350	Plot 11, 1.98 acres.....	675

Plot 6, 5.77 acres.....	2,500	Plot 13, 3.34 acres.....	1,400
Plot 7, 3.19 acres.....	2,500

FRIDAY, OCT. 2D.—By A. J. BLEEKER, SON & Co.—Four story English basement brick house, with brown stone trimmings, and lot No. 141 West 26th st., north side, between 6th and 7th avenues; house 16.5x47; lot 16.5 by half the block in depth. Purchased by James Stern for $13,800. Three story and basement brown stone house and lot, on the south side of 79th st., commencing 257.1 feet west of 2d avenue; house 17.1x45; lot 17.1x102.2. Purchased by Marshall Long for $14,500. Yonkers Property.—Mansion and four acres, about five minutes' walk from Spuyten Duyvil depot, and one quarter of a mile from the Boulevard in the town of Yonkers, Westchester county. Purchased by Mr. L. D. G. Lewis for $19,700. New Jersey Property.—Fruit farm, containing 108 acres, 5 acres oak woodland, the residue, 100 acres, under cultivation; new cedar fence, enclosing 11,500 peach trees; farm house, barn and out-houses, situated in Jackson township, Ocean county, N. J. Purchased by T. M. Livingston for $7,300.

MONDAY, OCT. 5TH.—The Madison Park Land Improvement Company, owning a large and valuable tract near Paterson, N. J., sold a considerable number of lots at auction. A large crowd of bidders were present, but owing to the unprecedented figures reached, the number of buyers was comparatively small. The site is one of the most beautiful near Paterson, just outside of the city limits and very desirable for residences, and many New Yorkers were there with an evident eye to purchase, who were disappointed in the prices the lots brought. Mr. J. H. Hindle, of Paterson, was the auctioneer. The lots were sold in plots of four lots each, running through from one street to another, that plan being decidedly the most acceptable to those who propose to build. Ten lots from Main to Marshal st., brought $450 each; and four $460; four from Dear to Main, $510; the balance averaged about $275.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 6TH.—By JAMES M. MILLER.—The lot of land, with buildings thereon, No. 100 Chatham st., 18.10 feet front, 109.5 mean depth, $19,350. The lot of land, with improvements, No. 32 Rutgers st., 25 ft. front, 84.7 ft. depth, $10,150.

By E. H. LUDLOW & Co.—Seventh av., s. w. corner of Forty-first st., plot 98.9x100, Nos. 495 and 500, each three story and basement brick stores and dwellings, lots each 24.5x100; No. 502, a three story and basement brick dwelling, lot 24.5x100; No. 504, corner, a three story and basement brick dwelling, $4,500 to remain on bond and mortgage for a term of years, at private sale, $68,000.

By JOHNSON & MILLER.—Lots on Rogers av. corner of Douglass st., Brooklyn, 25x100, sold for $700. Lots on Buffalo and Sackett sts., $200. One lot on Seventeenth st., n. s., n. Sixth av., 20x100, Mr. Crane, $675. One lot on Putnam av., n. Broadway, 20x100, P. Burke, $400. Seven acre lots on Carroll st., n. Albany av., plot 109x138.1x80x about 113, Mr. Wallace, each $150. Three story frame house, with lot 20x60, on Marcy av., n. Kosciuszko st., Mr. Hickson, $1,300. Three lots on Dean st., n. Grand av., each 15.9x100, John H. Collins, each $725. Three lots on Dean st., adjoining, same size, S. Frisbie, each $700. Six lots on Dean st., adjoining, same size, W. Gardner, each $700. Three lots on Dean st., adjoining, 19x100, W. Gardner, each $775. Four lots on Pacific st., adjoining, same size, Mr. Gardner, each $350.

FLATBUSH PROPERTY.—Lots on Schenectady av. and Clarkson st., average about $130.

EAST NEW YORK PROPERTY.—Lots on Willears av., n. Broadway, brought about $230.

NEW JERSEY PROPERTY.—By LEWIS E. WOOD.—The hotel at Schooley's Mountain Springs, Morris County, New Jersey, known as the "Heath House," complete in all its arrangements and furnished throughout. It will accommodate three hundred persons, has connected with it a cottage, containing nine rooms; a billiard room, tennis alleys, a new laundry, extensive stables and carriage sheds, ice houses, &c., besides thirty acres of good land, including a lawn of nearly twenty acres, filled with shade trees. The property was sold on the following terms:—ten per cent. on the day of sale and fifteen per cent. on the 1st of November next, when the deed and possession will be given. The balance, seventy-five per cent., on bond and mortgage for five or seven years, interest payable semi-annually, and was purchased by H. R. Chidzey, of Easton, Pa., for $31,000.

PLAINFIELD PROPERTY.—By A. J. BLECKER, SOX & Co.—Lots on Madison av., $100 to $150; on Jefferson, about $30; on Prospect, about $200.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—We hear of no important change in values during the week under review, but the market appears to have become a trifle more steady and there is less disposition to allow buyers the advantage in closing sales. The demand also shows some improvement, but is entirely from city and suburban dealers, no shipments to the Eastward taking place at the moment. The receipts continue quite liberal and our stock increases somewhat, though really choice lots are not abundant, and are mostly disposed of upon arrival. We quote choice North River hard at $11.00 per M. Good average grades, $10.00@ $10.50, and common, rough, and washed parcels $9.00@ $9.50 per M. Pale brick are selling to a very fair extent and dealers are still obtaining $7.00@ $8.00 per M. Owing to the uncertain weather, it is generally the custom even with an active market to suspend the manufacture during the month of October, and now with a comparatively small outlet, and pretty much all available storage room occupied with stock, it is confidently asserted that by the 15th or 20th inst. at the latest, all the yards will have stopped work for the season. Unless the sales very materially increase however, brick cannot be scarce, for the amount made up and ready for market is said to be as large as ever before known. For Croton fronts the demand has been quite active, and the sales fully equal to the supply, causing at times a temporary scarcity, though we do not learn that sellers have taken advantage of the position to advance prices. Philadelphia fronts have also sold well, and at the present writing are scarce and firm. We notice exports of 32,500 bricks to Cuba.

CEMENT.—The shipping demand for Rosendale continues good, not only for domestic ports but for the West Indies, with a few lots taken for the Pacific coast. The local trade has also been quite active, many of the jobbers commencing to lay in their winter supply, and the production of the factories is disposed of as rapidly as thrown on the market. This has caused a scarcity, and enabled all the leading companies to advance the price 15c. per bbl., the feeling at the close being strong at $1.90 per bbl. for cargoes delivered here, with smaller lots at higher figures. We notice shipments during the week of 25 bbls. to Porto Rico, 100 bbls. to New Granada, and 500 bbls. to San Francisco.

DOORS, SASH AND BLINDS.—Wholesale dealers and manufacturers report nothing new this week. About former prices are asked and obtained, and without decided activity there is enough trade doing to give the market a healthy, uniform tone. A goodly proportion of present orders are for local use.

DRAIN AND SEWER PIPE.—Some local inquiry has prevailed, but mostly for small odd lots, as required to finish out jobs, or for temporary stock for plumbers. On shipping orders, however, we hear of some little activity, both for the interior and coastwise. Prices on lists remained about as before, with such modifications or additions as the standing of buyers require.

FOREIGN WOODS.—There has been a little better demand for export, but the scarcity of desirable stock, and the continued high rates of freight greatly restrict operations. The jobbing trade is fair, though not by any means active. Prices unchanged. The exports for the week are 18 logs cedar to Liverpool; 15 logs do. and 10 logs mahogany to Gibraltar. The receipts are 40 logs rosewood from Liverpool, and 811 logs ebony from London. During the three months ending Sept. 30th, the value of the imports at this port were as follows: Boxwood $348; cedar $29,178; ebony $2,386; lignumvite $4,408; mahogany, $31,717; rosewood $48,010; and satinwood $283.

GLASS.—We note a continued active business doing in both English and French window glass, and the demand appears to be rather more general, some of the larger sizes attracting attention, though the medium and small grades are still the favorites. Prices rule very firm on French, about 40@47½, and some of the best as high 40c. per cent. discount; and English 35@40 per cent. off list. Several lots of desirable stock recently arrived, but all have not as yet come upon the market. There will scarcely be enough, however, to afford more than a temporary relief, as everything thus far offered has immediately disappeared. The Western and Southern trades continue good, with a first rate local demand prevailing. The imports for the week are 12,423 pkgs., valued at $27,002; and 243 glass plate, value $34,446. The imports for quarter ending September 30th were 53,101 pkgs. glass, valued at $142,745, and 2,122 plate, valued at $256,525.

HAIR.—There is a good steady demand prevailing for nearly all grades, and, with continued light supplies of desirable stock, prices remain firm at 45c. for cattle, 60c. for mixed, and 70c. for goat.

LABOR.—At a recent meeting of the master masons Mr. A. M. Ross announced the bricklayers' strike at an end, and congratulated his associates upon the handsome victory won. He also proposed the formation of a union of all classes of master house-builders, and said that if that were effected, and then only such contracts taken as would give them the right to stop work at pleasure, there would be no more strikes.

The German Ten-hour Bricklayer's Union No. 1, held a quarterly meeting during the week. The financial exhibit showed a balance of $450 over the expenses of the Society. The Society at present numbers nearly 300 members. A resolution was passed declaring that they will refuse to work with men who have been engaged on eight-hour jobs and who return to the ten-hour system only to obtain a job on which ten-hour men are engaged.

The house-smiths of this city have in view a strike for higher wages, and will soon take definite action on the subject.

The pernicious influence of strikes is daily becoming more apparent, and various plans, not only here, but in Europe, have been suggested as a remedy for the evil. The following letter was addressed by John Stuart Mill, M.P. to the Illustrated Weekly News, in whose columns the system of small percentage partnerships between masters and men has been advocated as a means of healing the differences at present existing between labor and capital: "I am quite of opinion that the various forms of co-operation (among which the one most widely applicable at present to production, as distinguished from distribution, is what you term the system of small percentage partnerships) are the real and only thorough means of healing the feud between capitalists and laborers, and while tending eventually to supersede trade unions, are meanwhile a natural and gradually increasing corrective of their operation. I look also with hope to the ultimate working of the foreign combination. The operatives are now fully alive to this part of the case, and are beginning to try how far the combination principle among laborers for wages admits of its becoming international, as it has already become national, instead of only local, and general, instead of being confined to each trade, without help from other trades. The final experiment has thus commenced, the result of which will fix the limit of what the trade-union principle can do. And the larger view of questions which these considerations open up, and which is already visibly enlightening the minds of the more advanced work-people, will dispose them more and more to look for the just improvement of their condition, rather in becoming their own capitalists, or allying themselves on fair conditions with the owners of capital, than in their present uncomfortable and often disastrous relations with them."

LATH.—There is no change of importance to note, the range of prices still standing at $285 to $300 per ton, and the general tone of the market irregular. At the inside rate sales have been made to arrive, and several odd lots on the spot changed hands, particularly where the delivery was not expensive. Some of the principal dealers, however, have refused to operate below $300, and have worked off quite a respectable amount at that rate. The supply in the hands of jobbers is larger than anticipated, and hence the demand does not materially improve, receivers sometimes finding it pretty hard work to keep their cargoes well sold up. The arrivals at the present writing are moderate, and the amount coming down the coast is said to be small, millers having checked shipments in view of the advance in freights.

LIME.—Only a few cargoes of Rockland lime have been received at this port up to the present writing, but all coming forward have found a quick market at full previous rates. Dealers, however, have not thought it advisable to advance their views, and quotations still stand at $1.50 for common and $2.00 per bbl. for lump, as it is thought any higher figures would have a tendency to divert attention to the Northern lines. The production of the kilns does not abate, and free shipments are making to Eastern ports (Boston in particular), and all along the Southern coast, vessels finding considerable profit in running down with a cargo of lime, and returning with lumber or cotton, or crossing to Cuba and taking in sugar and molasses for Northern ports. But New York is not to be neglected; and when the proper time arrives a sufficient supply to meet all demands will be forthcoming. Northern stock of all kinds is now coming forward quite regularly—the break in the canal having been repaired, and nothing interfering with the transportation. Receivers in most cases are not offering very freely, as it will take some little time to fill back orders, prices in the meantime remaining about the same as Rockland, except upon inferior brands, which are 10c.@15c. per bbl. off.

LUMBER.—The retail trade from the yards, with a few exceptional cases, has become rather dull again, and very little stock is now going out, except to complete back contracts, or to fill a few unimportant country orders. We notice, however, a continued feeling of confidence in all directions, and though the promises of a good or even fair, full trade have not, as yet, been in any way verified, holders do not press the market, nor offer to accept any material concessions from previous rates for the purpose of realizing. All the pine products of the better quality, as well as the hard woods, now here, or likely to come in, it is thought, will be wanted at full prices, and of course receivers prefer piling out to selling Yellow pine, in retail lots, is doing rather better, in sympathy with the firmness and buoyancy on cargo rates Cypress shingles from yard are quoted nominally, as before; but an outright offer, even if materially lower than the rates asked, always receives attention, and generally results in a sale. Black walnut, for home use, is only moderately active, but for export, logs are in demand and firm mostly at about 7 @ 7½c. per foot, with occasionally something extra at 8c. The receipts of lumber at the yards continues fair, but do not materially increase, many dealers thinking the trade prospect too poor to warrant bringing forward more stock than immediate wants require, while others, who are dependent in a great measure upon the Albany market, still refrain from purchasing in the apparently vain hope of more favorable terms. The Western markets, to be sure, have recently fallen off, but all the stock there offered finds a ready sale at present nearer home, so that this will afford no great relief, while lake and canal freights as now arranged, impose an additional cost of $2.00 per M. on all stock coming through to tide water. Albany dealers, therefore, continue to look pretty high, and talk as if they intended to make a strong effort to hold the market well up to present figures during the balance of the season. Our latest advices report firmer prices on all grades, and not much desirable stock offering. The wholesale market is without any very decided change the supply and demand, with very few exceptions, remaining about equal, and values much the same as last week. Shippers continue to purchase sparingly, though one or two considerable lots are now making up for South American ports. Eastern spruce has been less plenty, but the arrivals appeared to be about as much as receivers cared to handle, and the general tone of the market was somewhat dull, very good schedules frequently holding over two or three days, awaiting buyers. Prices, however, are sustained, partly owing to the recent advance in freights at the Eastward, and at the present writing the feeling is steady at $19.00 @ $20.00 per M. for the average of promiscuous cargoes; and $20.50 @ $21.00 for fine to choice selections. The very inferior lots on the market at the date of our last, appear to have all been worked off, and we now hear of nothing as low as $18.00 @ $18.50 per M. There is very little Canadian spruce here of a quality calculated to attract attention, and prices are, to a great extent, nominal on large parcels. White pine continues in pretty liberal supply and rather dull, but dealers manifest considerable confidence in the future, and at the slight modifications to which we referred last week, prices generally rule steady, particularly on the fine grades. One or two small contracts have been made for export, but the home demand is quite moderate. We quote at $22.00 @ $23.00 for inferior to good box boards; $29.00 @ $32.00 for prime shipping lots, and $33.00 for very choice do. Piling has arrived with less freedom, and the accumulation of stock for the moment is checked. A moderate demand has prevailed, and former prices were obtained, viz.: 6½ @ 7½c. for the average sizes, and 8c. for very choice. Pickets scarce, but not inquired after to any extent, and rates to a great extent nominal at $9.00 @ $10.00 per M. Southern pine has been quiet, owing mainly to a want of stock, adverse winds having prevented the arrival of several cargoes about due. Dealers, however, remain very firm in view of the continued extravagant freight charges, and full former prices are still current, the market closing at $34.00 @ $35.00 per M. for ordinary, to $36.00 per M. for extra. Western white oak dull at somewhere in the neighborhood of 42c. 44c. per foot. Cypress shingles have arrived to some extent, but no additions were needed to our already immense stock, and prices continue heavy and irregular at about $16.00 @ $18.00 per M. Eastern pine and cedar sawed shingles are quiet at $4.50 @ $5.00, the latter an extreme. Shaved shingles about $5.25 @ $6.00 per M., but not much demand. The reported sales for the week are small, embracing only 1,250,000 feet Eastern spruce at $19.00 @ $21.00; 500,000 feet white pine at $25.00 @ $31.00; and 200,000 feet yellow pine at $34.50 @ $35.00 per M.

CHICAGO LUMBER MARKET.

(Special Correspondent of REAL ESTATE RECORD.)

CHICAGO, October 6, 1868.

The offerings of lumber since last report have continued fair, but the demand far from active, all classes of buyers operating with great caution, and seldom selecting the larger cargoes. Prices are without much general strength, though the range shows very little variation for the week, and quotations still stand at about $16.50 @ $17.50 for the best; $14.50 @ $16.00 for medium; $12.00 @ $14.00 for ordinary mixed; and $11.50 @ $12.00 for joist scantling and timber. Shingles in light supply, very good demand, and firm at $4.00 @ $4.12½ for sawed. Lath moderately active and steady, at $2.00 @ $2.12½ afoot.

We are again indebted to the valuable monthly circular of Messrs. Woolner & Garrick, for the following review of the Chicago market for the month of September:—

In presenting to you our customary report regarding the lumber traffic at this port, we have but a few general remarks to make. The trade has not been what we had anticipated and what was confidently expected by both buyers and sellers; it has been rather languid, of a very even tenor, and not very encouraging to manufacturers as a general rule, and more especially to those who are producing an inferior or ordinary common article. It is strongly to be hoped that the experience of this year will impress upon the manufacturer the possibility that even the Chicago market, proverbial for its immense capacity of consumption and transfer, can be overstocked, and that it will be of the greatest importance to contrive some sort of an understanding whereby the manufacture may be checked within reasonable bounds. The demand for lumber will steadily increase, as the country to the west and south of us is being improved; but it is a great pity to see such a staple article as lumber forced upon the market in larger quantities than is actually needed from year to year. Besides, the interest of owners of pineries is certainly to save these as much as practicable, because from year to year their value will materially enhance.

The receipts are commencing to fall off materially, and the shipments are increasing. The total receipts for the past month amount to 123,314,994 feet, being an increase over the same month last year of 9,121,492 feet; but showing a decrease, compared with the month of August this year, of 37,304,506 feet. On the other hand, the shipments amount to 66,440,796 feet, which is 8,589,140 feet in excess of the same period last year, and 8,038,672 feet more than in August last. The total receipts for the year amount to 732,632,243 feet, which is 127,807,073 feet more than was received up to this time in 1867. The shipments aggregate 417,870,509 feet, whereas last year they were only 350,135,775 feet. The stocks held by dealers here are very large; but the trade from yards is good and daily getting better. The country absorbs large quantities; but railroad facilities are not yet what the trade demands, owing to the continued demand for cars to bring in grain, so that they are often sent out empty instead of waiting for lumber. The weather has been rather unpropitious for trade, very cold for this time, and a great deal of rain has fallen, so as to make bad roads, and unpleasant handling; but still not enough to have any noticeable effect upon the stage of water in the Illinois river. As yet this great channel of commerce, to and from Chicago, is closed on account of low water, and serious fears are entertained that another fall will pass without furnishing a proper stage of water for navigation. This is a most serious matter for farmers and lumbermen as well as for canal-boat property, and it proves the absolute necessity of improving the Illinois river, so that we at all times shall have sufficient water to float a loaded canal boat. From appearances at the present writing it would seem probable that a sufficient rise would take place shortly, and if so, the demand from the river towns, including St. Louis, will certainly be very brisk. The supply will, however, beyond all doubt, more than keep up to the daily demand, so that we can scarcely see any prospect of a rise in prices during the balance of the season. The very best of cargoes, consisting either of wide boards and thick uppers or of choice strips, continue to bring a very fair price, leaving the manufacturer a good margin; but the ordinary mixed cargoes are getting more and more difficult to dispose of.

Canadian lumber continues to arrive, but only in limited amounts. The prices realized on cargoes from there have been remunerative to the producer.

The shingle market has been very active and the demand steadily in advance of supply, in consequence of which the price has been gradually enhanced, until now a good article readily sells for $4, and on the track of the Northwestern Railway, by the car load, the price is $4.13. A real good article of shaved shingle is also in demand at good prices. However, the number of buyers of this kind is limited to a few, and their wants can readily be supplied.

The latest clearances from St. Johns to New York were, the Ada, by Paine & Sherman, with 175,000 feet boards, plank, etc., and the B. Young, by J. Macfarlane, with 799,000 laths.

The improved tone noticeable in the Southern markets to which we referred in our last, still continues, and business in many quarters is becoming quite brisk. Prices rule quite firm and were rather tending towards a slightly higher range, though the effect here will be scarcely perceptible owing to the larger number of vessels now at the Southern ports, and the reduced cost of freight.

From Savannah we learn that the "stock of timber on hand is very small; all arrivals the past week have been bought up, and the demand is fully equal to the supply prices have consequently had an upward tendency."

Also that the "demand for lumber continues about the same; most of the city and country mills are at work, and with several vessels loading and several arrivals, the prospect for shipping looks better, and a lower rate of freight is expected."

Quotations as follows:

Timber $8@12 per M. feet for mill timber, $10@15 for small shipping do., and $14@20 for large do. Lumber $20@22 for ordinary sizes; $25@30 for difficult sizes, and $22@23 for flooring.

The shipments of lumber from Wilmington to coastwise ports during Sept. were as follows: To New York 144,550 feet, to Boston 202,462 feet, to Philadelphia 117,000 feet, to Baltimore 62,117 feet, to Newport, R. I., 50,000 feet, to New London, Ct., 100,000 feet, and to Kennebunk, Me., 396,849 feet. Total, 1,072,978 feet. The shipments for August were $67,166 feet, for July 2,164,962. Total for three months 4,105,106 feet, against 2,085,788 for same period last year. The shipments to foreign ports for September were 427,893 feet; for the three months ending Sept. 30th, 1,082,297, against 814,028 feet same time last year. During September there were also shipped 116,700 cypress staves to New York, 3,415 do. and 299,250 cypress shingles to Philadelphia.

The latest report of prices by the Pensacola Lumber Co. is as follows:

From Baltimore we have the following:

The lumber trade has shown some signs of activity the past week. The receipts have been comparatively light, and, with the regular trade, the demand has been such as to leave but little first-class stock on the wharf. The receipts of shingles have been light, owing to the low prices. The stock at present is generally of a second-class article.

We note several sales of yellow pine: 110,000 at $27, and 121,000 at $30; also some inferior lots at from $22 to $25 per M. The quotations are as follows:

METALS.—Copper sheathing remains without alteration in price, and in moderate request, the sales and supply about balancing. We quote at 39c. for new and 20c. 21c. for old. Scotch pig iron cannot be quoted materially lower, but the market is depressed and unsettled, with sellers rather more anxious to operate than buyers. This is owing partly to the weakness in gold, but in the main to the larger supply now here, and the pretty liberal amounts on the way. We quote somewhat nominally at $43.00@44.75 per ton for average sales, and $45.00@45.50 for small and choice parcels. American continues scarce, but is not much sought after, and the general market has a weakening tendency, closing at about $41.00@42.00 per ton for No. 1; $36.00@37.00 for No. 2; and $32.00@34.00 for forge. Bar iron from store is in good demand, but large invoices are neglected. Prices show no variation, and close steadily. We quote at $90 per ton for common American and English bar; $100 do. for refined do.; $155 for Swedes, ordinary sizes; scroll, $130.00@175 per ton; oval and half round, $125@155 do., and rods ¾@3-16 inch, $105@165 do. Sheet iron is rather less active, but the general demand continues fair, and at the improvement noted in our last, prices remain firm. The supply of desirable grades is still very small, and holders in most cases offer sparingly. We quote at 5½¢ 6½¢ for common singles, doubles, and trebles from store, and 13¢@14¢ gold for Russia assorted numbers. Pig lead does not change on extreme figures, but in view of the very small and easily controlled supply, holders manifest a very firm and confident tone, and offer only sparingly. We quote at 6½¢@and 6¾¢ gold. Bar lead at wholesale 10½¢. and sheet and pipe 12c., less 6 per cent. to the trade. Tin in pigs not remarkably active at the moment, but holders are firm on favorable foreign advices, and quotations still stand at 24@27c. gold. Tin plates are rather dull, and with the ease in gold, lower prices have been in some cases accepted. Zinc is not only scarce on the spot, but several large parcels on the way have been sold out, and prices in consequence rule very firm at 12½¢@13c. from store. The imports of metals for the quarter ending Sept. 30th, were 1,122 tons iron hoops; 5,677 tons pig iron; 265,366 do. railroad bars; 1,823 tons sheet iron; 11,635 iron tubes; 25,155 tons other styles iron; 79,440 pigs of lead; 313,983 boxes tin plates; 541,664 lbs. tin slabs; 896,226 zinc.

NAILS.—Cut nails are in good steady request, and with a reduced supply prices are very firm, though as yet the agents have refrained from advancing prices, and we still quote at 5½¢@5¾¢. The shipping inquiry is fair, with liberal sales on local account. Clinch steady and selling well at 6½¢@6¾¢. Finishing nails in rather better demand and more uniform in price, particularly 6d. and 12d. We quote at 5½¢@5¾¢ for 6d., 8d., 10d., and 12d.; 5½¢@5¾¢ for 5d., and 6½¢@6¾¢ for 4d. Other kinds steady, at 18c. for zinc; 26c. for yellow metal; and 40c. for copper. The exports are 369 packages, valued at $2,082, against 315 packages, valued at $1,320 same time last week. Shipments to San Francisco of 520 kegs.

PAINTS AND OILS.—The wholesale market for paints of all kinds is without life, jobbers only taking enough stock to supply immediate wants, and no speculative feeling developing itself at the moment. The supply and assortment continue ample. The retail trade is fair and former prices current, with occasional modifications in favor of desirable customers. Glue has become rather dull and prices a little heavy, though list rates are still quoted. The supply is much larger and contains all qualities; the fine white grades which were so scarce early in the season now being in sufficient stock to meet present wants, though with the appearance of frost the manufacture will cease. Linseed oil continues dull and the market very irregular, owing to the large supplies. Outside lots (some of which are held on speculation) can be bought as low as 98c.@$1, and in a wholesale way crushers will sell at $1.01

EFFECTS OF THE STRIKE.

THE disastrous effect of the bricklayers' strike is visible in every part of the city; and had it not occurred there would have been more buildings erected in this city during the summer than at any former period. For instance, during the months of June and July sets of plans came in at the rate of six and seven per day. Most of the building work at present in operation consists merely of finishing up, and the plans now sent in, with a few exceptions, are composed mainly of second-rate buildings. This time last year the number of plans amounted to 1004, and this year, up to October 15th, the number has dwindled down to 777 sets—a great falling off, considering the present demand for house-room.

THE recent canvass of New York city by Superintendent Kennedy, has developed one surprising fact, i.e., that there are over 200,000 persons on this island who are of the legal age to vote. Of course many of these are foreigners; but, allowing seven inhabitants for every person of age to vote, it gives us a total of over 1,400,000 as the number of residents on this island. This is almost double the number we were credited with under the Depew Census. There can be no reasonable doubt but that more than a million of human souls sleep every night in this city.

We can accommodate more than ever before. Not only have many new houses been built within the last five years, but thousands of old houses have been greatly enlarged. Then the new hotels serve for room for tens of thousands in addition to the old travelling community. So, builders, go ahead. New York is growing, and will grow for another generation. There may be fluctuations in prices, but there never will be more houses than are needed.

PERSONAL SKETCHES.

REAL ESTATE BROKERS AND AUCTIONEERS.

NO. IV.—ADRIAN H. MULLER.

(ADRIAN H. MULLER, P. R. WILKINS & CO.)
No. 7 PINE STREET.

IN the shady pools of the commercial stream are many large fish who seem to shun the babbling current for watchful, quiet retirement. This is particularly the case in real estate, in which large fortunes have been accumulated in a quiet, unostentatious way. In the shady pool of Pine street are many large fish whose weight no one would suspect, as all the business transacted by them is done in such a manner that but little is heard about it. Such a one is Adrian H. Muller, who has been in the real estate auction business for twenty-five years. Born at the commencement of this century, he has witnessed the gradual growth of this city from a small sea-port town into a vast metropolis. One can form an idea as to what an Arcadian place our Gotham was at the commencement of the present century, by the perusal of the following extract from a letter written by the poet Moore to his mother in May, 1800, a few years before the birth of Mr. Muller: "The environs," he says, "of New York are pretty, from the number of little fanciful wooden houses that are scattered in the distance of six or eight miles around the city; but when I reflect upon the cause of this, and that these houses are the retreat of the terrified, desponding inhabitants from the wilderness of death which every autumn produces in the city, there is very little pleasure in the prospect, and notwithstanding the rich fields and various blossoms of their orchards, I prefer the barren, breezy rocks of Bermuda to whole continents of such dearly purchased features. While in New York I employ all my time to advantage in witnessing all the novelties possible. I saw young Jerome Bonaparte and felt a slight shock of an earthquake, which are two things I could not often meet with upon Usher's Quay" (Dublin). In this extract the poet refers to the yellow fever, which at that time prevailed in New York to a greater or less extent every year up to 1822, owing to the defective quarantine regulations. Mr. Muller remembers the day he regarded with a sort of awe and reverence the grand old commercial houses of forty years ago, when the old people spoke of the Gracies, Kings, Bayards, Grinnells, Livingstons, and Lispenards, as if they were ancient heroes of the Homeric period—"grand as doomsday and as grave." He grew up among the Blackwells, Osgoods, Rutgers, Buchanans, Lawrencees, Hicks, Astors, and Rodgers, who competed for mercantile honors in this rapidly growing city. To-day these famous old names are unknown on 'Change, and few of the present generation are aware that these men were the originators of the many streets, squares, parks, etc., which are called after them. One of his earliest recollections was the return of the troops from the Canadian frontier, and various points, after the war of 1812. He remembers the grand review then held, when the right of the line rested on Franklin street, and extended along the country road of Broadway, away up to the "Old Powder-house" on the corner of Twenty-third street and Madison Square, where the Fifth Avenue Hotel now stands. The Old Powder-house was considered an immense distance out of town, and between it and the city were the villa residences and orchards of which Moore speaks. In his youth he went to the Old Dutch Church, now our magnificent Post Office, which was built in 1726. Lots in 1814 brought very different prices from what one could purchase anywhere almost below Fortieth street. One of 26x175 on the east side of Broadway, between Lispenard and Franklin streets, was sold for $7,000; now it could not be purchased for less than $125,000. In 1818 the plot of ground where the Metropolitan Hotel now stands was offered for $50,000, but now it could not be purchased for less than a million and a half; but then, up to as late as twenty-five years ago, boys skated on Canal street and Greenwich village. Where Great Jones street now is, was considered as far away as we do Harlem, the only conveyance being a stage-coach which ran every half hour from the corner where the Evening Post now is; the fare used to be twenty-five cents, and in bad weather the trip would take an hour. Mr. Muller probably knows more concerning land than any man in New York, and he says jocosely that memory is a very disagreeable thing, because it would startle some people if they knew the localities they fancy are so salubrious were once marsh land. It would certainly not be gratifying to owners of property on our Belgravia to know that lots on Fifth avenue below Twenty-third street are situated on the worst land in New York, or that Washington Square was a sort of dismal swamp and Potter's field. He also remembers the time when great developing agencies were being completed, and people looked forward to as grand results from the opening of the canal as we now do to the completion of the Pacific railroad and the removal of the obstructions from Hell Gate. The canals were completed in 1825, and in November of that year Governor Clinton, enacting the role of an American Doge, married the Hudson River and the Lakes. From the history of the past, says a writer, we learn to judge of the future; then there was the same apathy to the value of property on Manhattan Island as prevailed in 1860; but shortly after that prices advanced, and the opening of the Erie road sent them away up. This piece of real estate history is being repeated, and people will wonder ten years hence how lots could now be purchased so cheaply. When Mr. Muller commenced business twenty-five years ago, an auction at which six or seven thousand dollars' worth of property was sold was considered an immense affair. The following extracts from some of the old ledgers of his firm are very interesting, as showing the value of property in 1847. On March 17 of this year two lots of 22x80, one on the Fifth avenue and one adjoining on Eighteenth street, were sold to Philip Burrowes for $6,125. In the same year ten lots on Second avenue, between One Hundred and Eighth and One Hundred and Ninth streets, south-west corner, were sold for $625. Four lots on the Eighth avenue, and six adjoining on One Hundred and Twenty-Third street, were sold for $945. Eight lots on the west side of Ninth avenue, south-west corner of Thirty-third street, brought $9,500 (this was considered a great sale). Lots on Third avenue, west side, between One Hundred and Thirteenth and One Hundred and Fourteenth streets, brought about $200 to $250 each, and on the north side of One Hundred and Twelfth street, as low as $90. Twenty-six Boulevard lots on One Hundred and Thirtieth and One Hundred and Thirty-first streets, between Seventh and Eighth avenues, brought $1,715, or about $70 each.

In real estate almost every auctioneer has a specialty, and this firm gives its attention chiefly to the sale of large, first-class houses, and quite a number of mansions have passed under their hammer. They pay also a good deal of attention to the house-renting business, which of late years has got to be a very important department. Their only trouble at present is to meet the demand, as there are almost ten applicants for one house. Mr. Muller's style on the auction rostrum is decided, and he has a faculty of eliciting bidding, and fixing the attention of an audience, that few possess. He attributes his success in the profession to having never bought a piece of property placed in his hands for sale, either directly or indirectly. Although, if he had taken advantage of the many opportunities presented, he might long ago have belonged to that small circle of men who "think in millions." As far as manners are concerned, Mr. Muller is a gentleman of the old school, but in ideas he is far up to the energies and enterprise of the present day, and probably no father watched with more interest the growth of a favorite child than he does the increase of New York's prosperity. He was the first auctioneer to introduce the selling of stocks and bonds in the auction room, instead of at the exclusive and privileged Board of Brokers, where "cornering" prevails to such an extent. Now the courts order all hypothecated stock to be sold in that way, and executors generally sell at auction. The selling of stocks forms a large portion of their business, and it is legitimately connected with real estate business, and it is much more satisfactory to the seller to see the transaction when all can bid. Years have dealt lightly with Mr. Muller, and he is sufficiently vigorous to count on a lengthy period before being "knocked down" to Old Time's highest bid.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

THE principal features about the sales of this week, and in fact of the season, is the quantity of Brooklyn and New Jersey property disposed of. Auctioneers have at length come to the conclusion that the months of October and November are the best for disposing of country property, as in the spring the cold, raw weather and desolate look of the landscape has a depressing effect, and in midsummer almost everybody is away from the city; while autumn brings the rural sojourners back and lends to the country its rich warm tints, which have been described "as if quarried from the golden light of an Athenian sunset."

The following are the particulars of the sales since our last issue:

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 9TH.—By A. J. BLEECKER, SON & Co.
—The four story brick house with lot, No. 676 Second avenue, between 36th and 37th streets, lot 19.7x75, to Mr. E.
L. Snow for $13,200.

The lease of Nos. 254 and 256 Houston street, between Varick and Hudson streets. The lots are each 50x100 feet. and are owned by Trinity Church, and leased for $600 per annum; nine years to run from November next. On the front lots is a two-story and attic brick building, in the rear a two-story frame building, 25x50 feet; also one other frame building. Purchased by Mr. Thos. Muldoon for $8,200.

By E. F. RAYMOND.—The house and lot on 120th street, 109 feet e. of Second avenue, lot 25x100.10 feet. Mr. E. A.
Reavey for $6,450. Among the sales announced for next week are many important ones, and we would call attention to Messrs. Johnson & Miller's offering on Tuesday, of Flatbush property, Mr. Mellick's Cherry Hill lots, and Mr. Miller's Fort George plots, on Wednesday, and the sale of the old Kingsland Manor property, by Mr. Bleecker on Thursday, all of which may be found fully described in our advertising columns.

$10,650.

WEDNESDAY OCT. 14TH.—By JAMES M. MILLER.—The Dykman Estate at Fort George. It extends from Broadway, or the old Kingsbridge Road, which forms its western boundary, to the Harlem River, which forms its eastern boundary. A new street has lately been laid out by the Commissioners of the Central Park, which will connect the northern termination of the East Drive or Boulevard coming up from Seventh avenue along the Harlem River, with the West Drive or Boulevard running along the banks of the Hudson. This new street forms the northern boundary line of this 128 acre tract, and its course is almost identical with that of Sherman's Creek, which puts up from the Harlem River and stretches across Broadway in the form of a brook, where the road to Inwood leaves Broadway. The southern boundary line of this tract commences on Broadway, about 300 feet southerly from the foot of the hill which descends from Washington Heights, and runs easterly up the hill on which Fort George is situated, until it reaches its summit, when it turns at right-angles and runs southerly along the ridge about 1,000 feet to the land of R. H. Eowne, Esq., striking which it turns again at right-angles, and crossing the Tenth avenue, runs to Harlem River. The salesrooms were crowded by an audience of solid men, who meant business, and Mr.
Miller, by his quick, electric style of auctioneering, put life and animation into the bidding, which was very spirited. The prices obtained were greatly in excess of the most sanguine expectation, and to those who have not yet realized the rapid growth of the city they would seem too high for speculation. The prices obtained for these 128 acres aggregated to about $650,000, or nearly $7,000 per acre. The terms are that ten per cent. of the purchase money were to be paid on the day of sale, and fifty per cent. may remain, at the option of the purchaser, on bond and mortgage for three years. The following are the prices obtained: Plots 1 to 10, containing each about 174 city lots, averaged $10,000; Nos. 11 to 20, containing each about 17 city lots, averaged $5,500; Nos. 23 to 32, containing about 40 city lots, brought about $7,000; Nos. 21 to 33, containing about 20 city lots, well situated, brought, each, $10,000; Plot Nos. 34 to 88, averaging 5 city lots, brought about $3,500; Plot Nos. 89 to 110, containing each 34 city lots, about $3,200; Nos. 119 to 151, about 4 city lots, brought in the neighborhood of $3,000.

BROOKLYN PROPERTY.—By JOHNSON & MILLER.—4 lots on Martense av., s. e. c. of Franklin av., all gore lines, each 27.34 front, and 25 rear; 100.6 on shorter line and 178.7 on longest, each $325; 6 lots opposite to the above on s.
e. gorges nearly the same size, each $275; 4 lots n. e. c. of Minna st. and Martense av., all front lines and same size, 25 front, each $300; 4 lots e. c. of Clementine st. adj., same size, each $230; 4 lots s. e. c. of Minna st. and Martense av., same size, each $230; 4 lots s. e. c. of Clementine st. and Martense av., same size, each $230; 4 lots n. e. c. of Tehama st. and Martense av., same size, each $200; 4 lots
s. e. c. of Clara st. and Martense av., each $225; 4 lots s.
w. e. of Chester av. and Franklin av., Boulevard, 25x100, each $275; 4 lots on opposite e. (n. w.), same size, each $240; 4 lots, adjoining, 2 on each str., 25x100, sold for an average of $180; 59 lots on Franklin av., 25x100, two on each str., average $175; about 200 lots on Franklin av., Chester av., Park and Clementine sts., sold on an average of about $165; 50 lots, full size, with houses, bars and all the buildings, block bounded by Chester, Martense, Tehama and Clara sts., each $270. By D. BREKE.—3 story brick, mastiff front house and lot, on Sandford st., between Graham
av. and Smith st., house 20.7x25, lot 20.7x100, Michael O'Keefe, $2,000. Mott Haven Property.—By A. J. BLEECKER, SON & Co.—Two story frame house and 54 city lots, situated on McComb's av., near New st., 100x135, Andrew

Stockel, $8,050. Woodside, N. J. Property.—By J. A. BLECKER, Son & Co.—Italian villa and grounds at Woodside, N. J., between Newark and Belleville, about 500 yards from the Passaic river, and the same distance from the horse railroad, and 2½ miles from the Market st. depot, Newark, H. W. Stafford, $13,500.

NEW JERSEY.—CHERRY HILL.—By A. D. MELLICK, JR. & BRO.—The association owning the Cherry Hill property made a very good beginning last Wednesday, though a cold drizzly rain interfered seriously with the plan of selling the lots on the spot. About two hundred gentlemen from this city and Jersey City took the special train on the Hackensack railroad (which is now being extended in the direction of Cherry Hill), and the result of the auctioneer's labors was the disposal of 44 plots containing from two to four city lots each and realizing from $150 to $550 for each plot. The bidding was comparatively spirited, and these prices considered fair. The property consists of about 400 acres of land situated on an elevated plain, and commanding fine views of the surrounding country. It has been laid out in squares of three acres, each square having, on every side, a wide street and avenue. The streets and avenues are handsomely graded and finished, with the sidewalks made and the gutters established. The soil is a rich gravelly loam, and comparatively free from mud. Residences that have been built and the grounds that have been improved within the past four years, owing to the rapid growth of trees and shrubbery, now have the appearance of being much older. A clear stream of water surrounds the property, by which the Cherry Hill Gas and Water Works will be erected, a charter having been obtained for that purpose from the Legislature. A number of very handsome residences have already been erected, at a cost of from $3,000 to $30,000 each, and are owned and occupied by gentlemen doing business in the city of New York. Hackensack, in the suburbs of which Cherry Hill is, is the county seat of Bergen, and is very attractive, with its streets completely arched by forest trees, its neat and ornamental houses surrounded by pretty little gardens, and its pleasant green situated in the centre of the town. For years past it was looked upon as a finished town, and was thought by some to be drooping into the decadence of age, but within four years it has sprung into a new existence, its population increased from 3,000 to 6,000, while villas and cottages, built by New York business men, have risen in every part. About 40 lots were sold, the prices ranging from $300 to $500 per lot.

PRIVATE SALES.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—The demand has continued very good for all grades of hard brick during the past week, and the accumulation of supplies on pier, &c., at last begins to show signs of reduction. A few parcels have been shipped along the coast, but the great bulk of the business still appears to be with city consumers and with jobbers, the retail yards in Williamsburg, Brooklyn, and Westchester county taking liberal quantities. The receipts from most points have been very fair, though, as the season for suspending the production has now about arrived, manufacturers appear less inclined to push forward their stocks, and only where the supply exceeds the capacity of the storage-room at the yards, are the shipments to the markets of consumption made with any freedom. We find wholesale dealers, in nearly all instances, quoting at about former figures, though the general tone is much stronger, and there is no pressing the market merely for the purpose of realizing. The general average of quality shows some slight improvement, but there is still occasionally to be found a cargo of very inferior grade, which necessarily sells at low figures. The latest quotations are as follows: Washed, rough, and common hard, $9.00@ $9.50 per M; good average grades do. $10.00@ $10.50 do.; and prime North River do. $11.00 do. Pale brick have in several instances during the week under review sold with great activity, but the arrivals were sufficient to prevent much of a dearth, and prices remain steady at $7.00@ $8.00 per M. Croton fronts are reported as selling about as fast as deliveries can be made, the demand being in part for stock, though good for consumption. Philadelphia fronts remain scarce, and much inquired after, with previous values fully supported. We note shipments of 28,000 bricks to Cuba.

CEMENT.—At the advance noted in our last the market for Rosendale has since ruled very firm, and the demand if anything shows an improvement. Large quantities are going to the Eastward and a pretty liberal supply South, with a fair amount exporting. The call from local jobbers is also good, though many of the latter class of buyers state that the consumptive trade is too brisk to admit of any stock accumulation at present. The receipts from manufacturers are large, but not in excess of the wants of trade. Shipments to San Francisco of 500 bbls.

FOREIGN WOODS.—There is no general improvement in the market, but both the wholesale and retail trades appear to be picking up somewhat, and dealers talk a little more confidently. Mahogany is attracting most attention at present, and several very fair sales have been consummated both for interior shipment and for export. Prices are unchanged, but generally rule firmly. The exports for the week are 241 logs mahogany to Oporto; 197 logs do. to Gibraltar, and 250 crotches do. to Malta. The receipts are as follows: From Eleuthera 1 log mahogany; from Apalachicola 72 sticks cedar; from Zanzibar 1,665 pieces ebony; from Rio Janeiro 162 pieces rosewood; from Mansanilla 839 pieces, and 50 logs cedar, 303 spars laneewood, and 1,710 pieces Granadilla wood; from Key West 121 pieces mahogany; from Port-au-Platte 815 pieces lignumvite, 26 do. mahogany, and 2 do. Granadilla wood, and from Aux-Cayes 18,700 lbs. lignumvite. The recent auction sales have been fairly attended and the prices realized were about equal to market values. We are unable in this issue to give particulars of the latest sales, owing to the refusal of the auctioneers to furnish the press with the necessary information. This action is unprecedented, and without justification in any shape.

GLASS.—The recent arrivals to which we referred have since received some further additions, and nearly all have been landed and sorted. There was found to be quite a number of invoices of desirable grade, in fact enough to partially satisfy immediate calls, and the upward turn of prices was checked, though the buyer gained no other advantage. At the close the feeling is very strong on all foreign window glass, and importers appear indifferent about selling. French is quoted at 40c@47½ per cent. off list, with a few parcels still to be had at 50 per cent. off; and English glass on most sales 35@40 per cent. off.

HARDWARE.—A pretty thorough canvass of the market reveals nothing of special interest to our readers in any description of builders' hardware. The jobbers and retailers are working off a very fair amount of stock, but the manufacturers find a reduction in the number and magnitude of the orders now coming in. Prices are firm on all desirable styles, but without quotable change.

LABOR.—We hear of nothing of any interest this week, most of the various styles of mechanics working steadily at previous wages, the approach of winter warning them it will not do to indulge in expensive strikes. Ten-hour bricklayers are becoming very plenty, but many who were formerly the most violent in the eight-hour movement experience some difficulty in obtaining employment. This does not arise from any revengeful action on the part of employers, but simply from the fact that they already have men at work who stood by them in their troubles, and whom they are in duty bound to retain.

LATH.—Quite a large fleet coming in together, rather overstocked the market for the time being, and some of the large receivers rather than trouble themselves with the care of cargoes sold at $2.85, $2.90 and $2.95 per M. The supply, however, becoming reduced to more manageable proportions, sellers again strengthened up in their views and latterly $3.00 per M. has been the rate with few if any deviations. The demand at the low prices was brisk but since the recovery buyers have shown less disposition to operate beyond immediate necessities. From jobbers' hands the sales are very free, and gradually increasing, though this is to be expected at this season of the year. There is no surplus stock here at present. The cargo sales for the week foot up about 2,350,000, part previous to arrival.

LUMBER.—We hear of little, if any improvement in the general run of business at the various retail yards, though in a few cases some pretty heavy sales have been consummated during the past week. The small demand is still chiefly local, with occasionally a call from the Southern markets. Holders generally insist with considerable tenacity upon the full figures previously current, the more so, of late, in view of the apparent impossibility of obtaining any concessions in the Albany market—dealers at the latter point asserting that since the advance in freights they are absolutely without a margin, and none but manufacturers who are forwarding and selling on their own account make more than bare living expenses. The firmness is not confined to any one particular class of goods, but appears to prevail throughout the market, and our table of quotations is still without modifications. There is no heavy increase to note in the arrivals, but we observe at a large number of the yards a rather more rapid accumulation of stock, and our reports from Albany state that New York buyers have of late operated with greater freedom. A great many inferior lots of lumber have been marketed this season, and some very fine; but taking the average of the cut, it will run about fair. Warned by the scarcity of last year, manufacturers have produced a much more liberal quantity of 1½ inch stuff, and fully as much, if not more than usual of 1 inch, and other desirable grades. Black walnut is still comparatively dull, but is probably held with more confidence than any other class of lumber, particularly by dealers who are so lucky as to be in possession of an extra assortment. Many of the lots now here could not be duplicated, even at the rates asked for small parcels from yard, while at Albany the position is much the same. A dealer in the latter city, to complete his stock, purchased a rather ordinary lot at Buffalo, at prices which, with increased freight added, brought the cost up to about $65.00@ $70—the rates quoted nominally for selections. The shipping demand for walnut logs continues good, and business has been a trifle more active owing to increased freight accommodations. Rates still 7@7½c. per foot. We learn of nothing fresh in the general features of the wholesale market, most of the supplies finding a very fair local demand to exhaust them, with enough wanted for export to about take all the desirable styles offered. Eastern spruce has met with a steady, uniform demand throughout the week, and with more liberal arrivals, the aggregate of business foots up larger, the only difficulty complained of by sellers being short, undesirable stock, which still occasionally presents itself, and is not much wanted, even at low figures. Prices on all desirable grades rule very firm, though there is no actual improvement over the range of last week. The reported scarcity of tonnage at the Eastward coupled with the extreme freight charges demanded by those available, naturally leads to the belief in a light supply, and receivers, in consequence, are gaining confidence. We quote at $19.00 @ $19.50 for inferior and common; $20.00 for the majority of random cargoes; $20.50 @ $21.00 for good to extra selections; and 25c.@ $1.00 per M. higher for very choice do. Canadian spruce continues dull and somewhat nominal; the great bulk of the arrivals coming through to the yards on orders. White pine shows no change in prices calling for special note, though there appears to be a pretty firm and confident tone amongst some of the leading dealers, who have not forgotten the destruction of cut timber by the fires of the past summer, nor the fact that, in certain sections, manufacturers have all they can attend to in raising logs enough to meet hack contracts, and refuse to enter into fresh engagements. The general home demand is fair, and a moderate amount still finds buyers amongst shippers. We continue to quote at $22.00 @ $25.00 for inferior to good box boards; $29.00 @ $32.00 for prime shipping lots; and $33.00 for very choice do. Piling is not selling freely, but still there is a very good demand for the sizes offering, and only undesirable grades, or extra lots held for extreme figures, are being rafted out. Prices are quoted as before, and close steady at 6½ @ 7½c. per foot to 8c. for very choice. Pickets have not been sought after, but several odd lots, coming in, owners rather crowded them off, causing some increase of business in this class of goods—prices remaining at about $9.00 @ $10.00 per M. for the average size. Western white oak is seldom inquired after and though still held nominally at 42 @ 44c. per foot. No sales of any magnitude could be made at LIME.—There has been some increase in the number of arrivals of Rockland lime during the week, but not in proportion to the growing demand, and cargoes seldom had to be offered twice in order to find a market; in fact pretty much everything was engaged previous to receipt. Wholesale dealers have further advanced the price of common, first to $1.65 and finally to $1.75 per bbl., at which figure the market, as we close this report, is very firm. Lump not being much sought after, and aggregating a comparatively large supply, has not improved, but is steadily held at $2.00 per bbl. The demand from city dealers is the principal one now to be supplied, while they in turn are selling so rapidly to consumers as to preclude the possibility of any accumulation for winter supplies, even did they desire it. Present figures are considered too high to stock up, however, and a reaction is hoped for later in the season. Boston is still drawing largely upon the kilns, and the shipments to the southward are free. The Northern lines are coming in with about the usual rapidity, and all available lots sell well, but agents are still delivering to some extent on previous contracts, and do not take many new orders. Values have been regulated to accord to the enhanced figures on Rockland.

METALS.—Copper sheathing in wholesale lots has been very dull during the week, but in a jobbing way from store we hear of a fair trade at full previous rates. Sales at 33c. for now, and 20@21c. for old. Scotch pig iron has continued to arrive in pretty liberal quantities, the supply materially exceeding the very limited demand, and the stock of all grades is accumulating. Dealers therefore have naturally been a little anxious to realize, and in order to do so offer easier terms. The market closes dull and somewhat nominal at about $41.00@44.00 per ton for average qualities; and $44.50@45.00 for choice lots. American pig iron does not sell with much freedom at present, the inquiry being chiefly for small lots; but as the supply continues unusually moderate, dealers are very stiff in their views; in some cases asking an advance. We quote at $40.00@43.00 per ton for No. 1; $37.00@39.00 do. for No. 2; and $34.00@38.00 do. for forge. Bar iron from store is moving out less freely, and principally on very small orders, while wholesale parcels remain extremely dull. We quote at $90 per ton for common American and English bar; $100 do. for refined do.; $155 for Swedes, ordinary sizes; scroll, $130@175 per ton; oval and half round, $125@155 do., and rods ¾@3-16 inch, $105@165 do. Sheet iron of the light numbers continues very scarce, and anything desirable, when offered, finds a quick market, but other sorts are rather dull. Prices, however, remain firm on all grades, the market closing at 5½@6½c. for common, singles, doubles, and trebles from store, and 13@14c. gold for Russia assorted numbers. Pig lead has been in very good demand; the supply is small and the general tone of the market firm, but sellers are unable to establish any advance, and the range of prices still stands at 6½c.@6¾c. gold. Wholesale rate for bar, 10½c.; sheet and pipe 12c. less 6 per cent. to the trade. Tin in slabs meets with a very fair jobbing demand, and, except a slight alteration on the extremes, prices remain about as before, closing at 23½@27½c. gold. Tin plates in large parcels have been rather dull, but the jobbing demand shows considerable improvement at the modified currency figures noted in our last. Zinc continues in small supply, the demand very fair, and prices firm, at 12½@13c. from store. The latest imports embrace 910 tons pig iron; 18 tons sheet iron; 2,217 iron tubes; 13,402 pigs lead; 15,255 boxes tin plates; 700 slabs tin; and 55,473 lbs. zinc.

NAILS.—Cut nails have continued in active demand, the sales rather exceeding the receipts, and causing a further reduction of the already small supply. The business has been very good for export and large for interior and coastwise shipment. We quote at 5½@5¾c. Finishing nails somewhat dull, but still quoted at about 5½@5¾c. for 6d., 8d., 10d., and 12d.; 5½@5¾c. for 5d., and 6½@6¾c. for 4d. Clinch in fair request, and steady at 6½@6¾c. Other kinds steady, at 18c. for zinc; 26c. for yellow metal; and 40c. for copper. The exports are 556 packages, valued at $2,967, against 369 packages, valued at $2,082 same time last week. Shipments to San Francisco of 1,950 kegs.

PAINTS AND OILS.—The business in wholesale parcels of paints, &c., continues extremely light, buyers refusing to operate except compelled to by pressing necessities, and the tone of the market, taken as a whole, is irregular. Whiting has become somewhat scarce, and is held higher, but other styles of goods are without much strength, and French oxide zinc is quoted easier. Glue has been in very fair demand, though not attracting unusual attention, the purchases being mostly made on orders for foreign-made. Prices unchanged. Linseed oil has shown considerable irregularity since our last report, strong symptoms of an advance being at one time apparent. The market, however, is unable to withstand the influence of the continued free arrivals of seed, and latterly has taken the downward turn, again closing heavy and somewhat nominal at about 98c.@$1.00 in casks, and $1.00@1.02 in bbls. from crushers' hands, with outside lots still lower. The demand has been moderate from all quarters. We note exports of 659 packages paint, valued at $4,150; 210 gallons linseed oil, valued at $379; and 60 bbls. oxide zinc, valued at $750.

PITCH.—There has been a very fair home demand, with a little inquiry for shipment, and at the alteration in prices noted in our last the market rules extremely firm on all desirable lots. The stock in first hands is not very large and receives but few additions at the moment, giving greater confidence to holders. We quote at $3.00@3.25 for prime city, according to delivery; and $4.00 for choice Wilmington. A lot of Newbern sold at $3.10. No receipts for week. Exports for week, 62 bbls.; since Jan. 1st, 2,725 and for same period last year, 3,629.

PLASTER PARIS.—The receipts of lump since our last foot up 1,160 tons, about one half of which are consigned direct to manufacturers. The demand for white Nova Scotia lump is gradually falling off, as the season advances, and supplies are pretty well secured; though the business may

On heavy purchases of the small sizes 15@20 per cent discount. Large sizes net. Superior double thick pipe for water, gas, etc., at 50 per cent. advance on these prices.

LUXURY IN ARCHITECTURE.

NOTHING denotes more greatly a nation's advancement in civilization, than the ornate and improved style of its architecture and the erection of palatial private residences. In the first particular we are unfortunately too imitative a people, as the long rows of buildings to be found everywhere too plainly attest, by their wearisome uniformity and a sterility of ornament, that the exigencies of increased population gave them existence.

Time is, however, making material changes, as the possessors of mammoth fortunes, having long invested in property for the handsome percentage it returned, are now commencing to gratify their tastes, irrespective of such pecuniary considerations. Mr. A. T. Stewart has led the prospective parties into new fields of domestic architecture, by the erection of a costly private residence of a somewhat different style from the conventional brown-stone houses, to dwell out of which we have long considered to be utterly incompatible with true gentility. Mr. Astor is coming to his support, and is now putting up three private dwellings, which are to cost the handsome sum of $150,000 each. We also hear of several more millionaires who are loosening their purse strings and devoting surplus funds in beautifying the city. This is as it should be, for it is high time that our nomad people be permanently located; for even our wealthiest families are too much given to change of homes, and consequently to inhabit houses where they feel they but take up a mere temporary residence. The delightful associations that linger around the "happy homes of England" are entirely foreign to this city, and those many comforts and adornments of art, which can only possibly be found in homes long in possession of the same family, are very rare, except perhaps in New England; for our destructive system of moving often compels an entire change of furniture. This mania for building substantial handsome homes marks a new epoch; and though the absence of laws of entail and primogeniture may eventually cause the sale of such homesteads, by the necessity of division of property, still there is a very convenient and popular way of keeping a mansion for some time in the family, by leaving it to the grandchildren. There is little danger yet of the following aphorism of Dr. Johnson becoming applicable to this city: "He that has built for use till use is supplied, must begin to build for vanity, and extend his plan to the utmost power of human performance, that he may not be soon reduced to form another wish." Let vanity have its fling; we are too practical a people to permit it to ruin us as it has done the ambitious Venetians, whose marble palaces, though involving the owners' ruin, have yet made that charming city the architectural wonder of the world.

PERSONAL SKETCHES.

REAL ESTATE BROKERS AND AUCTIONEERS.

NO. V.—ANTHONY J. BLEECKER.

(ANTHONY J. BLEECKER, SON & CO.)

THE subject of this sketch was born in this city, where the New York Hotel now stands, in October, 1799; consequently he is now entering his 70th year. He may be considered the patriarch of the auctioneers of New York. He is probably the oldest salesman in the country who has been uninterruptedly and continuously in commission. The hammer may be regarded as an heir-loom in his family. His grandfather, Anthony Lisperard Bleecker, was an auctioneer in this city more than a hundred years ago, and when the British took possession of New York at the time of the Revolution, he went with other patriots to Morristown in New Jersey, and did not return to this city until the enemy evacuated it. He afterwards took his sons James and Garrit Noel into the firm, and the business was conducted under the name of Anthony L. Bleecker & Sons, until the retirement of the old gentleman about sixty or sixty-five years ago. His sons continued the business under the firm of James & G. N. Bleecker, and on the appointment of Garrit to the Comptrollership of this city, James transacted it alone; and afterwards in connection with Captain Thomas Bibby, under the firm of Bleecker & Bibby; subsequently under his own name alone, and finally with his sons, Anthony J. and Theophylact Bache, as James Bleecker & Sons. Upon his retirement about thirty years ago, Anthony J. conducted it with various partners, and has continued to do so to the present time. In 1839 he was appointed by Mr. Van Buren United States Marshal for the Southern District of New York, the business still continuing (though he took no active part in it) during the time he held that office. He entered his father's office nearly sixty years ago, and has never since engaged in any other business. In the early part of this century an auctioneer's business, like a country store-keeper's, was general and not specific; the real estate branch of it was a specialty created by James Bleecker & Sons. So vast has it since become, and so long has his house been in possession of a great share of it, that it may be safely asserted that

Mr. A. J. Bleecker has sold more real estate than any man now in the world, or that ever lived in it; inasmuch as there is no place in Christendom where land is so generally distributed as in this country, or where so much has come to the auctioneer's hammer as in this great city, or where one man has lived so long in one business to distribute it. Independently of the real estate branch, Mr. Bleecker has been an extensive conductor of chattel sales, such as cargoes of wines and spirits, sugars, cotton, mahogany, etc., etc. Of the last-named article he had at one time the principal control. His household furniture sales, for many years, made him famous; he, and the late John T. Boyd and the late Robert McMenomy, nearly monopolized that business. Many of our old citizens have reminiscences of those pleasant sales. They were attended by hundreds for the fun they elicited, rather than for the hope of obtaining bargains, for the reason that his large audiences generally insured good prices. Those who carry their memories no further back than 1830 or 1840, must remember "Colonel Williams," Mr. Bleecker's very exact and efficient clerk or porter (at times both). He was a precise and business-like Englishman, brought up in the employ of George Robbins, and introduced much of his florid and ornate style in preparing his catalogues and advertisements. Always full and explicit, his descriptions occasionally bordered on the ludicrous. In the matter of "Secretaires," "Epergnes," "or-molu" ornaments, "etagères," and like French articles, he was eloquently elaborate, and on inlaid and mosaic work he expanded himself amazingly. The writer recollects "a superb and unique French wash-stand, inlaid with satin and rosewood, silver ornaments, and variegated marble top," the whole tortuously developed in the legs, which the Colonel denominated a "Parisian O. G. Wash-stand." In the act of selling it an inquisitive bidder, or spectator, put the puzzling question, "What is an O. G. Wash-stand?" The answer was at hand, "an invention derived from Og, the king of Bashan." Poor old Williams! he lived through the great fire of 1835, and was the last man to leave the burning Exchange; but he fell a victim to cholera when it next appeared among us.

Mr. Bleecker's great acquaintance with Shakespeare often enabled him to turn off the little annoyances to which those troublesome sales exposed him. On one occasion, in squeezing a great crowd into a little basement room where he was selling a lot of wooden ware, the broken hoop of a flour pail caught in a lady's dress and tore part of her skirt; a jocose bystander exclaimed, "Mr. Auctioneer, isn't it within the pale of your duties to prevent such accidents?" "Yes, sir, for the future," was the reply, as he ripped off the offensive hoop, exclaiming, "I'll cancel and tear to pieces that great bond which keeps thee, poor." The real estate business growing into vast proportions, Mr. Bleeker gradually concentrated upon it, and the furniture branch got into many new hands. "Tom Bell" long held the hammer of his worthy father-in-law, Robert McMenomy, but has since assigned it to younger operators. The late war greatly affecting his business, Mr. Bleeker accepted from Mr. Lincoln the office of U. S. Assessor for the 8th District of his native city, and continued to hold it until the beginning of the last summer, when the politicians contrived to dispossess him. During his term of office he retained his auction commission, acting only as salesman, while the details of the business were conducted by his partners. The changes that have taken place in the value of property and in the growth of our city since Mr. Bleeker began to knock off its houses and lots (multitudes of which he has sold over and over again), are of course astounding. Since he entered, as a boy, upon the auction business, the Sheriff has hanged his convicts on his grandfather's grounds at Bleeker street; Canal street was an open ditch, in which he has caught many a "killy fish;" he has skated on the deep "Collect," where the "Tombs" now stands, in Centre street; he has pulled drowned men out of his uncle's pond (Lispenard's meadows), near St. John's Church, and gone for the Coroner (the only one then) to sit on the bodies.

Handling property through all the changes of 50 or 60 years, may we not repeat the assertion that he has sold more real estate than any other individual, living or dead? He still sells by the hour, two hours, five hours at a time; may he long continue to do so.

In politics, he is a life-long Democrat, never having left the party until, as he said, it left him by striving to engraft slavery upon our free Territories. He was the Chairman of the first Free Soil General Committee ever chosen in this city, and one of the fathers of the Republican party; was the first man that ever had the courage to take a nomination from that then feeble organization, when he was nominated for Sheriff, in 1855, and for Mayor, in 1856, when defeat was a foregone conclusion. He supports Grant for the Presidency, but has a great contempt for the party rulers of the day; a devoted son of New York, he feels the degradation of having her interests represented in both Houses of Congress by gentlemen from New England.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

THE following are the principal events of the week affecting the improvement or enhancing the value of real estate in this city and Brooklyn:

BROOKLYN.

THE Water and Drainage Committee, Brooklyn, to whom was referred the petition of residents in the vicinity of De Kalb avenue and Navy street, in relation to the overflow of water at that point during the prevalence of storms, submitted a report to the effect that the Water Commissioners have discovered that the interior of this sewer is clogged with deposits of sand, &c., and that they are now engaged in cleaning the same, after which it is supposed the street drainage will flow more freely. The commissioners state that this cleaning of the old sewer will not entirely remove the trouble complained of. The Raymond street sewer now requires important and extensive repairs, and they have it in contemplation either to make these repairs immediately or to build a new sewer from De Kalb avenue to the East River, and as soon as the engineer shall have matured the plan which he would recommend, they will, if they approve of the same, take the necessary steps to carry it into execution. The committee, on its own request, was discharged from the further consideration of the subject. The special committee, to whom was referred the resolution passed by the Board, September 14, in relation to payments for removing offal, submitted a report, to the effect that the contract heretofore granted to Thomas H. Van Brunt was illegal, and the Street Commissioner therefore refused to execute it. The matter, after a brief discussion, was referred back to the committee for further report, after which the Board adjourned.

THERE have been about 150 men employed upon the Fort Greene improvements, under the supervision of the Prospect Park Commissioners, since May last. This force has been chiefly occupied in grading the boundary walk on Cumberland street and the boys' playground at the corner of De Kalb avenue and Cumberland street. The artillery road has been partly graded, and an idea of what the design will be may be had in other parts of the ground. One hundred and forty thousand square feet of concrete pavement has been laid on the plaza, which plain is situated corner of Myrtle avenue and Canton street. This space is designed for holding public meetings, and is 370 feet in diameter. This will give easy standing room for a mass meeting of 30,000 persons, and is readily accessible from the densely populated parts of the city. There will be no fence between this place and the streets on either side. The idea of the estimate which residents and property holders in the neighborhood of Fort Greene put upon the work now being carried forward may be readily had by noting the increase in the valuation of real estate. Within a period of eighteen months it has advanced 100 per cent. Lots on De Kalb avenue, between Elliott place and Fort Greene place, which were offered for sale fifteen months since for $1,500, cannot be bought today for less than $3,000. Lots on Cumberland street worth in 1866 $2,000 to $2,500 each, are now valued at $5,000 to $7,000. Innumerable similar instances might be here adduced to show the favorable effect which this work has wrought, from its first inception to the present time, upon the value of property.

THE force engaged upon Prospect Park during the past summer being much smaller than that employed the preceding year, owing to the inadequacy of the appropriation made by the last Legislature, the progress made is necessarily comparatively small, and is by no means commensurate with the anticipations of the public, who looked forward to a much greater advancement in the work than is shown at the present time. The main drive has been pushed forward, however, and a few days ago another section of the road was thrown open, making the entire distance completed about two and a half miles. Bridle roads and walks have been extended in nearly every direction. The plaza on Flatbush avenue has been graded and paved, and trees have been set out along the line of the interior walk, while the mounds, which were seeded and planted a year ago, now present a very uniform and pleasing appearance. The work of excavating for the lake has been progressing slowly, as also has the mass work upon the bridges and arches. The lower carriage concourse and the whole of the pedestrian concourse have been graded. The walks in the children's district, near the main entrance, have been finished. It is proposed to establish the summer level of water in the lake at an elevation of sixty-three feet above mean high water and to make the depth in summer seven feet. There will be an arm of the lake on the west side of Brier hill set apart this winter for skating. Though the progress made, as already stated, has been tardy at the park this year, nevertheless it presents an inviting aspect, and cannot fail to amply repay such persons as admire good landscape scenery, than which no finer point of observation can be found in either of the two cities than the view presented from Lookout hill. This latter is the most elevated point in the park, and has a height of 186 feet above high-water mark.

SALES.

THERE was a lull in real estate during the Friday and Saturday of the past week, and on Monday and Tuesday of this, but on Wednesday the activity which characterized it early last week was resumed. The season will, from present prospects, evidently last until the middle of November. The following are the particulars of the more important sales:

AT CHERRY HILL, NEAR HACKENSACK, NEW JERSEY, MESSRS. A. D. MELLICK, JR., & BROTHER—BY LEWIS E. WOOD, Auctioneer—continued a sale of villa plots. The disagreeable character of the day operated very much against them; but nevertheless excellent prices were obtained and a large number of lots sold. About two hundred people were present at the sale. Cherry Hill is situated in Bergen county, N. J., ten miles drive from the Forty-second street ferry, a macadamized pike most of the distance, and within half a mile of Hackensack and four miles of Englewood. The present communication is by the Hackensack Railroad, six trains each way daily, running in forty-five minutes to a station within 2,600 feet of the property. The company is now engaged in extending this road to New Bridge, and it is expected that trains will be running within two months to a station within five hundred feet of the Cherry Hill property. There is also a prospect of a railroad to be built from Ridgefield station, on the Northern Road, to Cherry Hill and New Bridge, a charter having been obtained and the grade established. The property, of which a portion was sold yesterday, consists of about 400 acres, situated on an elevated plain, overlooking the surrounding country. It has been laid out in squares of three acres, each square having on every side a wide street and avenue. The streets and avenues are handsomely graded, with the sidewalks made and the gutters established. A number of handsome residences have been erected here at a cost of from $3,000 to $30,000, and are owned and occupied by gentlemen doing business in the city of New York. About 22 lots were sold at an average price of $315.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—The market for hard brick has been very quick throughout the week under review, and the gradual stiffening tone to which we have referred in our last two or three reports, is still more decided, some of the better qualities showing an improvement of 50c. @ 1.00 per M. The arrivals are fair, but very little in excess of the present demand, and the accumulation of stock is small. The sales are almost entirely for immediate use, and still largely to local buyers, though we understand a few cargoes have been taken for shipment along the "Sound." City retailers have not stocked up very heavily as yet, many not at all; but they must commence operations pretty soon, as it is almost certain that navigation will be closed, and receipts in consequence stopped, within a period of eight or ten weeks. Winter supplies should also be secured before the rates are worked up to a higher level, the constant drain now being made for consumption giving wholesale dealers all the advantage; and the lateness of the season leading them to hope that they can sustain the market to the end, even if they do not further advance it. The quality of the stock now arriving appears to be very fair, the common and inferior grades making about the usual proportion. There have been a few kilns closed for the season, mostly those a long distance up the river; but the suspension of the manufacture is not general as yet. For inferior grades of hard, quotations still stand at about $9.00 @ $9.50 per M., but good cargoes are worth $10.00 @ 11.00 do.; and really prime North River, $12.00. Pale brick have undergone no change on the extreme outside range, and all the best lots sell quick, but some of the inferior grades went off a trifle easier. We quote at $6.50 @ $8.00 per M. Croton fronts are a little more plenty, but with a continued fair demand, prices rule strong. Philadelphia fronts firm and selling well. We note shipments to Cuba of 30,300 bricks.

CEMENT.—The supply has been quite liberal since our last, but every barrel received appeared to find an immediate sale, the demand from all quarters still showing great activity, and prices ruling very firm at $1.90 for Rosendale delivered here. Manufacturers are all busy, the various companies being desirous of turning out all the stock possible before the close of the season. Exports of 81 bbls. to Danish West Indies, and 25 bbls. to New Granada.

FOREIGN WOODS.—The general demand has been very good, and in most cases full prices are realized. There is considerable firmness in cedar, and we hear that considerable sales have recently taken place in a quiet way. Mahogany of choice quality is not very plenty, and whenever offered, meets with a quick sale for home use, while shippers are willing to operate at any time, provided reasonable freight accommodations can be obtained. The exports for the week are 40 logs satinwood and 101 logs mahogany to Liverpool. The receipts are as follows: From Para 102 logs cedar; from Parnahiba 143 logs cedar; from Mansanilla, 40 logs cedar; 439 spans lancewood, and 10½ tons Granadilla wood; from San Thome, W. C. A., 857 sticks ebony; from Santa Anna, Mex., 417 logs and 44 log ends mahogany.

GLASS.—The demand for foreign window glass continues unusually active, and all desirable grades are exhausted almost as soon as thrown on the market. Prices of course are very strong, and rather buoyant at the close. Some dealers do not quote below 40@45 per cent. discount on French, but a few of the leading houses will yet allow 50 per cent. on certain sizes. The styles most sought after, and bringing the best rates, are 14 and 16 inch, and all the small sizes. At the moment very little local trade is doing, the inquiry coming mainly from the West and South.

HARDWARE.—There appears to be a feeling of considerable dulness throughout the entire market, though what little life is to be found prevails amongst the articles suited to builders' use. Prices are quoted nominally as before, but, as usual on a slack business, price lists are not strictly adhered to. We notice among all classes of buyers a decided preference for goods of domestic manufacture. This is particularly the case with door-locks, the American production having almost entirely superseded the foreign article.

HAIR.—The quotations still stand at 45c. per bushel for cattle; 60c. for mixed; and 70c. for goat; but at these figures the market is very strong, with some buoyancy on cattle hair. The latter style is selling with great freedom, and the supply daily grows smaller with no prospect of being replenished before the next drying season. Dealers therefore are not willing sellers at current rates, and predict an early advance. Other styles are of course meeting with their proportionate inquiry, but are likely to hold rather better.

LABOR.—The supply and demand appear to be about balanced, and the relations of employer and employee are reported as amicable in all branches of trade. The brick-layers as a body are accepting the situation, and many appear glad to get back to the old ten-hour system, the additional 50c. per diem earned thereby helping materially to pay for the winter supply of coal, provisions, &c. In one instance a gang of men who have been getting just what they asked for, viz., eight hours and $4.50 per day, waited upon the boss and requested a change to the ten-hour terms, but were refused, as the work was too near completion to warrant it. The conspiracy cases occupy the attention of the Trade Unions, who are endeavoring to form a political party to advocate the repeal of the law under which certain of their members are to be tried for interfering with contented workmen during the late troubles. They have a conspiracy case in Newark, the following particulars of which appear in the Paterson Press:

"It seems that certain men were in the employ of a master mason named Pierson, who, a short time since, employed a boy from New York State as an apprentice. According to the rules of the Trade Association, an apprentice leaving one employer and entering the employ of another mason must possess documents from his first employer as to his faithfulness, &c.

"This law, the men claim, is to the advantage of boy and employer, as well as themselves, inasmuch as it is calculated to beget in the apprentice a desire to be an adept at his business, and at the same time protect the employer from desertion on the part of the apprentice as soon as he acquires a slight knowledge of the trade.

"In the case which we refer to, the boy had not the necessary documents, and the men gave him two weeks in which to procure them. This time having elapsed and the apprentice still being without the papers, the journeymen gave him two weeks longer. At the expiration of this term, the apprentice was again approached in regard to the matter, when he gave them a very uncivil answer. The men then struck, demanding the discharge of the apprentice. Their demands were agreed to, the boy dismissed, and the journeymen again resumed work.

"Mr. Pierson then had nine of the workmen arrested, charged with violation of the Conspiracy Act, and advertised for men 'who would ruin their own business.' It is understood that bills of indictment have been found against the men, and that the matter will be tested before the courts. Meantime, considerable interest in the result is manifested by workingmen."

LATH.—The demand from jobbers has been quite active throughout the week, and everything arriving has found a very ready sale, besides which several cargoes known to be on the way were taken at full market values. At $3.00 per M. the feeling has been very firm, but owing to considerable competition among the various receivers, and the fears of checking demand, no advance has been established up to the present writing. The amount of stock in transit for this port is not heavy, but from what we can learn will be large enough to meet all probable demands for the present, and prevent any material increase of values. The local consumptive demand is active, and few, if any, of the retail depots are burdened with more stock than they can conveniently handle. Sales by cargo since our last of about 4,000,000 at $3.00 per M., part to arrive.

LIME.—The market for Rockland, at the advance noted last week, has ruled very firm, and the demand active—the few cargoes arriving finding quick purchasers, and no stock now remaining afloat unsold. The jobbers have a moderate supply, but this rather decreases, as the consumption, as usual at this season, is large. We quote at $1.75 per bbl. for common, and $2.00 per bbl. for lump. Of the latter there is nothing now offering, and the rate is merely nominal; but it is thought that the next arrivals will be sold at higher figures, as there has not been any recent improvement to correspond with the advance on common. From the Eastward we learn that the kilns are working to their full capacity, and continue to ship freely to the Boston and Portland markets; but the Southern demand has partially subsided. Some trouble is experienced in obtaining suitable packages, and at a few kilns there is quite an accumulation of stock in bulk. The Northern limes have followed Rockland in the recent advance, and at the moment are selling to the full extent of the arrivals; but many buyers only operate through necessity, and limit their purchases to the supply of immediate wants.

LUMBER.—The retail market has undergone no essential variation since our last review, the great bulk of the trade doing being on small orders for local use, or coast-wise shipments, with an occasional buyer unexpectedly called upon to operate pretty freely in order to complete recently closed contracts before winter fully sets in. The latter class of customers, however, are very few and far between, and, taken as a whole, business is slow and the market lacks vim. Prices on all pine lumber remain steady and uniform, with no apparent desire on the part of dealers to realize unless they can obtain full current values. Hard woods are as a general thing held very stiffly, and black walnut is working upwards, in sympathy with the Albany market, where the supply is estimated to be seventy-five per cent. less than last season, and the few dealers who are willing to sell at present, refuse point blank any offer below $70.00@75.00 per M. for good stock, and are asking $50.00@55.00 for second quality. There has been less doing in walnut logs for export, freight accommodations having again become quite scarce and costly. It is impossible to arrive at any like a fair estimate of the receipts from week to week, but appearances indicate a slow, steady accumulation of stock, most of which we understand is very fairly assorted, buyers for this market having had every opportunity to make their selections during the past season, either at Albany or at the points of production. The wholesale market has presented rather a dull tone during the week, though the demand still continues active enough to require about everything desirable coming in, and enables receivers to sustain previous figures. Home dealers are still the principal buyers, exporters finding but few opportunities to ship goods and successfully compete with the lumber forwarded direct from the St. Lawrence. Immediately after the issue of our last report a large fleet of vessels came in from the eastward, and spruce for the time being was very plenty. A portion of the arrivals, however, had previously been disposed of, and that actually coming upon the market was so judiciously handled that all was soon worked off at full figures. The receipts have since continued very moderate, and few, if any, schedules are now offering, except of cargoes to arrive. The quality appears to be about a fair average, not many very inferior lots coming forward at present, and no choice lengths, except upon special orders. Freight rates are still scarce and high. We quote at $19.00@19.50 for inferior and common; $20.00 for random cargoes; $20.50@21.00 for good to very extra selections, and long twenty-five foot stuff, &c., somewhat higher. Canadian spruce has been a trifle more plenty, but attracts no special attention, and ranges about in proportion to other stock of like quality. White pine is in sufficient supply to meet all present calls, and values rule quite steadily, particularly on good choice stock, which is about the only class of goods now attracting much attention from shippers. Grades suited to the South American coast are especially sought after, though in order to fill up freight-room small parcels are taken nearly every week for the West Indies, &c. Box makers have in some instances bought pretty freely of late, though the purchases were considerably below the usual average at this season of the year, and current rates were paid with some reluctance. We quote at $22.00@26.00 for inferior to fair box boards; $23.00@30.00 for good do.; $31.00@32.00 for prime do., and $33.00 for choice do. Piling continues to arrive to a comparatively liberal extent, but dealers appear to have a market for about all they receive, and the stock on hand awaiting sale is not very large. Prices do not change much, the range still standing at 6½@8c. for the extremes, and actual terms of sales regulated by the length and thickness of the stock in treaty, though it is proper to state that very few are large enough to realize the above outside figure. Pickets are still coming in, mostly to fill out lumber and lath cargoes, but there is not much demand, and the market rather heavy at about $9.00@10.00 per M., for the ordinary ¾ inch. Western white oak dull, heavy, and nominal, at about 42@44c. per foot, with all the stock coming forward rafted out for further developments. Southern pine is in quick demand, and one or two small lots offered were eagerly snapped up at very full figures. Several cargoes have come in during the week, but were all sold, and at the moment there is absolutely no stock in first hands. Prices of course rule very firm, though no very material advance is looked for, as stock can be obtained all winter, and vessels ere long will begin to offer at lower rates of freight. We quote at $34.00@36.00 for any respectable lot of yellow pine, with more sales at present at the outside than at the inside figure. Cypress shingles are still in very heavy supply, the demand being too moderate to make any perceptible impression upon the immense stock now concentrated at this point. Prices are heavy, though we still quote nominally at about $16.00@18.00 per M. Eastern pine sawed shingles are in moderate request at $4.50@5.00 for No. 1. We note sales during the week of 950,000 feet Eastern spruce at $19.50@21.00 per M.; 300,000 feet white pine at $27.00@32.00 per M.; a cargo of piling at 6½@7c.; 30,000 feet yellow pine at $35.00; 25,000 cypress shingles at $17.00, and 75,000 No. 1 pine shingles at $5.00 per M.

CHICAGO LUMBER MARKET.

(Special Correspondent of REAL ESTATE RECORD.)

CHICAGO, October 21, 1868.

The demand for cargoes continues very light, and stock does not work off with as much rapidity as sellers seem to desire, the feeling throughout the market being quite dull. Once or twice during the week there was some activity, but it was only spasmodic, and business soon fell back into a quiet state. Prices, however, hold their own very well, particularly on choice grades, and at the close are quite stiff. We quote at $16.50@17.50, for extra and very choice; $14.50@16 for medium. $12@14 for ordinary mixed; and $11.50@12 for joist scantling and timber. Shingles very firm at $4@4.25. Lath $2@2.25.

The cargo rates for hard wood lumber are as follows: black walnut $40@45; cherry $20@25; hickory $25@30 ash $20@30, and $18@20 for ordinary oak.

From Milwaukee we learn of no important changes, though there has lately been some little irregularity on the low grades. Receipts were moderate and pretty much all being disposed of. The quotations were as follows:

The Eastern markets, according to latest advices, were all quite active for local use, with a fair amount taken for export to West Indies, etc. At the mills full time is being made and the production continues unabated, with shipments for coastwise ports being made as rapidly as the supply of freight-room would admit of. Values generally quite well sustained, but no higher on any grade.

From the Southern markets our advices are not very full this week; but as far as they go we learn of considerable demand at the mills for Northern cargoes, and manufacturers turning out stock freely, though the great complaint is the continued scarcity of shipping accommodations. Prices firm, but no higher, except probably on very choice timber.

Savannah prices are as follows:

Timber $8@12 per M. feet for mill timber, $10@15 for small shipping do., and $14@20 for large do. Lumber $20@22 for ordinary sizes; $25@30 for difficult sizes, and $22@23 for flooring.

METALS.—The demand for copper sheathing has been very fair in a jolting way, with apparently rather more doing in large parcels. Manufacturers remain firm in their views, and the quotations are still placed at 33c. for new, and 20c. @ 21c. for old. Scotch pig iron shows no important change on the general range of values, but the market has been extremely dull—few if any, purchases being made, except to meet pressing wants. The supply is not unusually heavy, but certainly more than enough for all present calls, and the tendency is to accumulate. We quote at about $41.00 @ $44.00 per ton for average qualities; and $44.50 @ $45.00 for choice lots. American iron continues in very small available supply, a large proportion of the arrivals going to fill contracts made early in the season. The demand, however, is not brisk, and dealers have not enough advantage to advance values, though they manage to obtain about former rates. We quote at $40.00 @ $43.00 per ton for No. 1; $37.00 @ $39.00 for No. 2; and $34.00 @ $38.00 for No. 3. Bar iron in large invoices is entirely neglected, and the sales from store are very moderate. Holders remain steady, however, and nothing has been offered at a concession. We quote at $90 per ton for common American and English bar; $100 do. for refined do.; $155 for Swedes, ordinary sizes; scroll, $130 @ $175 per ton; oval and half round, $125 @ $155 do., and rods ¾ @ 3-16 inch, $105 @ $165 do. Sheet iron is in active demand, not only for local use, but for neighboring markets, and the supply of common is greatly reduced, not only here, but at the mills—many of the manufacturers having sold ahead of production. Prices of course remain firm, and we continue to quote at 5¼ @ 6½c. for common singles, doubles and trebles. Russia sheet is offered a little more freely and shows a slight decline, closing at about 12½ @ 13½c. gold, assorted numbers. Pig lead early in the week was somewhat dull, but latterly the demand has again improved, and the sales are free at full former rates, a little better if anything on common. We quote at about 6½ @ 6¾c. gold. Bar quoted at 10½c.; and sheet and pipe 12c., less 6 per cent. to the trade. Tin in slabs has been dull throughout the week, at former rates, but favorable cable advices have given holders more confidence. Tin plates are moderately active and steady, with a supply fully equal to all present demands. Zinc shows a trifle more ease in common grades, but is in request, and closes steady at 12 @ 13c. from store.

NAILS.—The gradual reduction of the supply to which we have referred in our last two or three reports, has induced a great many of the agents to advance the price of cut to 5½c., but a few are still willing to shade a trifle in favor of good customers, and sales are making at 5¼ @ 5½c. The market closes very firm, with a good steady demand for home use, but not much shipping. Finishing nails are also higher, but somewhat irregular at the advance. We quote at about 5½ @ 5¾c. for 6d., 8d., 10d., and 12d.; 5½ @ 6c. for 5d., and 6½ @ 6¾c. for 4d. Clinch in fair request, and firmer at 6¼ @ 7c. Other kinds steady at 15c. for zinc; 26c. for yellow metal; and 40c. for copper. The exports are 220 packages, valued at $1,260, against 556 packages, valued at $2,967, same time last week.

PAINTS AND OILS.—There has been a slight improvement in the demand for wholesale parcels during the past week, and in most cases full previous rates were realized, though on English white lead some modifications were made soon after our last report. The retail market is rather lifeless at the moment, the supplies in the hands of consumers being ample. The stock of all classes of goods is fair and likely to satisfy the necessities of trade for some little time to come, even with no further additions. Glue is less active, and on common grades somewhat irregular, though the prime qualities remain firm. Linseed oil has still further declined, and the general market shown much depression and irregularity. At the reduced values, however, there appear to be indications of a desire to purchase on speculation, and as we close this report the market is a trifle more steady. Crushers' rates are about 9½c. @ $1.01, and several large parcels have changed hands at 9½c. @ 9¾c. The consumptive demand is fair. We note exports of 81 packages paint valued at $452, and 560 bbls. oxide zinc valued at $6,375.

PITCH.—The supply has received no important additions, but the demand does not improve—in fact, at the present writing, appears to be growing smaller, and dealers are somewhat anxious to realize. The market in consequence has a weak tone, and former outside rates cannot now be obtained. According to the latest sales we quote strictly prime City at $3.00 @ $3.12½ per bbl., with choice and fancy lots in small quantities 25c. @ 50c. per bbl. higher. No receipts for week. Exports for week, 213 bbls. Since January 1st, 2,933 bbls., and for same period last year, 3,657 bbls.

PLASTER PARIS.—The demand for lump is moderate, and we have only to note sales of 450 tons at $4.50 @ $4.75 for white Nova Scotia. The supply for the week foots up 555 tons, mostly on orders. Calcined continues in very good home and export demand, and for choice brands former prices are realized, but common lots and large invoices can be bought a shade off. We quote at $2.40 @ 2.50 per bbl. We note exports of 338 bbls. to Cuba.

SLATE.—For the choice colored slates, such as purple, red, green, &c., there has been a little more demand, and as the stock of these is comparatively moderate, and can be wintered over without much difficulty, prices rule quite steadily. Black slate, however, are a perfect drag on the market, and are still coming forward freely, adding to the already heavy burden under which dealers are staggering. The receipts, as we have before explained, are upon contracts made early in the spring in anticipation of a good fall trade, and dealers have as yet decided upon no means to check the shipments from the quarries. Our quotations are reduced $1.00 per square, and even now may be considered as outside, there being no intention of allowing a buyer to depart without a supply, who bids within any reasonable distance of the asking price. In order to reduce stock the market has been greatly forced, not only here but at other points. Boston buyers were induced to operate freely at $1.00 @ $1.50 below current values, though they hardly require the stock, in view of a state of affairs about as bad as we have noted for New York. A remarkably fine quality of Welsh slate is always to be found in the Boston market, and for certain work is superior to any domestic production. The importation this year has been comparatively small, embracing about 1,000 tons, one half of which still remains unsold, though confidently held at $12.00 @ $14.00 per square; of domestic slate they have some 5,000 squares.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—Following our last report the demand continued quite active, mainly for home use and speculation, and prices rapidly ran up to 45c. Increased receipts, however, and not much taken by exporters, prevented sellers from retaining their advantage, and the market again fell off, closing a little heavy at last week's figures, under unfavorable advices from Wilmington, and little or no demand. The stock is not unusually large, but is gradually accumulating. We quote 43½c. @ 44c. per gallon in merchantable order; 44½c. @ 45c. in shipping order; 45½c. in New York bbls., and 46 @ 47c. for retail lots. Receipts for the week, 1,081 bbls. Exports for week 397 bbls.; since January 1st, 17,063 bbls., and for same period last year, 24,706 bbls.

TAR.—The recent reduction in prices appears to have drawn out quite a large number of buyers, the demand during the past week having been very active, and principally for home use, though the shipments show a slight increase. There is no margin for speculation at current values. Prices are very firm but no higher, increased arrivals acting as an offset to the free sales. We quote at $3.12½ @ $3.50 for North County; $3.50 @ $3.87½ for Wilmington, and $4.00 @ $4.25 for choice thin do. in order in yard. Receipts for week, 1,112 bbls. Exports for week 165 bbls.; since January 1st, 9,203 bbls.; for same period last year, 3,505 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus of October 20th reports as follows:

The trade throughout the District in all kinds of lumber has been very lively. The attendance of buyers has been good and several large purchases have been made, for reshipment to Southern and foreign markets. The receipts have been fair, but will be checked by the advanced Western freights. Prices are very firm, and though we do not change our figures, the bulk of the sales have been made at our outside quotations. The market closed strong.

The Circular of Mr. John R. Patton, under date of Albany, October 17, 1865, contains the following:

I beg to call your attention to my Price Current for October, and in connection therewith would state that the assortment of Lumber now in market is very good, in fact it is seldom that the stock is as good and as well assorted as at present. In consequence of the recent breaks in the Northern Canal, the stock of Hemlock Spruce lumber has been greatly reduced; but the canal is now in working order, and dealers can find enough of those kinds for their immediate wants.

Black Walnut is the scarcest article in market, the stock being about seventy-five per cent. less than at this time last season. You will observe that it is quoted five dollars per thousand feet higher than in my last issue, and the demand is better at present quotations than before the advance. Pine lumber has been sold freely at the minimum prices; most of the dealers do not care to sell at that figure now, as it is confidently expected that the price will advance in consequence of the heavy increase in the cost of bringing Lumber forward, lake and canal freights having advanced from thirty to forty per cent.

There is no doubt but what prices have reached the lowest point for the season. Very few of the largest buyers have yet laid in their winter stocks.

Mr. Patton's quotations on Black Walnut are as follows: good, $70.00 @ $75.00 per M.; second quality $50.00 @ $55.00 do.; and ¾ inch, $60.00 do.

The receipts of lumber at Chicago for the week ending October 17th, were 21,493,000 feet against 26,520,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1867. These figures would raise the aggregate receipts to about $50,000,000 feet against 715,691,000 feet to a corresponding period in 1867. The shipments to October 1st, 1868, were 417,570,000 feet, against 350,136,000 feet in 1867. The stock on October 1st, 1868, was 321,459,000 feet.

The receipts of lumber at Buffalo and Oswego for the weeks ending October 12th and 19th were:

	October 12.	October 19.
Buffalo.....	*4,382,400 feet.	9,163,400 feet.
Oswego.....	6,025,800 "	6,119,100 "

Total.....10,411,200 feet. 15,282,500 feet.

* Only five days of the week.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals for the second week of October were:

Bds. & Sc'ling ft.	Shingles, M. Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1868..17,544,200	615	790,000
1867..14,076,400	1,002	7,338

Of the boards and scantling received 11,457,400 feet were by the Erie, and 6,056,500 feet by the Champlain canal.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals, from the opening of navigation to October 15th were:

Bds. & Sc'ling ft.	Shingles, M. Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1868..345,525,500	35,996	26,633,400
1867..307,156,000	22,695	57,533

Lumber is being shipped freely at current quotations, which are well sustained. The supply of vessels is moderate.

REAL ESTATE NEWS AGENCY.

C. W. SWEET & CO., proprietors of the REAL ESTATE RECORD, have opened, in connection with their paper, an agency, through which they propose to furnish extremely valuable information for the benefit of Real Estate dealers, owners, and operators. Persons about investing in Real Estate, usually wish to be informed on these points:—

1st. Who the actual owner of any piece of property may be, and whether any incumbrance is existing against it.

2d. What the actual value of said property was at the last sale.

3d. What price the property adjacent and within same block has sold for within the past few years.

4th. An intelligent, unbiased estimate of the value of the property at the present time; the future prospects of the same; whether there are likely to be any improvements, and of what kind, in the street where property is located; and such other information as will be likely to affect the value of said property.

Real Estate dealers will at once see the immense value of the class of information we propose to furnish, particularly to those who now buy in the dark without any reliable data to guide them, but who, by means of our agency, will have every light which official records, transcripts of sales, etc., can furnish. We have peculiar facilities for furnishing this class of information, having in our possession maps, books, etc., gotten up exclusively by us, which contain every piece of property in New York and Kings counties, with the names of owners, and other information accessible to no other firm or persons in the U. S.

Titles searched, and careful abstracts made at the lowest prices. This work will be done accurately and cheaply for regular subscribers.

A COLOSSAL CORRUPT CORPORATION.

WE learn from trustworthy sources that the Union Pacific Railroad Company are busily at work among the candidates for Congress in the respective parties, and, no matter what the result of the election, it is pretty certain that the next House of Representatives will be wholly in the interest of that giant monopoly. The coming session of Congress will be distinguished by the heavy additional grants it will confer on the Pacific Railroad.

It is astonishing that so far the country has been kept densely ignorant of the enormous subsidies conferred by Congress upon this corporation. In round terms they may be stated as follows:

1. Congress has guaranteed to honor bonds which represent money enough to pay $21,000 per mile all the way from St. Louis to San Francisco. This sum alone would leave a handsome margin of profit, as it is only a single-track road, with few turn-outs, no valuable stations, and but slimly built in every way.

2. In addition to giving money enough to build the road, Congress has also granted it as much public land as is included in the area of Great Britain and Ireland. This immense gift is worth the value of the road one hundred times over.

Never since the beginning of time has so enormous and corrupt a gift been given to one corporation. But it is not satisfied. The cry of the horse-leech's daughter—give, give—is still that of this monster among the monster corporations of the age. The time is coming when the country will be stirred to its depth by the exactions of the Union Pacific Railroad Company; but in the meantime the men who control it will become among the very richest people upon earth.

BUY MORE LAND.

EMPLOYERS should urge their workmen to invest in real estate. The ownership of a piece of real property sobers a man, makes him conservative, gives him an interest in the public weal—in short, makes him a better citizen and a more reliable craftsman.

The tendency now is for the laboring population to invest in savings banks. This is good so far as it goes, but when temptation comes the money is taken out of the bank, and is spent. Not so with real estate near a great city. The transfer is not so easy while the profits are far greater. Said a well-to-do mechanic to the writer a few days since: "I might have been a millionaire to-day had I invested my small savings in real estate in this city; thirty years ago New York was not populated beyond Bleeker street. Had I laid aside one hundred dollars a year, which I could easily have done, and invested it in land on this island, I should to-day have been a very rich man. I could have bought Fifth Avenue lots for $100; indeed, no legitimate business, even the most lucrative, would have paid so well as the buying of parcels of real estate in New York during the last thirty years."

And this is all true. The mistake investors make is in supposing that the days for making money by buying real estate are past. This is not so. The next twenty years will see more fortunes made in prudent real estate investments near New York, than did the past fifty years. So, go in, buyers. Let us have peace—that is, a piece of real estate.

THE real estate movements during the past week have been very lively. It is evident there will be large transfers of real property during the coming winter and spring. New York and its suburbs are ever growing—population is constantly increasing, and as a consequence more houses are needed in every direction, and of course more land upon which to erect houses. It is now estimated that there are 35,000 yearly transfers of real estate in the radius of twenty miles from the City Hall. Of course there are not 35,000 persons to buy houses and lots, probably not one-third that number; but this figure gives about the actual number of transfers. This shows how immense is the real estate interest of the metropolis.

PERSONAL SKETCHES.

REAL ESTATE BROKERS AND AUCTIONEERS.

NO. VI.—JOHN MCCLAVE,

No. 44 PINE STREET.

THE subject of this sketch was born in New York some forty-two years ago, and is pre-eminently a self-made man, having attained to his present respectable position in the real estate business without the assisting hand of influence or capital. His father dying at a youthful period of his existence, he was early left to fight the battle of life. His earliest experience in business was in a dry goods store, where Garry Dyckman, who distinguished himself in the Mexican war, and Charles Baxter, after whom Baxter street was named, were fellow-clerks. Acting on the advice of friends, he abandoned this business and learned the carpenter's trade. After serving his apprenticeship he found he could place firm reliance on his own abilities to promote him to something better than an artisan, and, accordingly, an opportunity presenting, he associated himself with Charles Sandford, Esq., in the building business—he superintending the carpentering and Mr. Sandford the masonry work. A promptness and diligence in business, coupled with an earnestness of manner and a cheerfulness of disposition, won the confidence of his clients, and he soon found orders accumulating on his hands. With increase of means came new aspirations, and as the building business was somewhat germane to real estate, he gradually worked himself into the brokerage and commission business at the end of seven years, by commencing to buy and sell houses. The first office he opened was on the Ninth avenue, where he took a special interest in up-town estate, examining carefully the ground and watching the upward progress of the city. In 1860 he removed to Broadway, near Thirty-first street, and in 1863, to his present position, No. 44 Pine street. During the eleven years he has been in the business probably $15,000,000 of property has passed through his hands, and during the past six months his commissions alone have amounted to many thousands. Few, if any, of the recently established firms in this city have such a thoroughly practical knowledge of real estate as Mr. McClave, as nearly all his life has been passed watching its progress. Born in the city of New York, his recollections extend back to an early period. In 1832 his father removed from the vicinity of City Hall to Greenwich village (where Abington square now is). All the friends and neighbors assembled to bid the family good-by, and more account was made of this departure than would be made to-day if their destination had been Kansas instead of Greenwich village. He having grown up, so to speak, with the majority of our public men now in the prime of life, he enjoys an extensive acquaintance among them, being known facetiously as the "wild Irishman" (although native born), from his daring and seemingly hazardous speculations.

Many of these have bought property through him, and his advice has generally proved the soundness of his judgment. One of the most difficult obstacles he has had to overcome was prejudice, and over-cautiousness on the part of bilious, desponding clients, who allowed "I would to wait upon I dare not." He induced them to make a dash and buy a block, and then to "rest and be thankful." This they did, and allowed patience and confidence in the ultimate greatness of the city to lead them into fortunes. Their success brought him increase of business, and some of the heaviest property owners have placed their estates in his hands, and he has disposed of large tracts where enormous amounts were realized. For instance, one railroad man came in last Monday and sold through him a piece of property for $160,000, which, ten days ago, he had purchased for $117,000. In 1858, when he first went regularly into the business, the lots near Central Park, which were then purchased for from $400 to $600, could not now be had at less than from $2,500 to $10,000. He says that people make a grand mistake when they suppose that any man incompetent in general business can go into real estate and make a fortune, because the wealth which has been accumulated in it has not by any means been the effect of mere chance. It actually requires more ability to buy and sell real estate than to conduct any other business, because there are so many causes which produce effects to be taken into consideration. One has to anticipate the character of the improvements, the grades; to judge your neighbors and see whether they are enterprising men who will erect buildings worthy of the locality, and above all to be on the alert to ascertain early where new streets are to be opened. In disposing of one part of a block so as to enhance the value of the other, one has to be exceedingly careful as to the character of the purchaser; indeed some of his customers are proverbially cautious in this respect, and append to the title a set of restriction papers which compel the erection of buildings in a uniform line with the street, none of which are to be less than three stories, or to be converted into private stables, breweries, factories, or other nuisances likely to depreciate property in the vicinity. He has full confidence in the stability of present prices, and no very serious revulsion can come that will not be redeemed by an intrinsic advance. Several of his customers have passed safely through three of these revulsions by struggling to hold on to their property at all costs; the first of these was about eighteen years ago, when the banks inaugurated the clearing-house system; the second in 1858 and '59, and the third in 1861. These gentlemen never allowed their confidence to waver for an instant, and time has rewarded their constancy. He has no faith in buying farms and mapping them out into streets and avenues, unless they are contiguous to the grand improvements, as the only way to create an intrinsic value in real estate is to put capital upon it. Best policy is to buy just in advance of improvements. He has deeply calculated the question, and has got things down to a mathematical certainty, and could almost tell to a cent what property will bring in ten years, as he has studied the effects the Pacific Railway, the opening of Hellgate, and immigration will have on property. Those who succeed best in the business are those who possess a creative mind, who suggest and further improvements, and who develop property by selling part to the man who intends to build. Where a great many have failed in real estate transactions was on account of an unwise policy in not employing competent brokers to conduct their affairs. Not only in searching and delivering titles promptly, but a good real-estate agent requires to have a circle of friends among capitalists, and to know where he can obtain a loan for his customer, and prevent the sacrifice of the property. Looking at real estate from a psychological point of view, the most successful brokers are those whose minds combine the practical and the imaginative because there is a good deal of the æsthetic in the business. Nearly all the improvements that are about to be made under the direction of the Central Park Commissioners were originated and successfully carried through the Legislature by him. He is at present engaged in selling large parcels of property in Westchester county, and in certain portions of New Jersey, in view of the extensive improvements about to be effected there, in connection with his New York customers. About 1859 the Legislature empowered the Central Park Commissioners to widen the Seventh avenue above the Park, whenever more than one-half the property owners petitioned for it. The law was somewhat ambiguous, as it was impossible to interpret its meaning. Mr. McClave, desiring the improvement to be made, exerted himself in effecting an organization of the property owners for the purpose of amending the law. The subsequent year, with the assistance of Braddish Schieffelin, Esq., he succeeded in procuring the same improvement for the Sixth avenue. The influence and capital used for carrying through the latter avenue was instrumental in passing the new Boulevard law. The same enterprise exerted by Mr. McClave carried the law making the old Manhattan Square a part of Central Park. All these far-reaching improvements have added from one to five hundred per cent. in the value of the property affected by them. From the foregoing it may be safely assumed that his opinion in matters concerning real estate is held in high estimation; indeed many of the public institutions go no further for information as to values in making their mortgage loans. He does business from a point of experience, and is very confiding until once deceived, and has made the few who have practised deceptions upon him suffer very severely in a pecuniary sense. A warm friend and an intense hater, he has, of course, some enemies, but many friends. It would be beneficial to our city if we had a few more enterprising men of Mr. McClave's ripe and practical experience in the real estate market.

NOTE.—The judgments recorded under date of October 20, in last week's RECORD, against Richard N. Bourne, Edward Hincken, and H. S. Ritch, for the sum of $3,943.10, respectively, should have been recorded against them as Executors and not individually.

ERRATA.—The judgment against A. G. Cochran in last week's RECORD should read Cochran, A. G.—Grover & Baker S. M. Co., $629.66, they being the judgment creditors instead of E. S. Dodge, $506.88; also judgment against Clayton, B. F., the judgment creditor should be E. S. Dodge in place of T. Heyerdahl. We print them correctly this week at the head of the column.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

COMMISSIONS ON REAL ESTATE.—SCALE OF PRICES.

In the following the commissions are to be paid by the seller as soon as a sale is effected.

On City Property.....	1 per cent.
Country Property.....	2 $\frac{1}{2}$ "
Negotiating City Mortgages.....	1 "
Country.....	5 "

Where the purchase-money on property sold does not amount to $2,500, $25 commission.

Commissions for renting or leasing property payable on signing the lease. 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. on gross rentals for any term less than two years, and 1 per cent. on terms of three years and upwards. 5 per cent. for renting and collecting. 10 per cent. for renting, collecting, and guaranteeing.

The following are the events of the week affecting real estate:

A case important to real estate owners was decided last Saturday before Judge Cardozo—William McConnell and John A. Liscomb v. John Payne. The plaintiffs bring action to recover the amount of their commission, $240, claimed under the following circumstances: The plaintiffs were employed by the defendant to find a purchaser for two houses, Nos. 231 and 233 East Thirty-fifth street, at the sum of $25,000. They produced a purchaser who agreed to pay $24,000, which the defendant agreed to take, about fifty per cent. to be paid in cash, and the balance to remain on a mortgage. No time was fixed when the money should be paid, nor when the deed was to be delivered, or the mortgage executed, nor was there any time fixed when the mortgage was to be paid. The defendant afterwards declined to complete the transaction, and the plaintiffs claimed their commission. The defendant insisted that the contract was not complete, definite and certain, and that until the terms were fully and with certainty agreed upon, the plaintiffs were not entitled to their commissions. The court so held and nonsuited the plaintiffs. Joseph Fetzrecht for plaintiffs; Ira Shafer for defendant.

The Kings County Board of Supervisors met yesterday afternoon, Mr. Osborn in the chair. The Committee on Equalization of Taxes, to which were referred the assessment rolls of the several wards and county towns, submitted their report, from which it is shown that the total amount of taxable property in Kings County is $160,051,745, of which $140,498,442 is on real estate, and $19,553,303 is on personal property, showing an increase of real estate over last year of $10,635,076, and an increase in the valuation of personal property of $1,918,673, making a total increase of taxable property of $12,553,749. The average increase of real estate in the several wards and towns, excepting Flatbush, is about six per cent. The town of Flatbush shows the unprecedented increase over last year of more than 107 per cent., which is owing to the enhanced value of property in the town by reason of Prospect Park improvements. The report of the committee was adopted and assessment rolls approved. Some corrections were made in the list of canvassers and inspectors of election, and the Board adjourned until Friday, the 30th inst.

GOSHIP.

R. HOE & Co., the inventors of the printing presses, are putting up several new fire-proof model buildings. They are using Van Orden & Co.'s plastic slate cement for their roofing, and also coating the beams and wooden columns with the same, to render them fire-proof. On Fifth avenue and Fifty-seventh street two very fine marble dwelling-houses are now in course of erection. The Man-sard roof is carried up on one of the buildings to a fabulous height. Hunter's Point is now known as Long Island City—a light in which the Huntersians view it from their own point of course. A substantial pavement is being laid down in Fifty-second street, between Fifth and Sixth avenues. Respecting the real estate market in that city the New Orleans Picayune of the 18th inst. says:—"The active season for considerable operations in the real estate department has scarcely yet commenced. Owners of property are not without concern as to the movement in this great interest of our city. The offerings have been thus far small. Late sales are:—The double two-story brick building Nos. 292 and 294 Poydras street, between Franklin and Liberty, $4,000. The one-story house 290 Poydras street, $2,600. A lot of ground on St. Ferdinand street, $100. The one-story frame cottage on Clio street, between Liberty and Howard, $2,200. A double cottage on St. Andrew street, between Rampart and Franklin, $2,100. A lot of ground on Franklin street, between Poydras and Lafayette, $1,400. Thirty-one lots on the lake shore, $93. The double one-story frame house No. 129 St. Joseph street, between Magazine and Foucher, $4,500. The two-story frame houses forming the corner of Common and Marais street, $6,700. A lot of ground on Marais street, between Common and Gasquet, in the rear of the above, $1,500. Three lots of ground on Washington av., between Magazine and Camp streets, $2,950. One lot of ground adjoining the above, $950. A number of gentlemen, members of the Executive Council of the East River Improvement Association, and others interested in the improvement of the commercial interests of the East River, met in room No. 15, Cooper Institute, on Thursday evening, October 22, to discuss the means to be employed to accomplish the objects of the Association. Mr. James R. Taylor, President, and Mr. E. M. Barnum acted as Secretary. The President, in explaining the objects of the Association, said it was apparent to all that the commerce of New York, and the different interests dependent thereon, had been adversely affected by the almost impossible safe navigation of that portion of the East River called Hell Gate, and also by the several reefs of rocks in other parts of the river below that point. Efforts had been made at different times by citizens and others to induce Congress to take some action for the removal of these dangerous obstructions; but although Congress had shown a willingness to act by making appropriations for surveys at various times, yet up to the present time only $20,000 had been actually expended, and that was fifteen years ago. The state of the river was becoming of very great importance, especially when the fact of the gradual but certain filling up of the passage at Sandy Hook was considered. The depth of water at that point was decreasing at the rate of eight inches per decade, and had been doing so the last one hundred and thirty years. It therefore became a simple question of how short a time it would take to render that passage impassable for any ships as it was now for vessels of large size. The consideration of such questions had induced a few gentlemen to form the East River Improvement Association for the purpose of calling public attention to the matter. Mr. Taylor also referred to the miserable condition of the wharves, piers, docks, etc., and also to the condition of the streets and approaches thereto on the East River, and concluded by urging the necessity of raising sufficient funds to send a committee of the Association to Washington during the next session of Congress, to obtain an appropriation for the purpose of effectually improving the river at Hell Gate.

SALES.

The attendance at the sales-rooms was good in the early part of the week, but towards Thursday and Friday there was a considerable falling off. The following property was disposed of:

MONDAY, OCTOBER 26.—By JAMES L. PHELPS, JR.—Four-story brick store and dwelling, and lot, No. 121 Avenue D, between Eighth and Ninth sts., house 23.6x34.6 feet, lot 23.6x93 feet, was purchased by Messrs. A. & F. Stern, for $4,600. Lot on the corner of Eighth av. and One Hundred and Forty-third st., 24.11x100 ft., bought by Mr. Philip Smith, for $4,675. Lot adjoining the above and fronting on Eighth av., 25x100 ft., was sold to Mr. Lippmann, for $3,600.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 27.—By A. J. BLEECKER, SON & Co.—Two-story brick house and lot, No. 159 Waverley place, and brick stable in the rear; lot, 20x73 ft. MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—We have to note a continued active demand, for all grades of hard brick, with great tone and some buoyancy to the market. Primo and choice remain at about the same quotations as last week, but on the inferior and common qualities, there is an advance of 50c. @ $1.00 per M. The supply has not kept pace with the wants of trade, cargoes coming forward in rather an irregular manner, and showing an aggregate smaller than the average for the early portion of the month. Such small amounts of stock, therefore, as had been collected at various depots were necessarily reduced, and at the present writing orders are being filled direct from vessel. The jobbing yards have not laid in any supplies—in fact it would have been useless to make the attempt, the wants of actual consumers still requiring everything off-red. The prevailing activity, and the firmness of the market, is a great inducement to manufacturers to continue the production to the latest possible moment, and except in a few isolated cases none of the yards have as yet ceased working for the season. Our supplies at present are drawn almost entirely from the yards along the North River, the Long Island and Jersey manufacturers preferring to fill up their sheds (some are very large) and thus be prepared for the winter and early spring trade which they are always called upon to meet, owing to the closing of the river by ice. We hear some complaints about the quality of the stock offering, though most dealers agree that the average is fair. We quote inferior qualities of hard at $10.00@10.50 per M.; good cargoes $11.00@11.50 do.; and prime $12.00 do. Pale bricks have met with a demand corresponding with the activity noted above, and prices are about 50c. per M. better, closing very firmly at $7.00@8.50 per M. Fronts of all kinds are selling to a fair extent at previous rates. Exports, 1,500 to Cuba.

CEMENT.—The demand for this article continues unabated from both local dealers and coastwise shippers, many of the companies finding it impossible to meet all the calls made upon them. Prices have become very unsettled, though the tendency is strongly upward. A few agents still quote at $1.90, but considerable sales have been made at $2.00 per bbl.; and small lots even up to $2.05@2.10 per bbl. Prices depend in a great measure upon when and where the goods are to be delivered, and exact figures cannot be given at the moment. Our city jobbers hold very little stock at present, the active consumptive demand preventing an accumulation. Exports, 25 bbls. to Porto Rico.

DRAIN AND SEWER PIPE.—During the past two or three weeks there has been considerable activity in all sizes of vitrified pipe, and the supplies are reduced, but at present the demand appears to be falling off gradually, calling mostly for odd lots to fill out assortments. No alterations have been made in the general range of prices, but first-class customers can now probably obtain larger discounts than during the early portion of the month. The sales have been very general, shippers and local dealers each taking a fair proportion, and the business of the autumn has nearly, if not fully, compensated manufacturers for the extreme dullness of the spring, many estimating the total amount of stock disposed of as fully equal to that of last year.

FIRE BRICK.—Very free sales of late have materially reduced the supplies, and though the demand is now comparatively moderate, manufacturers and dealers talk seriously of advancing rates about $2.00 per M., being further strengthened in their views by the greatly increased cost of coal. No decided action, however, has as yet been taken, and former quotations are retained, with most of the sales, however, at the outside figures. To Porto Rico, 57 boxes fire brick, valued at $456, were exported.

FOREIGN WOODS.—Taken as a whole the market is very fairly active, both wholesale and retail dealers reporting rather more business than at any time during the past two or three months. Cedar, particularly, attracts attention, and all prime lots find a rapid sale. The supply in wholesale dealers' hands is small, but there is distributed in moderate-sized parcels among retailers a fair assortment. Prices generally are higher and very firm. Of mahogany recent arrivals have increased the quantity and improved the quality of the stock, giving buyers advantage enough to enable them to operate on easier terms at late auction sales. This, it is said, will cause a portion of the importations not yet thrown on the market to be forwarded to Europe. The inquiry for mahogany from yard by local dealers is good, and at retail previous prices are still current. The latest auction sale of which we have a report embraced some two hundred logs Minatitlan mahogany, mostly at 7½@8½c, but including a few logs very choice at 9@14½c. The only exports reported for the week are two logs mahogany to Havre. The receipts are as follows: From Curaçoa, 20 tons lignum vitae; and 240 logs mahogany; and from Santa Anna, Mexico, 256 logs mahogany.

GLASS.—The shipping and local demand have both been very good during the week, and any small size of foreign window glass offered met with quick sale. Sellers have retained the advantage in most cases, though a trifle larger offerings, and considerable sharp competition between the leading importers, have prevented any decided improvement in prices. Discounts on English 35@40 per cent. and on French 40@47½ per cent., with a few of the large sizes as low as 50 per cent.

HAIR.—The demand continues good for all kinds, and the stocks are becoming smaller every day. Prices are unchanged as yet, but rule very firmly, and within a few days cattle hair will undoubtedly be advanced 3@4c. per bushel.

LATH.—There has been unusual activity in this market during the past week, and prices have at last been advanced. For a short time following the writing of our last report there was very little done owing to the small supply.

Quite a number of cargoes soon came in, altogether making a very large stock, which receivers were fearful would cause a break-down in values. The demand, however, was so very brisk that everything offered found customers ready to take it up immediately, who not only willingly paid previous values, but in order to secure a supply began first to bid $3.05 then $3.10, and finally $3.12½, and within this range everything afloat was sold out. The total sales foot up about 11,500,000 lath, and at the close the demand is still very good, and prices firm. The purchasers have been mainly our own city jobbers, who, though now pretty well stocked up, find the consumptive demand brisk, and likely to take off a goodly amount of their recent acquisitions. The number of cargoes now en route for this port is uncertain, but reported as small.

LIME.—As we went to press last week, quite a large fleet came in from Rockland; but the cargoes not already engaged were on the market but a few hours unsold, full-price figures being realized in every instance. These sales in a measure satisfied the pressing wants of city dealers, though the demand has since been active enough to fully exhaust all the moderate arrivals, and prevent any accumulation of stock afloat. Common lime continues to be the favorite, buildings having scarcely advanced far enough towards completion to require the use of lump or finishing lime. The latter, however, must soon begin to be called for, and when the demand springs up, an advance is looked for, in view of which a few cautious jobbers are quietly picking up such lots as they can get hold of. As we close this report the market is firm at $1.75 per bbl. for common, and $2.00 do. for lump. Northern limes are well sustained in price on all the well-known brands, but some common grades have recently sold 10c.@15c. per bbl. off the regular market rate. The receipts are as large as facilities will admit, dealers being anxious to get all the stock through possible before the close of navigation.

LUMBER.—At the various yards visited by us during the week closing with this report there was a noticeable want of life, and it is impossible to conceal the fact that nearly all dealers are disappointed with the result thus far of the fall trade. In a few cases, quite a fair aggregate of business had been done on jobbing orders, but these were exceptional, the majority reporting extreme dullness, and some, complete stagnation, with not even the relief of delivering on back contracts, as these are by this time pretty much all filled. In the face of all this, however, prices on pine lumber remain very firm, and we find no occasion to make any alteration in our quotations. We hear by private advices from Albany that the market at that point is very quick, and stock finds sale about as soon as offered, the bulk coming down the river for this city and for ports along Long Island Sound. Prices in all cases sustained, and lumbermen insist that if any changes are made this season it will be up instead of down. Those of our dealers who neglected to provide themselves with stock at an earlier date, are evidently inclining towards the latter opinion, as shown by the presence of their agents at Albany picking up such desirable parcels as may offer, at current rates. These purchases are forwarded with all the expedition possible, the near approach of the time when the river may be expected to close making rapid shipment necessary. The receipts at this point for the yards have therefore been rather more liberal, and assortments begin to improve, though it will undoubtedly require several weeks for dealers to secure all the stock desired. Except on through shipments from the West there is no black walnut to speak of arriving, the very high views and indifference about operating on the part of Albany dealers effectually checking the demand from New York buyers. A few of our leading dealers, however, who had foreseen this state of affairs early in the spring, quietly went out West and made their necessary purchases, had stock piled out to season where the atmosphere is much more beneficial to lumber than here, and are now receiving it at prices which would enable them to furnish a better assortment of walnut at fully as low, if not a lower range than the Albany merchants insist upon. This, of course, is instrumental in preventing any decided improvement in yard rates, and consumers are benefited thereby, though, following the natural law of trade, the tendency is rather upward at present. In the wholesale market we hear of no important variation, the general aspect of the market being rather quiet, and neither buyers nor sellers gaining advantage enough to call for special note. The decline in gold has had the effect to cause the withdrawal of nearly all shippers, but the export demand has throughout the season been so very small, that this appears to give sellers little or no concern. Without being unusually brisk, the inquiry from local dealers is sufficient to take about every thing arriving, and the accumulation of stock amounts to nothing. Eastern spruce has come in at an average of two or three cargoes per day throughout the week, some of the parcels being sold before arrival and others finding a ready sale about as soon as offered. City dealers have taken the bulk, though a few sales were made for delivery at neighboring towns. Prices have held their own on common and medium grades, and on choice lots are a little stiffer at the close, with a few buyers inquiring for schedules of cargoes to arrive, everything here being sold out. We quote at $19.00@20.00 for inferior and common; $20.50@21.00 for random cargoes; $21.50@21.75 for good to prime, and $22.00 per M. for very choice. White pine has been rather neglected, the only call being for small lots to fill out assortments, or to meet pressing manufacturing wants, shippers having no margin whatever for operations. Prices, however, are in most cases well sustained, and the market may be called steady on all grades. We quote at $22.00@26.00 for inferior to fair box boards; $28.00@30.00 for good do.; $31.00@32.00 for prime do.; and $33.00 for choice. Piling has undergone no essential change in value, but is not very active, and a portion of recent arrivals have been rafted out. We quote at 6½@7½c, extra choice, 8c. per foot. Pickets are not very plenty and not much sought after, but the few lots received have been mostly closed out at about $9.00@10.00 for ordinary ¾ inch, and $17.00@20.00 per M. for the large (bed slat) sizes. White oak still quoted nominally at about 42@44c. per foot. Yellow pine is still quoted at $34.00@36.00 per M., but these figures are based on sales made previous to our last, no available stock having arrived during the week. It is quite certain, however, that the above rates would be paid were anything offered for sale, as there is really a good demand, and buyers anxiously await the receipt of cargoes which have not already been contracted for. Cypress shingles are plenty, dull and heavy, at $16.00@18.00 per M. Eastern pine sawed shingles in fair demand at $4.50@5.00 for No. 1. The sales reported during the week include about 1,500,000 feet Eastern spruce at $19.00@21.75 per M.; 650,000 feet white pine at $27.00@32.00 per M., a few odd lots ¾ inch pickets at $10.00, and large size do. at $19.00@20.00; and 100,000 No. 1 shingles at $4.50@5.00. At the close the supply of Eastern spruce is very liberal and prices are somewhat unsettled in consequence, particularly on common and poorly assorted cargoes.

CHICAGO LUMBER MARKET.

(Special Correspondent of REAL ESTATE RECORD.)

CHICAGO, October 28, 1868.

There has been an improvement in the volume of business transacted during the past week, and the market presents a more animated appearance than we have noticed for some time. This, in connection with comparatively light supplies, has given sellers considerable advantage, and an advance of about $1.00 per M feet may be noted. The demand is principally from interior buyers, who are anxious to stock up in view of the probable early closing of the canal. Everything is sold out as we write, and more could easily be disposed of. Quotations stand at about $17.00@ $18.00 for extra and choice; $15.50@ $16.50 for medium; $13.00@ $15.00 for ordinary mixed; $12.00@ $12.50 for joist and scantling. Shingles higher and firmer, at $4.12 1/2 @ $4.75. Lath steady, at $2.00@ $2.25.

Our latest advices from Milwaukee are to the following effect:

"The lumher market has undergone no material change since the date of our last report. Receipts are in excess of the demand, and sales are very light. Since the decline in prices of grain, more cars have been offered for shipping, but an advance in the tariff by railroad companies has had a tendency to restrict orders from the interior, and trade has dragged heavily. Lath is steady at $12 1/2 per M. pieces. Shingles are firm at $3.57 1/2 @ $4.00 per M."

The most recent reports of cargo sales embraced common mixed at $11.00; scantling and joist cut to order $12.00; strips and boards $13.50@ $14.00, mostly the latter rate; timber under 20 feet $15.00, and 20 feet upwards $16.00 per M. The yard rates are as follows:

At all the Eastern markets prices are very firm and the amount of business doing is fair, about all the mills producing a fair average of stock. Lumbermen generally were feeling very well satisfied with the result of this season's business, but few bad debts having been contracted, and the amount of profit obtained showing a good margin over cost. The preparations for the winter's logging campaign are being made on a pretty extensive scale.

The Southern markets continue firm and would be active on Northern account, were it not for the continued scarcity of vessels, and the extravagant figures demanded for freight-room, leaving shippers entirely without a margin. The supply of timber was fair, but not large.

METALS.—Copper sheathing is selling moderately both in wholesale and retail lots, and the supplies show no important reduction. Occasionally first-class buyers have been enabled to obtain rather more favorable terms, but there is no actual decline in prices, and we still quote at 38c. for new, and 20c.@21c. for old. Yellow metal 26c. Scotch pig iron still remains very dull on all grades, buyers taking only just such lots as may be necessary to complete contracts, and with very fair arrivals the stock is daily growing larger. Holders in most cases are pretty firm, but experience considerable difficulty in sustaining the market, and outside figures are seldom reached. We quote at $41.00 @ $44.00 per ton for the bulk of the stock, and $44.50 for choice lots. American Iron has met with rather more inquiry and former rates are supported. The production has lately increased, and with back contracts now pretty well filled, there is a fair prospect of an early augmentation of the available supply. We quote at $41.00 @ $43.00 per ton for No. 1; $37.00 @ $39.00 do. for No. 2; and $34.00 @ $38.00 for forge; Bar iron from store is quoted at previous figures, and dealers report a fair amount of trade, but in wholesale lots there is scarcely any movement. We quote at $90.00 per ton for common American and English bar; $100.00 do. for refined do.; $155 for Swedes, ordinary sizes; scroll, $130 @ $175 per ton; oval and half round, $125 @ $155 do., and rods ¾ @ 3-16 inch, $105.00 @ $165.00 do.; sheet iron continues to be eagerly sought after for home use and shipment, about all the immediately available stock of common having been disposed of, as well as many lots now in course of manufacture. Prices are higher on all grades, closing with much firmness at 5½c. @ 7c. for singles, doubles, and trebles. Russia sheet is comparatively neglected at the moment, but importers are steady and still refuse to operate below 12½c. @ 18½c. gold, assorted numbers. Pig lead has been rather less active, selling mostly in job lots, but the slight improvement previously noted is sustained, and the market closes steadily at 6½c. @ 6¾c. gold. Bar still quoted at 10½c., and sheet and pipe 12c., less 6 per cent. to trade. Tin in slabs has been very active on the spot, and to arrive, owing to the continued favorable foreign news, and prices are firmer, with some buoyancy at the close. We quote at 25c. @ 27c. gold. Tin plates are selling well at former figures in coin, but at a lower range in currency. Zinc is a little easier on domestic, but firmer on foreign. From store the latest sales were at 12½c. @ 12¾c. We note late importations of 36 tons iron hoop; 2,726 tons pig iron; 4,958 do. R. R. bars; 48 tons sheet iron; 1,918 iron tubes; 9,538 pigs of lead; 8,731 boxes tin plates; and 800 slabs tin.

NAILS.—The demand for cut has continued very active from local dealers and shippers, and the already small supply is still further reduced. Prices have, in consequence, ruled strong, and all the agents now insist upon full 5½c., the market closing with rather an upward tendency. From dealers' hands large amounts are going into consumption. Finishing nails sell well, and are rather more steady. We quote at about 5½c. @ 5¾c. for 6d., 8d., 10d., and 12d.; 5½c. @ 6c. for 5d., and 6½c. @ 6¾c. for 4d. Clinch in liberal demand with nothing to be had below 7c. Other kinds steady at 18c. for zinc; 26c. for yellow metal; and 40c. for copper. The exports are 435 packages, valued at $2,533, against 220 packages, valued at $1,260, same time last week.

PAINTS AND OILS.—The position of the market has changed somewhat since our last, the jobbing trade now showing the most activity, and the wholesale market relapsing into a comparatively dull state. None of the sales making, however, are anything to boast of, few if any buyers being willing to operate in excess of immediate and actual necessities. Whiting and Paris white are at the moment quite scarce, and command higher prices, but the supply of other goods is in most cases ample, with some tendency towards accumulation. Prices are weak, particularly on foreign goods, owing to the recent decline in gold, and in many cases our quotations are lower. On leads, both dry and in oil, there is a reduction of ½ @ 1c.; on litharge ¾c. @ ½c., and on vermilion 3 @ 15c., according to style. Very choice domestic glue sells to a fair extent, but foreign stock is extremely dull and values unsettled. Linseed oil has continued on the downward turn during the greater portion of the week, particularly for lots held by outside parties on speculation, many of whom were forced to realize in consequence of the stringency in the money market, and we note sales as low as 94 @ 95c. Crushers, however, give way with less freedom, and do not press stocks, though there has been no attempt to withhold supplies. The rates on the regular market, as we close, are steady at about 97 @ 99c. in casks, and 99c. @ $1.01 in bbls. The retail trade is moderate. We note exports of 120 packages paint, valued at $1,836; and 490 gallons linseed oil, valued at $493.

PITCH.—The inquiry has continued moderate both for house use and export, and with some increase of the supply, present and prospective, the advantage remains with the buyer. No further reduction in prices can be quoted, but there are more sales making at inside than at outside figures, and dealers appear quite willing to operate. The general range for prime City may be placed at $3.00 @ $3.12½ per bbl. with retail parcels a trifle higher, according to place of delivery, &c. The receipts for the week are 159 bbls. Exports for week 41 bbls.; since January 1st, 2,979 bbls., and for same period last year 3,794 bbls.

PLASTER PARIS.—For white Nova Scotia lump the demand has been very fair, but prices are somewhat irregular, with rather a downward tendency on all except very choice parcels. Sales of about 1,000 tons, mostly at $4.50 per ton. Blue lump has met with more inquiry at previous rates, and we note sales of 700 tons at $4.25 to be delivered at a point outside the city. The arrivals are 1,220 tons, about one-half direct importation of manufacturers. Calclined is steady and selling well at about previous rates, the leading manufacturers still obtaining $2.40 @ $2.50 per bbl. We notice exports of 25 bbls. to New Granada, and 450 bbls. were shipped to San Francisco.

PLUMBING MATERIALS.—For iron pipes there is an active demand at full prices, particularly 4 inch, of which the supply is small and decreasing. Other styles of goods, however, are selling rather slowly, and dealers generally complain that the volume of business is much smaller than they had hoped for at this season. Jobbers have a fair assortment on hand.

SLATE.—There is still a want of life in this market, though of the choice qualities a few small sales are making from day to day on city account, with a slight increase of country orders during the week. Prices for the above remain steady, and as the supply is not over-abundant, and pretty well assorted, holders feel hopeful for the balance of the season. On common black slate the feeling is still very much depressed, and dealers are using every effort to get rid of their surplus stock before the extreme cold weather sets in, causing great irregularity in values, and for the present our quotations must be looked upon as nominal. No important reduction in the supply has taken place, but the receipts have been partially checked, and the accumulation, particularly of the undesirable grades, is less rapid—about the only favorable feature presenting itself. At the quarries, according to latest advices, the production was still in progress, but with the prospect of an early suspension.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—During the early portion of the week there was quite a brisk business doing, a very large proportion of the purchases being on Western account, and the market was well sustained. This demand, however, was soon supplied, and the feeling has since been quite dull, prices working off about ½c. per gallon, and closing somewhat heavy with more sellers than buyers, owing in part to the continued unfavorable Southern advices. The arrivals show some increase, and considerable quantities are on the way, while the stock already accumulated in yard at this point is liberal. We quote at 43 @ 43½c. per gallon in merchantable order; 44 @ 44½c. in shipping order, and 44 @ 45c. in New York bbls., and 45 @ 47c. in retail lots. Receipts for week 1,208 bbls. Exports for week 37 bbls.; since January 1st, 17,100 bbls., and for same time last year 25,276 bbls.

TAR.—For a few days following our last the demand was good and the sales free, but latterly the market has rather quieted down and closes quite dull for all except very choice lots, which can be easily disposed of on arrival. The receipts have been smaller, but there is a supply in yard sufficient for all immediate wants, which are mainly of a local character, shippers finding little inducement to operate. Prices have undergone no important variation, and closes steadily at $3.12½ @ $3.50 for North County; $3.50 @ $3.87½ for Wilmington, and $4.00 @ $4.25 for choice thin do., in order in yard. Receipts for week 238 bbls. Exports for week 72 bbls.; since January 1st, 9,380 bbls.; for same period last year, 3,626 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus of October 20th reports as follows:

The business throughout the districts has been very good; the sales have been large and have covered several large parcels. Prices are steadily held, with a tendency to improvement. A very active trade is looked for during the balance of the season, especially after the election. The receipts, it will be seen, have been free, especially from the Champlain canal, where advanced freights have been paid to bring the lumber forward. The coarse lumber trade has been very large, and prices of all kinds are very firm. The general stocks of the districts have been largely drawn on during the week by the shipments, which have been very active.

The receipts of lumber, at Chicago, for the week ending Oct. 24th, were 82,137,000 feet against 31,148,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1867. These figures would raise the aggregate receipts to about 852,000,000 feet, to against 746,000,000 feet in 1867.

The receipts of lumber at Buffalo and Oswego for the weeks ending October 19th and 26th were:

RESULT OF THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION AND ITS EFFECT ON REAL ESTATE.

PENDING the Presidential election it would not have been proper for a purely business journal like the REAL ESTATE RECORD to have said anything which could be used for partisan effect; but now that General Grant is, beyond all peradventure, to be our next President, there can be no impropriety in our speculating as to the future course of the real estate market due to that event.

In the first place, it must be noticed that the hard money party has triumphed in the election of General Grant. A return to specie payments is, we think, inevitable before his term of office expires. Senator Sumner, who is a power in the party, predicts specie payments by next fourth of July, but this is hardly possible. The fall in gold, however, shows that Wall street has no faith in the present paper inflation.

Then, again, it is clear that the election also settles the question as to the payment of the United States bonds in gold. Now, will there be any attempt to tax these bonds?

Now, what will be the obvious effect of these two significant facts, viz.: the payment of the bonds in gold when due, and an early return to specie payments.

In the first place, it is evident that Government bonds will at once become the most favorite investment in the country. Their security, the fact that they must advance in value, and the very high rate of interest they will bear for many years to come, will cause a competition for them which will take money out of nearly every productive enterprise. This tendency, with gold constantly falling, will, for a time, make general business not only dull, but there will be financial panics; the first and most serious of which will be in the stock market. The past seven years has seen a steady advance in real estate, which is now double the price, at least in this city, what it was at that time. The next four years will see a considerable part of this advance lost. We shall have money panics as the shrinkage of values goes on; there will be forced sales of real estate and lower prices all around. In short, the market, from this time forth, will be a bear one—the buyers will have the advantage.

These speculations on the future are not of a cheerful character, and there will be plenty of sanguine gentlemen to dispute them, especially if in addition to being hopeful they have a large amount of property to sell at high prices; but the future will tell its own story.

THE auction season is nearly over in real estate for this year. The business done has not been very large by this agency, but a good deal of property has changed hands in a private way, as the transfer books at the Register's office show.

Next spring, there is every reason to believe, there will be an enormous business done in real estate, and, unless all the signs fail, at lower rates than have been obtained for the past four years. Of course, there will be exceptional locations where prices will go up; on the upper part of the island, for instance, or along the route of projected steam railways; but side property, and especially the bulk of suburban property, will be much cheaper than it has been. The lowering price of gold is ominous of what is to take place in all values.

OWING to the excitement and bustle attending the Presidential contest, which extended to our public offices, we are compelled to go to press this week without our full complement of mortgages; next week we will give everything in full, including "All about streets," and other interesting matter.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

THE lull in general business involved by the Presidential election extended to real estate, and nothing of any consequence has transpired this week. A number of sales are advertised for next week, among them those of Johnson & Miller on Tuesday, of 200 Eighteenth Ward Brooklyn lots; also on Wednesday some valuable New York and Brooklyn property; also on Thursday 254 Newtown lots. For particulars see advertisement.

On Tuesday, A. D. Mellick, Jr. & Bro., the New Jersey auctioneers, sell 200 villa plots at Cranford, New Jersey. See advertisement.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—For hard brick the demand continues active both for local use and near-by shipment, with the advantage still pretty much all in the seller's favor, prices gradually creeping upward. On medium grades we make no important alteration, as the bulk of the supply is made up of that class of stock; but the very fine qualities are quite scarce at the moment, and being particularly sought after, have advanced 50c@ $1.00 per M. There is no excess of inferior sorts, but several cargoes of rough and rain-washed brick have come in during the week, and were sold at inside figures. Nearly all the receipts are still from the North River yards, the general supply now showing a fair aggregate, and though not greatly in excess of present calls, in a few instances within a day or two we have noticed a tendency towards a slight accumulation. The inquiry is still reported as entirely for consumption, city jobbers having no opportunity for laying in stock. The reports from the points of manufacture are somewhat conflicting, though nearly all agree that the production may be considered as suspended for the season, the unfavorable weather during the early portion of the week having checked operations, and it is now almost too late to resume. At the New Jersey and Long Island yards they are still moulding and burning with the intention of securing as large a stock as possible. At the close we quote inferior qualities of hard at $10.00@ $10.50 per M.; good cargoes $11.00@ $12.00 do.; prime $12.50 do., and very choice $13.00. Pale brick have sold with considerable freedom, and at times been quite scarce, causing a stiffening up on values, until we now find few if any lots to be had below $5.00 per M., and some of the best grades running well up to $9.00 per M. Croton fronts are in very good demand and rule steadily at $20.00@ $24.00 per M. with very few lots however, at either extreme, most of the sales being at about $21.00@ $22.00. Philadelphia fronts are without any important alteration to advise in price, and selling well up to the usual average.

CEMENT.—This market is still in a very unsettled condition, and prices are regulated in a great measure by the circumstances under which sales are consummated. To regular dealers and old customers, most of the manufacturers will deliver their goods at about $1.90c @ $1.95 per bbl., but casual buyers find it extremely difficult to operate below $2.00 per bbl., and some have to do considerable shopping before they can secure stock at any price. Some companies have refused to take any further orders for the present, contracts already on hand giving them all the work they can attend to. The demand is largely local, though very fair amounts are being taken for coastwise shipment both East and South. The production continues without any noticeable abatement, and after the present activity somewhat subsides, winter supplies will begin to accumulate. We note exports of 300 bls. to Peru.

DOORS, SASH AND BLINDS.—There is considerable activity in this market, and the general tone is quite strong and healthy. A large number of local orders are being executed, but there is also a good interior demand, with a fair representation of Southern buyers, who, coming prepared with the ready cash, find no difficulty in securing all the stock wanted. The general supplies and assortments are ample for all wants. We make a few modifications on blinds, but otherwise prices show no important variations.

FOREIGN WOODS.—The demand for cedar continues active, and prices are strong and buoyant. There is little or no available stock in the wholesale market, while such supplies as retail dealers have in their possession are held at very extreme figures and dealt out sparingly to favorite customers. Recent auction sales resulted very favorably and further arrivals and offerings are looked for with anxiety. Mahogany is selling to a fair extent at about previous rates, though the stock now being pretty well as-assorted, sellers are less inclined to insist upon outside figures, except on small lots of very choice quality. The exports for the week are 241 logs mahogany to Havre and 17 bundles do. to Argentine Republic. Their receipts reported are as follows: From Milk River, Jamaica, 4 tons lignum-vitæ; from Curaçoa, 8 tons ebony; from Wanks River, Nic., 161 logs mahogany; from Chiltepee, Mex., 427 logs mahogany.

GLASS.—For window glass we note a good steady demand, though the volume of trade is somewhat less than during the past five or six weeks, particularly with local buyers. Southern orders continue to be received, but we find very few dealers willing to meet them unless accompanied by the cash. All 16-inch sizes are still remarkably scarce, and are easily disposed of direct from vessel. Other sizes appear to be plenty enough for immediate wants, though not abundant. Prices remain firm at 35¢ @ 40¢ per cent. discount on English, and 40¢ @ 50¢ per cent. on French. Plate glass is selling well, and is firm at 5 per cent. off list, and 2½¢ per cent. added for packing and shipping.

HAIR.—As we have intimated in our previous reports, the continued good demand and gradually falling supply have finally necessitated an advance on cattle hair, and the rate now stands at 49¢ per bushel, with much firmness at the improvement. Other styles show no important variation, but are well sustained and selling with considerable freedom.

LABOR.—We hear of nothing of interest in this department, workmen generally putting in all the time possible as the season of activity draws to a close. The following on workingmen's strikes appears in the editorial columns of the London Times: "It is a very wholesome sign of the times that in all the now frequent discussions about capital and labor, strikes are unhesitatingly condemned on both sides alike. The working classes may regard them as an occasional necessity or a weapon in reserve; but they have a thorough conviction of their costliness and danger. A strike, in fact, represents commercial war. When masters and men cannot agree upon terms they take to fighting; the fight shows which side is the weaker, and the weaker, reason or no reason, must go to the wall. In this matter trade unions are the standing armies of labor, and as every good army, according to the saying, hopes for war, so a powerful trade union ought to plunge gladly into a strike. Nor is it, indeed, to be doubted that these organizations have before now acted in that manner; but it happens that when trade armies go to war they pay their own expenses, whereas armies in general do not. In a strike every soldier engaged feels the cost of every day's campaigning, and the impression operates strongly in favor of peace. The great question is, whether trade wars, like national wars, could not be prevented by a pacific arrangement of the points in dispute, and that question has recently received considerable elucidation."

LATH.—For a day or two following the issue of our last report, business was very fair, and about all the stock in receivers' hands afloat or piled out was disposed of. These purchases, however, with the heavy transactions previously noted, placed a large supply in the hands of dealers, and the demand has since been comparatively light, and only for small odd lots. Cargoes have arrived with less freedom, preventing an accumulation and enabling sellers to work off their lath at previous rates, though it required the best quality to realize outside figures. Quite a number of sales have been consummated for interior shipment, including one or two lots yet to arrive. The aggregate of business for the week is about 1,500,000, at $3.00 @ $3.12½ per M. A fair amount of stock is still expected to come forward, though heavy receipts, such as we had last week, will not probably occur again this season. The jobbing trade from yard is good, but shows signs of a gradual falling off.

LIME.—In making up their lists of arrivals during the past week the reporters of the daily papers have found quite a number of vessels hailing from Rockland, and in nearly every instance credited them with a load of lime, leading to the impression that the supplies of this article were receiving large additions. Investigation, however, reveals the fact that only a very few cargoes of lime actually came in, and that the receipts up to the present writing are in reality less than for the seven days preceding our last report. The general demand is probably a trifle less active than heretofore, but still ample to exhaust all the offering, and we hear of no accumulation of stock afloat. Prices have remained uniform, and close steady at $1.75 for common, and $2.00 for lump, with dealers predicting no immediate change. The kilns are still burning, and manufacturers are sending a fair amount South and to Boston, but complain of a scarcity of coasters for this port. A few of the Northern limes are selling pretty freely, and agents are short on their supplies, but as a general thing the volume of business is only fair. Prices on all desirable styles are well sustained. The amount now coming forward rather exceeds present wants, but there will be no important check to the receipts until the close of navigation.

LUMBER.—We find little or nothing transpiring in the retail market since our last report worthy of special notice. Trade as a whole is dull on local account, and shipping orders are gradually falling off, only good to choice qualities meeting with anything like a fair sale, and no large lines of these going out. Prices remain uniform on all grades, and the same confident tone among dealers to which we have before referred still appears to prevail; in fact, as the Albany market now stands, it would be useless to hope for any reduction in values for the present. The amount of stock coming down the river is pretty large, rather on the increase if anything, and contains quite a number of coarse cargoes, though, taken on an average, the quality is fair. Some of our yards are beginning to look a little crowded, though dealers assure us that they are not by any means filled up as yet; and now that lumber is likely to hold its own for the balance of the season, the policy appears to be, to show more fastidiousness in making selections, even though it requires a greater amount of time, the present state of business not calling for any rush of stock. Black walnut is quoted as before, but very firm, with no desire whatever on the part of holders to force sales. Black walnut logs for export are rather quiet, though any increase of foreign freight accommodations would undoubtedly stimulate this branch of trade, as shippers hold many unexecuted orders. Prices steady at 7½¢ @ 7¾¢ per foot. The wholesale market has shown a trifle more life, partly owing to an increased demand, and partly because sellers were compelled to dispose of a pretty liberal accumulation of supplies. The bulk of the business has been on local account, though we hear of some little inquiry for shipment to the South American coast and to the West Indies. Prices show no very decided change, the few advantages gained by either buyer or seller, being in nearly all cases only temporary. Three or four heavy cargoes have cleared during the week, increasing our table of exports to a larger aggregate than for a long time past. Eastern spruce, owing to very favorable winds, arrived in liberal quantities during the past week, and though many lots had been previously disposed of, the accumulation of stock has at times given receivers considerable trouble, cargoes frequently being reported as here before an opportunity was obtained to offer the schedules. The disposition to purchase appeared to be good enough, and the supply in reality did not exceed the demand; but a great many of our city dealers were too busily occupied in taking care of North River lumber, to give the offerings of Eastern stuff as much attention as they desired. The consequence of this state of affairs was that buyers who offered easy berths to vessels and quick dispatch in discharging cargoes frequently were enabled to operate at a concession of 50¢ @ $1.00 per M., while, on the other hand, many, finding bills just suited to their wants, paid full, and even extreme rates in order to secure the goods. As we write, about everything desirable has been disposed of, and the market closes with rather more steadiness at last week's figures, viz: $19.00 @ $20.00 for common; $20.50 @ $21.00 for average cargoes, $21.50 @ $21.75 for good to prime do.; and $22.00 per M. for very choice. A few lots, undesirable, short lengths, &c., were forced off at $18.00 per M. White pine has been a little more active, both on local and foreign account, but otherwise is without important change. The supply is fair, about balancing the receipts, and though sellers remain quite firm at full former figures, they find no reason to advance their views. We quote at $22.00 @ $26.00 for inferior to fair box boards, $28.00 @ $30.00 for good do., $31.00 @ $32.00 for prime do., and $32.00 for very choice. Piling continues moderately active and steady, the great bulk of the sales being within the range of 6½ @ 7½¢ per foot. Pickets are very seldom inquired after, and the odd lots coming forward to fill out cargoes are worked off to such buyers as can be found, at about $9.00 @ $9.50 per M. for common ¾ inch, and $17.00 @ $20.00 per M. for 1 inch, 5 foot size. White oak about $2 @ 4¢ per foot, but only nominal. The receipts of yellow pine foot up nearly two million feet; but even with this very material increase, the market obtains no relief, pretty much every thing having already been contracted for and going into immediate consumption. The few lots offered were quickly disposed of, and dealers are again without stock, the market closing higher and firm. Nothing can now be bought below $35.00 and really desirable has realized $40.00 and upwards.

Freight charges are as extravagant as heretofore. Cypress shingles continue in large supply, meet with no inquiry, and to attempt to force sales, still further concessions from the already low rates would be necessary. Eastern pine shingles have been a little more active at unchanged figures. The sales reported during the week include about 1,800,000 feet Eastern spruce at $18.00 @ $21.50 per M.; 600,000 feet white pine at $24.00 @ $30.00; a small parcel common box boards do. for West Indies at $25.00; for South America, 78,000 feet stock boards do. $31.00; 36,000 feet dressed 1½ inch boards, $34.00; 28,000 feet 1 inch do., $34.00; 75,000 feet extra lengths yellow pine at $40.00; 80,000 feet yellow pine flooring, $36.00; 150,000 feet yellow pine to go to Boston on private terms; and 550,000 No. 1 Eastern pine saved shingles at $4.50 @ $5.00.

CHICAGO LUMBER MARKET.

(Special Correspondent of REAL ESTATE RECORD.)

CHICAGO, November 4, 1868.

There continues to be a good steady demand for lumber of all descriptions, and dealers experience little or no difficulty in obtaining pretty full figures. Supplies have been comparatively liberal, but all were sold out from day to day, and we hear of no accumulation of stock. Extra and choice may be quoted at about $17.50 @ $18.00 per M.; good mill-run and mixed cargoes, $16.00 @ $17.00; and common to medium qualities, including coarse rafted, at $9.25 @ $13.00. Shingles at the moment are very scarce, and with a good demand, firmer at $4.12½ @ $4.25. Lath in fair supply, and steady at $2.00 @ $2.25. "S."

The cargo rates for hard wood lumber are as follows: black walnut $40 @ 45; cherry $20 @ 25; hickory $25 @ 30; ash $20 @ 25; and $15 @ 20 for ordinary oak.

Our latest advices from Milwaukee are to the following effect:

The lumber trade continues to drag, though some dealers report a slight improvement, owing to a desire to stock yards before the close of navigation. We note sales of Michigan cargoes at $11.00 @ 11.50 for joist and scantling, $12.00 for long joist, and $12.50 @ 13.00 for boards and strips. Oconto and Green Bay mill run is steady at $16.00. Shingles are firm at $4.00 adroit for sawed. Lath are in fair demand at $4.25 per M. ft.

A recent issue of the Saginaw Enterprise contains the following:

"There is no pressing demand; at the same time lumber is moving, and the market is firm and steady at the rates established months back—$6.00, $12.00 and $35.00 for uppers, common and culls. Owing to the limited facilities for shipping, the exports from this point show a considerable falling off from any previous month. Most of the lumber moved out is going from Bay City and points below, vessel captains preferring to take cargoes from Bay City than to stand the difference in lighterage. Since the completion of the channel across the outer bar, the largest vessels can go out without lightering. Outside dealers and middle-men are buying up to lay over for next season, which is a good indication that as good, if not better, prices may be expected next year. From the knowledge we have of the market, and the evidence of the past week or two, we venture the opinion that there will be but a small quantity of unsold lumber laid over for next year."

The advices at hand from the Eastward represent considerable activity at all the seaboard markets, and a general feeling of firmness on all desirable grades of lumber. Shipping operations were comparatively light owing to the scarcity of vessels and high rates of freight. At the points of production, the mills were all running and working up stock as rapidly as possible; but ice had made its appearance in some of the booms, and fears were entertained that it would soon be useless to attempt getting out any more logs.

For the week ending October 31st, the Boston report was as follows:

The surveys in this district for the week comprise 37 cargoes of domestic, containing 2,552,375 feet, and 10 cargoes from the provinces, containing 572,544 feet, making a total of 3,124,919 feet.

Manufacturers are actively employed in filling orders, and dealers are anxious to lay in their winter stock before close of navigation. There is a fair seasonable demand from the yards, and the trade generally is quite active. Canada lumber is in good request, and prices of all descriptions are firm.

Boston rates as follows:

Southern markets are without important change. The general supply of logs was fair and most of the mills were running on back orders, but shippers refused to enter into new contracts, until the rates of freight were modified or the Northern markets advanced sufficiently to allow a margin on shipments.

Savannah prices are as follows:

Timber $8 @ $12 per M. feet for mill timber, $10 @ $15 for small shipping do., and $14 @ $20 for large do. Lumber $20 @ $22 for ordinary sizes; $25 @ $30 for difficult sizes, and $22 @ $23 for flooring.

METALS.—Copper sheathing has been rather dull during the past week both in wholesale and retail lots, buyers generally asking a decline in order to induce them to operate with any freedom. Manufacturers, however, have as yet refused to concede, and we still quote at 38c. for new, and 20¢ to 21c. for old. Yellow metal 26c. Scotch pig iron soon after our last was quite active and the stock considerably reduced, but latterly the business has again become moderate. The remaining supply, however, is pretty much all concentrated into the possession of one house, and it is held with great confidence at slightly higher figures. There is some stock known to be on the way, but not enough to give much relief to the market. We quote at $42.00 to $44.50 per ton, and the very best in small lots at $45.00. American iron is without new features to advise. The general demand is moderate, but as the supplies do not materially increase, dealers manage to sustain the market without much difficulty, and former values are still current. We quote at $41.00 to $43.00 per ton for No. 1; $37.00 to $39.00 do. for No. 2; and $34.00 to $38.00 for forge. Bar iron from store is quiet at the moment, the call being mainly for small job parcels for immediate use. Prices remain steady.

We quote at $90.00 per ton for common American and English bar; $100.00 do. for refined do.; $155 for Swedes, ordinary sizes; scroll, $130 to $175 per ton; oval and half round, $125 to $155 do., and rods ¾ to 3-16 inch, $105.00 to $165.00 do.

Sheet iron is still selling with as much freedom as the moderate supply will admit of, and any lot of common offered is quickly snapped up at full prices. The demand is very general, and many of the factories have contracted for their production several weeks ahead. Choice grades of common are higher, the market closing strong at 5½¢ to 7½¢ for singles, doubles, and trebles. Russia sheet is in fair demand, and steady at 12½¢ to 13½¢ c. gold, assorted numbers. Pig lead is quiet, buyers operating only to fill out assortments, prices remaining steady at 6½¢ to 6¾¢ c. gold. Bar tin 10½¢ c. and sheet and pipe 12c. less 6 per ct. to trade. Tin in slabs has still further advanced, and continues quite active, closing stiff at 25½¢ to 27½¢ c. gold. Tin plates are steady, but without much activity. Zinc has sold to a fair extent, but the supply is ample for all immediate wants, and prices show no important change. We quote at 12½¢ to 12¾¢ c. from store. The latest importations are 75 tons iron hoop; 979 tons pig iron; 11,509 tons railroad bars; 55 tons sheet iron; 50 iron tubes; 7,392 pigs of lead; 80,005 lbs. tin, and 18,707 boxes tin plates.

NAILS.—Cut have met with rather less shipping inquiry, but the trade with local and country jobbers continues very good, and prices hold their own, closing steady at 5½¢ c. Clinch fairly active and quite firm at 7c. Finishing nails are not much sought after at the moment and show some irregularity, but may still be quoted at about 5½¢ to 5¾¢ c. for 6d., 8d., 10d., and 12d.; 5½¢ to 6c. for 5d., and 6½ @6½¢ c. for 4d. Other kinds steady at 18c. for zinc; 26c. for yellow metal, and 40c. for copper. The exports are 54 packages, valued at $309, against 485 packages, valued at $2,533, same time last week.

PAINTS AND OILS.—There continues to be a very fair jobbing inquiry for paints, &c., from store, but aside from this, the market displays a decided want of vitality, and dealers all agree in calling business decidedly dull. Paris white and whiting are still quite scarce, also ochres, though the stock is not enough reduced to give holders any very decided advantage during the present state of trade. Prices, as a general thing, remain much the same as last week for goods on the spot, both domestic and foreign, but values on imported stock to arrive have fluctuated with the premium on gold. Glue is still extremely dull, particularly foreign makes, though of domestic grades, nothing but the most desirable styles can be disposed of with any freedom. Linseed oil has been comparatively dull throughout the week, buyers contenting themselves with such small odd lots as could be picked up at low figures, mostly to be found in the hands of outside speculators. Prices from crushers' hands are a trifle easier, but at the close rather more steadiness is noticeable. We quote at 97¢ to 98c. in casks; and 99c. to $1.00 per gallon in bbls. We note exports of 30 packages paint, valued at $607; and 53 gallons linseed oil, valued at $34.

PITCH.—Only a moderate business has been transacted and mostly in small retail parcels for local use, with one or two purchases for foreign shipment. Prices, however, are sustained, and if anything a little more steady, the arrivals scarcely meeting the expectations of the trade. The stock in yard is fair. We quote at $3.00 to $3.12½ for prime city, as the basis of the majority of sales, with usual additions for extra qualities, more costly manner of delivery, &c. The receipts for the week are 121 bbls. Exports for week, 100 bbls.; since January 1st, 3,079 bbls., and for same period last year, 3,894 bbls.

PLASTER PARIS.—Lump continues in fair demand for the season, but is not over strong, and buyers generally gain some little advantage. Sales of 750 tons white, at $4.40 to $4.50. The receipts are 884 tons. Calclined is still quoted steady at $2.40 to $2.50 per bbl, with a good steady trade doing. We notice exports of 50 bbls. to Cuba.

SLATE.—We learn of nothing particularly new or interesting in this branch of trade since our last. Common black slate in some quarters is still being "slaughtered" in order to reduce stock and have nothing undesirable to winter over, and prices as a matter of course are too irregular to admit of reliable or even approximating quotations. The good to fancy grades, however, continue to meet with some little local demand, probably a slight increase during the week, and for these about former prices are current, though it must be a very small order, or an extremely undesirable customer, to induce dealers to insist with much pertinacity upon outside figures. A few arrivals are reported, but the additions to the stock just now are not very heavy.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—Immediately following the writing of our last report the demand from both local buyers and for export orders was active, and prices improved about 1c. per gallon on all grades. Subsequently business slackened up considerably, but at the advance above noted holders remained quite confident, and as we close, the market is steady and uniform, with comparatively light offerings at 44¢ to 44½¢ c. in merchantable order, 45¢ to 45½¢ c. in shipping order, and 45½¢ c. in New York bbls. The supply has been more liberal and the stock shows a slight increase. Receipts for week 2,255 bbls. Exports for week 100 bbls., since January 1st 17,200 bbls., and for same period last year 25,417 bbls.

STONE.—The wholesale market for blue stone continues very active, and full prices are current, with not enough stock coming forward to meet all demands. Free stone, &c., without features of importance. At the city yards business is fair, but not unusually active.

TAR.—The general demand has been fair, and on all really desirable lots about former prices realized. Light exports, however, and a material increase of the supply give buyers some encouragement to hope for more favorable terms, and the disposition at the moment is to confine all operations to immediate wants. Holders at the close are not pressing, but accept current rates quite readily. We quote at $3.00 to $3.37½ for North County, $3.37½ to $3.60 Wilmington, and $3.57½ to $4.00 for choice thin, in order in yard, showing some reduction on outside figures. Receipts for week, 1,558 bbls. Exports for week, 65 bbls. Since January 1st, 9,448 bbls., and for same period last year, 3,626 bbls.

REAL ESTATE RECORD

AND BUILDERS' GUIDE.

VOL. II.]

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1868.

[No. 35.]

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY

C. W. SWEET & CO.,

Room B, World Building, No. 37 Park Row.

TERMS.

Six months, payable in advance..... $3 00
One year in advance..... 5 50

THE hub bub created by our article of last week on the possible future price of real estate, has been quite a revelation to certain people of the extended circulation and influence of the RECORD. It has been supposed that our circulation was practically confined to the real estate agents and dealers, whereas the fact is, so costly a paper as ours could not live six months on the patronage we get from that quarter. It is true, all the real estate agents, who amount to anything, in New York and Kings counties, take the RECORD, and the shrewdest of them—firms like Johnson & Miller, Mellick & Co., John McClave, etc.—avail themselves of our subscription to advertise. Indeed, so full and complete are our tables and records, that it is impossible to do business intelligently without our paper. But the real estate agents are the smallest part of our support. The large holders of real property, the capitalists, heavy business houses, &c., are our principal supporters so far as circulation is concerned, while the great building interest is our chief reliance for advertising. We intend, by the way, to make the building department of our paper much fuller and more valuable than it has been heretofore.

IMPORTANT TO BUILDERS.

THE following instructions have been issued from the Department for the Survey and Inspection of Buildings by Superintendent James M. Macgregor to the District Inspectors:

You are required to examine all buildings in course of erection, alteration and repair, throughout your district at least once every day (Sundays and holidays excepted), and report to me in writing, forthwith, all violations of any of the several provisions of the "Act," together with the street and number of the building or premises upon which violations are found to exist, and the names of the owners, lessees, occupants, builders, masons, carpenters, roofers, furnace-builders, and architects, and any and all persons violating any of the provisions of said "Act," and all other matters relative thereto.

You will also obtain a copy of all specifications submitted, for the erection or alteration of buildings in your district, and report the date of their commencements and completion; and, when completed, you will return to the Chief Clerk the copy of the specification, endorsed by you, with such remarks and information as may be required.

On the commencement of any work in your district, you are required to ascertain if the specifications have been submitted, or permits issued, or applications made for the same; and you must immediately report in writing any and every violation caused by such neglect. You will visit every street in your district at least once in each week, and report to me monthly in writing, all the work going on in every street or avenue in your district; also all the streets or avenues in which there is no work commenced.

You are also required to be particular to examine "all buildings or parts of buildings, walls, or parts of walls, or party walls, chimneys, gutters, cornices, staging, signs, or other structures in your district that from fire, excavation, improper erection, or from any other cause, shall at any time become dangerous or unsafe, and liable to endanger life and limb," and report forthwith in writing the names of the owners, lessees, or other parties having an interest in the same, together with the street and number of the premises, and the condition of the same, with your opinion relative thereto.

You will report in writing forthwith, all violations that have been removed, either on verbal or printed notices, and note the distinction. You will also report directly to me, in writing, all violations not removed every ten days thereafter, until such violation is either removed or disposed of. Each Inspector will be held accountable for the work in his district, and for the fulfilment of this order in every respect, and in case of sickness or unavoidable absence, he will forthwith send word to the office.

Your attention is particularly called to the following sections of the "Act," which will be rigidly enforced.

JAS. M. MACGREGOR,
Superintendent of Buildings.

SECTION 1. "Limits."

SEC. 2. "All walls to be built plumb and straight."

SEC. 3. "Foundation walls: how laid; footing courses, timber or piles."

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—There is still a very fair demand for odd lots of the various grades of hard brick, but the general volume of business shows a material reduction, and the market begins to assume a quiet tone. With few exceptions building operations have now reached a point where it will require no additional purchases of brick to complete the work in hand, and wholesale dealers look for a gradual falling off in trade from this time forward. Prices have held their own very well during the past week, and as we close this report, the feeling appears to be quite steady and uniform at about $10.00@12.00 for the bulk of the North River stock; $12.50@13.00 for very choice do.; and $10.00@11.00 for Jersey. The latter grade is now coming forward with more freedom than for some time past and attracts considerable attention from such buyers as may be operating. The receipts via North River have been somewhat interrupted of late by very low tides leaving many loaded vessels aground in the neighborhood of the yards. Enough has arrived, however, to meet all wants, in fact more than the consumptive demand required, and many of our city jobbers are commencing to pile up their winter stocks. Many manufacturers are still burning, but nearly all have stopped moulding, and the production for this year is rapidly drawing to a close. Shipments in this direction will, of course, continue as long as there is a market for the stock, and if all accounts thus far received be true, the accumulated supply will be ample to meet any calls that may be made. Pale brick remains steady at previous quotations, viz.: $8.00@9.00 per M., but are less eagerly sought after than at the date of our last. Fronts of all kinds are rather dull, and about former values still current.

CEMENT.—The business in this article is as large as the facilities of manufacturers will admit of; in point of fact, the demand exceeds the supply, and many of the companies are sold ahead of production. The inquiry is largely for immediate consumption or shipment, and very few jobbers have as yet been enabled to accumulate any stock. Prices are rather higher, but still show considerable irregularity. Cargoes are quoted at $2.00 delivered here, and this is generally considered the market rate, but so anxious are many buyers to secure stock that they frequently bid 5@10c. per bbl. above this rate, and even then do not always meet with a response. Roman cement is quoted at $10.00@11.00 per bbl. Shipments of 500 bbls. to Peru; 12 bbls. to Cuba; and 500 bbls. to San Francisco.

FOREIGN WOODS.—In both the wholesale and retail market there is a very fair amount of trade doing, and the tone of the market is steady. Cedar is no higher than last week, but is very confidently held, particularly the choice grades, of which the supply is very small, and receiving no additions. Mahogany is fairly active, and the general supply and assortment in very good shape, but buyers do not appear to retain quite so much advantage as during the last two or three weeks. This is owing in a great measure to the better margins offered in European markets, many lots having recently been shipped from stock at a profit and recent arrivals going out again immediately, without being offered for sale at this point. At a recent auction sale of Mexican mahogany a few logs were sold at 8¼@8½c., but prices not proving satisfactory to owners, the bulk of the offering was withdrawn. The exports for the week are 20 logs of mahogany to Malta, and 2 boxes veneers to Liverpool. No receipts reported.

GLASS.—All the small sizes of English and French window glass continue as active as heretofore, and American is also selling with freedom, full former prices being realized, and the market closing firm. The supply is small, and stock does increase in importers' hands. The larger grades are rather dull, and somewhat unsettled.

LABOR.—The only item of interest since our last is the demand of the blue-stone cutters and flaggers for full pay, viz.: $4.50 per day, and the privilege of quitting work at 5 o'clock. The demand was not considered unreasonable by employers, and, in most cases, granted without interrupting the regular course of work.

LATH.—The market has presented few, if any, features of interest since our last. Our city jobbers as a general thing are well supplied, and not compelled to operate to any extent, the bulk of the purchases being in small odd parcels, while receivers finding very few cargoes coming in upon them, are enabled to sustain the late advance, and quotations still stand at $3.00@3.12½ per M. Most of the sales reported, however, have been at the inside figure, buyers refusing to pay extremes, except in very choice goods, as for lots requiring some additional expense in making deliveries. The transactions foot up 300,000. The trade from yard is rather moderate, and stocks do not decrease to any extent.

LIME.—The demand for Rockland has not been very brisk, and with rather more liberal arrivals, stock has shown a slight tendency to accumulate, though very few cargoes are afloat as we write. During the early portion of the week, receivers were quite steady at previous rates, but subsequently learning that other styles were underselling them, prices on common were reduced 15c. per bbl., bringing the rate down to $1.60. On lump no change was made, and we still quote at $2.60. The production of kilns, we understand, continues unabated, and more & new York coasters had arrived at latest accounts, making it probable that our supplies will soon augment. The Northern limes have been sold quite freely, but at irregular figures, some agents evincing a disposition to crowd the market pretty well, and accepting as low as $1.50 on common, and $1.90@1.95 on lump, though the reduction in the value of Rockland now has a tendency to divert the attention of buyers. The consumptive inquiry for lime is fair, but is generally falling off, and a large proportion of recent purchases are to stock up the retail yards.

LUMBER.—At the yards the amount of business doing is still comparatively light, though, in a few instances, dealers report a little more life than for a week or two past. The increased inquiry developed is mostly of a local character, and is quite general, all styles of stuff selling, to some extent, in job lots. We have revised quotations, but find very few alterations necessary—a steady, uniform feeling prevailing amongst the trade throughout the city. The receipts via river have been pretty liberal, and, at a number of yards, a considerable force of workmen has been necessary to take care of the stock coming in. This is nothing unusual, however, for this season of the year, and the majority of dealers agree that the rapidity of the accumulation is certainly no greater than an average, and some think it to be less. At Albany the general tone appears to be quite steady, though a few weak holders, anxious to realize, have shown a disposition to shado a trifle from extreme rates. Freight, both on lake and canal, are very high, bringing the cost of lumber laid down at Albany, or at this point, well up to the jobbing price, and many parties who are delivering stock on contracts made early in the season, do so at a loss. Black walnut remains very firm, particularly choice grades, these being scarce and well under the control of leading dealers. The scarcity of freight-room to foreign ports still tends to restrict the export demand for black walnut logs, and we hear of but little movement in this class of stock. The wholesale market has shown rather a dull tone, though enough activity to take the bulk of the desirable supplies offering. A fair amount goes into the hands of our regular city dealers, but for choice shipping grades, particularly those suited to the South American coast, there appears to be at the moment a slightly increased demand. The tightness in the money market has naturally been felt, to some extent, amongst the lumber trade, but as yet very few dealers have offered any material concessions for the sake of realizing. Buyers, however, seem a little adverse to entering into heavy engagements, preferring to purchase in quantities suited to immediate wants until the financial difficulties become more settled. Eastern spruce has undergone little or no change in value since our last review. The receipts have been quite liberal, but a large proportion of the cargoes were sold to arrive, and those that were not, generally found a market within a short time after being reported. The general average of quality has been fair, but inferior schedules still, occasionally, give receivers considerable trouble, and in most cases are sold on very favorable terms to the buyer. At the close, about all the recent offerings have been sold out, though a few odd schedules are still to be found, mostly of stock to arrive. We quote at \$18.50@19.50 per M. for inferior and common cargoes; \$20.00@21.00 for average do.; \$21.50@21.75 for good to prime do.; and \$22.00 for very choice, with extra length lots, sawed to order, at even higher figures. Of Canadian spruce and Eastern hemlock we hear of no stock on the market, and values are merely nominal. White pine is becoming rather more plenty, and though still selling to a fair extent, both for home use and export, the supply is somewhat in excess of the demand, and the market droops. No very decided decline can be quoted, but there is an evident want of strength, all qualities feeling the depression, though probably most marked on the upper grades. We quote at \$22.00@26.00 for inferior to fair box boards; \$28.00@30.00 for good to prime do.; \$31.00 for choice, and a few fancy lots are occasionally sold in a small way at higher figures. Piling has been in good demand for all merchantable sizes, and is rather firmer, very little stock being now rafted out, and the arrivals quite moderate. For common to good the sales are at \$4@7c; prime, 7@17c; and a few extra long and heavy sticks at 8c. Pickets are still dropping into a moderate extent, the majority being loaded to fill up on lumber cargoes. There appears to be no regular market for them, and receivers have to sell out to such customers as they can find at about \$9.00@9.50 per M. for $\frac{1}{2}$ inch, and \$17.00@19.00 for 1 inch, 3 foot size, with most of the transactions at inside quotations. Yellow pine appears to be as scarce as ever, notwithstanding the continued free arrivals, all the cargoes received since our last being reported as previously sold, on direct consignments for manufacturing purposes

Several parcels, however, are said to be held on speculation, and these will probably soon find their way on the market. Freight from Southern ports are still pretty high, but begin to show signs of easing up somewhat, and hopes are entertained that shipments hither will increase ere long. We quote at \$34.00@36.00 for common to good; and \$40.00 for prime. Cypress shingles are not inquired after, and it is seldom that anything like a respectable sale can be consummated. Prices remain at about \$16.00@18.00 per M. Eastern pine sawed shingles are dull at \$4.50@5.00. Sales of 1,000,000 feet Eastern spruce at \$18.50@22.00 per M.; 500,000 feet white pine at \$25.00@30.00; one small lot very fancy at \$35.00; 300 pieces piling at 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ @8c. per foot, and 140,000 feet yellow pine at \$36.00@37.00 per M.

CHICAGO LUMBER MARKET.

(Special Correspondent of REAL ESTATE RECORD.)

CHICAGO, November 11, 1868.

Since last advices the receipts have continued quite liberal, and the demand only fair, with salesmen frequently in a quandary how to judiciously work off the supplies. There has, however, been no great accumulation of stock, and prices are reported much the same as heretofore, closing with whatever advantage there may be in buyers' favor. Extra and choice quoted at $17.00@17.75; good mill run and mixed cargoes $15.50@16.50, and inferior to medium, including coarse rafted, $9.00@13.00. Shingles firm at $4.00@4.25 afloat, and lath do. do. at $2.00@2.25. A correspondent of one of our journals, writing from Muskegon, says that the majority of steam mills have suspended hostilities and gone into winter quarters. The remaining twelve or fourteen lumber manufacturers will shut down in about a week, and Muskegon will become quiet and unpresuming. Already thousands of men have left for the pinneries, cutting the coming season's supply of logs.

Messrs. Woolner & Garrick's regular monthly circular, dated at Chicago, November 24, 1868, contains the following:

Another month has passed since we presented to you and the public, our remarks in regard to the lumber traffic of Chicago, and from the experience we have had we feel it a duty incumbent upon us to raise our voice again in warning to the manufacturers, lest they another season should import more than the country demands, and thereby hurt themselves most materially. We are endorsed in these our views by all the leading and substantial mill-owners, who have agreed, for self-preservation, to curtail rather than increase their stocks, for the year to come. The feeling on the market at the present writing is anything but encouraging, and it is to be hoped that this may continue so until close of navigation, thereby working as an incentive to retrenchment rather than expansion. The demand from the regions west and south of us will undoubtedly be great, still it behooves the producer not to waste his timber at ruinous prices, instead of saving it for an increased steady demand. The very rapid and most seriously felt decline in all the produce of the former, will check his desire to purchase lumber, for the time being anyhow, and this also will tend to keep on hand longer than otherwise might be, the large stocks at present accumulated in our yards. The prices realized during the latter half of this season have not been such as to stimulate further exertions to increase the supply; the bulk of all the lumber, with the exception of the very choicest kinds, has left but limited, and in many instances no profit for the manufacturer. This has been the natural result of a crowded market, and will become much more seriously felt if the same policy prevails another season. From present appearances, it is most likely that our imports will reach, if not exceed, one thousand million feet.

The total receipts thus far have been 908,320,932 feet, and from the 1st November until the close of navigation, 1867, we received over 130,000,000 feet: we can see no reason for anticipating a less amount for the balance of this season. The receipts for October amount to 125,638,639 feet, exceeding those for September 2,373,695 feet, and those for the same month last year 14,732,313 feet. The wholesale cargo trade has been uniformly dull during the whole month, although a slightly increased activity was perceptible during the last week. This, however, was altogether owing to the fact that the canal was closed on the night of the 30th October, and buyers from the river had to take advantage of the last opportunity to ship, although the chances are that the boats may have to lie at La Salle until spring, for want of water. The trade from the yards has been very fair, and would have shown a much larger aggregate, had it not been for the continued scarcity of facilities of transportation. The shipments for October amount to 76,649,602 feet, which is 10,208,566 feet more than for September, 9,895,852 feet more than for October, 1867. The stocks on hand here are large beyond precedent, but will, most likely, show smaller than we calculate them, when the stock will be taken at the close of the year; still this does not make us change our opinion, for the reason that it is for the interest of every holder that the city should show as small an aggregate as possible. Our calculation includes everything on hand, pine or hardwood lumber, and all kinds of timber as well as stocks held by factories here, not for sale; whereas the stock on hand reported 1st January, only shows the pine for sale in regular yards. We mean to make full allowance for dressed lumber, and show consumption, and if we are wrong, it is because shippers do not give in correct returns, for the sake of defrauding in freight. We quote prices by the cargo the same as last month, but we have had some small fluctuations, and generally speaking, it has been easier to realize full prices than it was during the month previous; however, the contrary has been the case on several occasions, owing mainly to the prevailing cold and wet weather.

The shingle market has been uniformly good, the supply not equal to the demand, and no difficulty has been experienced in obtaining full prices for a strictly first-class article; but a good many shingles are received here branded A, not worthy of the name, being carelessly and unevenly sawed, as well as poorly packed. Some very prime lots have sold afloat at $4.25, but they were extra good and exceptions to the regular rule. There has also been a fair demand for good shaved shingles, but the wants are limited, and we cannot recommend the manufacture of this article on an enlarged scale.

The Eastern markets are still very fairly active and quite steady, but present few new features worthy of note. The following from a Machias, Me. journal of recent date:

"Lumber operators, those who own the lands, supply the teams and usually hold or own most of the logs after they are cut in. are hesitating about fitting off teams to the woods. It seems probable that the quantity of lumber cut in the coming winter will be much smaller than for any winter for eight years past.

"As a whole, the owners and manufacturers would probably be gainers not to have a log cut this winter. The supply of logs on the river is equal to the demand for one or two years; in other words, the sawing capacity could not in one or two good sawing seasons clear the river of stock. Some owners and some mills might run short, while others would have ample stock.

Logs already cut in for two to six years, or longer, are damaging. They "sap rot" and otherwise receive injuries that seriously decimate their value when manufactured which of course entails loss on the owner.

"However, some teams have gone and others are preparing to go into the woods, and considerable lumber will be cut. Men who own teams, and all necessary outfits for operating, are obliged to keep doing, so that the majority of men who depend on the "woods work" in winter will find employment at fair wages; but not so high as in some past seasons, nor so high as they ought to receive when the cost of flour and other necessary articles of consumption are taken into consideration."

METALS.—The demand for copper sheathing does not improve, the only business doing at the moment being confined to small job lots suited to the immediate and pressing wants of buyers. Prices, however, remain steady, a unity of action among manufacturers preventing a decline. We quote at 33c. for new, and 20@21c. for old. Yellow metal 26c. Scotch pig iron has met with a comparatively light demand during the past week, and with more liberal arrivals, the poorer qualities have fallen off a trifle. The accumulation of stock, however, is not very heavy and the assortment rather poor, causing a steady feeling on all desirable grades, and preventing any great pressure to realize on the part of holders. We quote at $41.00@$44.00 per ton, with small lots of choice at $44.50 @45.00 do. American iron continues extremely dull, the demand from consumers restricting itself to such lots as will just about meet current necessities. Light receipts of all grades have been the rule, and this tends to give sellers the advantage, the general range of values showing no variation. We quote at $41.00@43.00 per ton for No. 1, $37.00@39.00 for No. 2, and $34.00@38.00 for forge. Bar iron from store has been very dull, and though former rates are still asked, there has not been enough business transacted to give character to the market, and figures are somewhat nominal. We quote at $90.00 per ton for common American and English bar; $100.00 do. for refined do.; $135.00 for Swedes, ordinary sizes; scroll, $130.00 @175 per ton; oval and half round, $125@155 do., and rods 3/8@3-16 inch, $105@165 do. Common sheet iron is a trifle less active, though the general demand is fair and with a continued scarcity of immediately available, stock prices rule very firm at the improvement noted in our last. We quote at 5 1/2@7 1/2c. for singles, doubles, and trebles. Russia sheet appears to be much neglected at the moment, and prices are lower by 1/2c.@1c., closing at 11 1/2@13c. gold for assorted sizes. Pig lead continues rather dull, but as the supply is estimated at only about 1,000 tons, holders are confident, and the market closes firm at 6 1/2@6 3/4c. gold; bar, 10 1/2c. and sheet and pipe 12c., less 6 per cent. to trade. Tin in slabs is in good steady demand both for parcels on spot and to arrive, prices showing much strength at a slight improvement on prime grades. We quote at 25 1/4@27 1/2c. gold. Tin plates are quiet, but steadily held at previous figures. Zinc has been in active demand, and all the available stock bought up. Prices are higher, closing strong at 13@13 1/2c. from store.

NAILS.—The amount of business doing in cut nails has been quite liberal for home use as well as for export, considerably reducing the supply in store. Prices are not any higher, but the agents are all very firm, and few, if any, orders can be negotiated below 5 1/2c. Clinch in demand, and steady at 7c. Finishing nails fairly active at 5 1/2@5 3/4c. for 6d., 8d., 10d., and 12d.; 5 1/2@6c. for 5d., and 6 1/2@6 1/2c. for 4d. Other kinds steady at 18c. for zinc; 26c. for yellow metal, and 40c. for copper. The exports are 306 packages, valued at $1,774, against 54 packages valued at $309, same time last week. Shipments also of 1,410 packages to San Francisco.

PAINTS AND OILS.—The wholesale market for paints is still very dull on all descriptions; there being no call for large parcels, and an entire absence of a speculative feeling. Present stocks, however, are rather light, and holders are not pressing sales to realize, though on parcels to arrive buyers are enabled to gain some advantage. The supply in the hands of jobbers is fair, and the retail trade continues very good—a little better, if anything, than last week. American white lead has been somewhat reduced, but no other changes are reported. Glue is quoted as before, but meets with scarcely any demand. Linseed oil continues very unsettled, but the general tendency of prices appears to be downward. Crushers have not materially reduced their rates on jobbing lots, but a large amount of stock is still held by outside parties on speculation, and these have felt the stringency in the money market, in some instances being forced off very low, particularly as the oil could not be granted. Both the export and consumptive demands are very light, buyers generally being unwilling to take more than they can use to immediate advantage. Some sales are reported down to 92@94c., but crushers ask 96@97c. in casks, and 98@1.00, in bbls. We notice exports of 72 packages paint valued at $1,696 and 290 bbls. oxide zinc valued at $5,271. Shipments to San Francisco of 331 packages white lead.

PITCH.—Early in the week the market was quite dull, and sales could seldom be consummated above $2.75@ $2.87 1/2, and even yet common lots are quoted at the above figures. But for prime grades the business has latterly been rather better, and holders more confident, with the latest sales of the best brands at $3.00 per bbl. delivered. There is a little doing for shipment, but the demand is mostly for local use. The receipts for the week are 50 bbls. Exports for week, 12 bbls. Since January 1st, 8,091 bbls., and for same period last year, 8,926 hbls.

PLASTER PARIS.—The inquiry for lump is daily growing smaller, and it is now difficult to induce captains to bring any forward, unless they can be insured of an immediate market for their cargoes. Prices are irregular, but will average about $4.40@$4.50 per ton for white and $4.00@$4.25 do. for blue. The receipts are 130 tons, about one half direct to manufacturers. Calined is in very good local, and coastwise shipping demand, and some few lots taken for export. Prices steady on leading brands at $2.40@$2.50 per bbl. We notice shipments to San Francisco of 654 bbls.

PLUMBERS' MATERIALS.—On iron pipe and all plumbers' iron ware, prices have been advanced to 20 per cent. off list, which is 10 per cent. above previous values. Other goods are reported as unchanged, but generally held with much firmness. The demand from jobbers, both local and interior, has been good, and they in turn report quite an active consumptive trade. The stocks in the hands of manufacturers are not large, but sufficient for present calls.

SLATE.—There is a very good and rather increasing demand for purple, red, and other light-colored slates, both on city and country orders, and quite a number of squares leave the yards every day to go into immediate consumption. For these, prices are steady, with more sales, however, at inside than outside figures, the latter only being insisted upon when very small orders are received. Black slate is plenty, not only here, but all over the country, and dealers continue to offer their stocks liberally, accepting almost any bid within the bounds of reason, in order to reduce supplies, and rendering quotations almost useless. The receipts at this point are small, and little, if any more, will be allowed to come forward this season.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The amount taken by foreign shippers has been small, but advices from London report a better trade and higher prices, leading to the hope of an improved export inquiry ere long. In the meantime our local and Western demand has continued quite active, the sales materially exceeding the arrivals and causing a reduction of the stock in yard, at the same time imparting a much more confident tone to holders. Prices on all grades show some improvement, and the market closes very strong at 45@45 1/2c. from pier, and 46c.@46 1/2 in shipping order, and from yard. New York bbls. 46 1/2@47c. The receipts for the week are 778 bbls. Exports for week 84 bbls.; since January 1st 17,234 bbls., and for same period last year 25,425 bbls.

TAR.—The market was rather dull early in the week, and many holders, anxious to realize, reduced their views about 25c. per bbl. This falling off had the effect to draw out a larger number of buyers, and latterly the demand has been very good, mainly for local use, but without any recovery in values, the feeling at the close being only steady. The stock in yard is fair. We quote at $2.75@$3.12 1/2 for North County; $3.25@$3.50 for Wilmington in order in yard, and $3.62 1/2@$4.00 for choice thin delivered. Receipts for week 550 bbls. Exports for week 54 bbls.; since January 1st 9,502 bbls.; and for same period last year 8,664 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus of November 10th says:

[FOR THE WEEK ENDING NOVEMBER 10, 1865.]

The stringency in money matters has somewhat unsettled the market. This applies chiefly to pine lumber, which is in fair stock, and well assorted. Coarse lumber, spruce, and hemlock, are in very short supply, and most of the sales have been made at our extreme quotations. Spruce boards are very firm and in nominal supply. There is a fair attendance of buyers in the district to-day, and stocks, notwithstanding the continuance of unpleasant weather, are steadily working off. The general stock of the district is moving off faster than the receipts, and more rapid movement is checked by lack of vessels.

The receipts of lumber at Chicago, for the week ending Nov. 6th, were 20,181,000 feet, against 24,392,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1867. These figures would raise the aggregate receipts to about 930,000,000 feet against 791,000,000 feet in 1867. The stock on hand is large beyond precedent.

The receipts of lumber at Buffalo and Oswego for the weeks ending November 2d and 9th were:

	November 2.	November 9.
Buffalo.....	5,156,600 feet.	*5,925,300 feet.
Oswego.....	4,133,100 "	5,081,200 "
Total.....	9,591,700 feet.	11,006,500 feet.

* One day short.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals for the first week of November were:

Bds. & Sc't'g ft.	Shingles, M. Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1865..11,116,000	170	65,656
1867..13,097,800	373	62,753
		1,130,400

Of the boards and scantling received 6,100,700 feet were by the Erie, and 5,015,300 feet by the Champlain canal.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals, from the opening of navigation to November 8th were:

Bds. & Sc't'g ft.	Shingles, M. Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1865..398,353,100	37,954	65,656
1867..357,655,100	24,739	62,753
		32,058,800

The receipts of boards, &c., are now 15,469,100 feet in excess of the entire receipts of 1867.

The receipts in 1867 from November 22d to the close of the season were about 25,000,000 feet.

MARKETS AND BAKERIES.

THE two grand questions of the distribution and preparation of food are hardly second to that of supply, and should, therefore, receive the special attention of the domestic economist in a dual form. Our markets, being the main channels of this distribution, should have ample accommodations, and it is surprising that our necessities in this respect have not more frequently agitated the public mind in the matter of reform. Why not have a commission appointed by the Common Council to visit the markets of Europe, and gain that information necessary for the proper construction of their food reservoirs, especially in a climate of extremes like this, where the heat of summer and the cold of winter are alike injurious to meat and vegetables? There is no city in the world where so much animal food is consumed as in New York, for in most of the countries of Europe the majority of the peasantry and poorer classes rarely eat meat more than twice or three times a week. Besides, a business in which such a vast capital is invested ought to have received earlier attention, and the powers that be would find that the community would have been more benefited by the erection of markets after the fashion of the Hades Centrales of Paris, with the money expended on the new City Hall, than by the acquisition of that expensive piece of luxury. Our present markets are a disgrace to the city. They were all well enough in by-gone days, but they are not suitable for the present generation. We have enlarged and improved upon everything else but our markets and our piers, and some plan should be devised that would afford accommodation to the growing demand for the necessities of life. Whether private or public markets shall furnish our tables, is a question to be decided. Many arguments are offered in favor of each. We are of the opinion that it would be for the public good to have well-regulated public markets that would afford ample accommodation for the dealers in vegetables, fruits, and the common necessities of life. We want accommodations that will give room for competition, and shut out the hucksters and forestallers, who are less responsible and reliable than the market-men. Besides, the genius of the age is pointing toward unification, even in the minor matters of life; for example, the great dry goods emporiums can afford to sell much more cheaply than the small shopkeeper, whose business is not conducted with that accuracy and economy which enable the large dealer to undersell him. It is like the prairie chicken—too much for one man's dinner, but not enough for two. There are many private stands and markets in the city already, and most of them do a large and flourishing business. The few that are established in the vicinity of the better class of residences are clean and well managed, but those that furnish food for the million are foul and filthy, and have no accommodations whatever for keeping meats, vegetables, etc., in a pure and wholesome state. They are not only fertile of causes that produce sickness and death, but all their owners practise the most outrageous frauds upon the poor, whose penury or improvidence makes them buy in small quantities; and herein lies the danger of private markets. Were the poor as able to protect themselves against imposition as the rich—if they could as readily change their patronage from stall to stall, there might be some safety for them; but they cannot, they are obliged to submit to gross imposition. The city is suffering in consequence of contracted and miserable market accommodations. We build magnificent school-houses to feed the intellectual wants of the young, but ignore the hungry cravings of the physical man. Let us hope that some improvement will be speedily made in our market system. Another great affliction in the gastronomical world is the cooking of food, as our culinary artists, though imported from Europe, are not always French chefs de cuisine. Many families in London send all their meats to be cooked at a bakery, and thereby they save themselves much annoyance from derelict Bridgets. Suppose, for instance, we had something of that kind in this city. Most of our buildings are laid out in blocks enclosing a considerable amount of space, and if a large bakery were to be erected in the centre and communicate with each house in the block by a tunnel or passage, a great desideratum would be attained. A bill of fare could be left at each house, the mistress of which could give her orders every day and have them faithfully attended to, and paterfamilias would seldom have occasion to growl over a spoiled dinner. In fact, a great many people even now, who live near restaurants, have their food prepared there. Our houses would be much freer from the objectionable fumes that cooking involves, and more space be allowed to the dining-room. Some of our enterprising architects would very soon devise a plan for carrying this suggestion into execution. Those capital little dinners at some of the colleges of Oxford University are prepared at the bakeries appertaining to them. This is, therefore, not so very chimerical an idea as one from a mere hasty inspection would suppose. These two branches of the food question should receive a greater chance of attention, if the aphorism that love and hunger are the two main passions influencing humanity.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The Trustees of the East Side Association have purchased four lots of ground on the north-east cor. of 56th st. and 3d av. for $60,000, on which they propose to erect a large building to cost in the neighborhood of $90,000 or $90,000 for a public hall, library, reading-room, lodge-rooms, stores, etc.

This is something very much needed in Yorville, and will have the effect of exciting an interest and activity among the property-owners of that section of the city. Books for subscription to the stock will soon be opened.

MONEY is reported in Wall street to have eased up, or rather the "Lock up" having accomplished the ends desired, namely, the decline in stocks of from 12 to 25 per cent., the clique has again let loose a portion of their surplus cash, and affairs present on their face an easy aspect once more. Money for the last month has been uncomfortably close, ranging from 7 per cent. in gold to as high as ¾ per cent. a day, which is decidedly too tight to be pleasant to a man carrying on heavy speculations with narrow margins. Periodically every spring and fall we are startled, and the whole business community thrown into a dangerous state of excitement by this cry of "tight money." This year the matter assumed a more aggravated form than usual, so much so as to call for the interference of the Secretary of the Treasury, who has been daily in consultation over the state of affairs with some of our most prominent financiers. There must be something rotten in our system of finance that cannot prevent these semi-annual revolutions. The regularity with which they occur shows there must be a cause. We cannot understand why Mr. McCulloch should not be called upon to prevent an easy money market as well as a tight one, for of the two, the consequences produced by the former are in the end by far the most disastrous.

Easy money is always a curse to any country, as it fosters speculation, which in its turn produces demoralization, and in the end results most disastrously. If the United States are borrowers of money at the extremely high rate of 6 per cent. in gold, why should money ever be allowed to become as cheap as 4 per cent. in currency; why not become borrowers at 4 per cent. and lenders at 7 per cent., and thus keep matters in a healthy state. A country is never in so much danger financially, and interference is never needed more than when money is a drug in its market.

Real Estate has been slightly affected in consequence of the difficulty of procuring the necessary loans; as usually, about one-half the purchase money remains on hand and mortgage. The transfers of Real Estate for the month of October were $12,167,320, and the amount of mortgages for the same period were $5,836,623; showing a net investment in Real Estate of $6,330,697.

There have been several sales at the Auction Mart this week, the most notable of which were those effected by Messrs. Johnson and Miller, who always contrive, by dint of freely advertising their sales, to secure a large attendance. Some 300 choice Prospect Park lots were disposed of by them at good prices, and the sale was in all respects a success.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—The inconvenience arising from low tides to which we referred last week, has since disappeared to a great extent, and vessels are now enabled to make their trips with the average regularity. The receipts have in consequence considerably increased, and at times have been immense, last Monday morning's arrivals being as large as ever before known. The above, in connection with the gradual reduction in the amount of business doing, beguins to have its effect upon prices; and though up to the close of this report no actual decline can be quoted, there is a very evident under-tone of weakness, and some modifications in values are anticipated at an early day. We quote, somewhat nominally, at $10.00@11.50 for the ordinary run of North River hard; $12.00@12.50 for prime to extra do.; and $13.00 per M. for very choice selected lots do. There is still a very fair amount of stock taken to go into immediate use for building operations; but the largest proportion of business is with jobbers, who are now piling up their winter supplies as rapidly as they find cargoes suited to their wants. We learn that quite a number of washed rough lots of brick are still occasionally to be found, though they are in a measure offset by the very prime parcels, and, taken as a whole, the average of quality may be considered as fair. From up the river we learn of nothing particularly new. The season's business in the way of manufacturing has entirely ceased, and the main point now in view is to get off all the stock possible before the ice embargo commences. Of pale brick the supply at this point is still comparatively small, and values, having scarcely advanced in proportion to other grades, are pretty well sustained. It is possible, however, that with the stripping of the kilns and winding up of the season's work, more of this class of stock will be forwarded, and no scarcity need be anticipated. Fronts are without more than a proportionate activity and are still quoted at previous rates. We note exports of 29,000 bricks to Cuba.

CEMENT.—The demand for Rosendale continues quite active from all quarters; but many of the jobbers are beginning to fill up their sheds pretty rapidly, and there is less competition to secure the first bids on cargoes than last week. This enables manufacturers to meet the wants of buyers with more ease, and the supply and demand are now more evenly balanced. The production is uninterrupted and will continue for some weeks, unless the river should suddenly close. On retail lots a few dealers get $2.05@2.10; but for cargoes delivered here, nothing is selling above $2 per bbl. The exports are 8 bbls. to Mexico; 55 to New Granada; and 200 to Peru.

FOREIGN WOODS.—The wholesale market has continued rather dull during the past week, but in jobbing lots quite a fair trade has been consummated on local account, and rather more country orders filled. For certain grades of goods, mahogany &c., there is some export demand at prices that would prove satisfactory to sellers, but shippers find it impossible to operate with any freedom owing to the scarcity and high cost of freight room and the uncertainty of the market for gold and exchange. Cedar continues to realize full prices, and all desirable lots offering are quickly disposed of. The exports for the week are 55 logs mahogany; 261 pcs. lignumvitæ, and 169 logs cedar, all to Liverpool. The receipts are as follows: From Port-au-Platte, 1,639 pcs. lignumvitæ, 1 log and 165 crotches mahogany; 148 pcs. satinwood; from St. Andrews, N. S., 10,000 feet mahogany; and from Mansauilla 516 logs cedar.

GLASS.—Importers begin to acknowledge to a little dullness on all styles, the local demand being pretty well supplied, and country orders falling off somewhat. Still there is a market for every package of 16 inch sizes arriving, and but few lots of these go into store. Prices are steady at 40¢/50¢ per cent. discount on French, and 35¢/40¢ per cent. discount on English. Plate glass is scarce, and wanted at 5 per cent. discount, and 2½ per cent. added for packing and shipping.

HAIR.—There is a very fair amount of activity in all styles, though cattle hair as usual attracts the largest share of attention. Prices remain steady, with no further alteration since those recently noted.

LATH.—We still find a dull and uninteresting market without much change in values, though, if anything, buyers have rather more advantage than last week. The general range of quotations given, is $3.00@3.12½ per M., but nothing has realized the outside figure, and few even as high as $3.10, except on lots very choice, or when deliveries were to be made at a long distance, up either the East or North River side of the city. A few dealers require odd lots to fill up assortments, and this constitutes about the bulk of the moderate demand and the slightly increased arrivals have proved more than enough for all calls, though as we close, pretty much everything has been closed out. The sales embrace about 1,250,000 spruce, mostly at $3.05, but including a few at $3.00, and some, as noted above, at $3.10; and 275,000 hemlock at $2.50 per M., 3 mos.

LIME.—The market has been very fairly supplied, and shows no important change in values since our last. The deduction made on Rockland, as previously noted, has enabled receivers to compete more directly with the Northern lines, and the slightly increased arrivals were, in most cases, readily sold out at $1.60 per bbl. on common, and $2.00 do. on lump, at which figures the feeling is quite steady at the close, with no cargoes here afloat awaiting buyers. The production is going on as yet without interruption, all the kilns burning to their full capacity, and it is hinted that the number of New York coasters now loading is considerably larger than for some time past. The Northern lines continue to come forward with freedom, and are generally quoted on the same basis as Rockland; but to cash customers, who will handle the stock immediately, agents are not unwilling to show some favors, even to the extent of 10¢/15¢ per bbl., and some inferior lots have been sold at very low figures.

LUMBER.—We find little or nothing of interest taking place amongst our city dealers this week. The general tone of business is quiet, though here and there we find a yard where a fair amount of stuff is changing hands on job orders and occasionally a small shipment is made to the near by interior towns. Prices on both soft and hard lumber are steady and we still retain previous figures. The stocks now here are assuming pretty liberal proportions, but as yet the receipts are unheeded, dealers being mindful of the near approach of the time when navigation is likely to be suddenly closed, and of course using all expedition possible to get such supplies forward as they will be likely to require during the winter. The Albany market from all accounts does not appear to have varied materially of late. Some dealers were a little anxious to realize, to be sure, but finding that all or nearly all, the buyers who made their appearance insisted upon having their three or six months credit, concluded it would scarcely be profitable to make any concessions, and the general range of prices remains about as before. Such operators, however, as were on hand with the ready cash met with liberal treatment, and a few bargains were probably secured. The break in the canal caused only temporary inconvenience. Our wholesale market has continued very dull indeed throughout the week, and dealers generally complain of the difficulty experienced in placing goods to advantage. Buyers are to be found, but they all insist upon long credit, and as we have noted above in regard to the Albany market, sellers conclude it is just about as well to carry the lumber as promissory notes, which are not over-desirable in the present condition of financial affairs. The necessity to realize has not become so urgent as yet to cause any marked sacrifice on stuff, but when can be obtained, full market rates are not insisted upon. Such demand as prevails is mostly local, the few South American orders having been pretty well provided for, and the only wants of shippers at present calling for only 50,000, only 75,000 feet on West India account. Eastern spruce continues to come forward quite freely, in fact rather faster than receivers desire under the ruling state of affairs, and at times the accumulation of stock has been large. Many of our city dealers have their docks full of previous purchases, and recent receipts via Hudson River, and are not prepared to enter into any further engagements at present, and we know of several really desirable specifications that were quite freely offered for two or three days before buyers could be found willing to take charge of the cargoes immediately. Prices are naturally weak and unsettled, and inferior lots, short lengths, &c., are readily sold out, on offers of $18.00@19.00 per M. but good fair cargoes are still held at $20.00@21.00; and extra to choice $21.50@22.75 per M. White pine is nominally unchanged in value, but without much activity shippers calling for little or nothing, and the home demand being more than equalled by the arrivals, which though not excessive, are sufficient to show that the stock is daily augmenting. We quote at about $22.00@26.00 for inferior to fair box boards; $28.00@30.00 for good to prime do.; and $31.00 for very choice do. Piling is not very plenty, and such lots as come forward find a fair market at 6¢ to 7¢. For common to prime; and long heavy sticks &c. Pickets very dull and still quoted nominally at $9.00@9.50 per M. for ¾ inch. Yellow pine is without change to note. In fact there is really nothing upon which to base values, the market still remaining entirely bare of available stock. Quite a number of cargoes have again come in; but our applications to the consignees are invariably met by the response "they were sold long before arrival, and are going into consumers' hands immediately." The demand for this class of goods is not fully supplied yet, and a fair amount, if here, could be easily disposed of. Prices are somewhat problematical, but in view of last sales may be placed at $24.00@24.00 per M., according to quality. Cypress shingles are still very dull, and worth somewhere in the neighborhood of $16.00@18.00 per M. Eastern pine sawed shingles sell slowly at about $4.50@5.00 per M. The transactions reported since our last embrace 1,250,000 feet Eastern spruce at $18.50@21.00 per M.; 200,000 feet white pine at $23.00@30.00 do.; 200,000 feet yellow pine to arrive (since received) at $34.50; a few odd lots piling at 7¢/7½¢; and 300,000 shingles at $4.50@5.00.

CHICAGO LUMBER MARKET.

(Special Correspondent of REAL ESTATE RECORD.)
CHICAGO, November 13, 1863.

THE general tone of business during the past week has been quite dull and values rather uncertain, though on the whole buyers find somewhat easier terms offered than heretofore, in order to induce them to operate. The receipts have not been very liberal, but considerably in excess of the demand, and we have a large accumulation of unsold stock. As we close the feeling is unmistakably weak, and reliable quotations somewhat difficult to obtain. The latest transactions were sales of common to fair mixed at $12.00@13.00; good cargoes at $14.00@14.50; choice $15.00@16.00; and uppers at $30.00 per M. Shingles and lath without important variation.

We hear of nothing fresh from the Eastern markets except that at some points the shipments coastwise are as liberal as the freight accommodations will admit; manufacturers, being a little hard pressed for funds and somewhat anxious to realize. There was some falling off in the production, though considerable stock is still being sawed out. The preparations thus far made, betoken pretty active times in the woods during the coming winter.

A firm in Portland, Me., bought about a year since 20,000 acres of heavily timbered land near the head waters of the Androscoggin. They intend to cut and haul the ensuing winter 6,000,000 feet of lumber, to be floated down the Androscoggin in the spring to Lewiston and other points for manufacture.

METALS—Copper sheathing is still held at about former figures by manufacturers, though for cash purchasers a few slight modifications have been made. The general supply and assortment is fair and selections can be made without much difficulty. We quote at 33 for new, and 20c @ 21c. for old. Yellow metal is quoted at 26c. On Scotch pig iron sellers still appear to retain pretty much all the advantage, the arrivals having again become quite moderate, and the demand, though not brisk, being sufficient to cause a gradual reduction of the stock, leaving the few remaining lots under control of three or four dealers. The purchases are all for legitimate use, speculation being dead at the moment. We quote at $41.00 @ $44.50 per ton, with small lots choice at $45.00 @ $45.50 do. American pig iron cannot be called active, but the market shows more life than for several weeks, owing in part to a desire to secure supplies before the close of navigation, and the most desirable lots have found a good sale, both on the spot and to arrive. Rumors are current of large contracts for future delivery, but they lack confirmation. We quote at $41.00 @ $43.00 per ton for No. 1; $37.00 @ $39.00 do. for No. 2; and $34.00 @ $38.00 do. for No. 3. Bar iron meets with rather more demand, both in a wholesale way and in job lots from store, but is not very active in consequence of the short supply, several cargoes being unexpectedly detained. Prices on all grades rule steady. We quote at $90.00 per ton for common American and English bar; $100.00 do. for refined do.; $51.00 for 5 Swedes, ordinary sizes; scroll $130 @ $175 per ton; oval and half round, $125 @ $155 do., and rods 3/4 @ 3-16 inch, $105 @ $165 do. Sheet iron is comparatively quiet, buyers having pretty well satisfied pressing necessities, but at the late improvement prices remain steady. We quote common at 5 1/2 c. @ 7 1/2 c. for singles, doubles and trebles. Russia sheet dull at about 11 1/2 c. @ 13c. gold, assorted sizes. Pig lead continues to attract only a moderate share of attention, though holders are steady, and on the few sales making, previous rates are obtained, the quotation still standing at 6 1/2 c. @ 6 3/4 c. gold. Bar lead is quoted at 10 1/2 c., and sheet and pipe 12c. less 6c. to the trade. Tin in slabs sells about as fast as holders offer their stocks, and full former prices are realized, the market closing rather buoyant in view of foreign advices reporting a small supply of both English and East Indian. We quote at 25 1/2 c. @ 27 1/2 c. gold. Tin plates are dull and rather heavy on all grades. Zinc is rather less active, but the small available supply stimulates the market, and prices remain strong at 13c. @ 13 1/2 c. from store. The latest importations are 15 tons iron hoop; 150 tons pig iron; 8,339 bars R. R. iron; 26 tons sheet iron; 4,411 iron tubes; 9,666 pigs lead; 13,799 boxes tin plates; 1,252 slabs tin; and 22,565 lbs. zinc.

NAILS—Cut nails are still in very demand, but the sales are not much in excess of the supply, and sellers gain no further advantage for the present. Agents, however, are very firm, and few are willing to show even the largest cash buyers any favors. Country orders are quite plenty, and the foreign wants fair. We quote at 5 1/2 c. (Cinch sell to a fair extent and still command 7c. Finishing nails are rather dull at the moment but still quoted at 5 1/2 @ 5 3/4 c. for 6d., 8d., 10d., and 12d.; 5 1/2 @ 6c. for 5d., and 6 1/2 @ 6 3/4 c. for 4d. Other kinds steady at 1c. for zinc; 26c. for yellow metal, and 40c. for copper. The exports are 251 packages, valued at $1,410, against 306 packages valued at $1,774, same time last week. Shipments also of 1,150 packages to San Francisco.

PAINTS AND OILS—The general features of the market remain much the same as heretofore noticed, a fair amount going out on jobbing orders, but the wholesale trade showing very little animation. On American any zinc prices have been reduced, but other goods are without quotable change, and some articles show much steadiness owing to light and easily controlled stocks. This is particularly the case with Paris white, ochres, and Venetian red. To arrive, parcels are offered pretty freely and at somewhat easier figures. The new article of Bartlett lead is attracting considerable attention in the White Paint market, and being rapidly introduced in all directions. It is claimed by many to be equal to the best brands of English leads in point of durability and covering capacity. We have seen it show to a decided advantage side by side of some of the favorite grades now on the market. The mine from whence it is obtained is controlled by energetic and responsible parties, well known to the trade, and who guarantee its superiority. American glue is moderately active and steady, but foreign grades of all kinds are extremely dull, and prices favor the buyer. Linseed oil has again worked off about 1c. per gallon, and sells very slowly, consumers refusing to take more than absolute wants call for, and jobbers having pretty much all they require to supply their regular trade. The market at the close of this report is lifeless, and the tendency still strangely in favor of the buyer. Outside parties who are unwilling to guarantee their oil sell at 92 @ 93c., but crushers ask 95 @ 96c. in casks, and 97 @ 99c. in bbls. Sales for December were made at 95c. The exports are 85 packages paint valued at $826; 750 bbls. oxide zinc valued at $9,315, and 1,000 gallons linseed oil valued at $960.

PITCH—The exports are somewhat larger and exceed the arrivals, which, in connection with a very good consumptive inquiry, has imparted a steady, uniform feeling to the market, and all prime brands of City close at full $3.00 per bbl. A few common lots and goods in poor order can be bought lower, but they are hardly quotable. The stock in yard is equal to all present calls. Receipts for week 97 bbls. Exports for week 171 bbls.; since January 1st, 3,262 bbls. and for same period last year 4,073 bbls.

PLASTER PARIS—The receipts for the week are 1,630 tons, the great bulk of which was previously sold or came through as direct importations of manufacturers. The den and for white lump is moderate at about previous rates, some 300 tons changing hands at $4.50. Of blue lump we note recent sales to the extent of 500 tons at $4.00. Calciné is fairly active and still quoted steady at $2.40 @ $2.50 per bbl. for City. The shipments are 400 bbls. to San Francisco.

SLATE—The rapid approach of cold weather renders all holders of common grades extremely anxious to work off their surplus, and the offerings are liberal at very low and irregular figures. The fine qualities, however, are still in very fair demand, both on local and country orders, with some few lots taken for coastwise shipment, and as the receipts are too small to cause any material addition to the stock prices rule comparatively steady. In all cases large purchases can easily be negotiated below our extreme quotations.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE—The improved export demand anticipated in our report of last week has developed itself to some extent. The home trade has been very active, and, with a material falling off from previous small receipts, the tendency of values has been decidedly in seller's favor throughout the week, and we note two cents per gallon improvement. At the present writing, however, indications of some reaction are noticeable, and sales making at 1c. off from the highest point, with buyers evincing rather more caution in all operations. We quote at 47 1/2 c. from pier; 47 1/2 @ 48c. in shipping order; and 48 1/2 @ 48 3/4 c. for New York bbls. Receipts for the week 245 bbls. Exports for week 956 bbls.; since January 1st, 15,190 bbls., and for same period last year 26,788 bbls.

TAR—The improved demand prevailing at the close of our last report was soon satisfied, and the market has relapsed into a dull condition, the principal business being the filling of small country orders, with an occasional parcel taken for local use. The supply is not heavy, but exceeds the sales, and our stock has somewhat increased. Prices are further slightly reduced on all grades, and show but little strength or regularity. We quote at $2.62 1/2 @ $3.00 for North County; $3.25 @ $3.50 for Wilmington as it runs, and $3.62 1/2 @ $3.87 1/2 for choice tin delivered. Receipts for the week 705 bbls. Exports for week 23 bbls.; since January 1st, 9,525 bbls.; and for same period last year 8,742 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus of November 17th says:

The dullness which was so manifest throughout the district during the early part of the month, caused mainly by the sudden stringency in money, has given way to an active trade. The district during the last few days has been thronged with buyers and a very large business has been done. Prices have undergone but little change. The stock of pine lumber is good; that of coarse is very light and insufficient to meet the wants of the trade between now and the receipts next season.

The receipts of lumber at Chicago for the week ending Nov. 13th, were 16,154,000 feet against 29,478,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1867. These figures would raise the aggregate receipts to about 946,000,000 feet against $24,000,000 feet in 1867. The stock on hand continues very large.

The receipts of lumber at Buffalo and Oswego for the weeks ending November 9th and 16th were:

	November 9.	November 16.
Buffalo.....	$5,255,300 feet.	1,822,700 feet.
Oswego.....	5,081,200 "	3,134,400 "
Total.....	11,006,500 feet.	4,957,100 feet.

* One day short.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals for the second week of November were:

	Bls. & Sc ft. g.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1868..	9,567,400	632		570,000
1867..	8,843,200	832

Of the boards and scantling received 5,038,000 feet were by the Erie, and 4,529,400 feet by the Champlain canal.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals, from the opening of navigation to November 15th, were:

THE scores of busy brains now at work on the problems connected with steam transit up and down this island, will certainly devise some scheme by which the gorged lower part of the city will be relieved. The west side elevated road is being pushed forward rapidly, and the east side underground road is in hands which will complete it in a few years. But these are not enough. We want a steam road running up to Harlem on the East River front, and another on the line of the North River. A steam road through and under the centre of the island is also in order, and must be built some time or other.

A new project, recently published, is well worthy the attention of our citizens. It is proposed that the west side of the city shall have an exterior street, 150 feet wide; that on the western 50 feet of this avenue, shall be built substantial stone warehouses, upon the top of which shall run a steam road, part of the track for way or city travel, the others for through or out-of-town railways; these miles of warehouses to accommodate the immense traffic of the metropolis when once the Pacific Railroad is completed. Of course, outside the stone warehouses would be the marble or iron piers and wharves to accommodate the shipping of the port.

The idea of this new avenue is a noble one, and is worthy the attention of our property-holders.

BROOKLYN is getting to be a great village. At its present rate of progress, as compared with New York, it will surpass this city, at least in population, in about twenty years. This exceptional progress will, however, be equalled when once our steam roads are under way. Then the upper end of our island will be built upon as if by magic, and the metropolis will embrace, not only the lower end of Westchester county, but also Brooklyn.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The past week gave promise of being a very active one for the auction market, but the fire in Trinity Building on Monday night interfered seriously with all the proposed sales, rendering it necessary for a postponement on account of the uninhabitable state of the sales-room. The sale of Messrs. Johnson & Miller of the remainder of the Prospect Park lots will take place on Tuesday, Dec. 1st.—(see advertisement.)

SALTS.

BROOKLYN PROPERTY.—MONDAY NOV. 16TH.—The Messrs. WYCKOFF & LITTLE had sales at the Commercial Salesroom in Brooklyn, and the result of these appeared most satisfactory to those particularly interested.

Three-story brown-stone building on west side of St. Felix st., 235 feet north from Fulton av.; house 20.6 1/2 x 40 feet, lot 20.6 1/2 x 75 feet, for $11,000. Two frame buildings, with lots, on the east side of Washington av., 200 feet north from Myrtle av., houses 20x30 feet, lots 20x140 feet, each $6,300. Two lots on the south-east corner of Henry and Congress sts., each 22x90 feet each $6,000. Three story brown-stone dwelling, with lot, on the east side of Hall st., 349 feet north of Gates av., house 20x40 feet, lot 20x100 feet, $13,000.

WEDNESDAY NOV. 25.—The Messrs. A. J. BLECKER, SON & CO., enjoyed a most successful sale at the Homestead Stations, on the line of the Northern Railroad of New Jersey, and only three miles from Jersey City. At 11 o'clock a special train left Jersey, and in a very short period of time the passengers debarked at the Homestead, and associated with the many people who had crossed the North River by the up-town ferries, and enjoyed a pleasant walk to the grounds. There were also present many well-to-do residents of the neighborhood, who seemed resolved to have the old estate go into the hands of those who would build what are regarded as good residences. A liberal lunch preceded the sale, and it was as liberally partaken of. The Auctioneer inaugurated the proceedings by a statement of the terms of sale, which were regarded as encouraging to the purchaser. The lots brought on an average about $240 each.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—We find very little of interest to record for this market during the past week. The general range of prices cannot be materially altered, but the same heavy tone heretofore referred to is still very noticeable, and could buyers be found, goods would undoubtedly be offered at easier figures. The demand, however, appears to have almost entirely subsided so far as immediate consumption is concerned, and dealers, both wholesale and retail, are now devoting their attention to the piling up and covering in of winter supplies. The receipts via North River in the meantime, continue liberal, manufacturers pushing the stock forward as rapidly as freight room offers; and present appearances indicate, that there will be a very fair accumulation for the winter trade. We quote (still nominally) at $10.00@11.00 for ordinary North River hard; $11.50@12.50 for prime to choice do., with nothing but the very best selections in small lots exceeding the latter figure. Pale brick are more plenty, but have not sold with sufficient freedom to affect the market, and values remain about as before. Fronts are steady, but selling mostly in very small parcels, to finish up jobs, &c., all the larger contracts having been filled.

CEMENT.—Rosendale is in good demand, and of the leading brands there is no accumulation of unsold stock; indeed, many of the companies have engaged for their production up to 1st of December. The market, however, is devoid of any unusual excitement, and all buyers presenting themselves at the moment are enabled to supply their necessities with comparative ease. Prices remain firm at $2.00 for cargoes delivered, with an advance of 5c. @ 10c. per bbl. for small parcels.

FOREIGN WOODS.—The demand at the moment is reported as only fair in both the wholesale and retail market, and the few purchases made are principally in view of immediate necessities. Stocks, however, are not very liberal of any of the most desirable styles, and dealers generally remain firm at full previous figures. The only available lot of cedar on the market is held at 25c. The exports for the week are 406 pieces cedar to Bremen; 1 bundle veneers, and 1,096 pieces granadilla wood to Liverpool. The receipts are 21 tons ebony from London; and 41 logs cedar from Nuevitas.

GLASS.—The demand has fallen off materially for all styles, and as compared with the early portion of the month, the market is now quite dull. On the large sizes there is some little irregularity in value, and first-class buyers can obtain more liberal discounts; but as small sizes continue in light supply, both present and prospective, importers holding desirable lots are firm. We quote at 40@50 per cent. discount on French, and 35@40 per cent. on English. Plate glass unchanged.

HARDWARE.—During the past year the policy of manufacturers has been to produce very few goods in excess of probable wants, and as a consequence, the season now drawing to a close finds a comparatively light accumulation of stock, and a steady uniform feeling among dealers, though without advance in prices. The above remarks are particularly applicable to Builders' hardware, some styles of which are actually scarce, such as wrought butts, cast butts, strap, and T hinges, &c. The general tone of the market is quite dull, and but little improvement is hoped for until spring.

LATH.—The demand has not been very active, hardly enough so to exhaust the few cargoes arriving, and receivers have found it necessary to drum up customers. The price has settled down to about $3.00 per M., which still appears satisfactory to buyers, and when any parties are ready to take stock, the above figure is pretty readily paid. The majority of our jobbers' depots are reported as filled up, with very little stock going into consumption, and this accounts for the dullness in the wholesale market, though, as no important increase of the supply is to be anticipated, dealers look for steady feeling for some little time to come. The sales aggregate about 1,500,000, mostly at $3.00 per M.

LIME.—The rates on Rockland have remained at $1.60 for common, and $2.00 for lump, and a fair amount of business was transacted. Buyers, however, do not operate with much freedom, and the market has rather a dragging tone, cargoes frequently holding over a day or two unsold. At the close sellers appear to lack confidence, and are rather anxious to realize. The receipts have been larger, and a good-sized fleet is reported on the way. The Northern lines are only moderately active and prices without much general strength, though the most desirable brands are selling at about the figures current on Rockland.

LUMBER.—The yard trade in the various sections of the city is quite dull, dealers finding very little to occupy their attention in the way of sales, except on insignificant local job orders for manufacturing purposes. Receipts via North River are still very free, those parties who have stock to come through appreciating the lateness of the season, and the necessity of using all the expedition possible before the ice forms, and closes navigation. Prices hold their own on all grades, and all things considered, the market appears to be well sustained. At Albany the market from late private advices is still very firm, and few if any dealers are now willing to operate except at extreme figures. This is said to be particularly the case on coarse lumber, the stock of which is moderate, and by some thought to be hardly large enough to hold out to the close of the season's trade. In our wholesale market we hear of few if any changes of great importance, though the majority of dealers complain less than last week about the difficulties of working off cargoes. This is not owing to any increase of the demand, but simply to the fact that buyers have more time and better facilities for attending to new purchase, than heretofore. There is still a great many calls for long credit, but enough customers are found willing to operate on usual terms, to prevent the necessity of accepting undesirable paper, or of sacrificing goods for cash. Shippers are operating to a moderate extent, but local dealers still monopolize the bulk of the business. Of Eastern spruce we have had neither a very large nor very small supply, but just about enough to meet the current demand, and present any great accumulation of unsold cargoes. Prices are still somewhat unsettled, and do not display a remarkable amount of strength, though we hear of no sales upon which any decided concession has been granted. The disposition among buyers who have the room to store lumber, appears to be to take all the desirable stock they can handle to advantage, as a great many vessels are new on their last trip, the trade with the majority of the Eastern ports drawing to a close as winter sets in. A few lots a very short and undesirable bills are still to be found, but we hear less complaint than during the summer months, and the average of quality now is fair. We quote at $18.00@19.50 for very inferior to good common cargoes; $20.00@20.50 for average do.; and $21.00@21.50 for extra and choice do. A few parcels of Eastern hemlock have come in lately, but are not sought after by any class of buyers, and worked off slowly at about $15.00@15.50 per M. White pine continues moderately active, shippers calling for a few small parcels from day to day, mostly to fill up unoccupied freight-room, and the local trade taking about an average quantity. The arrivals are fair and stock increases. Prices remain much the same as before, and holders generally talk firm, but it requires the best grades to realize outside figures. We quote at $21.00@22.50 for inferior to fair box boards; $26.00@30.00 for good to prime do.; and $31.00 for very choice do. Piling is not much inquired after, but as the receipts do not foot up a very heavy aggregate, values are sustained without much difficulty and most of the stock sold off. Tickets are not sought after, and such lots as come in continue to be worked off at about $9.00@9.50 per M. for 2 1/2 c. and $17.00 for the long five-foot size. White oak dull and nominal. Yellow pine continues to come forward to a fair extent, and as some of the recent arrivals have been offered on the market, we note a little more activity. Full former prices were in most cases obtained, and for stock immediately available the market may still be called firm. There is a willingness, however, on the part of sellers to contract quite freely at current rates for goods to arrive, and such buyers as can afford to do so, seem inclined to hold off until something more definite is known as to the prospect of future supplies. We quote at $33.00@38.00 for inferior to prime and $39.00@40.00 for very choice. Black walnut logs have been active, but are quiet at the moment at about 7 1/2 c. @ 7 3/4 c.—shippers finding freight charges too high to warrant free exports. Cypress shingles at $16.00@18.00 are still nominal in view of the large supply and moderate business. Eastern pine sawed shingles are steady, but quiet. Among the transactions reported since our last are 1,600,000 feet Eastern spruce, at $18.00@21.00 per M.; 340,000 feet white pine boards at $25.00@27.00; 500 pieces piling at 7c. @ 7 1/2 c.; a few long sticks at 5c.; 95,000 feet yellow pine, flooring at $35.00@36.00; 200,000 feet yellow pine to arrive at $34.00 foot for timber, and $36.00 for flooring; 130,000 feet yellow pine, siding, to arrive, at $30.00 per M., and 200,000 pine shingles at $4.75 per M.

The exports of lumber have been as follows:—

CHICAGO LUMBER MARKET.

(Special Correspondent of REAL ESTATE RECORD.)

CHICAGO, November 25, 1868.

The receipts have lately been rather liberal, and the assortment now offering shows a decided improvement, while prices remain much the same as previously advised. The demand, however, does not appear to pick up, salesmen complaining of the slow, dragging condition of the market, and there is considerable accumulation of unsold stock still to be found at the usual point of concentration. Quotations nominally about $12.00@13.00 for common to fair mixed; coarse and inferior do. $10.50@11.50; good cargoes $14.00@14.70, and choice do. $15.00@16.00 per M. Shingles quiet at $3.50@3.75; lath steady at $2.00@2.12 1/2.

The cargo rates for hard wood lumber are as follows:—black walnut $40@45; cherry $20@25; hickory $25@30 ash $21@23; and $18@20 for ordinary oak.

From the Western markets generally we hear of very little activity at present, and values are somewhat uncertain. The preparations for the winter campaign in the woods are liberal, and a large amount of logs will probably be cut. About 5,000 lumbermen go into the pineries of Muskegon county, Michigan, and other sections in proportion.

We revise figures below according to latest advice from points mentioned.

Milwaukee as follows:
Clear Plank, $50.00@55.00; Second Clear Plank, $45; Clear Boards, $45; Second Boards, $40; Third Boards (box), $30; Clear Flooring, dressed, $40; Common Flooring, dressed, $30; Second Siding, dressed, $27; Common Siding, dressed, $21; Stock Boards, $18; Common Boards, $15; Fencing, $15; Joist and Scantling under 20 feet, $15.00; Joist and Scantling, 20 feet or over, $18@20; Lath, per 1000 feet, $6.50@6.62½; Shingles, best sawed, $4.00@4.25; Posts, $12.50@30.00; Pickets, $12.00@16; Sawed Timber, $20@30.

East Saginaw as follows:
First clear	$35 00 @ 40 00
Fourth	30 00 @ 35 00
Box	25 00 @ 30 00

The latest report of prices by the Pensacola Lumber Co. is as follows:

Lumber.—Boards 1x12 inches and upwards merchantable, $14 to $18 per M.
Flooring, 1½x4 to 6, $15 to $17 per M.
" dressed, 25 to 27 " "
Ceiling, ¾, dressed, $24 to $25 per M.
Planks, 1½x10 and upwards, $15 to $17 per M.
1½x2 15 to 17 " "
Scantling, 2x4 to 8x10, 16 to 30 feet long, $15 to $17 per M.

Timber.—17 to 80 cubic feet average, 12 to 14 cents per cubic foot.
80 to 90, 13 to 15 cents per foot.
90 to 100 and upwards, 14 cents and upwards.

METALS.—Copper sheathing has been only moderately active, with no variation in prices worthy of note. We quote at 33c. for new, and 20¢ for old. Yellow metal 26c. Scotch pig iron was pretty active early in the week on jobbing orders, but these were soon supplied, and the market has again become rather dull. Prices are without any very decided alteration, though, with more liberal supplies, the feeling is less firm than heretofore, and at the close the tendency appears to be towards a slight reduction. We quote at about $41@44 per ton, with small lots of choice at $44.50@45.00. American pig iron is less active than at the date of our last, buyers appearing to have supplied all immediate wants, and the sales now making from day to day are of the smallest description. Holders, however, continue to offer very sparingly, and as the stock receives but few accessions, prices are sustained. We quote at $41@43 per ton for No. 1; $37@39 do. for No. 2; and $34@38 do. for forge. Bar iron from store is rather more plenty, the demand extremely light, and the general tone of the market dull and heavy. Prices are about the same as previously given, but cash buyers are in most cases enabled to obtain slight concessions. We quote at $90 per ton for common American and English bar; $100.00 do. for refined do.; $155 for Swedes, ordinary sizes; scroll $130@175 per ton; oval and half round $125@155 do., and rods ¾@3-16 inch, $105@165 do. Sheet iron is moderately active, and the reaction from the late activity has caused some modifications on extreme values, though dealers are not pressing the market. We quote common at 5¼c. for Nos. 12 to 20; 5½@6c. for Nos. 21 to 24; and 7c. cash for Nos. 25 to 27. Russia sheet is a little more active, and steady at 11¼@13c. gold for assorted sizes. The arrivals have recently been larger, but are in part damaged. Pig lead has sold very slowly throughout the week, and the market closes dull. Prices still range at about 6½@6¾c. gold. Bar lead 10½c. sheet and pipe, less 6 per cent. to the trade. Tin in slabs was very active immediately following the writing of our last report, and prices still further materially improved. Later the demand has fallen off somewhat, but the market rules very firm at the advance. We quote in gold at 25½c. for English; 25½@26c. for Straits; and 28@29c. for Banca. Tin plates are rather more steady, but selling more moderately. Zinc is firm but quiet, owing in a great measure to small supply of desirable stock. We quote at 13@13½c. from store.

NAILS.—The inquiry for cut nails has continued good, both for interior and foreign shipment, and stocks now on hand are very small. Prices are without important alteration, but very firm, and there is some talk of making a slight advance. We quote at 5¼c. for wholesale parcels, and retail lots 5½c. Clinch are a little more active, and steadily held at 7c. Finishing nails fairly active and steady at 5½@5¾c. for 6d., sd., 10d., and 12d.; 5½@6c. for 5d., and 6½@6¾c. for 4d. Other kinds steady at 18c. for zinc; 25c. for yellow metal, and 40c. for copper. The exports are 618 packages, valued at $5,728, against 251 packages, valued at $1,410, same time last week.

PAINTS AND OILS.—A few of the leading houses are doing a very fair jobbing trade on orders for standard goods, but aside from this the market is without activity, either in a wholesale or retail way. Prices are without remarkable strength but are in most cases sustained for goods on the spot. Paris white has arrived more freely, resulting in some reduction from our last quotation, but as the additional supply has since been pretty well exhausted, holders are again steady at the decline. Ochres and Venetian red of desirable quality continue to sell well up to the supply. Glues of all kinds quiet, and values somewhat nominal. Linseed oil has lately been a little more active, both for home use and export, but at still lower prices, sellers considerably outnumbering buyers. The stock on hand is large and daily increases. Crushers' rates are now about 94@95c. in casks, very choice grades 96c., but outside lots are plenty and selling on the spot and for future delivery at 91@92c. Some 10,000 gallons have been contracted for at 98c. for January and February. The exports for the week are 143 packages painted valued at $1,053, and 17,272 gallons linseed oil valued at $10,723, the bulk of the latter to go to Canada.

PITCH.—The improved demand noticed in our last has continued throughout the greater portion of the week, and with only fair arrivals and very good export orders the market is stronger, and holders not over-anxious to realize. The stock in yard is somewhat reduced. Nothing can now be bought below $3.00, and the best brands of City are firmly held at $3.12½ per bbl. Receipts for the week 150 bbls. Exports for week 106 bbls; since January 1st, 3,368 bbls., and for same period last year 4,123 bbls.

PLASTER PARIS.—The demand for lump from city buyers is very moderate, and most of the orders are now from "out of town." About all the cargoes coming forward have been contracted for before loading, as few, if any, captains are willing to fill their vessels with goods for which the market is so precarious. The general range of prices about as before, though nothing but very fine goods or extra trouble in deliveries will draw out bids at the extremes. Calcined is in fair local and shipping demand, and quoted steady at $2.40@2.50 per bbl. The receipts of lump are 1,640 tons. We note shipments of 750 bbls. calcined to San Francisco, and 50 bbls. to Cuba.

SLATE.—The shipping demand is now very light from the interior and has entirely subsided on coastwise account, but the yard trade in the fine grades continues fair, and a few squares per day are changing hands at comparatively full figures, particularly on red and green. Common black slate does not improve, in fact is even worse than before, if possible, and notwithstanding the strong efforts lately made to reduce the supplies, it is now almost certain that a portion of the stock will have to be carried through the winter. Prices, of course, are still much depressed, and many dealers will accept almost any bid covering cost, in order to effect sales. A great many quarries are stopped and others about doing so, and receipts are done for the season.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The declining tendency referred to at the close of our last report was only temporary, the market almost immediately recovering, and making a further improvement of about 1c. per gallon. The aggregate of business has been somewhat reduced by the high values current, but owing to the small available stock in yard, and the very light arrivals, holders are confident, refusing to part with their goods, except at extreme figures. The amount in transit for this port is reported as small. We quote at 47½@48c. for lots from pier; 48@48½c. in shipping order; about 49c. for New York bbls. and 49½@50c. for small parcels. Receipts for the week 94 bbls. Exports for week 419 bbls.; since January 1st, 15,609 bbls., and for same period last year 27,106 bbls.

TAR.—This market is without important alteration as to prices, though we note a little more business doing. The principal sales are to the home trade, foreign markets at the moment being pretty well supplied. The stock in yard is fair and has received a few additions during the week. We quote at $2.62½@3.00 for North County; $3.25@3.50 for Wilmington as it runs; and $3.62½@3.87½ for choice thin delivered. Receipts for the week 819 bbls. Exports for week 50 bbls.; since January 1st 9,575 bbls.; and for same period last year 8,500.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus of November 25th says:
Trade throughout the district continues very good. Should the present favorable weather continue, the shipments will be very large. As it is, the quantity going forward is full up to the capacity of the vessels offering, and full employment could be given to more vessels for the East. Prices of pine lumber are very firm, with a well assorted stock. Of course lumber, though the receipts have been fair, the stock is kept at a low point by the active demand. The attendance of buyers has been good, and the line of purchases made has rarely been exceeded in any previous week. The market at the close was very firm; the sales of coarse lumber being free at outside quotations.

The receipts of lumber, at Chicago, for the week ending Nov. 13th, were 16,859,000 feet against 15,957,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1867. These figures would raise the aggregate receipts to about 959,000,000 feet against 840,000,000 feet in 1867.

The receipts of lumber at Buffalo and Oswego for the weeks ending Nov. 16th and Nov. 23d were:

THERE is much complaint at the slowness of the Supreme Court Commissioners in formally declaring streets opened. The whole of the upper end of the island is kept back by these officials, whose bills against the city are of more account to them than the interest of the city. The Central Park Commissioners complain bitterly of the delay to which they are subjected in the progress of the New Boulevard (so called), which by this time would be in a fair way to completion, if the Commissioners had not delayed so unnecessarily.

IN the recent election it was noticed that the greatest increase of voters was not in the up-town wards, but in the 4th, 6th, 7th, 8th, and 14th wards, all of which are below 14th street. It has been inferred that this great increase must be in good part fraudulent. It is not for us to pass authoritatively upon that point, but this much is certain, that some increase of population was to be looked for in those wards. All our real-estate dealers know that, as business creeps up town, the first result upon the population it eventually crowds out, is to increase it. The old houses intended for one family have to accommodate three or four, and the added value of the land compels the erection of immense tenement houses, so as to pay interest. These causes have been actively at work in the 7th ward, and hence the largely increased vote in that ward.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The present week has been a very lively one among the auctioneers, and Tuesday last was a general field-day, and constituted the re-opening of the Exchange Salesroom, which had been closed since the fire of November 23, which created such havoc with the auctioneers' proposed sales. Some extremely valuable property, situated in different parts of the city, was disposed of, including the sales of Messrs. Johnson & Miller, the Brooklyn representatives, who disposed of a large quantity of Prospect Park lots. For the purpose of showing the immense increase in the value of real estate in New York city within the past twenty years, we copy a few extracts from the correspondence of an evening paper, of the report of the sale of Corporation property, made some years ago. In some instances the present values are as high as the property will bear:

At the time these Corporation sales were made, nearly the whole community were shocked at the high prices, and wise men predicted that the purchasers were demagogues, never would pay and take the deeds. These same men now ask, who supports these thousands of equipages driving in the Central Park? How do people get the money to pay $50,000 to $150,000 for houses on Fifth avenue and all over in the same proportion? The answer can be found in the above table. Those who bought freely of lots at $80, and are now selling at $25,000, can buy houses and keep carriages.

These same men question the sagacity and prudence of the merchants of the present day. How can it be done? they say. Store rent $50,000, clerks $50,000 more, and personal expenses in proportion!

Forty years ago no house in New York sold in one year, in the dry-goods business, over six hundred thousand dollars—and even that sum was then considered so enormous as to endanger credit at the bank. Forty years ago all the banks and brokers together did less in amount, probably, than any one of several private banking houses now does in the same time.

Who that retired from business twenty years ago can comprehend such changes.

All this appears to be only the beginning of our greatness. At this moment houses were never more in demand—all occupied—and thousands of stores and houses needed to be built for immediate use, at a very remunerating rent. Almost every lot on this island will be needed for improvement, as fast as streets and avenues can be graded—and so rapidly is the value of real estate increasing, that it is almost reduced to a certainty that very soon the rich and the poor can alone occupy it.

With all this boundless prosperity coming upon us, can any sane man ask if real estate will fall? Take the district north of the Central Park, decidedly the most desirable location on the whole island for residences, and as will be seen by the above table, it has not begun to rise. The Central Park Commissioners are now making much of that district, nearly equal in intrinsic value to lots fronting the Park—and the rise will be as rapid in the future, as it has been below in the past.

All this influence cannot be confined to New York alone. Brooklyn, Jersey City, Hoboken, and many other new places are going hand in hand with it, and may be considered as the pioneers in preparing to make ready for the day when New York city, consolidated, will contain over five millions of people. It is now easier to count a hundred men worth over five millions, than it was to count the same number forty years ago worth one hundred thousand.

There are probably more houses now in the city of New York that would rent for ten thousand dollars per annum than there were forty years ago that would have sold in fee for that sum. Offers are now almost daily made for houses or lots 25x100 from one hundred thousand to two hundred thousand dollars, and no sellers. Why don't they sell at such prices? is the question. Simply because the owners are too rich to need the money as much as they do their houses for their comfort; and rich men who cannot buy, will go upon Central Park and build, not upon one lot, but on three and four lots, on which we are to see palaces that will outshine the Old World, for private residences. It is no more for the man worth five millions to build a house costing half a million, than it was for him to have built one forty years ago costing ten thousand dollars, when he felt rich on one hundred thousand dollars. No man has yet counted (or can count) the wealth of this city, or even imagine what is to be its future influence. We are now but just beginning to feel the influence upon real estate of the volume of gold and silver pouring upon us from our mines, and the importance of the Pacific Railroad.

By JAMES M. MILLER.—Two lots south side of Seventy-seventh st., 275 ft. west from First av., each 25x102.2 feet, were purchased by Mr. A. Ward, each $2,300.

GOSSIP.

The building, four story, brown stone front, No. 108 5th av., south-west corner of 5th av. and West 16th st., has been leased, by the Meinel Estate, for ten years and seven months, beginning October 1, 1868, to Albert Weher, the manufacturer of the celebrated Weher piano-fortes, and will be occupied by him for a piano-forte ware-room. The basement, first and second floors have been entirely taken out. Lot is 87.2½ on 5th av., and 80 ft. on 16th st. Present building, 55 ft. deep, will be built up whole depth of lot. The front will be taken out and altered in a low front, a new iron design by Jackson. Basement will be 10½ feet, first floor 17 feet high, one step above side-walk. Second story 17 feet high. Top floors remain as they are. The whole to be built in the strongest manner possible, with hoist-way in the rear capable of holding the largest size Grand. First floor will be a ware-room for square pianos and office, second for grand and upright pianos, basement for packing second-hand pianos. Architect, Louis Burger. Mason, E. Ehlersbacher. Carpenter, J. V. Beekman. Estimated cost of alteration, $25,000. Judging from plans it will be the finest piano ware-room in the country, as it is unquestionably the finest location in the city.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—Considerable quantities are still going into the hands of jobbers, but they in turn do not find any distributive demand, and the general tone of the market is dull. The arrivals of hard from the North River yards are liberal, but from other points stock comes forward slowly. In values we find much irregularity, and it is difficult to give exact figures. Some dealers quote the market 50c. per M. higher, while others claim that purchases can be made on fully as easy terms as last week, if not even lower, and that the quoted advance is merely a ruse to close the season up at extreme rates. Very few sales, however, are making at any price, and as no particular reason is assigned for an advance, we let our previous quotations stand, calling them, as heretofore, nominal. Common North River hard $10@ $11 per M.; prime and choice do. $11 50@ $12.50, with very fine selected, probably, occasionally reaching $13 per M. In small lots. Pale brick are in fair supply, except the very choice grades, and on these we note a little more firmness at a slight advance in cost. Frosts without alteration to advise.

CEMENT.—There is still a first rate trade reported by all the companies engaged in the production of Rosendale, and a steady uniform feeling at $2 per bbl. delivered here. Many of our local jobbers, however, have obtained about all they will require for the season; shipments are falling off somewhat, and the heavy fall trade is about concluded. Exports of 200 bbls. to New Granada.

DOORS, SASH AND BLINDS.—We find a very good degree of activity in this branch of trade, and in some instances manufacturers are running to the full extent of their facilities for production. A large share of the business is on local account, finishing out orders, &c., but the shipping orders are free, particularly from the Southern States. Prices have undergone no change warranting an alteration in our table of quotations, though to first-class buyers outside figures are not in all cases insisted upon.

FOREIGN WOODS.—For cedar the demand is still remarkably good, but there is too small a supply here to meet it, and the market is quiet. Such lots as are to be found cannot be handled below 25c., and holders are not free sellers at that. Mahogany is without general activity, and prices a little unsettled, though certain grades, soft, of proper grain and easily worked, are being used with considerable success as a substitute for cedar in the manufacture of sgar boxes, &c. Other styles of woods are selling to a moderate extent, and about former values are current. Nothing of importance has of late been offered at auction. The exports are 85 tons lancewood, and 926 pieces lignum vitae, to Liverpool. The receipts are as follows: From London, 60 planks rosewood; from Belize, Hon., logs cedar, 5 tons lignum vitae; and from Cedar Keys 1,000 logs cedar.

GLASS.—Aside from a few orders occasionally dropping in from country dealers, desirous of filling out assortments, and a light local demand, this market is without life, and all the large sizes, with a fair proportion of the small grades arriving, go into store. Prices are steady but not over-firm, except on the most desirable grades. French 49@50 per cent., and English 35@40 per cent. discount. The latest importations are 15,064 boxes window glass, and 237 pkgs. plate glass.

HAIR.—There has been a very good general business doing, though at the moment buyers appear to be pretty well supplied, and the market is rather quiet. Prices on all grades rule steady, and no really first-class goods can be bought below 49c. for cattle, 60@63c. for mixed, and 70c. for goat. From jobbers' hands considerable stock is going into consumption.

LATH.—The receipts have been a little larger and nearly all have found a market at about former rates, though the general demand is not by any means active. A few lots have been taken for consumption, but the principal sales are to dealers stocking up for winter, both in this and neighboring cities. In jobbing lots $3.05@3.10 has been occasionally obtained, but for full cargoes $3.00 is still the current rate, and buyers refuse to operate at any other figure. The amount of stock on the way to this port is understood to be small, but from present indications will be fully equal to all wants, if not in excess. From jobbers' hands very few goods are being sold, building operations throughout the city at present showing but little life. The sales reported are 2,000,000 Eastern at $3.00 per M.

LIME.—We find nothing new of interest in this market since our last. The arrivals of Rockland lime have been fair, and the demand active enough to take about all the cargoes offering, and at the moment there is no stock afloat unsold. Buyers, however, are not by any means eager to obtain stock, and any material increase of the supply would have a depressing effect. Most of the kilns we understand are still burning, but none to their full capacity, as the present state of the market does not warrant a heavy production. The supply of freight room is ample for all calls. The Northern limes are quoted to accord with the price of Rockland, but prices are uncertain and regulated in a great measure by the amount of stock taken by buyers, terms of payment, &c.

LUMBER.—Throughout the entire market, both wholesale and retail, we find a decided want of life and animation, and have few if any features of striking interest to advise. At nearly all the yards traders are either at an almost complete stand-still, or confined to the smallest possible quantities with which buyers can supply their immediate necessities, and though former quotations are still current, there is not enough goods changing hands to affect values one way or the other. A few dealers have about completed their assortments, and expect very little more lumber this season, but the aggregate receipts via river show no important diminution as yet, many parcels purchased for this market some time ago, having been delayed for want of proper freight accommodations. By private sources we learn that the Albany market remains quite stiff, and that all coarse grades are particularly active, keeping supplies pretty low notwithstanding the fair receipts. Eastern buyers were monopolizing a large share of the business. Our wholesale market on the whole has been a little more in buyers' favor, though we cannot say that there has been any decided falling off on any one particular class of goods. The arrivals, without being large enough to enable those who were prepared to purchase, to name their own terms, were sufficient to keep sellers on the move constantly, and a shading of 50c. or even $1 per M. was sometimes made when a cargo could be worked off quickly. In small lots exporters have operated with rather more freedom, and one or two large contracts for very desirable goods have been entered into. In view of shipments later in the season, Eastern spruce has on one or two occasions accumulated quite freely owing to favorable winds bringing in a large number of vessels together, some making unexpectedly short passages. As usual, many of the cargoes had been previously sold, while those that had still to find a market were managed with sufficient tact to enable receivers to obtain about former rates. The stock coming forward has been distributed pretty freely among the suburban towns and cities, with a fair sprinkling to local dealers. We quote at $15.00@19.00 for inferior to good common schedules; most of the sales at about $20.00, and seldom anything going above $21.00, unless of very choice length, etc. White pine is in much the same position as last week, the local demand calling for only moderate quantities, and shippers finding no encouragement for free operations. The stock still increases to some extent, but the accumulation is less rapid, and holders generally are steady at former fair board prices; $26.00@28.00 for good to prime do., and $31.00 for very choice. Piling is in very fair request, and the bulk of the arrivals still find a market, only a few undesirable parcels having been rafted out. Prices steady at 7@7 1/4 for the average run of stock, and 8c. per foot for extra sizes. Pickets dull at $9.00@9.50 for 3/4 inch; and $17.00@19.00 for large (full inch) five-foot size. Yellow pine has been rather less plenty, but begins to show some little irregularity, as the falling off in receipts are considered only temporary, and the next arrivals it is hoped will be offered more freely for competition. Good to choice flooring boards are firm, and if now offered would bring $36.00@37.00 quick, very choice $35.00@40.00; but common stock is not much wanted, and runs down as low as $34.00 per M. The offerings to arrive are fair, but do not attract much attention, except where sellers are willing to contract for extra specified lengths. Black walnut logs are still in very good export demand at 7 1/4@7 3/4 for the bulk, and 7 1/2@8c. for very fine. Cypress shingles quiet and still quoted at about $16.00@18.00 per M. Eastern pine sawed shingles dull at $4.50@5.00 for No. 1. We note sales during the week of 2,000,000 feet Eastern spruce at $18.00@20.50 per M.; 200,000 feet white pine at $24.00@28.00; 145,000 feet yellow pine flooring at $35.50@36.50; 100,000 feet do. at a Southern mill for shipment to West Indies at $18.00 for common scantling; some odd lots piling at 7 1/4c., and a few No. 1 Eastern shingles at $4.75 per M. By auction about 50,000 feet black walnut was sold at $65@56 per M.

CHICAGO LUMBER MARKET.

(Special Correspondent of REAL ESTATE RECORD.)

CHICAGO, December 1st, 1868.

The wholesale market for lumber during the past week, considering the lateness of the season, has been fairly active, though the sales have been made in a very desultory manner, and without much regularity as to prices, buyers in most cases gaining the advantage. The supply and offerings were at all times ample, and there is now some accumulation of unsold stock. With one exception, all the mills at Grand Haven have shut down, and we learn that several at Bay City have stopped. Quotations stand at about $5.00@10.00 for inferior; $11.00@15.00 for fair to good; and $15.50@16.50 for prime to very choice. Shingles plenty, and dull at $3.50@3.75 afloat. Lath in fair demand, and steady at $2.00@2.25. At all the yards dealers report a falling off in trade, and though quotations remain much the same as before, concessions are in many cases being granted.

The cargo rates for hard wood lumber are as follows:—black walnut $40@45; cherry $20@25; hickory $25@30 ash $21@23; and $18@20 for ordinary oak.

The Western markets at all other points are dull, and holders in many cases somewhat anxious to realize are offering concessions.

We revise figures below according to latest advice from points mentioned.

The latest report of prices by the Pensacola Lumber Co. is as follows:

Lumber.—Boards 1x12 inches and upwards merchantable, $14 to $15 per M.

“ dressed, 25 to 27 “

“ flooring, 1 1/2 x 4 to 6, $15 to $17 per M.

“ ceiling, 7/8, dressed, $24 to $25 per M.

Planks, 1 1/2 x 10 and upwards, $15 to $17 per M.

“ 1 1/2 x 2 “ 15 to 17 “

Scantling, 2x4 to 8x10, 16 to 30 feet long, $15 to $17 per M.

Timber.—17 to 80 cubic feet average, 12 to 14 cents per cubic foot.

80 to 90, 13 to 15 cents per foot.

90 to 100 and upwards, 14 cents and upwards.

METALS.—Copper sheathing continues dull, the only business doing at present embracing small job lots from store. Manufacturers, however, are not forcing trade, and generally remain quite firm at full previous rates. We quote at 33c. for new; and 20¢ to 21¢. for old. Yellow metal 26c. Scotch pig iron has met with a demand active enough to partially exhaust the recent increased supplies, and as the arrivals at present are comparatively light, holders are quite firm in their views. The general tone of the market, however, is dull, few buyers taking more stock than they can use to immediate advantage. We quote at $41.00 @ $44.00 per ton, with small parcels choice at $44.50 do. American pig iron shows no change worthy of note in values, the small available supply coming in giving sellers the advantage. On the spot there is not much stock changing hands, but one or two considerable contracts have been made for future delivery at full prices. We quote at $41.00 @ $43.00 per ton for No. 1; $37.00 @ $39.00 do. for No. 2; and $34.00 @ $38.00 do. for forge. Bar iron from store is moving only in the smallest possible quantities, and rates remain nominally as before.

We quote at $90 per ton for common American and English bar; $100.00 do. for refined do.; $155 for Swedes, ordinary sizes; scroll $130 @ $175 per ton; oval and half round $125 @ $155 do., and rods 3/4 @ 3-16 inch., $105 @ $165 do. Sheet iron still quite dull, but dealers refuse to make any further concessions, and the market closes steady. The stock on hand is ample for all present wants, and fair amounts are arriving, though a portion of the receipts are to fill contracts. We quote at 5 1/2 @ 7c for common singles, doubles, and trebles. Russia sheet has relapsed into a quiet state, and as holders seem rather more anxious to operate, prices are easier, closing at about 11 1/4 @ 12 1/2c. gold, according to numbers. Pig lead has been very much neglected during the greater portion of the week, and with some accumulation of the supply, prices show weakness, closing nominal at 6 1/2 @ 6 3/4c. gold. Bar lead 10 1/2c., and sheet and pipe 12c., less 6 per cent. to the trade. Tin slabs has strengthened up a little more, and is in most cases held with extreme confidence. The speculative demand has in a great measure subsided, but for consumption a fair amount of stock is going out. We quote in gold at 2 1/4 @ 2 1/2c. for English; 2 1/2 @ 2 3/4c. for Straits; and 2 1/2 @ 2 3/4c. for Banca. Tin plates continue steady for all grades, and have sold to a fair extent. Zinc has been rather dull, and prices are a trifle easier at about 12 1/4 @ 13 1/2c. from store. The latest reported importations are 157 tons iron hoop; 1,192 tons pig iron; 19,427 railroad bars; 97 tons sheet iron; 574 iron tubes; 17,855 pigs lead; 10,372 boxes tin plates; 1,715 tin slabs; and 18,036 lbs. zinc.

NAILS.—The inquiry for cut nails is still fair in a jobbing way, but large parcels are neglected, and the tone of the wholesale market has become very dull. Nothing is now selling above 5 1/2, and very few lots at that, though no general reduction can be quoted. Clinch are quiet, with agents still asking 7c. Finishing nails quite dull, prices heavy and unsettled at 5 1/2 @ 5 3/4c. for 6d., 8d., 10d., and 12d.; 5 1/2 @ 6c. for 3d. and 4d. @ 6 1/2c. for 4d. Other kinds steady at 18c. for zinc; 26c. for yellow metal, and 40c. for copper. The exports are 476 packages, valued at $3,163, against 613 packages, valued at $3,728, same time last week. Shipments also to San Francisco of 682 packages.

PAINTS AND OILS.—The wholesale market is at an almost complete standstill; the few insignificant parcels changing hands being only such lots as jobbers require to keep up assortments. The retail trade has also fallen of somewhat, and dealers find their general stocks more than sufficient for all immediate wants. Prices are without quotable alteration, but lack tone, except on very desirable goods. Offerings to arrive are still pretty liberal, and in most cases at easy rates. Foreign glues have sold to some extent in retail parcels, and domestic-made meets with an average demand, but it would be impossible to move large lots even at reduced figures. On linseed oil we again note a falling off in prices, crushers finding too much outside competition to enable them to sustain the market. The consumptive and shipping demand has been easily supplied with small job lots, but since the reduction in values a slight speculative feeling shows itself. Crushers' rates are now 92 @ 94c. in casks, with regular lots selling at 90 @ 91c., part for future delivery. The exports for the week are 50 packages paint valued at $1,446; 90 gallons linseed oil valued at $77, and 190 bbls. oxide zinc valued at $2,360.

PITCH.—The receipts have been rather more liberal, but they were made up mostly of undesirable grades, and found little favor with buyers. Prime City is in fair demand and commands full previous rates. A few lots have been taken for shipment, but most of the sales are on local account. We quote at $2.87 1/2 for inferior, and $3.00 per bbl. for prime City, with very small lots of choice at $3.12 1/2. Receipts for the week 276 bbls. Exports for week 50 bbls; since January 1st, 3,415 bbls., and for same period last year 4,167 bbls.

PLASTER PARIS.—Lump has not been very plenty, but the receipts and offerings are fully equal to the demand, and prices are quite moderate. Buyers are also becoming rather fastidious, wanting very fine quality, and to secure such will pay extreme figures if the cargoes be not too large. We note recent sales of 600 tons white lump at $4.50 @ $4.75 per ton. Calcined moderately active and steady at $2.40 @ $2.50 per bbl. Receipts of lump 640 tons. Shipments of 60 bbls. calcined to British Australia.

SLATE.—Common grades still very dull, the market overstocked, and prices open to negotiation, though it would be advisable for buyers to bid pretty low, as many dealers seem inclined to sell at almost any sacrifice when customers can be found. The local trade in fine qualities moves along with a fair amount of activity, and though outside quotations are not strenuously insisted upon, the market may be called steady.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—There has been some increase of the supply, and a very material falling off in the demand, giving buyers all the advantage, and causing a general reduction in prices. Scarcely anything has been taken for either foreign or interior shipment, and at the present writing the business is entirely of a local character. Holders appear rather anxious to realize, and quote somewhat nominally at about 46 1/2 @ 47c. for merchantable and shipping order; 47 1/2 for New York bbls.; and 48 @ 49c. for jobbing lots. Receipts for the week 945 bbls. Exports for week 7 bbls.; since January 1st, 18,616 bbls., and for same period last year 27,575 bbls.

STONE.—Business at the yards appears to be very fair throughout the city in styles of stone, and most of the dealers have full average forces of men at work. Supplies are light and scarcely adequate to meet all demands. Blue stone is coming forward as fast as the facilities of transportation will admit, quarriesmen being anxious to get all they can before the close of navigation. New orders are received still, but no guarantee of delivery given. Former price list yet current, and no changes will probably be made until February.

TAR.—The demand has been mainly for small parcels, but foots up a fair aggregate for the week. All good qualities remain steady and uniform at full previous figures, but to realize freely some reduction would be made on common grades. Exporters still operate sparingly, the bulk of the sales being to city and country buyers. We quote at $2.50 @ $3.00 for North County; $3.12 1/2 @ $3.50 for Wilmington as it runs, and $3.62 1/2 @ $3.87 1/2 for choice selected thin delivered. Receipts for the week 947 bbls. Exports for week 100 bbls.; since January 1st, 9,675 bbls.; and for same period last year 3,922 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus of December 2d says:

There has been a good lively trade during the week. Clear lumber keeps firm, and most of the sales have been made at or near our outside figures. Coarse pine, and spruce, and hemlock are scarce, and getting more so every day. Should the present open weather continue, much of the lumber will be cut off. The assortment in the market, excepting on coarse, is good. The receipts by canal during the week were large and considerably ahead of the corresponding week last year, when navigation was much impeded by ice. Shipments have been large, employing all vessels offering, at advancing rates.

The receipts of lumber at Chicago for the week ending November 27th were 11,174,000 feet against 18,283,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1867. These figures would raise the aggregate receipts for the year 1868 to about 970,000,000 feet, against 860,000,000 feet in 1867.

The receipts of lumber at Buffalo and Oswego for the weeks ending Nov. 23d and Nov. 30th were:

	November 23.	November 30.
Buffalo.....	2,951,700 feet.	1,286,600 feet
Oswego.....	2,133,100 “	682,500 “
Total.....	4,984,800 feet.	1,969,100 feet.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals for the fourth week of November were:

Bds. & Sc't'g ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1868.. 13,656,500	161	1,000
1867.. 6,123,800	457		402,800

Of the boards and scantling received 6,383,600 feet were by the Erie, and 7,272,900 feet by the Champlain canal.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals, from the opening of navigation to December 1st, were:

Bds. & Sc't'g ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1868.. 432,335,500	38,747,000	66,686	27,465,400
1867.. 383,213,400	26,743	62,753	33,281,800

The receipts of boards, &c., are now 53,452,000 feet in excess of the entire receipts of 1867, and are 38,609,400 feet in excess of the receipts of any previous season of which we have a record.

The receipts in 1867, from November 30th to the close of the season, were about 1,600,000 feet.

THE PACIFIC ROAD AND NEW YORK CITY.

ONE of the most ingenious advertising dodges of the Pacific Railroad people is their success in getting the daily press to vaticinate upon the vast benefit to New York city the completion of the road will secure, as though the growth of New York city were entirely dependent upon the success of their road. The New York Herald has published column after column to show that when the Pacific Railroad is finished the metropolis will take an immense stride forward; its trade will be doubled, real estate will advance (Fort Washington property in particular), and every body in New York Island will become rich, and have nothing to do except to sell Chinese goods. We would respectfully caution our readers not to give way too much to this dreaming, and not to overcalculate the benefits to be derived from the Pacific road. We hear lately some very loud whispers that everything is not exactly as it should be. Some people, high in position, and who ought to know whereof they talk, persist in calling the Pacific road a gigantic swindle and a humbug; that the Company, after getting a free gift of as much land as is contained in the area of Great Britain and Ireland, and, in addition, of all the money they need in building the road, will complete a track in 1871 which will be absolutely useless to the trade of the country.

Look at the facts:—

1st. The present road is a single track through a wilderness of nearly three thousand miles.

2d. All along the line of the road there are neither towns, machine shops, depots, nor railroad material of any kind. It follows that the single track will use a large share of its capacity in the necessary repairs of the road, and in working itself. The present carrying capacity will be greatly crippled. It will convey a few passengers at high rates, and will be able to get through such valuable packages as can afford costly transit—precious stones, bullion; but no ordinary freight, such as teas, silks, grain, &c., can pass over this road until two things happen: 1st. The present road entirely rebuilt in a proper and substantial manner. 2d. A double track laid all the way from St. Louis to San Francisco. All this will take, perhaps, fifteen years' time, and then, but not until then, will the commerce of New York profit by a Pacific road. In 1871 the present road will be declared finished. By the close of 1872, it will be found that the road is absolutely useless to the trade of the country, and that all the land and money have been given to a huge corporation which will endeavor to run the United States Government. Monstrous as are the crimes of the Erie Directors, they will be but as a drop in the bucket to the corporate rascality this great Company will develop. In this connection, we call attention to an article from an evening paper, copied last week into our Real Estate Market Report, showing how New York city property has appreciated within the last twenty years without a Pacific road. There is no doubt at all but that New York is destined to be, not only the greatest city in the world, but its real estate will in time be the most valuable of any city ever known. But this will come, not from the bogus Pacific road now building, but because nature having placed it where commerce must concentrate its bounds, between two rivers. Land is high in New York now, and there may be a short period when it will be lower during the time we are reaching a gold basis; but eventually New York city property must advance to prices which to us of this generation seem fabulous.

OFFICIAL RECORD OF MORTGAGES
—NEW YORK COUNTY.

In the arrangement of the following mortgages, where no description of the property follows the names, it is to be understood that there is a corresponding transfer under the same or nearly the same date in our columns, and the amount set down is what remains on bond and mortgage.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—A pretty good demand for the season has enabled dealers to advance the range of values somewhat on the various grades of hard, and our figures are revised accordingly, the market closing comparatively steady at the improvement. Common North River $11.00 a $12.00 per M.; good to choice do. $12.50 a $13.00, the latter about the top price except for small parcels, very choice selections, which sometimes reach $13.50 per M. The inquiry has been very good from jobbers, though many have now about all the stock they require, and we learn that quite a large number of builders have recently purchased with considerable freedom, and piled up their brick at points convenient for operations during the winter months. This accounts in a measure for the recent activity, and as the supply is thus very well distributed, there will probably be no heavy call until well on towards spring. The receipts from the North River continue quite liberal, but are gradually falling off, most of the vessels running above the Highlands having withdrawn, and the number running from points lower down being reduced. A few very poor lots come in, but the average of quality is fair. From Long Island and New Jersey but little stock has as yet come in, though when required a goodly supply can be obtained from either point. Fronts are dull and without features of interest. Shipments of 3,000 large brick to Central America.

CEMENT.—The wholesale price for Rosendale is still given as $2.00, but this is merely a nominal figure, as the season is virtually at an end. The recent cold snap closed the canal, and most of the companies suspended operations, so that aside from such stock as was manufactured and awaiting shipment, or was nipped by the ice, and may possibly break through, there is very little to come forward. Even such as does reach here will have no effect owing to quite a number of unfilled contracts, upon which it would be necessary to deliver any later arrivals. The demand was good up to the last moment, and it is thought the production could have been continued to advantage for several weeks. City dealers are now selling with rather more freedom, and realizing prices ranging from $2.15 up to $2.50 per bbl. according to quantity, mode of delivery, etc. Shipments of 500 bbls. to San Francisco.

FOREIGN WOODS.—Such lots of mahogany as can be made to answer in lieu of cedar, are selling to a fair extent at remunerative rates, and there has been a fair export demand. The fine qualities, however, are not much sought after for domestic use, except in small jobbing parcels. Cedar of all kinds is still very scarce, the recent arrivals affording no relief to the market, dealers generally refusing to listen to a bid below 50c, in view of the probable total suspension of shipments from Cuba, consequent upon the political troubles now prevailing there. Lignum-vitæ and satinwood are fairly active at previous rates. The exports are 426 logs mahogany, valued at $14,175 to Hamburg; and 84 logs cedar, valued at $350, to Liverpool. The receipts are as follows: From Mansanilla 611 logs cedar, and 605 pieces Granadilla wood; and from Nuevitas 2-2 logs mahogany.

GLASS.—The inquiry continues moderate from all sources, and the general tone of the market is quite dull. The small sizes and double thick French and English of all grades are scarce and pretty steadily held, but other qualities show some weakness and irregularity. Dealers quote as before, viz.: French 40c.50 per cent., and English 35c.40 per cent. discount.

HARDWARE.—The amount of business doing is still very moderate, and almost entirely on small jobbing orders. The lock manufacturers have resolved on advancing the list for mineral and porcelain Japan door-knobs 25c. per doz., discount as before, and other changes are contemplated, though not definitely decided upon as yet.

LABOR.—The operative bricklayers seem inclined to greatly modify their rules in regard to apprentices, but still entertain hopes of being able to establish the eight-hour system. At a recent mass meeting the following were adopted:—

Resolved, That this mass meeting recommend Unions Nos. 2, 4, and 12 so to amend their constitutions in reference to apprentices, as that employers shall be allowed an unlimited number of apprentices, provided that the same are duly indentured for the term of four years.

Resolved, That whenever the above shall be adopted by a two thirds vote of each Union, the President and one member of each Union shall constitute a committee to inform the employers of this action, and also to notify them that after June 1st, 1869, the members of the different Unions shall demand the eight hours and $4 a day all the year round. This committee shall constitute an arbitration committee, whose duty shall be to adopt such measures as shall avoid a strike.

There is timely notice for the master masons, and they should fully decide upon the course to be adopted, before contracts are entered into, and the spring work commenced.

LATH.—There is little or no change to advise since our last report. Buyers have not operated with any remarkable degree of freedom, but receivers by holding on a day or two have generally managed to find a market for their cargoes, and few lots are piled out. The receipts have shown a slight increase, but not sufficient to cause any alarm to sellers. The current wholesale rate remains at $3.00 per M., sellers asking no higher, and buyers, when in want of stock, apparently accepting that figure as a fair value, and making no great effort to obtain a concession. The retail trade has shown a trifle more life, and from jobbers' hands sales are making at $3.15c. a $3.50 per M., according to quantity, etc. By cargo the sales foot up about 2,250,000 at $3.00 per M.

LIME.—Rockland has not been in very large supply, and with a pretty good demand from dealers, most of the arrivals have been closed out at full former rates, viz.: $1.60 for common and $2.00 for lump, leaving too little afloat to cause any apprehension on the part of receivers. The amount of stock in course of shipment to this port is still reported as small, but it can be increased without much difficulty should the trade require it. The season for the Northern limes is about over, the closing of the canals having checked shipments, and the competition from that quarter will be less sharp, though we are informed that one of the leading companies has accumulated a pretty large supply at this point, both afloat and in store, and are free sellers at figures fully as low as Rockland on ordinary orders, while large cash purchases could probably be negotiated on still easier terms.

LUMBER.—There has certainly been no increase of the demand at the yards since our last, and according to the statements of some dealers there could be no decrease, so completely prostrate do they report business. We find, however, a few goods going out here and there, and after the holidays a fair trade is looked for. A few delayed lots have arrived, but the receipts are about over, and stocks completed. The aggregate supply now on hand, though not unusually large, is thought to be ample for all probable calls, and as far as our present information goes, the general assortment is good. Prices remain steady and uniform on all grades, and our quotations require no alteration. Some little interest is felt as to the course of the Albany market, now that the canals are closed, though any ordinary fluctuation would probably have but little, if any, effect upon the values current here. Our wholesale market has run pretty much in the same channel as last week, both as regards the amount of business doing, and the prices obtained for goods. The demand has been largely local, though shippers are on the look-out for desirable parcels, and when such are to be found, buy them up and store away for future use, in view of the probable deterioration of the assortment later in the season. Eastern spruce has been in fair supply and most of the cargoes have found a market, though in some cases it required two or three days offering before buyers could be induced to operate. Most of the arrivals have been of average quality and realized from $18.00 for common to $20.00 a $20.50 for good; with a few inferior lots, short length, &c., at $17.00; and some very choice at $21.00 the latter now about an extreme figure. Pretty much every thing is sold out at the close. Of white pine we learn of very few arrivals, and the stock is probably all in for the season. The demand continues moderate, and is mostly to fill small orders for export, or on manufacturing account. Prices steady at $21.00 a $25.00 for inferior to fair box boards; $26.00 a $30.00 for good to prime do.; and $31.00 for very choice. Piling is not very plenty, but there is no important demand, and prices remain about as before, viz.: 7c. 7 1/2 c. on average sizes, and 8c. for extra length and thickness. Pickets meet with no demand and the small lots arriving with lumber cargoes are forced off at $9.00 a $9.50 for 1/2 inch and $17.00 a $19.00 for large size. Yellow pine shows no important alteration in value and has been only fairly active. Buyers bid about previous rates for desirable stock, but refuse to pay the higher figures asked by sellers, particularly as the arrivals of available cargoes rather increase, and contracts for future delivery can be made on comparatively easy terms. Scantling, &c., is quoted at $30.00 a $32.00 per M.; common boards $33.00 do.; and good to choice flooring boards $34.00 a $36.00 do. Black walnut logs in fair demand and steady at 7 1/2 c. a 7 3/4 c., with very fine reaching 8c. per foot. Cypress shingles are still almost entirely neglected, and all the recent arrivals have from necessity been stored. Prices undetermined, though quoted nominally at $16.00 a $18.00 per M. Eastern pine sawed shingles more active and steadily held at $4.50 a $5.00 for No. 1. The sales reported during the past week embrace 1,300,000 feet Eastern spruce at $18.00 a $20.75 per M. feet; 200,000 feet yellow pine, part previous to arrival, at $33.00 a $36.00 per M.; 180,000 feet white pine at $24.50 a $27.00 per M.; and 1,150,000 pine shingles No. 1 Eastern at $4.75 per M. By auction 40,000 feet black walnut plank at $60.00 a $80.00 per M.

The exports of lumber have been as follows:—

CHICAGO LUMBER MARKET.

(Special Correspondent of REAL ESTATE RECORD.)

CHICAGO, December 8th, 1868.

There has scarcely been enough business consummate during the past week to make a market, and values are to a great extent problematical; even the few sales made being kept so secret that we have nothing upon which to base figures. The feeling, however, is decidedly heavy as the unsold supply foots up comparatively large, with a few more cargoes still expected in, and there is considerable anxiety to discharge vessels and "lay up" for the winter. At latest accounts the offerings at the sales-docks were in excess of the demand, and buyers and sellers about $1.00 per M. apart in their views, the nominal quotations standing at $8.00 for culls; $9.00 a $11.00 for inferior to poor common; $12.00 a $13.00 for common; and $14.00 a $16.00 for good to prime, with very choice a little higher. Shingles quiet at $3.50 a $3.75. Lath dull at $2.00 a $2.12 1/2 afloat. The yard trade was moderate, with no important variation in values.

Yard rates as follows:

First clear, 1 to 2 in., per m.....	$50 00 a 55 00
Second clear, 1 to 2 in., per m.....	48 00 a 52 00

The cargo rates for hard wood lumber are as follows:—

black walnut $40 a 45; cherry $20 a 25; hickory $25 a 30 ash $21 a 23; and $18 a 20 for ordinary oak.

We are in receipt of Messrs. Woolner & Garrick's Monthly Circular under date of December 1st, 1868, from which the following is taken:

There has been but very little animation in the lumber traffic of this city during the last month; the supply has not been extraordinarily large, but several important causes have combined to keep the market rather depressed throughout. It is undeniable that stocks here are very large, and that dealers have exhausted their cash means, especially as collections from the country come very slowly. The financial aspect of the whole country has not not quite reached that millennium predicted and hoped for by so many during the early part of the fall; on the contrary, the stringency in the money market has not been felt with such a severity as during the last month, for many years; produce of all kinds has suffered a very serious decline, which always is felt simultaneously in the lumber business, because the farmer either holds back his grain or does not think himself able to make improvements. In addition to all this, the weather has been very unsettled and a good deal of rain has fallen, having the effect of making country roads almost impassable; the canal has been closed and facilities for getting cars have not been equal to the demand for them. All of these serious obstacles have retarded the trade generally, and the universal desire seems now to be, that the season may soon close for good, so that the surplus on hand may be worked well off before another spring shall pour in upon us the accumulated products of a busy winter. There seems to be but little doubt that the demand during the winter will be good, so that there exists no fear of reduction in price; on the contrary, the tendency will most likely be upward as soon as new enterprises commence in the early part of the coming year. If we look back over the whole season we cannot conceal the fact, that the manufacturer has not been remunerated as he had hoped, and that the whole trade has not been as lucrative as in former years; but as we slowly but surely tend towards the resumption of specie payment, no business will be as thriving and buoyant as during the kiting days when greenbacks were printed as fast as they were asked for. The preparations for another season's operation have been made on a large scale, and although undoubtedly many of our extensive manufacturers will curtail their products, still the aggregate supply will, from present appearances, be fully equal to any former year. Much depends, of course, upon the nature of the winter, and for everybody interested in the trade it is to be hoped that the market next year will not be crowded too much with a little caution exercised by every producer will result to the general benefit of all.

The receipts for November show an aggregate of 74,279,136 feet, which is a falling off from the previous month of 51,429,553 feet, and 19,226,293 ft. as compared with the same month last year; but the total receipts for the season thus far amount to 982,580,486 feet, showing an increase over last year of 123,013,083 feet, whereas the total shipments exceed those for the same period the year previous 55,993, 313 feet.

The shipments for last month show a material falling off, being only 47,416,346 feet compared to 76,649,662 feet for the previous month, and 59,053,619 feet for November, 1867; the bad state of the roads and scarcity of cars are the main reasons for this.

There are yet a good many arrivals looked for, but they will not amount to a great deal, and almost all vessels in port now are anxious to lay up. The lumber from the different points is well shipped forward, and but very small stocks are held anywhere to be brought here next spring.

The shingle market showed great activity during the first half of the month, and all offerings were readily taken at $4.00, and even higher; but during the third week the arrivals grew larger, and the first snow making its appearance stopped at once all anxiety to buy, and they were freely offered at a reduction of 25¢@50¢. The receipts during the month have fallen off 12,995,000, compared to October, but the total receipts exceed those of last year for the same period 93,844,750. The stock on hand at present is not by any means large, and we think it more than likely that the price will again advance towards an early spring, especially as the supply has to come exclusively by rail for a long period.

Lath continues dull and without change.

The Saginaw Enterprise says:

"Attention is now being turned toward the Bay Shore as a lumbering point, and many of our old lumbermen who have been established on the Tittabawassee and tributaries, and Bad, Cass and Flint rivers, are establishing camps on the Angres, Au Sauble, Pino, Saginaw, Devil, and other rivers emptying in the bay. The stock of logs got out and run by this point will be materially decreased next year from that of last season, while the amount got out on the Bay Shore will be nearly doubled. Two vessels are now running between this point and the Bay Shore carrying provisions and camp supplies, while the quantity landed by steamers is quite large. The Isosco Gazette gives a partial list of the firms lumbering on the Au Gres and Au Sauble, which will be particularly interesting to lumbermen, giving them an insight of what is going on in that locality.

After giving details, showing where each camp is located, etc., the following statement of the probable amount of logs which will be got out this winter on the Bay Shore is made:

The Gazette says: "The above is exclusive of many parties of which we have yet received no estimate. Some of them, Sage & Co. for instance, will get in a large stock."

We also obtain the following from a later issue of the Saginaw Enterprise:—"The following is a statement of the shipments from this port during the month ending November 30th, 1868:

Lumber, ft.....	15,864,777
Lath, pes.....	2,263,800
Shingles.....	5,564,500

Shingle bolts, cords.....	45

The season of navigation is about closed. But little more lumber will be shipped this season; probably not to exceed ten or fifteen million feet. Towards the latter part of the season the greater part of the lumber shipped has been moved from points below, and cleared from Bay City. This is due to a great extent to low water, and the difficulty of navigation. And this is one great reason why means should be taken immediately to thoroughly dredge the river, a subject that is now open for the action of the people. While the shipments from this port for the past week are a little over two million feet of lumber, Bay City shipped in the same time over six million, and a larger proportion of timber, lath, shingles and salt. The shipments from the river during the season will fall a little short of four hundred million feet of lumber."

There is very little doing at the Eastward, but in most cases values are well sustained, the season closing with comparatively light stocks.

The latest report of prices by the Pensacola Lumber Co. is as follows:

Lumber.—Boards 1x12 inches and upwards merchantable, $14 to $18 per M.

Flooring, 1 1/4 x 4 to 6, $15 to $17 per M.

" dressed, 25 to 27 " "

Ceiling, 7/8, dressed, $24 to $25 per M.

Planks, 1 1/2 x 10 and upwards, $15 to $17 per M.

1 1/2 x 2 1/2 " 15 to 17 " "

Scantling, 2x4 to 8x10, 16 to 30 feet long, $15 to $17 per M.

Timber.—17 to 30 cubic feet average, 12 to 14 cents per cubic foot.

80 to 90, 13 to 15 cents per foot.

90 to 100 and upwards, 14 cents and upwards.

METALS.—The demand for copper sheathing has been fair in a jobbing way, but very few wholesale parcels change hands, and the general tone of the market is dull. Holders ask former rates. We quote at 38c. for new; and 20¢@21c. for old. Yellow metal 26c. Scotch pig iron immediately following the issue of our last fell off in value $1.00@2.00 per ton, and at the reduction quite a number of buyers came into the market to complete assortments, causing considerable activity for a day or two. Latterly, however, trade has relaxed into a quiet condition, though, with moderate stocks on hand, holders are pretty firm at the revised figures. We quote at $40.00@42.00 per ton, with small parcels choice at $42.50; American pig iron remains quiet, buyers calling for nothing except job parcels. About former values are still current in view of the moderate stocks in first hands, but the market is not over-strong. We quote $41.00@43.00 per ton for No. 1; $37.00@39.00 do. for No. 2; and $34.00@36.00 do. for forge. Bar iron in invoices is not inquired after, and the trade from store continues unusually light. Prices are unchanged, but all figures at the moment are merely nominal. We quote at $90 per ton for common American and English bar; $100 do. for refined do.; $155 for Swedes, ordinary sizes; scroll $130@175 per ton; oval and half round $125@155 do.; and rods 3/8 to 1 1/2 inch $105@165 do.

Sheet iron is steadily held on all desirable grades, and a fair trade is doing. Dealers in most cases appear to be pretty well supplied, though there is no superabundance of stock. We quote at 5 1/4¢@7c. for common singles, doubles and trebles. Russia sheet at the reduction noted in our last has ruled a little more steady, with only a moderate amount of business doing. We quote 11 1/4¢@12 1/2¢, gold, according to number. Pig lead continues very dull, and somewhat unsettled, but no further alterations have taken place on extreme figures, and the general range may still be placed at 6 1/2¢@6 3/4¢, gold. Bar lead 10 1/2¢, and sheet and pipe 12c. less 6 per cent. to trade. Tin in slabs continues to slowly work upward, our figures showing 1/2¢@3/4¢, advance, and closing quiet. The demand has been good, largely for parcels to arrive. We quote in gold at 25 1/2¢@26c. for English; 25 1/2¢@26c. for Straits; and 29¢@29 1/2¢ for Banca. Tin plates in very good demand, the offerings only fair and prices sustained. Zinc continues quite dull and buyers have gained a further slight advantage, the market closing at 12 1/2¢@13c. for lots from store.

NAILS.—The weakness in cut nails noted last week soon resulted in a decline of 1/4¢@3/4¢ per lb. This temporarily improved the demand, but at the close the market has again become quite dull, and we hear of only a few jobbing sales to the regular trade. For large parcels 5 1/2¢ is accepted, and on retail lots 5 1/2¢@5 3/4¢, the latter an extreme. Clinch are also dull and lower, closing at 6 1/4¢@7c. according to quantity. Finishing nails neglected and irregular, at about 5 1/2¢@5 3/4¢ for 6d., 8d., 10d., and 12d.; 5 1/2¢@5 3/4¢ for 5d. and 6 1/2¢@6 3/4¢ for 4d. Other kinds steady at 18c. for zinc; 26c. for yellow metal, and 40c. for copper. The exports are 136 packages, valued at $84, against 476 pkgs., valued at $3168, same time last week. Shipments also to San Francisco of 600 packages.

PAINTS AND OILS.—We still find a very quiet market both wholesale and retail, all speculative feeling being dead, and jobbers having too small a distributive demand to warrant their making any purchases except on positive orders. A few leading articles continue a little scarce, but the general supply is ample for all wants, and importers seem somewhat anxious to dispose of goods to arrive, though not pressing the market. Our quotations are without important alteration, but may be considered extreme. Glues are unchanged in price, and for choice grades German the demand has been a trifle more active. Common grades of foreign and domestic are neglected. Linseed oil, after selling a trifle below our last figures, has taken a sharp upward turn and met with a good speculative demand both on the spot and for future delivery, the market closing strong at the present writing on all desirable lots. An advance in seed both here and in Boston has stimulated the market for oil. We quote at 95¢@97c. in casks, and 96¢@98c. in barrels, with sales for January, February and March at $1.00. The exports for the week are 151 pkgs. paint, valued at $1,355; 155 gallons linseed oil, valued at $165; and 100 barrels oxide zinc, valued at $1,535.

PITCH.—The market has ruled quite dull during the week under review, shippers calling for no stock, and the wants of local and country buyers being only of a jobbing nature. Holders in most cases are still asking pretty full figures on choice goods, and the feeling at the close is steady. We quote at $2.87½ for inferior; $3.00 for the average of prime City, and $3.12½ per barrel for choice in small lots. Receipts for the week 50 barrels. Exports for the week, nothing; since January 1st 3,415 barrels, and for same period last year, 4,238 barrels.

PLASTER PARIS.—The demand for lump has been rather more active, and as the offerings are not very heavy, sellers gain some slight advantage, a few of the best lots realizing higher figures. We note, however, considerable caution on the part of receivers, and few lots arrive without a market already provided. The latest reported sales embrace about 1,200 tons, at $4.50@5.00 for white. Calculated in fair demand and firm, at $2.40@2.50 per barrel. Receipts of lump 235 tons. Shipments of 25 barrels calculated to San Francisco.

SLATE.—The general market presents no new features of interest. Most of the yards are delivering a few squares every week to our local trade, but find no shipping demand, and the reduction of the stock is very slow. Buyers, as heretofore, make all selections from choice grades, and pay comparatively full prices, while common Pennsylvania stock is entirely neglected and has no fixed value.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The demand has continued very moderate throughout the week, the interior and local trade being well supplied, and shippers finding their operations greatly restricted by the scarcity and high rates of freight room. The arrivals have been small, but with a pretty good supply on hand (about 3,200 barrels), the dullness has had a weakening effect and prices are easier, closing, however, with a little more tone at the decline. We quote at 45¢@46c. for merchantable and shipping order; 46½¢@47c. for New York barrels; 47½¢@48c. for jobbing lots. Receipts for the week 31 barrels. Exports for the week 200 barrels; since January 1st 18,516 barrels; and for same period last year 27,791 barrels.

TAR.—There is nothing of particular interest to advise in the market. The general demand continues moderate, and mostly for such small lots as the immediate wants of local dealers require, about previous prices being obtained on good merchantable stock. The arrivals are moderate, but the supply on hand fair, embracing about 3,750 bbls. We quote at $2.50@3.00 for North County; $3.12½@3.50 for Wilmington as it runs; and $3.62½@3.87½ for choice selected thin delivered. Receipts for the week 59 barrels. Exports for the week 41 barrels; since January 1st 9,716 barrels, and for same period last year 8,972 barrels.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus of December 9th says:

The trade may be considered as closed for the season; though, should the present favorable weather continue, further shipments will be made. Several houses have left the District and taken up their winter quarters in their city offices.

The receipts of lumber at Chicago during the season to December 1st, are 982,550,100 feet, coming close upon the estimate at the opening of the season, that the receipts would reach 1,000,000,000 feet; and those figures may be reached before navigation closes. The receipts for the corresponding period in 1867 were 859,567,000 feet, showing an increase in the receipts of 1865 of 123,013,000 feet, or about 14 per cent. The stock on hand on January 1st, 1868, was 203,727,900 feet; the stock on the 1st inst. was estimated at 322,345,500 feet.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals for the first week of December were:

Bds. & Sc't'g ft. Shingles, M. Timber, c. ft. Staves, lbs.

1868. 6,112,500 425 873,300

1867. 5,322,500 425 873,300

Of the boards and scantling received 2,857,100 feet were by the Erie, and 3,225,400 feet by the Champlain canal. The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals, from the opening to the close of navigation, were as follows—the figures of 1867 are from the official report:

Bds. & Sc't'g ft. Shingles, M. Timber, c. ft. Staves, lbs.

1868. 433,447,000 39,172 66,656 27,835,700

1867. 382,554,000 26,550 62,705 31,469,300

The percentage of increase in the receipts of boards, &c., is about the same as that at Chicago—14 per cent.—the increase being 55,563,000 feet. The nearest approach to the figures of 1868 was in 1853, when the receipts were 393,726,100 feet.

REAL ESTATE RECORD

AND BUILDERS' GUIDE.

VOL. II.]

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 19, 1868.

[No. 40.]

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY

C. W. SWEET & CO.,

ROOM B, WORLD BUILDING, No. 37 PARK ROW.

TERMS.

Six months, payable in advance..... $3 00
One year in advance 6 00

WE have been in receipt, from time to time, of complimentary notes from certain of our real estate subscribers, telling us how valuable the RECORD has been to them. Sellers, of a forgetful turn of mind, who have been introduced to buyers by agents, and have neglected to pay their commissions, have, in literally hundreds of instances, been traced by the publication of the Conveyances in the RECORD. The publication of the Liens upon houses also has been of immense service to all builders and dealers in builders' materials. By keeping track of their records no mechanic need be swindled by dishonest acts in this business.

The Judgment List, also, is of immense benefit to lawyers, business-men, bankers, money-lenders, etc. Now, in view of the tens of thousands of dollars we have saved our subscribers, we would suggest that each one who has been benefited should do one or all of three things:

1. Pay up his yearly subscription, and save us the trouble and expense of collecting it.
2. Get us, at least, one additional subscriber.
3. Send us a good standing advertisement for the coming year.

We can fairly claim to have the richest subscribers of any paper in New York city. Our lists embrace all the solid men of the metropolis; but we do not get one-twentieth part of the advertising we ought to have, in view of the constituency we appeal to. We publish a paper which is full of news—which costs a good deal of money and hard labor to get it up—which does not deal in any humbug, and the least we can ask our subscribers is, that they will pay their dues voluntarily, and give us the advertising support we deserve.

Advertising in the RECORD is, like virtue, its own exceeding great reward.

THE FUTURE OF NEW YORK.

MOTLEY, the historian, in his address before the N. Y. Historical Society on the Political Progress of Europe and America, in the spirit of prophecy speaks of the grand future of our city in all its various aspects, and, in his own words as "the capital of the world's empire; and not any of the world's capitals, that hitherto have been, can surpass the inevitable future certainties of this thirteen-miles-long Manhattan."

Rapturous and enthusiastic as is his language of prophecy, he yet fails to grasp the expansive glory of our metropolis; for when it shall have embraced within its limits that portion of Westchester County lying south of a line drawn across the upper part of our island by Spuyten Duyvil, from the Hudson to the Sound, which is also inevitable, then it will have realized a position in the world's history which the far-seeing eye of the historian can now only dimly distinguish.

Then our Park, "than which nothing more beautiful exists in ancient and imperial cities," and the Boulevards, and drives extending far into the country, rivalling in their variety of scenery the famous drive from the Champs Elysées to the Bois de Boulogne or Ranelagh, the boast of Parisians, will have become, together with the pomp and elegance and glittering exhibition of the fair and fashionable of the world's new imperial city, something which the imagination fails to grasp or the mind to conceive.

CALUMNIATING PUBLIC OFFICERS.

WHEN sensations and items grow scarce, or difficult to get, there is a certain class of journals amongst our "dailies" and "weeklies," which, while they lay great claim to enterprise, energy, and liberality, almost regularly resort to the easy and cheap method of filling their columns which is found in scandalizing or railing at persons in official position. It matters little to them what may have been his antecedents, but they much prefer his record should have been perfectly pure, that a greater sensation may be produced by their innuendoes, or viler, because graver, charges of corruption, which are more or less "spicy" in proportion as the reputation of their object is less or more impeachable. Such an attack was recently made upon James M. MacGregor, Superintendent of Buildings in this city.

For years past the great danger to be apprehended by the crowding of vast assemblages into the places of public amusement, had called for some remedy, the sensation press as usual being very noisy, and prolific in impracticable suggestions. Meanwhile Mr. MacGregor had laid the matter before successive Legislatures for their action, but only last year succeeded in securing the passage of an act tending to protect the public, he being made responsible for its execution. One of the reforms embodied in the act was a prohibition of the use of detached seats in the aisles of public halls, under a meagre penalty of $50 (which on "crowded nights" could easily be paid and the law defied). Others related to the construction and strength of the buildings, and were all advised by the Superintendent, as his yearly reports will show, with the exception that he had always insisted upon heavy penalties, so that evasion must prove profitless. The method of making surveys for the purpose of determining what alterations were necessary for the public safety, had already been provided by previous enactments, which made it necessary that the owner should be informed when a survey of his property was contemplated.

The offence of Mr. MacGregor, as set forth by the attacking journals, was in notifying the proprietors of some theatres that surveys of their premises were to be held at specified times; or, in other words, in complying with the law. They sneered at the notice as being a warning to the proprietors to be on their best behavior for that occasion only, and to conceal any contraband such as aisle seats or weak walls; for if one evasion is included in their meaning, all must be. Their complaints would be ridiculous if they were not calculated to mislead their readers, and damage the well-earned reputation of the Superintendent. The idea that any deficiency in the construction of their buildings could be concealed from the keen Inspectors, was simply absurd; what might have been done in the matter of keeping their aisles clear was about as silly, when the matter of penalties is considered, and when it is known that the instructions of the Inspectors make it necessary for them to visit the theatres or public halls in their several divisions several times each week, and report "any evasions" at headquarters. While it is not the province of the "RECORD" to defend any individual, yet this attack upon an officer to whom the citizens of New York—property owners and poor tenants alike—are so much indebted, seemed so unjustifiable as to merit some refutation; and knowing the facts, we have related them.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

THE most important feature of the coming week is the sale of part of the Morris Estate on Tuesday next. The section of Westchester County in which this property lies is destined to become at no distant day a part and parcel of New York city. Lying as it does nearer to the heart of this city than many portions of the city itself, it would seem almost as if nature had determined it should not remain isolated from us. The maps that have been printed show its relative position to other property both in Westchester County and on this island, and the book containing them presents, in a truthful and telling manner, the advantages which the acquisition of this property will inevitably secure.

The typography and style of the whole thing indicate an ingenuity of arrangement and a lavishness of expenditure seldom made.

The market for the past week, for the time of year, was quite lively. On Tuesday the weather was unusually fair, and the "Exchange" Salesroom was crowded with visitors and real estate dealers. The Messrs. Wyckoff & Little sold a large amount of Bay Ridge property known as the Graef Farm. The announcement of the sale attracted a goodly number of Brooklyn buyers. The Messrs. Muller, Wilkins & Co. disposed of several lots situated in Harlem and in this city. Messrs. Bleeker & McGuire also sold some city property. For the most part the bidding was lively and the prices realized fair.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—The ice having effectually shut off communication with all the principal yards along the North River, we hear of no receipts, except a few straggling cargoes early in the week. This, in connection with a continued good business, has added to the advantage gained by sellers at the date of our last report, and we find prices on all grades decidedly higher, with much strength and some little buoyancy at the improvement. An unexpected brisk demand for consumption has of late not only required all the fresh receipts, but has compelled the delivery of many lots laid by for winter use, and now, with the river shut up, dealers have no means by which they can immediately replace these parcels. In some cases jobbers report their stocks several hundred thousand short, while the aggregate supply in dealers' hands is unusually small; though this is in a measure offset by pretty large amounts distributed throughout the city by builders, who have already purchased and piled up brick in view of future wants. From the New Jersey and Long Island yards nothing of importance has been received up to the present writing, and values on these goods have stiffened, in sympathy with North River grades. The poorest lots of common hard are worth about $11.00@12.00 per M., but we learn of pretty rough cargoes North River selling at $13.00 quick; and from this prices range up to $14.95 for good, and $14.50 for selections. Pale brick are not very active, and are quoted at about $9.00@10.00 per M.; Croton fronts, are selling to about an average extent for the season, and are firmer, closing at $23.00@25.00, according to grade. Philadelphia fronts are not very active, but few first-class lots can now be bought below $48.00@50.00 per M.

CEMENT.—The suspension of the production of Rosendale, as noted last week, and the stoppage of arrivals by the freezing of the canal and river, has left the market almost entirely in the hands of jobbers; manufacturers, with one or two exceptions, having no supply from which to make deliveries. The stock piled up in this city would be very fair for an ordinary demand, but the present call is making serious inroads upon the accumulation, and prices have a strong upward turn. Few, if any, desirable wholesale purchases can now be made below $2.25 per bbl., while smaller quantities range from this up to $2.40@2.50 per bbl., and retail lots still higher. We note shipments of 2,400 bbls. to San Francisco.

FOREIGN WOODS.—Mahogany is not in very active demand and the market has rather a lifeless tone, with no important change to note in values, however. The supply as a general thing is pretty well assorted, and does not materially decrease, the arrivals about equaling the sales. Cedar remains in much the same condition as heretofore noticed, the demand being good and the unusually light available supply held at very extreme figures. At the recent auction sale the bulk of the offering was withdrawn, buyers not bidding above 25c. The Revenue law making it a misdemeanor to use a box a second time for the purpose of packing cigars, naturally increased the demand for cedar, and this coming upon a market destitute of stock, with no prospect of early relief, tends to develop substitutes. A certain grade of mahogany has already been used with considerable success, and if any cheaper wood can be worked up to advantage for the purpose required, it must obtain a permanent foothold with manufacturers. No exports reported. The receipts are as follows: From Sisal 806 pieces mahogany; from Port-au-Platte 38 crotches mahogany and 176 pieces lignumvitae; from Turk's Island 44 logs and 86 crotches mahogany.

GLASS.—The supply of American is quite liberal, and though a fair business is doing at about former rates, the general tone of the market is a little unsettled. French and English are coming forward in fair amounts, but the invoices contain few of the most desirable sizes, say 8, 9, and 10 inch, and most of the stock goes into store. Importers are steady, but the large measurements are occasionally sold at more liberal discounts than heretofore. We quote French at 40@50 per cent., and English 35@40 per cent. discount. The latest imports are 175 boxes window glass, and 116 packages plate.

HARDWARE.—The trade generally appear to be engaged in taking account of stock, or preparing to do so, and but little activity prevails in the various styles of builders' hardware. Prices, however, are quite firm, with the tendency rather more in sellers' than in buyers' favor. Contrary to expectation, the lock manufacturers made no further changes than those alluded to in our last, except a slight and unimportant revision of the classification on some of the common styles.

LABOR.—The desire to waste two good working hours per day appears to be infectious among the various classes of mechanics, and we hear that nearly all trades are preparing to ask for "eight hours" during the next season. The carpenters at a recent meeting resolved that "on and after the first Monday in May, 1869, the Carpenters' Union demand from the bosses the recognition of the law that eight hours shall constitute a day's work." Now, why do not the employers organize and take this matter in hand at once, and have everything plainly understood with their workmen before the spring business commences? The disastrous results to the building interest by the protracted strike of the bricklayers last summer should not be repeated, and it is probable that a little conciliation on both sides, at the present time, would prevent any open rupture between "bosses" and journeymen, when the next regular season commences.

The National Bricklayers' Union will hold a convention in Washington, D. C., on January 11, 1869, to deliberate on questions of interest to the entire trade throughout the United States. The convention, it is expected, will adopt measures to prevent strikes hereafter. We trust their expectations may be fully realized.

LATH.—There has been rather more life in the wholesale market during the week under review, but at a slight falling off in values. The reduction, however, appears to excite but little interest among either buyers or sellers, and is mainly the result of an anxiety to get rid of a little surplus stock. A few receivers having quite an accumulation here, and a few cargoes still to come in, and finding the majority of dealers nearly all filled up with stock, gladly made a concession of 10 per cent., when this enabled them to close out for the season without further negotiation, and as a consequence considerable sales were made at $2.90. At the close, the few lots still left unsold are held at $3.00, which can readily be obtained on a small order. From jobbers' hands very little stock is going out at present, but prices hold their own and range from $3.15 up to $3.50 per M. according to circumstances, quantity, &c. The cargo sales reported since our last embrace about 4,000,000 at $ @ $ per M.

LIME.—The market for Rockland continues steady and uniform at $1.60 per bbl. for common, and $2 do. for lump, with enough business doing to about exhaust all the moderate arrivals, though the general demand is not by any means active. The receipts will soon cease, as the season has about closed. We learn that one or two kilns are still at work, but the majority have shut down for this year, and will now proceed to make repairs and get matters in good trim for the commencement of the next work. About ten thousand bbls. were ready for market and awaiting shipment, one-third of which was intended for this port, and the balance for Boston and the South. The Northern limes are in a measure nominal, and not selling with much freedom, as most of the trade are well enough supplied to make it unnecessary for any further purchases, except of such small odd lots as can be picked up cheap.

LUMBER.—We have scarcely anything of interest to report in either the wholesale or retail market this week. At the various yards there is some little jobbing business taking place nearly every day, but almost entirely on local account, shipping orders being very few and far between. While dealers complain of the dullness, however, nearly all quote at full previous rates and appear confident, particularly as the river is now closed, and no more stock can come in to exert a depressing influence. We have made further inquiries in regard to the assortments, and still adhere to the belief that all ordinary selections of pine and spruce, at least, can be made without difficulty. In the wholesale market very little business has been transacted, owing mostly to the small number of cargoes offering, though the general supply was about equal to the demand. Dealers in most cases were indifferent operators, though if any thing really desirable was presented on reasonable terms, they managed to find room for the goods. Shippers are still occasionally to be found picking up odd lots suited to their wants, but very seldom can be drawn into a heavy purchase. Eastern spruce has been rather scarce, and the few cargoes dropping in have sold out pretty quickly at previous figures. This has given the market a steady tone, but no higher rates were asked, the majority of dealers being pretty well supplied, and the season too near the close to warrant receivers in refusing any reasonable offer in hopes of doing better. There is nothing here about unsold, but schedules of most of the cargoes expected are still awaiting buyers. We quote very common at $18.00 per M.; fair to good $19.00 to $20.00 do., prime $20.50, and very choice, if offered, would probably realize $21.00 per M. In white pine we learn of very little activity, only a few small parcels being required to fill shipping orders; and the call from the home trade requiring almost nothing at the moment. Rates remain about as before, viz.: $21.00 @ $25.00 for inferior to fair box boards; $26.00 @ $30.00 for good to prime ditto, and $31.00 for very choice, for South American trade, &c. Piling is moderately active, and on the few sales made dealers report former prices as realized. We quote at 7@8c., according to length and thickness. Pickets dull, and nominal at $9.00 @ $9.50 for 3/4 in., and $17.00 @ $19.00 for large size. For yellow pine there has been more inquiry, and with a better assortment offering, several lots are now under treaty, with a fair prospect that considerable business will be consummated. The market appears to have less general strength than two or three weeks ago, and buyers are asking concessions; but as the price at the mill is unchanged, sellers are unwilling to recede from previous figures here. We quote at about $30.00 @ $32.00 per M. for sawing; $33.00 do. for common boards; and $34.00 @ $36.00 for good to choice flooring boards. Black walnut is in very good request, considering the general stagnation of trade, the sales being both for building and manufacturing purposes. The small supply of desirable quality adds greatly to the advantage of holders, and prices rule very firm. Black walnut logs are selling rather slowly to shippers, and are scarcely so firm, few lots going above 7 1/2 c., except of very extra quality, which occasionally reach 7 c. Cypress shingles have sold a little more lively, but no impression was made thereby on the heavy stock, and prices still have a drooping tendency. Eastern live sawed shingles quiet, at $4.75 @ $5.00 per M. We learn of sales of 95,000 feet Eastern spruce at $18.00 @ $20.50 per M.; 200,000 feet white pine at $24.00 @ $28.00; 102,000 feet do. at $30.00; 60,000 yellow pine at $35.00; 100,000 pine shingles at $4.75 per M.; 30,000 two feet cypress shingles at $19.00 @ $20.00; and 180,000 two and three feet cedar shingles at $29.00 @ $39.00 per M.

We also notice shipments of 116 logs maple, valued at $2,174, and 11,693 feet lumber valued at $778, to Havre; 2 masts valued at $164 to Cuba; 6,000 staves to Glasgow; 5,000 do. to Gibraltar; 7,000 do. to British Guiana; 21,100 do. to Africa; 64,800 do. to Seville; 6,000 do. to Havre; 4,173 do., 976 pieces lumber, 1,415 planks, and 350 pieces walnut to San Francisco. From New Orleans we note shipments of 13,400 staves to Liverpool, and 5,050 to Havre. The receipts reported at this port are as follows: From St. George, N. B., 366 pieces piling; from Jacksonville, Fla., 150,000 feet lumber; from Brunswick, Ga., 160,000 feet do.; and from Newbern, N. C., 62,000 staves.

From the West we hear of nothing of striking interest this week, trade being in most cases over for the season, and lumber without any fixed value. At Chicago the daily receipts amounted to a few hundred thousand feet only, until the ice entirely shut off any further profitable trips by vessels to the mills, and with no cargo sales made public, prices at latest advices had become entirely nominal. Pretty much the same reports come from other points, and we omit the usual quotations, they being useless under the circumstances. The preparations for work this winter in the pineries are from all accounts now pretty well perfected, and though a few manufacturers talk of working on a more moderate scale, present appearances indicate that on the whole the number of logs will fully equal, if it does not exceed, that of former years. As to the number of logs likely to be banked, no reliable estimate can be made, as this will depend entirely on the kind of weather with which the lumbermen are favored.

CHICAGO LUMBER MARKET.

(Special Correspondent of REAL ESTATE RECORD.)
CHICAGO, December 15th, 1868.

From the Eastward we learn of nothing important in the way of business, the majority of lumbermen having closed up for the season with light stocks on hand, and now devoting their attention to the winter campaign in the woods. All accounts appear to agree that the trade of the past year has been quite successful, and with the average weather a large number of logs will be cut. Additional trouble and expenses are anticipated, however, owing to the necessity of receding further into the interior and of improving creeks and streams heretofore unnavigable, in order to get lumber into the larger rivers. This will be particularly the case with those who desire to get out white pine of superior quality, and though no great dearth of this class of stock is to be anticipated, it is probable the future supply will show some reduction. Through the courtesy of Chas. H. Matthews, Esq., of Wall street, we have obtained the following comparative statement of the stock of lumber, &c., at the port of Quebec on December 1st.

From the above it will be observed that there is a great falling off in the stock of all kinds, but more particularly in white pine. Such lots as are wintering are reported of good fair average quality, about one-third a medium article, and the remainder, with few exceptions, timber of moderate averages, but of good sound healthy quality.

A Macon company are about to establish a floating steam saw mill on the Ocmulgee river in Georgia.

METALS.—Copper sheathing has continued rather quiet, the principal demand being for small jobbing orders, but in view of the excitement and buoyancy in ingot, manufacturers are very firm, and insist upon full previous rates. We quote at 33c. for new, and 20c @ 21c. for old.

Yellow metal 26c. Scotch pig iron is selling to a moderate extent in small irregular parcels, but there is no movement in a wholesale way, and the general feeling among dealers is quite dull. A comparatively small supply on hand, however, and but moderate additions thereto, imparts a confident tone, and full former figures are still current. We quote $40.00 @ $42.00 per ton, with jobbing lots choice at $42.50 @ $43.00 do. American pig iron is very much aeglected, and though no material additions to the supply are to be anticipated, values are reduced on all grades, closing irregular. We quote at about $2.00, @ $4.00 per ton for No. 1; $37.00 @ $38.00 do. for No. 2; and $33.00 @ $34.00 do. for forge. Bar iron from store is quoted at previous figures, but the almost total absence of business renders it difficult to fix upon actual values, and rates are merely nominal. Cash buyers of any considerable quantity could undoubtedly obtain some concessions. We quote at $90 per ton for common American and English bar; $100 do. for refined do.; $155 for Swedes, ordinary sizes; seroll $130 @ $175 per ton; oval and half round $125 @ $155 do.; and rods 3/8 to 3-16 inch and $105 @ $165 do. Common sheet iron has been quiet, and the supplies have rather an accumulative tendency. On the least desirable grades sellers have modified their views a trifle, and the feeling at the close is not over-strong. We quote at 5@7c. for singles, doubles, and trebles. Russia sheet has met with no demand, and as the stock now here is pretty large, holders are anxious to force trade. Prices have been materially reduced, and close to a great extent nominal at about 104 @ 11 1/2 gold, according to number. Pig lead is without activity. Prices about as before, and we still quote at 5 1/2 @ 6 1/2 c. gold. Bar lead 1 1/2 c. and sheet and pipe 12c. less 6 per cent. to the trade. Tin in slabs, on the strength of cable advices announcing higher markets in Europe, has been very excited and active at decidedly improved rates, closing with much firmness and a very small available supply offering. We quote in gold at 26 1/2 c. @ 27c. for English; 27c. for Straits; and 30c. for Banca. Tin plates are quiet at former rates, though the tendency if anything is improved. Zinc shows no change in price, but is held a little more firmly owing to the small stock. We quote at 12 1/2 @ 13c. for lots from store. The latest imports are 166 tons iron hoop, 236 tons pig iron, 9 750 railroad bars, 96 ton sheet iron, 2,770 pigs lead, 12,515 boxes tin, and 16,694 lbs. zinc.

NAILES.—For cent nails there has been a fair demand from both domestic and foreign shippers, with a few small local orders. Prices remain as before, with a trifle more steadiness noticeable. In wholesale lots the rate is 5 1/2 c., and at retail 5 1/2 @ 5 1/2 c. per lb. Clinch are moderately active and steady at 6 1/2 @ 7c. as to quantity, &c. Finishing nails and remain nominally at about 5 1/2 @ 5 1/2 c. for 6d., 5d., 10d., and 12d.; 5 1/2 @ 5 1/2 c. for 5d. and 6 1/2 @ 6 1/2 c. for 4d. Other kinds steady at 18c. for zinc; 26c. for yellow metal, and 40c. for copper. The exports are 336 packages, valued at $1,568, against 136 packages, valued at $34, same time last week. Shipments also to San Francisco of 1,291 packages.

PAINTS AND OILS.—There is no improvement in the demand; in fact, trade rather grows worse as the holidays approach, and scarcely anything is now changing hands except in retail lots. This is to be expected, however, at this season, more particularly as all other classes of business are at an almost complete stand, and the general range of values is not affected. The aggregate supplies are not very heavy, but there is an ample assortment for all wants, and the few buyers experience no difficulty in making selections. Glues are dull, and prices nominally unchanged; linseed oil at the improvement noted in our last has continued in good steady demand for home use and speculation throughout the week, and though without any further actual advance, prices close strongly in sellers' favor. The general aggregate of stock is pretty liberal, but holders appear very confident, and the offerings are barely equal to the demand. We quote at 96¢@97c. in casks; and 97¢@98c. in bbls., with sales at 96½¢c. 90 days, adding interest; and for January and February at $1.03½. The only exports reported are 50 packages of paint, valued at $384.

PITCH.—The general demand continues very moderate, and is more than balanced by the supply, causing some accumulation of stock. Common grades are pretty freely offered, and can be bought at shade off from previous prices, but really prime lots are steadily held. The few sales are mostly on domestic account. We quote at $2.75@ $2.87½ for inferior and common, $3.00 for prime City, and $3.06½@ $3.12½ for choice in retail parcels. Receipts for week 286 bbls.; exports for week 100 bbls.; since January 1st 3,515 bbls., and for same period last year 4,606 bbls.

PLASTER PARIS.—The majority of manufacturers appear to be supplied for the present, and the business in lump is quite moderate, no sales of any importance transpiring since our last. Nearly all contracts have been filled, and very little stock is expected. Values are nominally unchanged. Calcedin is reported in good steady request, and former prices still current. The receipts of lump are 230 tons; shipments of 75 bbls. calcedin to San Francisco.

SLATE.—Dealers have been engaged in supplying the jobbing trade of the near by country towns and villages, as well as selling a fair amount to local slaters; and the market as a whole has shown a fair amount of life. Stocks are reduced somewhat, but there is still a good assortment of the fine grades, and enough common quality to meet all calls. Nothing wanted for shipment. Prices remain as before when quotations are asked; but when sales are consummated, the buyer experiences no great difficulty in obtaining some reductions, particularly if the ready cash is forthcoming.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—Almost immediately following the writing of our last report the market rapidly fell off 1¢@1½¢c. per gallon under more liberal offerings and a very moderate demand, ruling quite dull at the decline for several days. Latterly, however, the arrivals have been checked, and buyers showing a better disposition to operate, we note a stronger feeling, and few holders willing to sell, except at an advance. Shippers have in a great measure withdrawn, and the business is almost entirely with the home trade. We quote at 44½¢@45c. in merchantable and shipping order; 45¢@45½¢c. for New York barrels; and 46¢@47c. in jobbing lots. Receipts for the week 834 barrels. Exports for the week 3 barrels; since January 1st 15,819 barrels, and for same period last year 28,206 barrels.

TAR.—Little or no change has taken place since our last, holders asking about previous rates, and buyers submitting without much negotiation when desirable parcels are offered. Exporters still operate very sparingly, but latterly we hear of rather more liberal sales for home use, rather exceeding the arrivals, and causing some slight reduction of the stock. We quote at $2.50@3.00 for North County, $3.00@3.50 for Wilmington as it runs, and $3.62½@3.87½ for choice selected thin delivered. Receipts for the week 247 barrels. Exports for the week 25 barrels; since January 1st 9,741 barrels, and for same period last year 4,057 barrels.

LONDON CHEMICAL NEWS AND JOURNAL OF PHYSICAL SCIENCE.—Chemistry reveals the fact that metals differing in crystalline structure, when placed together in liquid acids, or even in common water, are by galvanic acid rapidly oxydized, disintegrated or destroyed. If lead and tin are placed in juxtaposition, with access of water, one or both of the metals will suffer from corrosion. The least defect in soldering or crack from bending, over-straining, defective manufacture or corrosive action, whereby the water comes in contact with the lead, would cause electrical currents to commence to flow between the metals, disintegration would be the result with the metals, poisonous to those using the water. The simple lead pipe is safer than those lined with tin, for the above reasons. Lead pipe has been used in the city of London over five hundred years with perfect safety.

Prof. Augustus Matthiessen, F.R.S., in his lecture on "Alloys" and their uses, before the Royal Institution of Great Britain, declares that no two metals are known which do not dissolve when in combination and acted on by water. For full chemical analysis in regard to combination of metals for water pipes, see the London Chemical News and Journal of Physical Science.

GALVANIC ACTION ON THE BRAIN—OF CERTAIN LEAD PIPE MANUFACTURERS.—An advertisement is going the rounds of the City Press, alleging that when "tin and lead are in juxtaposition with access of water the metals will corrode," and concludes, "simple lead pipe, though dangerous, is safer than tinned pipe."

Let us examine this "bugaboo!!!" invented by the lead pipe interest, and demonstrate its utter fallacy.

Every dwelling ordinarily plumbed contains a copper boiler, "tinned internally," to which are attached lead pipes by brass couplings. These couplings are soldered with "tin and lead" to the pipes; brass cocks are fixed in the pipes and soldered with "tin and lead;" seams of tanks are soldered with "tin and lead," while the water back of range is of iron. Thus we have copper, brass, tin, lead, and iron in juxtaposition with access of water, and not a particle of galvanic action; but substitute encased block-tin pipe, and "the devil's to pay" with the lead pipe trade.

The public may rest assured that this "galvanic action" lies on the brain, or rather in the pockets, of certain lead pipe manufacturers.

SUPREME COURT.—IN THE MATTER OF the application of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Commonalty of the City of New York, relative to opening One Hundred and Fourteenth street from Eighth avenue to the Hudson River, in the City of New York.—We, the undersigned Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment in the above-entitled matter, hereby give notice to the owner or owners, occupant or occupants, of all houses and lots and improved or unimproved lands affected thereby, and to all others whom it may concern, to wit:

FIRST. That we have completed our estimate and assessment, and that all persons interested in these proceedings, or in any of the lands affected thereby, and who may be opposed to the same, do present their objections in writing, duly verified, to John Nesbit, Esq., our Chairman, at the office of the Commissioners, No. 82 Nassau street (Room No. 42), in this city, on or before the seventeenth day of October, 1868, and that we, the said Commissioners, will hear parties so objecting within the ten week days next after the said seventeenth day of October, 1868, and for that purpose will be in attendance at our said office on each of said ten days, at 12 o'clock M.

SECOND. That the abstract of the said estimate and assessment, together with our maps, and also the affidavits, estimates and other documents, which were used by us in making our report, have been deposited in the Street Commissioner's office, in the City of New York, there to remain until the twenty-ninth day of October, 1868.

THIRD. That the limits embraced by the assessment aforesaid are as follows, to wit: All those lots, pieces or parcels of land, bounded on the north by the centre line of the block between One Hundred and Fourteenth street and One Hundred and Fifteenth street; on the south by the centre line of the block between One Hundred and Fourteenth street and One Hundred and Thirteenth street; on the east by the centre line of the Eighth avenue, and on the west by the Hudson River.

FOURTH. That our report herein will be presented to the Supreme Court of the State of New York, at a special term thereof, to be held at the City Hall, in the City of New York on the second day of November, 1868, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that then and there, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard thereon, a motion will be made, that the said report be confirmed.

Dated New York, September 14, 1868.

REAL ESTATE NEWS AGENCY.

C. W. SWEET & CO., proprietors of the REAL ESTATE RECORD, have opened, in connection with their paper, an agency, through which they propose to furnish extremely valuable information for the benefit of Real Estate dealers, owners, and operators. Persons about investing in Real Estate, usually wish to be informed on these points:—

1st. Who the actual owner of any piece of property may be, and whether any incumbrance is existing against it.

2d. What the actual value of said property was at the last sale.

3d. What price the property adjacent and within same block has sold for within the past few years.

4th. An intelligent, unbiased estimate of the value of the property at the present time; the future prospects of the same; whether there are likely to be any improvements, and of what kind, in the street where property is located; and such other information as will be likely to affect the value of said property.

Real Estate dealers will at once see the immense value of the class of information we propose to furnish, particularly to those who now buy in the dark without any reliable data to guide them, but who, by means of our agency, will have every light which official records, transcripts of sales, etc., can furnish. We have peculiar facilities for furnishing this class of information, having in our possession maps, books, etc., gotten up exclusively by us, which contain every piece of property in New York and Kings counties, with the names of owners, and other information accessible to no other firm or persons in the U. S.

Titles searched, and careful abstracts made at the lowest prices. This work will be done accurately and cheaply for regular subscribers.

REAL ESTATE RECORD

AND BUILDERS' GUIDE.

VOL. II.]

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 26, 1868.

[No. 41.]

ABOUT OURSELVES.

DURING the past week many of our patrons who have been benefited by the RECORD since it has been published, have shown their appreciation of our efforts by sending us new subscribers, and paying up their old subscriptions. For this, thanks. But, like Oliver Twist, we want still more. There is still money due us which it is a great bore to collect, and our subscribers would save us much annoyance if, like Col. Crockett's coon, they came down with the money before we fired a bill at them. Christmas is past, to be sure, but New Year's day is not, and a remembrance in the way of an unpaid bill is yet in order.

There is one thing all our business subscribers should do. They ought to give us a card in our advertising columns for the year 1869. If we had, say five hundred of such announcements, at ten dollars each, we could add largely to the attractiveness and value of this journal. What answer?

RECORDS OF REAL ESTATE.

It is clearly the interest of all who own landed property, to have the record of the conveyances so kept that it will be easy to prove title. That this is not so now is proved by the frequent lawsuits necessitated by imperfect titles, or the blundering of lawyers who search them. To remedy this evil we find the following scheme in the Chicago Times of the 18th inst. We quote:

In the Board of Supervisors for this county, the other day, a proposition was brought forward that will probably command the favorable attention of all land-owners, not only in this county, but throughout the State. It is a proposition to introduce a better method of keeping the title records in the Recorder's office. The change proposed is the introduction of an additional set of books, or indexes, "to facilitate the tracing of titles to real estate." At present such indexes are kept only by conveyancers, or "abstract makers," whose charges are greatly disproportioned to the value of their abstracts, so far as they furnish any legal evidence of title. The conveyancer's certificate verifies the correspondence of the abstract to his "indices," which latter are in no sense official records, but merely abstract copies thereof, depending for their accuracy upon the carefulness of a copyist. Of course it is the interest of the conveyancer to furnish a perfectly true abstract, and nothing but the mistakes of accident are liable to render it otherwise. In such cases, however, the titleholder has no remedy. The law presumes that the facts spread upon the public records are within the knowledge of all the world, and the man who buys land without ascertaining from that official source that he is getting a good title does so at his own peril. Yet every one knows that for the purchaser or owner to verify his title by a personal examination of the records would be impossible (in this city, at least), within the space of an ordinary lifetime. He must trust to an abstract made by a conveyancer from an examination of his abridged copy of the official records.

The proposition is, to enact a law requiring the Recorder to open and keep a new set of books, in which all transfers and conveyances affecting titles shall be indexed according to the lawful description of the land (by section, township, range, &c.),—thus enabling every person of average intelligence to ascertain readily, by personal examination the condition of his title, or the title he proposes to buy. The plan contemplates one book for every township. In the city, it would probably be found necessary to have more than that numerical proportion.

The necessity of employing some competent person or persons to bring down these indexes from the original sale by the Government to the present time, would probably furnish a "fat job" for some conveyancer; but the great convenience and benefit to the citizens thereafter would probably compensate for the outlay. It is proposed, moreover, that the expense of this work shall be separately assessed, pro rata, upon each section of land; which would be most fair. After the indexes were once perfected to the present time, the cost of continuing them would be a mere trifle. One or two additional record-writers would be all-sufficient. Compared to the great convenience of such indexes to the public, the cost would be insignificant.

The Board of Supervisors promptly approved of the proposition to ask the Legislature to enact such a law for this county. Would it not be well to make it a general law, for all the counties in the State? At present, greater need is felt of such an improvement in the method of keeping the public records in this county than in any other; but the time of course will come when it will be felt everywhere. The sooner it shall be inaugurated, the less will be the cost of its inauguration. The obvious benefits, in the way of public convenience, seem so great that no doubt such a law would be received with popular favor all over the State.

The necessity of some such action was brought home to the Chicago people by a series of bold frauds in real estate transactions. Facts thus far brought to light justify a belief, on their part, that fully $2,000,000 have been stolen by means of fraudulent tax titles and forged deeds. The following appears to have been the modus operandi pursued: The swindler, or ring of swindlers, go to work, and, by some hocus pocus, obtain the deed to a piece of property belonging to the city. It may be forged by obtaining a blank deed, filling it up, and having it duly recorded by the City Clerk, or it may be secured through collusion with some dishonest city official. The title and the property having thus been obtained in some name extemporized for the occasion, taxes are allowed to accumulate on the property until it is sold. One of the ring bids it in, and when the apparent transfer is made it is duly recorded. The property is thus sold over and over again for taxes, in order to accumulate evidence of the apparent genuineness of the title, and finally is disposed of to a genuine purchaser. The Chicago authorities are confident that they have discovered that the city has thus been cheated out of eighty acres of valuable territory near Brighton; a large tract of property between Clark and La Salle streets, on which thirty-eight buildings now stand, and a very valuable tract of land near Palos. These three pieces of property are valued at $2,000,000, and it is believed that this is only a beginning of the exposures which will follow. Several estimable citizens of Chicago, including ROBERT, the promising son of President LINCOLN, are likely to be sufferers by these frauds, they having purchased building sites within the areas mentioned above.

This sharp practice, so successfully carried on through a series of years in Chicago, it is not impossible to suppose, has been resorted to by scoundrels in other cities.

This matter of new records, such as are proposed in Chicago, it would be well for Judge Connolly to introduce into New York. He would become deservedly popular, if he would only insure the titles of those who do business in good faith at his office.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The ensuing week being essentially a holiday week, will not offer anything remarkable in sales of real estate. No announcements of any importance have yet been made. The business of the past week has been unusually lively and extensive for the period. The "Exchange Sales-Rooms" have been almost daily crowded, the chief features of interest being the sales of the Morris Estate by Mr. James Miller; the continued sale of the Ogden tract by the Messrs. Blecker; and the sale, by order of the Supreme Court, of a part of the estate of Mr. Benjamin W. Bonney in Brooklyn, by Messrs. Johnson and Miller. The competition at each of these sales was very lively and the prices realized, in many instances, high. The value of real estate in New York and neighborhood continues high, and there appears but slight indication of its coming down. The Messrs. William and John O'Brien recently purchased the balance of the St. Thomas Church property, 26 feet 1 inch on Broadway, 104 feet on Mercer st., and 75 feet on Houston st. The Broadway front commences 51 feet 11 inches north of Houston st., the plot on the corner of Houston st. having been previously sold and improved. The price paid for this plot was $249,000, and $300,000 has, it is said, been bid for it.

At Hunter's Point much activity is manifested in real estate, and lots are meeting with ready sales at prices ranging from $300 to $3,000, according to location. Manufacturing, warehouses, stores, and dwellings are being rapidly put up. The building No. 309 Broad street, Newark, N. J., has been sold to Elihu Day for $35,000. A lot on Brunswick street, Newark, 25x75, realized $6,500. A plot thirty by ninety feet, on the corner of Market and Lawrence streets, Newark, N. J., has been disposed of for $12,500. The well known Beaver property in Warren and Washington streets, Newark, N. J., 40x150 feet in dimensions, has been sold for $12,500. These few instances show the improbability of any great decline in real estate at present. Other building sites are also looming up. The parties who purchased the site of the old Quarantine buildings at Tompkinsville, Staten Island, have a number of men at work laying out roads preparatory to selling building plots. The tract of land on Long Island known as "Hempstead Plains" is now being surveyed. The Board of Trustees intend to offer it for sale when the streets are laid out. This large tract of land, consisting of several hundred acres, with the exception of the part given by the town to the Queens County Agricultural Society, has been allowed to remain almost useless. Although it is not very fertile, it may be made useful both for agricultural and building purposes. It is thought the town will reserve a few acres for the enlargement of Greenfield Cemetery.

Owners of real estate in the neighborhood of Park place have been considerably exercised lately by the proposed extension of that thoroughfare to the river. The property holders and business men of Robinson street have offered some opposition, on the ground that the widening of the street will very materially lessen the dimensions of their business places, while the compensation they will receive will not more than pay the assessment. The late resolution of the Brooklyn Council relative to the appropriation for the building of the East River Bridge has also produced considerable speculation as to the probable effect such a connection between the two cities will have upon real estate. Already estimates of the possible value of property in the neighborhood have been made.

SALE OF THE MORRIS ESTATE.—This property, which is situated on the eastern side of the Central Avenue Grand Boulevard, just over the Harlem river, Westchester county, was sold by Mr. James Miller on Tuesday last. The eligibility of the property, its contiguity to New York, and the facility with which it can be reached, caused it to receive prominent attention from buyers, of whom very many were present at the sale. Some few speculators and those whose special business it is to keep up the already high value of real estate were also present. The bidding was lively and keen, and the prices realized were very good, ranging generally from $500 to $900 for lots 25x125. The maximum figure reached was $1,430, and the minimum for full lots, $650. Mr. Henry Bruner bought considerable, so also did Mr. Grosz. Mr. Fairchild was also a large buyer. The sale realized about $175,000.

MARKET REVIEW.

With one or two exceptions we find very little of interest to record in the various articles of merchandise noticed in this review. For all building materials the wholesale markets are about closed for the season, and the trade is now mostly in the hands of jobbers, who will, as usual, have things all their own way, until the opening of navigation in the spring brings forward fresh supplies. The majority of stocks are not remarkably large, but there will probably be enough to last the winter out, particularly as many builders hold a considerable quantity of goods in view of future contingencies.

BRICKS.—Although there is still a very good business doing in small parcels, the heavy demand of the past two or three weeks appears to have in a great measure subsided, and the market presents a less animated tone. Holders, however, retain all the advantage, in view of the constant drain made upon the winter supplies, against which there has been no important counteracting arrivals. Nothing could be looked for from the North River, as a matter of course, while such cargoes as have been enabled to work through from the New Jersey yards and other points of production in this vicinity, were not enough to afford any sensible relief. Inferior lots of common hard are just a trifle irregular, and not over and above active, but all good to prime lots are fully sustained, up to the present writing, and readily command outside figures. Indeed in a small way sales have been made at 50c. @ $1.00 per M. above our rates, but advanced prices are not fully established on parcels large enough to fix the market. The whole range of quotations may be placed at $11.00 @ $15.00, with most of the sales at about $14.00 @ $14.50 per M. Croton fronts moderately active and steady at $23.00 @ $25.00 per M. Philadelphia fronts $45.00 @ $50.00 per M.

CEMENT.—Not only are all the companies now destitute of stock, but many in order to fill out contracts find it necessary to re-purchase from jobbers at an advance. This, in connection with a continued good trade demand, gives our city dealers an immense advantage, and prices still show a strong upward tendency, a further advance of at least 25c. per bbl. having been established since our last. At the close there is a trifle less activity, but a firm tone. We quote at $2.50 per bbl. on wholesale lots, and $2.60 @ $2.75 in a retail way. Shipments to San Francisco of 2,101 bbls.

FOREIGN WOODS.—There is one or two lots of cedar on the market, of pretty good quality, but the extravagant views of holders prevent free operations, and, in fact, almost check business. No important change in the position can be looked for, however, until the settlement of the political troubles in Cuba gives hopes of more liberal supplies, or the necessities of buyers compel them to pay the rates asked. Mahogany has been in moderate request, both on local and foreign account, exports being somewhat checked by the scarcity of proper freight accommodations. Receipts are pretty liberal, and with a well-assorted and well-distributed stock, buyers are enabled to operate on comparatively easy terms. No exports reported. The receipts are as follows: From Carthage 27 tons timber, and 12 tons fancy wood; from Havre 31,100 pieces sandal wood; from Ponce, P. R., 10 tons lignum vitae; from Manzanilla 85 logs cedar, and 1,496 pieces granadilla wood; from Para 57 logs mahogany, 27 logs cedar; from Port-au-Platt 100 tons lignum vitae, and 25 crotches mahogany; from Santa Cruz 240 pieces cedar; from Minatitlan 295 logs mahogany, and 25 tons cedar; and from Rio Janeiro 739 logs rosewood.

GLASS.—For foreign window glass the demand in the aggregate is only fair and for ordinary assortments we note some little irregularity, sellers arranging their prices to conform to the status of customers, first class buyers frequently obtaining comparatively liberal favors. For special sizes, however, the feeling is strong, and none are offered except at extreme rates. We quote French at 40 @ 50 per cent. discount; and English 35 @ 40 per cent. do.

LATH.—We again find a very fair amount of business reported, not because there has been a good demand, but simply because receivers have forced off every thing coming in, in order to prevent the necessity of piling out stock at this season of the year. Values of course have continued in buyers' favor, and all large cargo sales have been made at $2.90, or thereabouts, our local dealers, who have taken most of the lots sold, considering this figure low enough to induce them to hunt up storage room for a few more lath. Some small desirable cargoes brought $3.00, and jobbing lots from dealers' hands $3.25 @ $3.50 per M. The stock now here is large, but it is predicted that all will be required, and that spring will open on a depleted market and a lively call for lath. Sales of the week, 3,250,000 at $2.90 @ $3.00 per M.

LIME.—There is absolutely nothing new in this market. Very few cargoes have arrived, and the small supply has been placed by receivers without much difficulty, as dealers find the consumptive demand active enough to warrant them in keeping storage room pretty well filled. As to values no advantage appears to have been gained by either buyer or seller, and quotations on Rockland still stand at $1.60 per bbl. for common, and $2.00 do. for lump.

LUMBER.—There is a decided want of activity in the retail market this week, nor is it reasonable to expect any renewal of trade until after the holiday season has passed. Values in all cases are quoted as before, and dealers generally appear to talk as confidently as early in the fall. Stocks have not been broken into as yet to any extent, but they will probably begin to diminish soon after the opening of the new year. The wholesale market has been too scantily supplied to admit of much activity, but such cargoes as came in found pretty quick sale at about former rates. Exporters still hold off, and refuse to take any goods unless the quality is unusually fine, and the rates demanded are such as will admit of the purchases being held until a favorable opportunity occurs for shipment. Even then only small lots are wanted, one or two large invoices now going abroad having been contracted for early in the season. Local dealers, however, seem a little more inclined to operate; enough so at least to enable sellers to dispose of their specifications without any protracted negotiations. Eastern spruce has arrived a little more freely, but a large proportion was previously sold, and the balance went immediately into the hands of the trade. Prices have ruled quite strong, and on the whole may be written a trifle higher, closing however a little nominal in the absence of a supply. The quick sale of timber is accounted for in a great measure by the fact that many dealers have refrained from stocking up in full, hopeful that a large accumulation of cargoes at the end of the season would enable them to take advantage of the natural anxiety of receivers to close out, and buy at fair figures. As no such accumulation occurred, however, and the market is now almost bare of stock, either on the spot or to arrive, there is considerable competition to secure the few desirable to be found, and extreme figures are readily paid. We quote at $18.00 @ $20.50 for fair to good; $21.00 @ $22.00 per M. for prime to choice schedules. White pine is dull, both on local and shipping account; but as the sales now making, be they ever so small, all add to the reduction of stock, holders remain firm at full previous rates. We quote at $21.00 @ $25.00 for inferior to fair box boards; $26.00 @ $30.00 for good to prime do., and $31.00 for very choice do. Pickets are in ample supply for all demands, and without any fixed value, though buyers would probably experience no difficulty in operating at about $9 for 3/4 inch, and $17 @ $18 for large size. Piling is not very active, but with moderate supplies is firmly held at 7c. @ 8c. per foot for the ordinary run of stock, and 9c. for extra heavy and long sticks. In yellow pine there has been quite a little movement, embracing all the principal lots in first hands, and one or two cargoes to arrive. Some accumulation of supplies and a desire on the part of holders to realize enabled buyers to gain some trifling advantages, but the market has again strengthened up and closes steady at previous rates. We quote at $30.00 @ $32.50 for scantling, etc., $33 @ $34 for common, and $35 @ $36 for good flooring boards. Black walnut in fair demand and firm. Black walnut logs are dull and somewhat nominal at 7 1/2c. per foot. Cypress shingles are neglected and prices weak at $16 @ $20 per M. according to size. Pine saved shingles quiet at $4.75 @ $5.00 per M. We learn of sales of 430,000 feet Eastern spruce at $19.00 @ $21.50 per M.; 155,000 feet white pine at $25 @ $29 per M.; 400,000 feet yellow pine at 37 1/2c. per cubic foot for hewn timber; $32.50 @ $34.00 per M. for sawed do.; $35 @ $36 for flooring; 350,000 feet yellow pine timber to arrive at $32; and small lots pine shingles at $1.75 per M.

REAL ESTATE RECORD

ADVERTISERS would do well to bear in mind that the REAL ESTATE RECORD circulates among, and is the organ of, the following important classes of the community:

Real estate agents and owners.
Builders, masons, and carpenters.
Dealers in building material.

All lawyers who have anything to do with real estate or evidences of debt.

Lumber merchants, dealers in stone, brick, etc.

A list of our specialties will show how indispensable is the RECORD to these important interests.

1. Our Judgment list, which we publish exclusively, is of the first importance to lawyers, bankers, merchants, and is useful to all traders.

2. Our Mechanics' Liens, also exclusive with us, are something no builder can do without: he must know what is already against the property upon which he is called to make advances. Our list of projected buildings also is something which every builder, carpenter, architect, and mason must see weekly, or else lag in the rear of his neighbors.

3. Our market reports, the most complete of the kind published anywhere, reaches an immense circle of important interests—lumber merchants, brick-dealers, stone-workers, paints and oils, window glass, etc. Our wonderfully complete lumber report alone is now indispensable to every one in the trade.

4. The official conveyances of real estate, with the names of grantor and grantee—the location of house as well as description—all of which are given more completely in the RECORD than in any other journal, makes this paper a necessity to every large property holder.

5. Our list of new mortgages, also exclusive with us, is of the greatest interest to money lenders, including banks, insurance officers, not brokers—as well as real estate agents and owners.

This exhibit gives the reason for the remarkable circulation of the RECORD among the very wealthiest classes in the community. By and by advertisers, especially real estate dealers, will discover how valuable our columns may be to them. A word to the wise, etc.

THE Albany papers are very slow concerns. The Argus, the only one which did it, has stopped giving the weekly lumber report which we copied. Now this is an immense interest, both to Albany and New York, and it is disgraceful that the Albany papers do not realize its value. When our arrangements are perfected, we propose to give the Albany prices from our own correspondents.

THE BROOKLYN BRIDGE.

THE Common Council of the city of Brooklyn have voted to take $3,000,000 of the company's stock for the purpose of building a bridge between the cities of New York and Brooklyn. On Tuesday last the Common Council of the city of New York adopted the ordinance authorizing a subscription of $1,500,000 for the same purpose. These amounts, respectively subscribed by the two cities, insure the success of the project. The cost of the entire structure, including everything, is estimated at $8,000,000. The citizens of New York and Brooklyn, and those who are interested particularly in the enhancement of their property, will, without doubt, subscribe the amount necessary to complete the work. The population of Brooklyn has doubled within the last ten years, and has done so for thirty years past. Should the present ratio of growth keep on, its population in another ten years will equal that of New York city at the present time.

The suspending towers on which the bridge mainly rests, will be of stone. That on the Brooklyn side will be built in the river, near the shore, at the north end of the depot of the Fulton Ferry. The New York tower will be erected at the end of Pier No. 29, filling most of the space between Roosevelt street Ferry and Pier No. 28. The cables which pass over the towers, and upon which the bridge hangs, are "anchored" at two structures of solid masonry, between the starting-point of the bridge on each side and the towers. The anchor walls in Brooklyn cover the alley known as James street, between Fulton, York, and Main streets. The anchor walls in New York are on the north side of Dover street, between Cherry and Water streets. The roadway of the bridge starts at the foot of Sands street, Brooklyn, runs for a little way parallel to the easterly side of Fulton street, taking off half the block there fronting on Sands and Fulton, down to the head of Main street, where it turns to the left and starts on an air-line toward the new Court House in New York city. The total length between the termini at Sands street, Brooklyn, and Chatham street, New York, is 3,862 feet. The New York approach is 1,441 feet in length, on an ascending grade of 3 44-100 feet to every 100 feet of distance until it reaches the tower. The length of the Brooklyn approach is 941 feet, on an ascending grade of 1 87-100 feet to every 100 feet of distance, until it reaches the tower. Between the towers the roadway would appear, at a casual glance, to be level; but it is 15 feet higher in the centre than at the towers. The deflection of the cables below the summits of the towers is, in summer, 130 feet. The elevation of the grade in the centre of the span, in summer, is 133 feet above high tide. The elevation of the floor at the New York terminus is 36 feet, at the Brooklyn terminus 63 feet.

The roadway of the bridge is 80 feet wide, has but one floor, and has two broadways for common travel, each on the outer edge of the bridge, and 15 feet wide, including the sides walk; between these are two passenger transits, each 13 feet wide, for cars propelled by an endless wire gauge and stationary engine; between these and in the centre of the bridge is one elevated promenade, 15 feet wide, for such foot passengers as do not take either of the side-walks in the two broadways before mentioned.

The days of ferry boats for carrying passengers between Brooklyn and New York are numbered. Let every one interested give a helping hand to the bridge, and a kick to the ferries.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—Dealers as a general thing do not report any heavy orders, but the consumptive demand for job parcels continues unusually active for the season, and is slowly, but surely, exhausting the rather limited accumulation of supplies. As we have previously noted, many retailers distributed their receipts with such rapidity that they were unable to store anything like the usual quantity of brick before the closing of the river, and now those who are lucky enough to have any stock on hand are reaping a rich harvest. Prices have been materially advanced on all grades, reaching about as high a point as ever before known; but as present extreme values tend to restrict the operations of buyers, it is thought a further improvement will not be attempted by holders for the present. In the way of common hards, the very poorest cannot now be bought below $13.00 per thousand, and from this values run up to $16.00 for prime North River, and small parcels at $17.00@18.00. The arrivals of stock from Long Island and the New Jersey yards have shown a slight increase, but all the cargoes thus far received have been quickly disposed of, and unless the demand very sensibly subsides, it will require much heavier receipts to affect our market. Should the ice not offer too many impediments to navigation a fair supply may be anticipated from Jersey, manufacturers having piled up considerable stock. The quality thus far has proved very good. Pale brick are in steady request at better rates, the sales being largely to the suburban towns, where they are used for filling in, &c.; values range at $10.00@11.00, mostly at outside figure. Fronts of all kinds are selling well in small lots at full former rates. With the opening of trade last spring, it was generally supposed that the price of brick would work down to a lower level as the year advanced; but contrary to expectations, and notwithstanding the difficulties attendant upon the strike of the journeymen masons, building operations have been so active and so continuous owing to the comparatively open weather at this point, that the market has shown no permanent depression, and the year winds up at the very high figures noted above. Indeed so successful has the season proved to manufacturers, that all now engaged in the business intend resuming the production next spring to their fullest capacity, and a great many new yards will go into operation.

CEMENT.—There has probably been less call for large parcels during the past week, a majority of contracts being now filled, but the local consumptive demand continues very active, and dealers are turning out on jobbing orders a goodly amount of stock. Prices of course hold their own, and though not quotably higher, show some buoyancy, particularly on choice, desirable brands. We quote $2.50 per bbl. up to $2.75, according to quantity, delivery, &c.

FOREIGN WOODS.—For mahogany the market is reported as moderately active, the demand being principally for small parcels on local manufacturing account, with an occasional jobbing order for interior or coastwise service. Prices are a little irregular, but on the general range no alteration has occurred, and previous quotations are still current. The receipts continue fair, and the stock in the hands of both importers and dealers is ample for all immediate wants. The great bulk of the desirable cedar here is still held at about 25c. per foot, but there has been nothing sold of late, and values are to a great extent nominal. The very high prices now current in this market is having the effect to draw out a considerable amount of stock, one lot even coming in from Liverpool, and our supplies have lately materially increased. This rather encourages buyers, and they are hopeful that holders will soon be forced to realize, and as a consequence modify their views somewhat. No exports from this port, but from Baltimore to Liverpool we note 157 logs ignum vite. The receipts are as follows: From Nuevitas, 352 logs cedar, and 62 logs mahogany; and from Liverpool 68 logs cedar.

GLASS.—There is but little of interest to advise in this market. All the small and desirable sizes when selected out are very firm, and command extreme rates, as they are too scarce to warrant dealers in parting with them freely, except on a good profitable margin; but ordinary assortments and large grades are not much sought after, and can be bought on comparatively easy terms. French is quoted at 40@50 per cent., and English 35@40 per cent. discount.

LABOR.—We hear of nothing of special interest in this department. The supply of skilled labor is in most cases ample for present demands, mechanics generally obtaining fair wages for their work, and accepting the same willingly. It appears to be understood, however, that in the spring a strong effort will be made to force concessions from employers, and some trouble is anticipated. Committees from the late National Labor Union have assembled in Washington to discuss and prepare bills for the consideration of Congress, urging the enforcement of the eight-hour law, and also recommending the establishment of a Department of Industry. The New York Workingmen's Assembly will also meet at Albany on the 4th instant, and endeavor to influence the Legislature to make the eight-hour law more binding, and to repeal the Conspiracy law in reference to strikes.

LATH.—The season for cargo sales of lath may be considered as about over, and though a few odd lots occasionally come in, they do not amount to enough in the aggregate to have any perceptible effect pro or con. During the past week only a few small sales have been reported, at figures ranging from $2.90 to $3.10, or an average of about $3.00 per M. Dealers are doing a pretty good jobbing business, though nothing unusual for the season, and former values are still current, the quoted rates being $3.25@3.50 per M., and even a little higher, according to quality, quantity, mode of delivery, etc.

LIME.—A few cargoes of Rockland have arrived during the past week, and though the majority of dealers have enough stock for present wants, all the offerings were sold out and, nothing now remains afloat awaiting buyers. Some few parcels are yet to come forward, but no more probably than will be wanted, and a uniform market is anticipated for some little time to come. Just at the moment there is a slight lull in the consumptive demand, though jobbers generally appear satisfied that trade will continue fair throughout the greater portion of the winter.

LUMBER.—At the yards throughout the city we again find but little animation, the bulk of the business doing being on small local orders for manufacturing purposes, buyers taking no more stock than absolute necessities call for. Prices remain steady on all styles of goods, and the general tone of the market is quite strong. In fact, many dealers talk with more confidence than ever, and are predicting considerable activity after the middle of the present month. The wholesale market remains in much the same position as before noted, and we find very few alterations necessary in quotations. The demand is not by any means active, and any heavy accumulation of supplies would undoubtedly give buyers a very decided advantage, but this is a state of affairs hardly to be anticipated at this late season, and the few arrivals are worked off without much difficulty. Exporters are occasionally to be found picking up small lots to fill up unengaged freight room, or negotiating on larger parcels for direct shipment; but receivers look for customers, principally among our local dealers, who are in want of stock to complete assortments or to fill up depleted storage room. Of Eastern spruce we note the arrival of a few late cargoes from Maine ports, most of which have presented schedules sufficiently desirable to insure an early sale at full former figures; in fact very choice have slightly exceeded our last quotations. There is, however, still an occasional bill of very poor stuff, the remnants generally from the mills, and these have to be sold at low prices. A few dealers waiting until the last moment for a decline that has not taken place, are still short of lumber, while here and there is one who has found trade enough to work off early purchases and make room for fresh supplies, and these two classes of buyers combined, afford an ample outlet for stock now coming forward. We quote at $18.00 per M. for very inferior to $21.00 for good; and $21.50 for prime random cargoes, to $22.50 for selected cargoes, choice lengths, &c. White pine continues to move slowly, but for the season the trade may be called fair and the general tone of the market strong. Among dealers generally, there appears to be a growing confidence in this style of lumber, as each year adds to the cost of production, and few, if any, are willing to place desirable assortments on the market, except at full figures. The cost now at the mills is nearly, if not quite, equal to values current here some six or seven years ago, and as each season carries the loggers further into the forest, and away from means of running their logs with freedom, prices will be enhanced. We quote at $21.00@25.00 for inferior to fair box boards; $26.00@30.00 for good to prime do.; and $31.00 for very choice do. Pickets are merely a nominal article at present, holders of the few lots here being unable to even obtain a bid. According to latest sales the rates are about $3.50@9.00 for small size, and $17.00 for large. Piling continues scarce and is quite steady at 7c.@8c. per foot for average sizes, and 9c. for extra, though selling at present only in small odd lots. Yellow pine has been fairly active, but the general demand is hardly so brisk as last week, the immediate wants of buyers having become pretty well supplied. Prices are a "little shaky," though without any important decline, as current figures barely give sellers a margin, and are not likely to undergo much depression unless an unexpected accumulation of stock should take place. We quote at $30.00@34.00 for timber; and $35.00@37.00 for good to prime flooring. Black walnut logs are quiet at about 7@7½c. per foot. Cypress shingles continue very dull and are still quoted nominally at $16.00@20.00 per M. according to size. Pine sawed shingles remain dull at $4.50@5.00 per M. The only transactions we learn of include 200,000 feet Eastern spruce at $20.00@21.50; small lots white pine at $27.00@30.00; and 300,000 feet yellow pine at $34.00 for timber and $36.00 for flooring.

The exports for this week foot up pretty heavy, and as with the present number we close the export table for the year, we add in the general aggregate several parcels previously omitted, making the grand total of shipments to all ports since April 1st, 1868, from whence our figures are dated, 22,331,462 feet, valued at $966,347.

We also note shipments of 54,000 laths to British Australia; 22,000 shingles to Hayti; 3,000 staves to Antwerp; 5,000 do. to Rotterdam; 7,200 do. to London; 8,000 do. to Gibraltar; 1,200 do. to British Australia; 9,600 do. to Marseilles; 79,800 do. to Barcelona; 61,480 do. to Seville; 96,750 do. to Malaga; 93,310 do. to Cadiz; 3,000 do., and 980 plank to San Francisco. From other points we notice exports as follows:—From Boston to Bombay 47,233 feet lumber; to Flores 49,718 feet; to Curapoa 314 feet do.; to Hayti 41,827 feet do., and 38,719 feet scantling; and to British Provinces 480 feet black walnut. From New Orleans to Liverpool 1,300 staves; to Bremen 1,200 do.; to Havre 5,400 do., and to Auday 1,600 do. From Mobile to Barcelona 4,816 feet lumber, and 1,000 staves. From Wilmington to Barbados 185,239 feet lumber. From Baltimore to Porto Rico 175,000 feet lumber, and to San Andreas 5,200 feet do. From Savannah to Queenstown 405,202 feet P. P. timber and 23,536 feet P. P. plank. The receipts reported at this port are as follows:—From St. John, N. B., 53,315 pickets and 408,900 laths; from Jacksonville 305,000 feet lumber; from Savannah 200,000 feet do.; and from Wilmington 18,848 feet do.

The Western markets are all closed, and lumbermen engaged in balancing accounts, visiting the camps, and making necessary preparations for the spring trade.

During the past season the total amount of logs scaled by the Surveyor General in the St. Croix, Minn., valley, was 120,000,000. There were sawed in the valley last season 41,451,876 feet of lumber, 9,538,504 lath and 9,595,244 shingles. There are twenty-two streams tributary to the St. Croix on which logging is done, varying in distance from Stillwater from 20 to 175 miles. One firm is logging on six streams, and expect to cut between 26,000,000 and 27,000,000. To do this will require between 400 and 500 men and 250 oxen and horses. The logs to be cut during the winter are estimated at from 125,000,000 to 150,000,000. This is about fifty per cent. greater than that of the season just closed.

A few of the Eastern ports are still open and an occasional cargo made up and shipped down the coast, but there is no general activity, and the markets are reported very dull. Our figures are revised according to latest advices, but must be looked upon as in a great measure nominal.

The Southern markets in a majority of cases remain quite firm, and business is active enough to keep most of the mills running pretty regularly. The demand at present is mostly to fill coastwise and South American orders, the West India trade calling for only small job lots. Vessels are plenty, and freight charges comparatively reasonable. The stock of timber was fair, though not abundant, and more could be worked up to advantage.

Savannah prices are as follows:

Timber $5@12 per M. feet for mill timber, $10@15 for small shipping do., and $14@20 for large do. Lumber $20@22 for ordinary sizes; $25@30 for difficult sizes, and $22@23 for flooring.

Mobile rates are as follows:

Pine lumber $16 per M. for large lots; flooring, seasoned, $25; cypress, $35 per M.; shingles, cypress split, $4@5 per M.

Charleston prices remain as follows: Steam sawed $5.00 @ $30.00 per M.; boards and scantling, $24.00 @ $25.00 per M.; flooring boards $35.00@38.00, mill timber, $6.00@8.00; and shipping, $11.00@12.00.

The latest report of prices by the Pensacola Lumber Co. is as follows:

Lumber.—Boards 1x12 inches and upwards merchantable, $14 to $15 per M.

Flooring, 1½x4 to 6, $15 to $17 per M.

" dressed, 25 to 27 " "

Ceiling, 7½, dressed, $24 to $25 per M.

Planks, 1½x10 and upwards, $15 to $17 per M.

" 1½x2 " 15 to 17 " "

Scantling, 2x4 to 8x10, 16 to 80 feet long, $15 to $17 per M.

Timber.—17 to 80 cubic feet average, 12 to 14 cents per cubic foot.
80 to 90, 13 to 15 cents per foot.
90 to 100 and upwards, 14 cents and upwards.

METALS.—Copper sheathing shows no important variation. The inquiry at the moment is very light and confined entirely to retail parcels, scarcely making an impression on the stock, and dealers generally appear content to accept about previous rates. We quote at 38c. for new, and 20c. @ 21c. for old. Yellow metal quiet and former values current, closing at 26c. Scotch pig iron still rules very quiet, the sales for the week embracing only a few hundred tons, mostly in small retail parcels, as required by consumers for immediate necessities. Prices are somewhat heavy and irregular, though no very decided decline has been established, and the general range may still be placed at about \$40 @ \$42 per ton, with an occasional small parcel, choice grade, reaching \$42.50 do. American pig iron is quoted at former figures, but as there is scarcely enough business doing to establish values, rates are to a great extent nominal. The general supply is pretty liberal for the season, and, with no outlet for stock, the tightness of the money market makes holders a little anxious, and we note some disposition to force sales, which if attempted under the ruling state of affairs must result in a decline. We quote at about \$40 @ \$41 per ton for No. 1; \$37 @ \$38 do. for No. 2; and \$33 @ \$34 do. for No. 3. Bar iron from store is entirely devoid of animation and prices nominally unchanged. We quote at \$90 per ton for common American and English bar; \$95.00 @ 100 do. for refined do.; \$155 for Swedes, ordinary sizes; scroll \$130 @ \$175 per ton; oval and half-round \$125 @ \$155 do.; and rods $\frac{1}{2}$ @ 3-16 inch \$105 @ 165 do. Common sheet iron continues to move very slowly, and the market is without features of interest. Quotations unchanged and range at 5c. @ 7c. for singles, doubles and trebles. Russia sheet is in moderate request, mostly on local account, and rules steady at 10c. @ 11c. gold, according to number. Pig lead has again quieted down, and we hear of only a few retail transactions, with manufacturers buying to complete orders. Prices sustained at 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ @ 6 $\frac{3}{4}$ c. gold. Bar lead 10c. and sheet and pipe 12c. less 6 per cent. to the trade. Tin in slabs was quiet early in the week, but latterly the demand has again improved materially and prices on all grades show a decided advance, closing firm, with very little stock offering. We quote in coin at 27 $\frac{1}{2}$ c. for English; 28 $\frac{1}{2}$ c. @ 29c. for Straits, and 30 $\frac{1}{2}$ @ 31c. for Banca. Tin plates are selling slowly, but the tone of the market is buoyant in view of an advance in England, and the concentration of the stock now here. Zinc is not in sufficient supply to meet the very good prevailing demand, and lots from store are strong at 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ @ 13 $\frac{1}{4}$ c. The latest imports are 57 tons iron hoop, 1,300 tons pig iron, 9,140 railroad bars, 79 tons sheet iron, 3,840 iron tubes, 3,525 pigs of lead, 19,176 boxes tin, and 73,571 lbs. zinc.

NAILS.—Cut nails have been rather more active on foreign account, but sell slowly to the home trade. Agents seem a little disposed to make easier terms on large cash orders, but not enough so to materially affect the market, and previous figures are retained. We quote wholesale parcels at 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ c. and retail do. 5 $\frac{3}{4}$ c. @ 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ c. Clinch are in moderate request and steady at 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ @ 7c. as to quantity, &c. Finishing nails remain nominally at about 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ @ 5 $\frac{3}{4}$ c. for 6d., 8d., 10d., and 12d.; 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ @ 5 $\frac{3}{4}$ c. for 5d. and 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ @ 6 $\frac{3}{4}$ c. for 4d. Other kinds steady at 18c. for zinc; 26c. for yellow metal, and 40c. for copper. The exports are 371 packages, valued at \$2,579, against 117 packages, valued at \$693, same time last week. Shipments also to San Francisco of 1,100 packages.

PAINTS AND OILS.—The market for paints, etc., continues very dull in all departments, the sole business reported by dealers embracing only small jobs lots, as wanted by retailers to keep up assortments, or to meet a few pressing necessities. China clay is a little higher than we have hitherto quoted, and English Venetian red is slightly reduced, but otherwise figures are unchanged, and the feeling quite uniform. White leads as a rule are selling slowly, though the new brand of "Bartlett" steadily grow in favor, and an order for fifteen tons has been filled for the English market. Glues are dull, but held at previous figures, particularly prime foreign, of which the assortment continues small. Linseed oil has met with considerable inquiry, both on the spot and for future delivery; but at the present writing the market is a little dull and the sales mostly of a jobbing character. Throughout the week full former rates were realized, and dealers generally appear confident that any changes in values will be in their favor. The general supply is fair. We quote at 95c. @ $1.00 in casks; and $1.00 @ $1.02 in bbls., with retail rates in proportion. The exports for week are 315 pkgs. paint; and 220 gallons linseed oil.

PITCH.—The demand has been moderate and the general market quite dull, though, with light arrivals, enough has been sold to prevent any accumulation of supplies. The trade doing is mostly of a domestic character, exporters holding only small orders. Prices are unchanged, and good to prime grades quite steady. We quote at \$2.15 @ \$2.81 $\frac{1}{2}$ per bbl. for inferior and common; \$3.00 for prime City, and \$3.06 $\frac{1}{2}$ @ \$3.12 $\frac{1}{2}$ for choice retail parcels. Receipts for the week 103 bbls. Exports for week 70 bbls. Since January 1st, 3,703 bbls., and for same period last year 4,643 bbls.

PLASTER PARIS.—No trade of any importance is taking place, in fact the usual buyers have all the supply they require for the present, and the market is at a stand. A little stock could be obtained if required, and would probably be contracted for at about previous rates, but values for the present are uncertain. Calced is rather dull, at former prices, though on large orders from reliable parties manufacturers would not be adverse to making some slight modifications.

SLATE.—A small amount of stock is still leaving the yards, and, considering the lateness of the season, business hangs on very well. The selections as heretofore are made mostly from the fine and fancy colored slates, though latterly one or two small lots of common black have been worked off. Prices are unsettled, and regulated in a great measure by the quantity and style taken, terms of payment, &c., though sharp buyers generally gain the most advantage.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The general demand during the week has been very moderate and almost exclusively to supply the current wants of the local trade. Business, however, has been active enough to about balance the unusually light supply, and sellers have sustained previous figures without much difficulty, the market closing strong with rather an indifferent feeling about operating on the part of holders. It is anticipated that the supply will run moderate for some time to come. We quote at 45 $\frac{1}{2}$ @ 46c. merchantable and shipping order; 46 $\frac{1}{2}$ for New York bbls., and 47 $\frac{1}{2}$ @ 48 $\frac{1}{2}$ c. for jobbing lots. Receipts for week 198 bbls. Exports for week 179 bbls. Since January 1st, 19,011 bbls., and for same period last year 28,512 barrels.

TAR.—The market remains remarkably dull for all grades, and with continued fair arrivals the stock is gradually augmenting. Parcels from yard are realizing about former figures owing to the small amounts called for, but from vessels side receivers are willing to make some slight modifications. We quote somewhat nominally at \$2.50 @ \$2.75 per bbl. for North County; \$2.87 $\frac{1}{2}$ @ 3.37 $\frac{1}{2}$ for Wilmington as it runs, and \$3.50 @ \$3.75 for choice selected thin delivered. Receipts for week 889 bbls. Exports for week 90 bbls. Since January 1st, 9,341 bbls., and for same period last year 4,154 bbls.

BROOKLYN IMPROVEMENTS.

BROOKLYN is making rapid strides in its attempts to excel its elder sister, New York. During the past year three thousand three hundred and seven buildings were erected. Of these, however, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen were frame. Although the greater number of the frame buildings were erected in the wards farthest removed from the lower portion of Brooklyn, it can only be considered a short-sighted policy to erect such houses in a city or locality that must in but a few years cover, not only that portion where such buildings have been erected, but considerably beyond it. Many of the other buildings are large and handsome stores, warehouses, and public edifices; while several large manufactories have also been erected. During the year, also, four miles of streets have been completed, and nineteen miles of streets are now under contract. Brooklyn already covers twenty-five square miles, and if its improvements are not by any unforeseen contingency nipped in the bud, it may soon be able to put forth its claim to be called the "modern Babylon," in place of the "City of Churches."

The improvements in Brooklyn, however, are not confined to the erection of dwelling-houses alone. The removal of manufactories to South Brooklyn, at first but an experiment attempted only by a few, has proved so successful that many other similar establishments are projected. The improvements at Greenpoint will also, in all probability, divert much commerce to that portion of Long Island. It is intended excavating an immense basin and building docks at the mouth of Bushwick Creek, which shall exceed in extent and accommodations those of the Atlantic Basin. Gowanus Bay is also spoken of as being the next place where the advance of improvement will change what is at present all but useless, into a busy mart teeming with life and commerce.

While Brooklyn is thus looking after the comforts of its inhabitants in pleasant dwellings, and the material improvement of its trade in providing suitable dockage for commercial purposes, it also has an eye to the embellishment of the city. A bill has been introduced providing for the enlargement of Prospect Park, which already begins to assume the appearance of a most inviting and picturesque retreat; and if the projectors are successful in carrying the bill through, the Park will be a delightful "prospect" indeed. The construction of the proposed bridge across the East River presents such obvious advantages to Brooklyn as to render it unnecessary to dwell upon the matter.

Brooklyn commences the year with bright prospects, and although some complaints are heard about the increase in taxation, and the continued high rents, there is every reason to believe that the year now entered upon will prove an unusually prosperous one for the sister city in real estate matters, as, we may hope, in all others.

NEED OF MORE BRIDGES.

THIS is an era of bridges. Almost every mail brings in accounts of new projects for spanning streams of water. A few years since, there was a great lawsuit over the proposed bridge at Albany, but that contest settled the question legally, that any structure which did not prevent navigation could not be inhibited. Since then bridge schemes have swarmed. Already the Ohio is spanned at several points; the Cincinnatians are about erecting a second structure to the opposite shore; the new bridge opposite Louisville will be ready early next fall. The Mississippi now boasts several splendid bridges, and more are being erected.

The traveller on the Hudson will in a few years see that noble stream spanned by splendid bridges. The bridge at St. Anthony's Nose is under way. A charter has been granted for a bridge from Fort Lee to Fort Washington, and the necessities of commerce will in a few years compel the building of several railroad bridges from the New York to the Jersey shore.

New York city has a great advantage in having an island for a site, but this fact in these railroading times has also its disadvantages. It will not do for our capitalists to allow the Jersey shore to be built up at the expense of the metropolis. We must annex our neighbors over the water, not by one bridge alone but by several. It is behind the age for our people to be depending upon old-fashioned ferry-boats. Bridges such as we forecast will not only help to build up the commerce of the metropolis; they will also help to people the wastes of Jersey. This island is to be the great mart or exchange, but railroad facilities will enable our people to spread themselves in every direction.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The short period of dulness which has characterized the Real Estate market of late bids fair to be disturbed, as already several of our auctioneers have given notice of intended sales for the coming week. We look for a very active season, and a good market from this time forward. Some of our Brooklyn friends are soon coming forward, and they expect to make New York ring with their echoes. As the prospect looks well now for the building of the bridge, and as there is really a large amount of good property in Brooklyn, with plenty of margin for an advance, some good bargains will be secured this spring.

Messrs. JOHNSON & MILLER commenced the real estate business on the 1st of November, 1866, and disposed, at public and private sale, during a single year, of property amounting in value to $1,000,000. Last year their public and private sales reached $4,200,087.50. The sales of Messrs. E. H. Ludlow & Co. for the past six months, ending June 31st, amount to $8,994,047; for the six months ending December 31st, the sales foot up $6,177,315, making a total of $15, 171,362.

Messrs. MILLER, WILKINS & Co. will sell on January 20th, the entire block bounded by 9th and 10th avenues, 5th and 58th street, comprising 64 lots. This is a very valuable property, and should realize a handsome price.

SALES.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 5.—By JOHNSON & MILLER.—One lot on Warren st., n. s., opposite Prospect Park, 20x131; $2,375; one lot adjoining, same size, $2,375; one small gore piece near the above, and fronting on Warren st., 7.9x4.3x8, $150; two lots on Sackett st., and two lots adjoining on Degraw st., near Classon av., 25x131 each, $1,700; seven lots on Wyckoff st., n. s., near Classon av., 21.6x half the block, each $900; five lots on 45th st., bet. 7th and 8th avs., all 20x100.2, each $160; five lots adjoining, same size, each $160; three lots adjoining, same size, each $150.

By JAMES M. MILLER.—One house and lot, No. 13 E. 12th st., 275 feet from 5th av., 25x126.9. Sold to Mr. Harndenburg for $22,500, under the direction of John H. Has- kin. Referee; house and lot, No. 19, W. 31st st., 300 w. 5th av., 25x95.6. Sold to Capt. Benj. Fairchild for $27,050, under the direction of David Hawley, Referee.

By JOSEPH M'GUTHRIE.—One 3 story high-stoop b. s. house, with lot, situated on the north side of 41st st., 133.4 e. 2d av.; sold to Ann Cochran for $11,910.

By THOMAS VEITCH.—One house and lot, near the centre of the block, on the east of 11th av., bet. 45th and 49th sts.; sold to P. Tracy for $2,950; one lot s. 45th st., 150 ft. from 11th av.; sold to Mr. Lippman for $1,150.

By JAMES M. MILLER.—One house and lot, n. s. 42d st., 325 w. 11th av., 22x100; sold to Leonard Appleby for $1,000 over and above a mortgage of $55,000, also the taxes.

The transfers of real estate for the month of December foot up, in round numbers, $15,046,233, and the amount of mortgages recorded for the same period amount to $6,544,610, showing a difference of $8,501,523.

The recorded transfers for Brooklyn for the same period, amount to $4,038,420.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—The depletion of the stock has been partially checked during the past week by more liberal arrivals from the New Jersey yards, the comparatively open weather affording vessels a better opportunity for forcing their way through the ice, and in some cases dealers have been enabled to accumulate some little supply to meet future calls. The additions to the general aggregate in first hands are not very heavy to be sure, but still they are enough to afford some relief, and have thus far prevented any further advance above the already extravagantly high range of values. There is still a very fair trade reported in small job lots, but as we predicted in our last, current values generate a feeling of great caution on the part of buyers, and few if any parcels are now taken except through absolute necessity. Much of the recent activity was undoubtedly to be attributed to the action of builders, who, finding stocks running low and prices constantly advancing, became alarmed lest they should be unable to obtain brick enough to finish their contracts, and have bought desirable lots, piling them up in front of buildings, until they have a supply sufficient to keep them out of the market for some time to come, which of course materially curtails the present demand. Sellers still insist upon former rates, and the general range of quotations is unchanged, but finer lines are now drawn as to quality, and outside figures can only be obtained on the very best grades. Taken as a whole, we call the market steady, but devoid of the great strength and buoyancy of last month, and closing rather dull. Such lots of North River as are still to be found are held at $16.00 @ $16.50; but Jersey's are now principally sold at about $13.00 @ $14.00; and a few Long Island at $15.00 @ $16.00 per M. Pale brick meet with a demand about in proportion to the business in hands, and are steady at $10.00 @ $11.00 per M. Fronts are moderately active, and steady at $23.00 @ $25.00 for Croton, and $45.00 @ $50.00 for Philadelphia, with a supply about equal to present wants.

CEMENT.—The general demand, though still fair, has become sufficiently reduced to render it impolitic for holders to insist upon any further advance, and quotations are without alteration. There is, however, a steady uniform tone to the market, and as every sale lessens the supply, it is not probable that any materially lower rates are to be anticipated before spring. We quote at $2.50 @ $2.75 per bbl. for Rosendale according to quantity, &c.

DOORS, SASH, AND BLINDS.—There is a very fair trade doing on local account, but the general market has rather a dull tone at the moment, Interior and Southern buyers having pretty well concluded their large purchases, and now ordering only such job lots as may be required to complete assortments. One or two small contracts have been made for export. Prices remain as before, but after manufacturers have examined stock and balanced up accounts for the past year, it is probable that a few alterations may be made.

FOREIGN WOODS.—Mahogany, lignumvitæ, etc., have been rather dull, the only demand we hear of calling for the usual job parcels required by local manufacturers to complete contracts or to replace broken assortments. The arrivals are not heavy, but are fair, and with the present state of trade the tendency of the stock is rather towards a slight accumulation. Cedar remains quite dull, and the continued absence of a demand begins to have its effect upon weak holders, some of whom are offering more freely and are willing to accept 22c. in order to realize. With no business transacted, however, values are uncertain, and figures must be looked upon as nominal for the present. The exports are 80 pieces mahogany, valued at $847, to Liverpool. The receipts are as follows: From Nassau, N. P., 5 logs mahogany; from Bahia, 315 logs rosewood, and 676 logs yellow wood; from Zanzibar, 2,185 pieces ebony; from London, 300 logs furniture wood; from Liverpool, 555 pieces boxwood, and 47 do. tulip.

GLASS.—No very heavy orders are coming in, and importers in most cases report the market quite dull. Jobbers, however, are doing a good steady local and near-by country trade, with an occasional fair demand from Western dealers, whose supplies have run short. Stocks in the aggregate are fair, but the small sizes do not accumulate. French window is quoted at 40 @ 50 per cent.; and English 35 @ 40 per cent. discount. Plate glass steady but quiet.

HARDWARE.—Business in most lines of builders' hardware has been quite moderate, dealers being called on in a few cases to supply small lots to local jobbers, but receiving no out-of-town orders to speak of. A revision of price lists is now being made, though the changes as yet announced are not very important. In some instances a scarcity of cast butts is reported, but we understand the general supply is fair and ample for all present calls. Strap and T. hinges are very scarce and, though no advance is quoted, higher figures are generally asked. Coat and hat hooks are reduced from list price to ten per cent. off.

LATH.—We hear of a few small cargoes and odds and ends being sold, mostly on a basis of $3 per M., but there is an entire absence of life in the wholesale market and the majority of receivers are without stock to offer, either on the spot or to arrive. From jobbers' hands a very fair amount is being taken by consumers, and the supplies are growing smaller, though the reduction is not rapid enough to give the seller any material advantage, and we still quote at about $3.25 @ $3.50 per M., according to quantity, etc.

LIME.—The moderate supplies of Rockland coming forward appear to sell without much difficulty and at former figures, viz., $1.60 for common and $2 per bbl. for lump; this line, as usual, meeting with the greatest favor with consumers when sold at rates anywhere within a reasonable margin of other styles. As we noted, however, some little time ago, the close of navigation left a pretty liberal supply of Northern stock on the market unsold, particularly of the Glens Falls Co., and jobbers finding their assortment running low are enabled to re-stock from this with comparative ease, and at rates in proportion to the above quotations. From yard a little goes out every day at the usual advance over the wholesale rate, but there is a want of snap to trade at present, and the general tone of the market is rather dull.

LUMBER.—Retail dealers generally still appear very sanguine of a revival of business at an early day, in view of the undoubted reduction of supplies in the hands of all classes of consumers during the recent long period of inactivity, and the fact that after the opening of the new year buyers always display a disposition to operate with greater freedom. At the present time, however, trade is decidedly and unmistakably dull; in fact we have seldom found greater stagnation throughout the city, even the ordinary jobbing orders coming in at long and irregular intervals. All sales at this season of course lessen the stock, but the reduction has as yet been too small to make any perceptible impression upon the general aggregate, and assortments are still very fair. The feeling as to values remains steady and uniform, and, except a few unimportant alterations previously overlooked, our quotations are as before. The wholesale market is also at an almost complete stand, there being but few cargoes coming forward, and little or no inquiry for goods, even were they here to offer. The greater portion of our local dealers have now all the stock they require for some little time ahead, and would take nothing unless it was to be had at reduced rates, while exporters, as heretofore, are only buyers to the extent of a few thousand feet at a time when they have nothing else with which to finish out a vessel's lading, though now and then a liberal purchase is made of choice goods on South American account. Our table of exports for the nine months ending December 31st, 1868, published last week, footed up rather larger than many of the trade had been led to anticipate; but the aggregate is far below the average previous to the abolition of the Reciprocity Treaty with Canada, a large proportion of the export trade now being done direct from the St. Lawrence and vicinity. We give the only detailed account of shipments published in this city, and as our figures are carefully compiled from reliable data, they may be looked upon as in every way accurate. Of Eastern spruce the arrivals of unsold cargoes have been very small, indeed, and not enough stock has changed hands to affect the market in favor of either buyer or seller, the sales consisting mainly of odd lots to whoever would take them at figures to cover cost and expenses. The range of prices is given at $19.00 @ 22.50 for the extremes, but all figures at the moment are nominal. White pine remains steady, and though not selling with much freedom at present, holders would be unwilling to part with any desirable parcel of goods, except at very full figures. The general assortment is fair. We quote at $21.00 @ $25.00 for inferior to fair box-boards; $26.00 @

THE NEW PARKS AND BOULEVARDS.

THE magnificent system of improvements which have been laid out by the Central Park Commissioners, for the upper end of the island and west side of the city, are rapidly progressing in the hands of the proper Department. The grand drive, distinctively known as the Boulevard, was taken up by the Park Board in September, and has had from five hundred to a thousand men employed in grading and regulating it. An enumeration of the principal additional "boulevards" and parks, for which the land is now being taken, will indicate the vast scope of this system of improvements, as it will also explain the immense enhancement in the value of all the real property under the new revision of the city map.

The St. Nicholas avenue which continues Harlem Lane over the heights to High Bridge and Fort George, a finely diversified drive, one hundred feet wide, is nearly completed, and will be advertised for corrections of the awards and damages in a few days.

The River Side Parks and River Side Terrace Avenue are in the hands of commissioners, and progressing as fast as the extent of the work will admit. This will open up a new and magnificent avenue, with residences only on one side, with park and river view on the other, reaching along the Hudson River as far as the bluffs at Manhattanville.

The Morning Side Park, with new avenues along either side, will reach along the eastern slope of the bluffs, from Manhattanville to a junction with the high ground which marks the upper end of the Central Park. This work is in a forward condition.

The Reservoir Park at High Bridge will be in readiness for public use probably by the time the high service tower is up, and all the interesting steam machinery for raising the supply of water to the necessary levels at Fort Washington—next summer.

The Twelfth Avenue newly laid out along the Hudson river shore, from Fifty-ninth street to One Hundred and Fifty-third street, is progressing as fast as its complicated course and its irregular and diversified values will admit.

In addition to these more extended works, there are a number of cross streets and less important intermediate avenues. The circle at the junction of Eighth avenue and Broadway at Fifty-ninth street has been graded, and the Square at Fifth avenue and Fifty-ninth street will be advertised for revision of awards, etc., in a few days. It is only delayed by the withholding of the evidences of titles by a few parties.

All this work has been ordered under the Park Board. There is also some work under-way directed by the Common Council, of which the bulk consists of various blocks on cross streets, and the following more important avenues:

Madison avenue extension from Eighty-sixth street to One Hundred and Twentieth street. The awards and assessments on this opening are on exhibition at the Street Department, and are noticed for confirmation in February.

Laurens street, continuing Fifth avenue to Canal street; the evidences of title are nearly ready for the work of appraisal by the commissioners, but the extent of the improvement must take a considerable period to mature the report and final opening of this street.

REAL ESTATE TAXES FOR 1869.

THE district assessors for the city of New York made their official returns to the Tax Commissioners on Monday of this week. The books are now on exhibition for corrections at the tax office, and will remain open until May. The large advance in the value of real estate is very temperately represented on the books for this year. The increase for the whole city will make about eighty millions, which is distributed very fairly where the greatest activity has prevailed. The First, Second, and Third Wards are increased about eight millions, at the lower end of the city, and the Twelfth Ward about twenty millions. It will be found of particular interest to every real estate owner to look to his valuations this year, where any activity or change has prevailed in the neighborhood of his estate.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—The quiet feeling in hard brick, noted at the date of our last report, has daily increased, until the market is now almost entirely devoid of animation, and the general tone flat and lifeless. Dealers have continued to quote pretty well up to previous figures throughout the week, but rates were to a great extent nominal, in the absence of enough business upon which to base values for wholesale parcels. The stock in the meantime has gradually accumulated, from more liberal arrivals from New Jersey and a few from the Long Island yards, and several lots are now piled out, upon which there has as yet been no bids. One of the most noticeable features, however, is the unexpected receipt of a number of cargoes from up the Hudson; the mild weather of last week having opened the river sufficiently to make a trip to the brick yards possible, and those captains who were willing to take the risk of being frozen in by a sudden cold snap successfully ran down quite a little supply. This, with the stock available at other points, gives us a very good assortment, and it will require an unusually brisk trade to enable sellers to realize present nominal rates. The general average of quality is good, but buyers to pay $15.00@16.00 per M. insist upon having the very finest that can be shown. The retail trade from jobber's hands is also moderate, and the few lots going out are at such irregular prices as to render quotations useless. Pale brick—now all from Jersey—meet with good demand, and sell about as fast as received at $10.00@11.00 per M. There is some little trade doing in fronts, and former prices current, viz: $23.00@25.00 for Crotous, and $45.00@50.00 per M. for Philadelphia.

CEMENT.—The market retains the firm tone heretofore noticed, and though the general run of business at present is small, holders manifest no disposition to force sales, feeling confident that all the stock here will be wanted before spring at full figures. Some of the least desirable grades can be bought at $2.50 per bbl., but many dealers refuse to sell below $2.60, and from this the rate runs up to $2.75 per bbl. Some little ship pine trade is doing, but the inquiry is mainly from local consumers. We note shipments of 550 bbls. to San Francisco, and 100 bbls. to New Grenada.

FOREIGN WOODS.—For choice grades of mahogany, suited to fine cabinet work, and for some of the very common sorts, there has been a little more inquiry, but the trade was not general, and buyers being now pretty well supplied, the market is again quiet. The arrivals continue very fair. Cedar shows no important variation, buyers still holding out for lower rates, and holders refusing to make the concessions necessary to effect sales. Stocks in the meantime continue slowly to augment, and though containing a comparatively large proportion of Mexican wood, manufacturers will give this the preference over Cuba cedar, if offered at reasonable rates. Other styles meet with about the usual demand and are steady. The recent offerings at auction were mostly withdrawn as the rates did not prove satisfactory to owners, except on rosewood which sold higher. Exports of 1,610 logs estimated wood, valued at $1,650, to Liverpool. The receipts for the week are as follows: From Bahia, 188 logs rosewood; from Minatitlan, 140 logs mahogany and cedar; from Port-au-Platte, 376 pieces lignumvitae, 117 crotches mahogany and 1 log satinwood; from St. Jago, and Santa Cruz, 523 logs mahogany, and 415 do. cedar; and from Para, 85 logs cedar.

GLASS.—We have little of interest to record, importers and jobbers reporting the market in about the same condition as during the past two or three weeks. Large and medium grades of French window are very slow at present, and with a pretty good supply on hand, dealers allow 45@50 per cent. discount on any respectable order. The small sizes however continue to sell with sufficient rapidity to prevent any great accumulation of stock, and for the most desirable the rate runs as high as 40 per cent. discount from list. English firm and in fair request at 35@40 per cent. discount. American steady, at 50 per cent. off.

HARDWARE.—There has been a slight increase in the demand, mainly to fill country orders, and a steady uniform tone prevails throughout the market. Of strap and T hinges the stock in first hands is reported as entirely exhausted, and values for the present are merely nominal. Plate locks according to new list are now selling at 15 and 7½% off. Padlocks have been advanced from 25 and 7½ to 15 and 7½ discount from list. No other important changes made public.

LATH.—Business in the wholesale market is still very dull, owing in a great manner to the absence of supplies, though were dealers in possession of much stock at present it would probably be difficult to realize easily except at low figures. One or two parcels received during the week, and offered immediately, did not attract much competition, but were finally worked off at about $3.00 per M. The retail trade is not brisk, but about as active as could be expected at this season, and jobbers, as a rule, express no dissatisfaction. A few small out of town orders are being filled, but the demand is mostly of a local character. Prices sustained and close steadily at $3.25, $3.37½@3.50 per M., according to quantity, etc.

LIME.—The receipts of Rockland have been small, though fully enough to meet the limited call from dealers, whose stocks are not diminishing with sufficient rapidity to send them into the market as free buyers. Still all the cargoes arriving have remained but a short time afloat, and when sold realized full former figures. Common $1.60, and lump $2.00 per bbl. Of the Northern limes the supplies in first hands are still large, and being liberally offered whenever purchasers are to be found, no difficulty is to be apprehended by jobbers, in re-stocking should they run low on assortments. Consumers are taking a few small parcels from day to day, but the general aggregate looks up small, and the retail trade is dull.

LUMBER.—The anticipations of retail dealers in regard to the revival of trade appear to have been pretty well founded, and are already beginning to be partially realized, nearly all the yards visited by us during the past week showing a very fair amount of life. Business is not heavy, but still is very good, and the stagnant, unsatisfactory condition of affairs, heretofore noticed, has almost entirely disappeared. The demand is largely of a local character for both manufacturing and building purposes, though we hear of a few shipping orders on coastwise account and one lot making up for San Francisco. Prices steady and uniform, and supplies commencing to work off, though assortments continue good. In the wholesale market there are not many changes to advise, though such as have taken place are in buyers' favor, owing to the absence of any general demand. A few dealers have run out of choice grades, and could they supply the deficiency, would undoubtedly be willing to pay extreme rates; but as there is none of the stock sought after now on sale or likely to be received, it is useless to speculate as to values. The light trade doing has continued to be almost entirely with local distributors, the wants of shippers either being almost wholly provided for, or too small to have any perceptible influence upon the market. Two or three cargoes of Eastern spruce have been offered during the week, but the schedules were nothing better than the usual average, and they did not excite much competition, remaining on the market some little time before finding purchasers. Prices remain about as before, but lack tone and strength, and may be considered as in a measure nominal, say $19@22 per M. for the ordinary run of stock. We hear of some parcels offering for March and April, but no sales as yet, and prices are undetermined, buyers being unwilling to decide upon a figure at which they will receive goods. White pine has met with a little better inquiry, though not enough to give the market more than a fair show of life. The sales were in part to shippers, but principally to local buyers for manufacturing purposes, good to choice box boards being particularly sought after. The assortment has not been broken, but the general stock is somewhat reduced, and holders are still very firm, and rather indifferent operators. We quote at full $21@25 for inferior to fair box boards; $26@50 for good to prime do.; and $81 for very choice do. in a small way. Pickets are not wanted apparently at any price, and all lots received are added to the already pretty liberal supply, to await a revival of the demand, quotations in the meantime remaining nominal. Piling is mostly in the hands of jobbers; but there is no call for large parcels at present, and the tone of the market quite dull. We quote at 7@9c, per foot, for common to very choice sizes. Yellow pine has sold to some extent, though the feeling of depression is even more marked than last week, and we have to note a further reduction in values. Most of our dealers either have stock coming in on old contracts, or have recently bought enough here to supply all immediate wants, and knowing that freight charges have been recently reduced $2.00@3.00 per M., they naturally insist upon more favorable terms. A very fine cargo of flooring boards might possibly now be sold for $35, but this certainly would be an extreme, as few bids exceed $34, and timber ranges down as low as $30, and one cargo was offered at $29.50 per M. The receipts continue to exceed the demand, adding to the depression, as holders in the majority of instances find it more profitable to sell out at a slight concession from ruling rates than it would be to incur the expense of storage, etc. Black walnut logs in moderate request, but scarce and firmly held at 7½@1½c. Cypress shingles continue in very large supply and are occasionally inquired after in a small jobbing way and rule in buyers' favor, at about $16@20 per M. Pine sawed shingles dull and irregular at $4.50@5.00 per M. Sales of 200,000 feet white pine at $25@27, and 400,000 feet yellow pine at $30@35.

The following review of the lumber trade of Albany for the year 1868, appears in the Evening Journal of recent date:

The lumber trade for the year 1868, was free from the fluctuations which characterized the previous year. Commencing with a large stock in market, and receiving heavily from manufacturing districts on the opening of the canals, it is remarkable that prices were so well maintained during the season and that the closing figures were almost identical with those of the close of 1867.

In the early Spring, the demand was active from the retailers who had largely reduced stocks during the previous Winter, so that the lumber wintered in Albany was nearly exhausted when the canals were opened. The prices during this part of the season were about five per cent. higher than those of the previous Fall, and this advance was maintained on seasoned lumber for some months, while green timber, in July and August, receded somewhat; and in October and November, when the severe stringency in the money market was felt, prices fell to the figure given in our table below, the larger sales being made at the minimum rates. The sales in the last named months were much less than usual, as buyers were cautious about increasing their liabilities, and there is consequently a large stock on hand in Albany, estimated at ninety million feet.

The demand for foreign shipment was light, the Eastern manufacturers did not require as much as in former years and the greater part of the sales were made for building purposes. We anticipate a similar state of the demand this year, as rents are high and the call for more houses urgent.

At the high prices of labor and materials, the net profits to manufacturers have been only fairly remunerative, and until the cost of labor and living is lessened, there can be but a slight reduction in the price of lumber without a loss to the manufacturers.

It will be seen from the above table that the receipts at Albany, per canal, were larger than any previous year, amounting to 437,097,000 feet of sawed lumber. The Canal Auditor's estimate of the value of this lumber (including shingles, timber, and staves) is $13,517,621. We have no means of ascertaining the receipts at Albany by the river and railroads.

As there is but a slight difference in the amount on hand January 1, 1865, ($5 millions) and that on hand now (say 90 millions) a quantity nearly equal to the amount of this year's receipts, has been sold, valued at over thirteen and one-half million dollars, being the largest lumber trade ever realized in Albany in any one year. The unrivalled facilities here afforded for receiving, storing, and shipping, have drawn dealers from rival markets to our Lumber District, and the obvious tendency of trade is to centralization in our city of that portion of the products of the forests of Canada and the United States, which comes to the Eastern seaboard.

There is a dearth of news from the West at present, it being too early to hear of anything of much interest from the woods, and the markets moving only through local influences. Much the same condition of affairs prevails at the East, though a few manufacturers and dealers are offering goods for the spring months at about the figures current at the close of the season. A few desirable lots of old stock are on hand, and for this owners expect to realize very full prices in this market as soon as shipments are again possible.

At the Southern markets trade is reported as very good with all points, even the West India demand showing some improvement, and prices in most cases are steady. Vessels were becoming more plenty now that the heavy cotton shipments are over, and coastwise freight charges have declined $2.50@ $3.00 per M. At most of the mills the supply of logs was fair, though not as many as could be worked to advantage.
